MRS. LOUISA HOBBS OF VERDUN, QUE., on Sunday celebrated her 98th birthday. Her formula for longevity: "Hard work, good health and contentment." Born in 1852 in Whitchurch, Hampshire, England, Mrs. Hobbs came to Canada in 1911, living in Hamilton, Ont., until 1929 when she came to Montreal. She has lived in Verdun ever since and now with her daughter, Mrs. Lillian Pleming. She has been a widow for 19 years. Alert, active and possessing an energy that belies her years, Mrs. Hobbs reads a great deal —"a chapter of the Bible every day and anything else I can get hold of."

Judge Grants 11 Reds Freedom Under Bond

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP) —Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson granted freedom under bond Monday to 10 of 11 United States Communist leaders convicted of conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the government by violence.

Jackson's stay of sentence means that the 10 Red leaders will remain at liberty— presumably under close Federal surveillance — pending a final United States Supreme Court decision on the case. The 11th is in jail on another charge.

Fracas At Dance, Dismiss Obstructing Case

A charge of wilfully obstructing police against David McDonald, Glen Alda, was dismissed in police court Monday, but he was found guilty of consuming beer illegally.

The two charges arose from a check provincial police, in civilian clothes, made the night of July 29 at a dance hall on Chandos lake.

Constable Bert Howden of the Apsley detachment testified he saw McDonald and a second man, George Rosebush, drinking. He watched them about five minutes then walked up to the pair and took bottles from the hands of both of them.

He put the two part bottles of beer in Corporal Archie Grayling's private car. Some time later Cpl. Grayling saw McDonald go to the car, open the door, take out the two bottle and throw them in some bushes.

Cpl. Grayling ran to McDonald and grabbed him around the neck with his arm. Immediately a fight started. Constable William Fitzsimmons came to his assistance and for a time they were all involved in the battle.

Aaron Post said McDonald told him to get Constable Howden. When Constable Howden appeared, he spoke to McDonald who immediately started to quiten down.

McDonald denied drinking any beer at the dance that night. He said Constable Howden picked up one bottle from the ground between him and Rosebush. The second bottle he took from Rosebush. (Rosebush entered a written plea of guilty to a charge of consuming illegally and paid his fine.)

McDonald also denied taking any beer bottles from any car and throwing them away. He said as he was passing the car that apparently was Cpl. Grayling's, the corporal ran and jumped on his back and the other officer was right behind him.

He said he didn't know that Cpl. Grayling and Constable Fitzsimmons were provincial police officers because they were not in uniform. Constable Fitzsimmons testified he and Grayling had been identified to a group of people of which McDonald was a member, as police officers by Constable Howden.

McDonald was fined $15 and $3.75 costs on the charge of consuming illegally.

Would Raise Memorials Founders of Peterborough

Memorials to the founders of Peterborough were urged Monday by William Graff, city librarian, at a meeting of the Rotary Club.

He suggested to club members that there should be some fitting memorials to such men as Peter Robinson and Adam Scott, in tribute to their contributions to the city's birth.

He remarked that Peter Robinson was remembered mainly by the name of the city, and by one street name in the city. Not even a street was named after Adam Scott.

Formation of a historical society was also suggested by Mr. Graff, who said that the wealth of information on Peterborough could be collected into a readable history of the city and district.

Most of Mr. Graff's address dealt with Mrs. Moody, Mrs. Traill, Samuel Strickland, John and Ann Langton, and other authors who wrote about Peterborough and the surrounding areas.

Get Hangover From Molasses

MONTREAL, Sept. 26 (CP).—You can get a terrific hangover on the NEE tanker Athelbeach without even touching a single drink.

Capt. J. H. Flockheart says it is easy to get intoxicated on his ship—or any molasses tanker, for that matter.

In Montreal from Puerto Rico on her maiden voyage, the Athelbeach will stay three days to unload her 1,500,000 gallons of molasses.

It is when she has been unloaded that hangovers can be had cheaply, her skipper said.

When molasses tankers carry cargo they are fine. But when the tanks are emptied and a little water is put in as ballast, the resultant aroma is intoxicating.

To offset this unusual hazard, ownersm of the 10,000-ton tanker have made her a seafarer's dream with crew accommodations rivalling first-class quarters on big liners. Crew members are served their meals cafeteria-style and have recreation rooms set aside for them.

Truck Driver Killed At Millbrook

Linden Sanders Accident Victim; Fog Is Blamed

MILLBROOK, Sept. 27 — (ENS) — Pinned underneath his truck when it crashed on its left side early today, 37-year-old Linden Sanders of Millbrook was killed almost instantly.

The accident occurred at 7.30 a.m. 3½ miles east of Millbrook on the Millbrook road.

A dense early morning fog covered the roadway and it is believed Sanders lost sight of the paved surface and the truck went out of control.

Skidmarks showed that the late model panel truck, owned by Wonder Bakeries Ltd., ran off the shoulder of the road into the south ditch. Then it veered across into the right ditch.

Apparently still struggling for control Sanders wrenched the steering wheel violently and the truck once more started south across the roadway where it toppled over, falling on its left side.

Crushed By Truck

Sanders was partially out of the truck when it crashed and the weight of it falling on him killed him immediately.

He leaves his wife, Grace Sanders, and a six-year-old daughter, Diane.

Sanders was driving into Peterborough to pick up his daily load of bread for the Millbrook district when the accident occurred. Besides the hazard of fog the road was wet and slippery. Just before the mishap he was observed driving down the road with his head out the side window, apparently [illegible] through the fog.

The only eyewitness was Russell Bonner, RR 1, Millbrook, who jumped from his horse-drawn wagon when he observed the truck go out of control some distance behind him.

Standing: Premier Manning of Alberta, Premier Jones of Prince Edward Island, Premier Johnson of British Columbia, Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan, and Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland.

Allied Lines Unbroken For 215 Miles

Reds Flee Wildly As UN Forces Close Big Trap

TOKYO, Sept. 27—(AP)—U.S. Marines today captured and raised the U.S. flag over the South Korean national capitol building and foreign consulate buildings in the heart of partly burned-out Seoul.

Fighting blazed on in the capital city but the clean-up battles of liberation appeared to be nearly over.

The Marines fought their way into the capitol, the French and Russian Consulates and the U.S. Ambassador's residence against fierce North Korean death-stand resistance.

All are in the northern, modern section of the lopsided city of ancient and new structures.

Thousands of shattered houses marked the path of the Marine drive into the approximate centre of Korea's 500-year capital which the Communists took three months ago Thursday.

Seoul shuddered and rocked Wednesday under massive barrages of fire and steel.

Small pockets of the die-hard Reds still were resisting. The Marines fought through winding alleys and from house to house to oust them.

By late Wednesday afternoon, only a small section of Seoul still was in North Korean hands, AP correspondent Tom Lambert reported from the Seoul front.

Earlier, AP correspondent Don Whitehead, had reported from another sector that Marines held only one-third of the city Wednesday morning.

Lambert said American casualties in Seoul were light compared with those of the Reds. Official sources said United Nations forces killed, wounded or captured nearly 6,000 Reds along the entire Korean battlefront Tuesday.

While the Marines fought to [illegible] of Seoul, other allied forces, [illegible] around many thousands of Reds trapped and thinned by desertions and casualties in southeast Korea.

The allied line runs unbroken for 215 miles diagonally across the peninsula from extreme southeastern Pusan on the Sea of Japan, through the flaming mop-up battles of Seoul, to the Inchon second front beachhead on the Yellow Sea.

May Order Canadians To Europe

Korea May Not Need Special Brigade If War Ends Soon

OTTAWA, Sept. 27—(CP)—The triumphant march of American troops in Korea has raised the possibility that Canada's Special Force may never see action there and may go instead to western Europe.

It is considered not unlikely in official quarters here that this possibility has come under discussion in New York among the foreign ministers of the North Atlantic treaty nations, or that it will come under discussion at next month's meeting of the Pact's defence ministers. The ministers will work out details of policies laid down at New York.

There is no indication, however, that the Canadian cabinet has yet given serious consideration to the question because it is currently busy with the constitutional conference in Quebec.

Another reason is that Korean situation has far from clarified. Reports that the Americans are telling other powers, probably including Canada, that they will have to take over in any actions beyond the 38th parallel, may bring about a situation that will still require Canadians there.

Going Ahead

So far the army is going ahead with plans to dispatch the special force, 10,000 strong, to Okinawa in November to round off its training and prepare for front-line Korean service in January or February.

Latest sign of this came in announcement Tuesday that a Canadian party of nine soldiers under Brig. Frank Fleury has arrived in Tokyo to establish liaison with Gen. MacArthur's United Nations headquarters for Korea.

The Atlantic Pact foreign ministers agreed to establish a unified European command. Both the U. S. and Britain will send troops and there are reports here it has been

Keays' Objective Puzzling Law Officials

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 (CP). — Trial of John Ernest Keays, former Ontario provincial police constable, opened in city court on Tuesday with Keays, dressed in a tweed jacket but in the shirt, tie and trousers of a constable.

Keays is charged with illegally wearing a police officer's uniform and with being in possession of an automatic weapon capable of being concealed. The charges were laid after he appeared in county court two weeks ago, produced a gun, and demanded his arrest.

The case was adjourned until today after lengthy cross-examination of crown witnesses by Keays, who was dismissed from the O.P.P. last year after a Royal commission inquiry at Belleville [illegible] of maladministration in the [illegible]

Keays took over cross-examination after assistant crown attorney Rupert Broadfoot had presented his witnesses. He cross-examined at some length a former colleague on the O.P.P., Cpl. George Nault, who arrested Keays in the court outburst.

Idea Not Clear

It was not immediately clear what Keays was attempting to prove, however. Magistrate Glenn Strike interrupted proceedings several times to say that the points being made seemed obscure.

"The man has talent and he uses it well," Mr. Broadfoot commented after court had recessed for the day, "but I still fail to see what he's driving at."

The former constable maintains that he has never received a formal notice of dismissal from the force. However, he readily admitted in court that he did receive a registered letter from a superior.

Deputy Commissioner Thomas Doyle of the O.P.P. testified Keays had been given "leave of absence" as of the Royal commission inquiry.

Report Progress At Secret Conferences

QUEBEC, Sept. 27 (CP). — The federal-provincial constitutional conference ended its second closed session at 1 p.m. EDT today amid indications that continued progress is being made.

A third secret session will be [illegible] was taken as an indication the delegates are making headway in their efforts to devise a method of bringing to this country full power to amend the Canadian constitution.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, as conference chairman, told reporters the delegates felt it "worthwhile to come back this afternoon to consider matters that haven't yet been reached."

Nothing, he added, had developed yet which would make it "useless" for the conference to continue.

Air of Optimism

There was a general air of optimism as the conference, meeting on the floor of the Quebec Legislature chamber, broke up for lunch. One provincial premier said "lots of headway" was made.

Indicating the conference will continue at least until Thursday or Friday, Mr. St. Laurent said the current "four or five days" of discussion are "apt" to end in an adjournment and the formation of a sub-committee to "put into shape" the conference conclusions.

This committee, the Prime Minister indicated, would be similar to the committee of attorneys-general which studied the constitutional problems in the period between the end of the first full conference in Ottawa last January and the opening of this one here this week.

Extending Export Controls

OTTAWA, Sept. 27—(CP)—Trade Minister Howe today announced an extension of export controls, particularly over metals which could be used in war production, in a move to further block the possible flow of Canadian goods to countries behind the Iron Curtain. A total of 177 listings are included in the new schedules compared with the previous total of 91 for which export permits are needed before the goods can leave Canada for any destination.

Major additions to the list of controlled exports include nylon, non-ferrous metals such as aluminum, brass and bronze, copper, lead, nickel and zinc; and benzine, glycerine and soda ash.

Six countries have been added to the system of "area control" including Afghanistan, the Ukraine, Mongolia, Tibet, Manchuria [illegible]

The extension of export control will become effective immediately and is taken in co-operation with the United States. Listings applicable to the United States are reduced from 91 to 69 to facilitate the new co-operative defence policy between the two countries.

The new Canadian schedules are integrated with those of the United States and the effect will be to permit the two countries to have greater freedom in supplying each other's requirements and at the same time prevent Canada from being used as a "back door" to circumvent US export controls.

Rye and rye products are removed entirely from export control, while the granting of permits for wheat, oats, barley and their products will be administered solely by the Wheat Board in place of the dual control system administered jointly with the Department of Trade and Commerce.

Strange Blue Sun Gives Europe Case of Jitters

LONDON, Sept. 27—(AP)—A strange blue sun today [illegible] blue moon in the skies over the North Sea area. While [illegible] notes on the phenomenon, first seen in the United Kingdom Tuesday night, colleagues in Denmark watched the sun come up as an azure ball.

Jittery old folks queued up at some Danish provincial banks demanding their money for a hurried flight from doomsday.

Thousands of other Europeans —some fearful, some merely interested—strained for a glimpse of the heavens through clouds which covered much of the continent.

It was the queerest sky display since the hazy envelope of Halley's comet turned the sun and moon odd colors in 1910.

Three Opinions

A superstitious few feared the end of the world. Others guessed there had been a terrific atom blast somewhere on the globe. Astronomers were divided into three main schools of thought on the cause:

1. The filtering effect of a far-flung smoke from vast forest fires raging in Alberta and British Columbia which spread a pall over northeastern United States earlier in the week.

2. A peculiar high cloud formation.

3. Dust blown high into the air in a storm or volcanic eruption far to the west.

Husky M.P. Nabs Thief Suspect

TORONTO, Sept. 27 (CP). — George Hees, husky Progressive Conservative member of parliament for Toronto Broadview, captured a housebreaking suspect Tuesday following a chase that was joined by police and a housewife wielding a broom.

Mr. Hees, six-foot, three-inch former Argonaut football star, was on his way home for lunch when he saw a youthful suspect being chased by two police officers. He followed the young man into a lane and quickly captured him.

Police identified the suspect as William Cooper, 21, of no fixed address. He was charged with breaking into the Lowther Avenue home of Mrs. Helen Lake.

Mrs. Lake told police she found an intruder ransacking her bedroom. She grabbed a broom and chased him out of the house.

Louis After Title In Big Bout Tonight

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP). — Joe Louis, who will attempt to win back the heavyweight boxing title tonight in 15 rounds at Yankee Stadium from Ezzard Charles, scaled 218 pounds when the fighters weighed in today. Charles weighed 184½ pounds.

A fresh flood of Charles money has dropped the price on the title fight to 5-to-8 in favor of the Brown Bomber.

If the odds hold up until the 10 p.m. (EST) fight time, Louis may enter the ring at the shortest odds since he first won the heavyweight crown from Jimmy Braddock in Chicago June 22, 1937.

Not since his second scrap with Max Schmeling 12 years ago has Louis been held in such low esteem by the bookmakers. That night he was the 5 to 9 choice when he annihilated the Uhlan in one round.

Get 47 Bodies In Mine Fire

CRESWELL, Northumberland, England, Sept. 27 (AP)—Grimy rescue workers today hauled up the bodies of 47 miners from the fire-wracked pit of Creswell colliery. Eighty men died there Tuesday in fumes and flames 1,000 feet underground.

The bodies of three other victims were taken from the pit Tuesday night. A mine official said five other bodies had been seen in one shaft but could not be reached at present.

The other 25 bodies had not been located, he added.

Although 120 miners escaped from the main shaft when the fire flashed along the black alleyways of coal, it was Britain's worst mining disaster since 1947. That year 104 died in undersea workings at Whitehaven.

Mine officials said reports today from workers below indicated the flames had been choked by sealing off the area with sandbags.

It was believed to be still smouldering, however, and smoke and fumes continued to make operations dangerous.

Dying Mother Gets $2,000 From Party

DETROIT, Sept. 27 (CP). — A big party has brought more than passing joy to Mrs. Harriette Hardy who doctors say has no chance in her fight against cancer.

The party, held in a Detroit hotel with all services and entertainment donated, raised $2,000. Yesterday Mrs. Hardy signed the money over as a trust fund for her 12-year-old son Donald to care for him "the way I've always wanted."

Other gifts have come from individuals as far distant as Texas and West Virginia.

Blitz Meeting Plans Uncovered

BONN, Germany, Sept. 27 (AP) —West German officials claimed today that they have uncovered secret Communist plans to stage anti-western "blitz meetings" in all big cities of the industrial Ruhr this weekend.

They said about 30,000 young Communist trouble-makers have been pumped into the Ruhr from Russian East Germany in the last two months to lead the demonstrations.

The objective is to hamstring the western plan of defence against Soviet expansion into Western Germany.

German officials said the youths from East Germany have received special training on how to fight police. Most of them are members of the Communist-sponsored Free German Youth Movement.

Canadian Gives Holdup Clues

BOSTON, Sept. 27 (AP). — Police declined comment today on a Canadian who came here to volunteer information about the $1,500,000 holdup of Brinks' Express Company here last January.

Deputy superintendent James F. Daley said the man wa'nst being held.

The Canadian, whose name so far has not been divulged, first turned up in the office of State-Attorney General Francis E. Kelly. He told this story:

Three weeks before the Boston Brinks' robbery, a Montreal man with whom he had spent some time in jail invited him to take part in a proposed hold-up of the Brink branch in Montreal.

He said he declined to take an active part, but did supply the man and his three partners with a floor plan of the Montreal Brink office.

That hold-up plan never went through, he said, but he was convinced that the same men organized the Boston robbery.

He hopes his information may qualify him for part of the $150,000 reward.

Widow Gets $15,375 Over Husband's Death

BRANTFORD, Sept. 27 (CP)— Damages of $15,375 were awarded Tuesday to Mrs. Frank Casey and her three young children, who had sought $20,000 in a lawsuit over the death of Mrs. Casey's husband in a traffic accident a year ago.

The husband, 26, was struck by an automobile while on his way home from visiting his wife in hospital a few days after she had given birth to the couple's third child. A jury found George De Palmb, driver of the car, 75 per cent negligent.

Red-Sparked Strike Wave Grips Austrian Centres

VIENNA, Sept. 27 (AP).—Eastern Austria was gripped by a wave of strikes today as Communist agitators continued their protests against the government's new wage and price increases.

An estimated 50,000 workers in Russian-controlled factories in and near Vienna set the pace when they refused to go to work this morning. The strikes spread as far as Graz, a large industrial city in the British zone. In Linz and Steyr, in the American zone, workers marched out of factories and called protest meetings.

The British public safety officer in Graz said there were crowds of demonstrators in the streets. They were "quite orderly and we don't anticipate any trouble."

Meanwhile, rail and road traffic was cut just outside Vienna, when Communists sat down on the main highway to Graz and an adjoining railway line.

The Communists also cut local rail traffic on a branch line southeast of St. Poelten. Both towns are in the Russian occupation zone.

In Vienna police said the Communists were unsuccessful in attempts to shut down the Semmering power plant in the British sector of the city. A band of Reds tried to entice the workers in the plant out on strike. The workers locked the gates, however, and refused to stop work.

At noon there were no reports of any disturbances such as those which rocked Vienna Tuesday. Police were out in force, and a special guard had been placed around the Austrian chancellery and other government buildings.

US Won't Send Soldiers To North Korea

Britain Believes U.N. Troops Must Cross 38th Parallel To Aid Peace

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP) —If the United Nations undertakes to restore peace and order in North Korea, American officials figure that other member countries have 50,000 troops available for the job without U.S. help.

The United States is telling friendly U.N. members in informal negotiations they will have to carry the main burden if the current military drive in South Korea crosses the 38th parallel or if the U.N. decides to place an army of occupation in North Korea after the fighting stops.

This attitude is aimed at quieting any possible Russian fears that the U.S. is edging in for a position from which a blow might be timed at the Soviet.

Any such plans are based on an assumption that Russian or Chinese Communist troops will not move into North Korea.

American forces in South Korea are in process of being reinforced by some 30,000 ground troops from nine other U.N. members.

Hope For Co-operation

Officials are hopeful that India and Pakistan which have kept out of the actual fighting, may contribute substantial military forces to join other U.N. troops already available for such duties as occupation administration and supervision of elections.

In London, the British government today was believed to have reached a tentative conclusion that United Nations troops will have to go north of the 38th parallel in Korea.

The government was understood to be sounding out Commonwealth governments and other friendly powers on a resolution which she may submit to the political committee of the United Nations General Assembly next Friday.

Trial Balloon

Terms of the resolution now being privately studied in New York by interested delegations are considered in diplomatic quarters here definitely to imply a decision to cross the parallel.

On no other terms could a united Korea based on elections supervised by the United Nations be contemplated, in the British view.

But the proposed resolution was considered something of a trial balloon. In face of strong opposition from India and other Asiatic governments, it could scarcely survive.

India's reaction was therefore awaited with keen interest in London where it was expected to have a decisive influence on success of the British move.

Atlantic Council Approves Combined Force

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP).—By unanimous and unprecedented peace-time decisions, the North Atlantic Council Tuesday night approved creation of a combined force to preserve the Atlantic community—and Western Europe especially—from Russian aggression.

The Council called for the organization of this force as speedily as possible and decided that all available manpower and productive resources of the 12 pact countries should be used fully.

President Truman already has pledged the United States to send more divisions to defence of Western Europe if other countries interested will make comparable contributions.

The council left to the defence ministers of the 12 countries the question of how to use German manpower—a hot issue during nearly two weeks of secret conversations—but made it plain Germany must be enabled to contribute to the build-up of Western Europe's defences.

October Sessions

The defence ministers will tackle the assignment at meetings beginning in Washington Oct. 28.

The council action was announced in a communique Tuesday night. The work it revealed dovetailed with, or extended, previous action announced last week after conferences in New York or the western big three foreign ministers.

Here, in brief, are net results of the conferences held by the two groups:

1. The big three—the United States, France and Britain—will end their state of war with Germany as soon as constitutional requirements of the three countries will permit. This does not mean a separate peace will be concluded. A peace treaty must be written later with the Russians concurring.

2. The big three authorized the addition of 30,000 police to the present force of 10,000 in the western zones of Germany.

3. The council decided to create a combined force of men and arms from 11 of its members—the United States, Britain, Canada, France, Belgium, The Netherlands, Denmark, Norway, Portugal, and Italy and Luxembourg. Iceland, the 12th member, has no army.

The force will be under a commander-in-chief. No one was named in the communique, but speculation has been that he will be General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, president of Columbia University.

4. The defence ministers were asked to make recommendations for setting up this force as soon as possible and for the methods by which Germany could most usefully contribute to the set-up.

Halt Corn Export

BELGRADE Yugoslavia, Sept. 27 (Reuters) — Yugoslavia has stopped all exports of corn in a series of emergency measures to safeguard her food supplies following a five-month drought, it was learned Tuesday. Corn is one of Yugoslavia's most important exports.

Be-Bop Banned

LONDON Sept. 27 (Reuters) — Be-bop will be banned from the BBC Jazz Club program when John Foreman takes over Oct. 21. He will engage bands that play only Dixie land and New Orleans styles of 25 years ago.

See Industrials Dip For Second Session

TORONTO, Sept. 27 (CP)—Industrials dipped for a second successive session on the Toronto stock exchange today. Market leaders declined slowly as yesterday's profit-taking continued.

Losses ranged from fractions to more than a full point as the list slipped back from a three-day advance into new high price ground.

Steels, utilities, constructions, foods, refining oils, agricultures and textiles showed majorities of declines in the groupings. A few papers held firm and moderate support appeared in several key issues.

Western oil stocks jumped into the trading limelight in mid-session, spurting ahead to the highest average price level in 13 years. In recent weeks the list has been held to a narrow price path but renewed buying in several leaders again boosted the group.

Golds also advanced with senior producers leading. Junior issues were mixed. Hollinger featured brisk dealings, climbing strongly following reports of financing plans for development of Labrador iron.

Labrador Exploration held traders attention in base metals on the financing reports. Otherwise base metals weakened as Hudson Bay and International Nickel dropped.

Volume for the first three hours was 900,000 shares.

Must Enter N. Korea Southern Heads Urge

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP) — The South Korean foreign minister today expressed hope that the United Nations forces would go beyond the 38th parallel in their drive against North Korean Communists.

"We will have to go over," the foreign minister, Col. Bem C. Lib, said at a press conference.

T. S. Chang, vice-chairman of the Korean national assembly and a delegate to the U.N., said that "we Koreans ourselves have never recognized the 38th parallel."

"It was maintained by the Russians for strategic and military purposes," he said. "The United Nations forces must cross over the 38th parallel in order to obtain peace for the world. We expect Gen. MacArthur to go on."

Red Minority Loses In CCL

WINNIPEG, Sept. 27 (CP). — Reds had notice today that from here in they will find the going tough in the Canadian Congress of Labor.

They were thrown for two stiff losses at the CCL's annual convention Tuesday, and indications are they will be manhandled further before the end of the meeting late this week.

Tuesday's convention action saw the CCL's shrunken left-wing minority kicked around when it opposed policy statements from the anti-Red congress leadership on wages and on "economic philosophy."

Two turbulent debates blew up over the points during the day, but the best the left-wingers could muster in votes was about 25 against some 700.

In addition to being booted around in the voting, the left-wingers also were told from the convention platform by CCL president A. R. Mosher that they are going to have tough sledding.

"The time has come when 95 per cent of the delegates at this convention are not going to have their minds diverted from the important things they have come here to do by a small minority that wants to kick up a racket," the veteran president said.

Later, Mosher shut off a number of leftists trying to get the floor to attack the executive-sponsored declarations on wages and economic philosophy, which were adopted by the delegates generally.

Canadian Delegates Study Long Report

LONDON, Sept. 27 (CP). — Canadian delegates to a Commonwealth conference on economic aid for Southeast Asia today studied a massive 87-page document outlining present and future economic prospects for the countries concerned.

Canada is represented at the conference by Fisheries Minister W. R. Mayhew. His advisers are J. J. Deutsch, of the federal finance department, and Douglas Le Pan of the department of external affairs.

Communist Band Pulls A Vanishing Act

MANILA, Sept. 27 (AP) — A big band of Communist-led Hukbalahaps pulled a vanishing act today.

The Philippine army figured that for two days it had several hundred guerrillas surrounded in a jungle village about 20 miles south of Manila.

Sporadic gunfire was exchanged throughout Monday night. The army got reinforcements Tuesday and poured mortar fire into the area last night. Patrols went in early today. They found only trees and shrubs.

Allied Lines

The Reds once advanced to within 30-odd miles of Pusan.

The allied line was spliced together at Changji, 25 miles south of Seoul.

A United States armored 1st Cavalry Task Force from the south sped 106 miles through Red territory to close the gap between the two front.

United Nations forces, spread out on both sides of this line, liberated great areas of the U.N.-sponsored republic from the North Korean Communist grip.

Flee In Disorder

North Korean troops were fleeing in disorder—in a rout at some places—all along the battlefront. But suicide rear-guard units, ranging in size from a few troops to thousand, fought bitter delaying actions.

The fighting remained hottest in Seoul, where Red holdouts, fighting over a maze of alleys, ridges and buildings, held off final liberation of the capital which Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced Tuesday was back in friendly hands and liberated.

At the link-up AP correspondent Bill Ross said 1st Cavalry tanks rammed through a last-ditch Red attack to join 7th Infantry Division units from Inchon-Seoul in the walled town of Changji, about 25 miles south of Seoul.

Race 55 Miles

The task force raced the last 55 miles through Communist territory in

"While mopping-up fighting still in progress," MacArthur announced, "all effective escape routes are closed and the fate of the North Korean forces caught in this pocket is sealed."

How many that was, no one knew.

Two weeks ago, just before the Inchon landing, the Communists had an estimated 130,000 troops massed against the Pusan perimeter.

United Nations forces in their massive breakout starting Sept. 15 killed thousands of North Koreans. Hundreds of Communists surrendered. Thousands still are fighting, in scattered pockets of resistance.

AP correspondent Don Whitehead said retreat of Red divisions from the southern front is a big puzzle of the war.

Troops Vanish

"They seem to have evaporated —dissolved into thin air," Whitehead reported from Seoul. He said American planes had not spotted any large northward movement of enemy forces.

"And yet divisions are gone, except for rearguard elements. It is as if an army had walked into oblivion."

Many Reds in the South have been reported changing from battle dress to white civilian clothing and retiring cross-country in hopes of reaching their homes in the North.

But there was no question about where the Reds were in Seoul. Whitehead said they still held two-thirds of the capital city Wednesday morning.

He reported Allied troops held only the southwestern and southern sectors at that time.

Allied troops still had had fighting ahead to take the heart of Seoul where the Reds have strong defences, Whitehead added.

Kept Under Attack

Armed with grenades and small arms, pockets of Communist defenders in Seoul were kept under attack by American tanks and artillery.

The Communists seemed determined to make the capital of 1,000,000 population a ruined shrine to three months of Red rule.

The Red defence seemed designed to delay UN forces long enough to give Communist remnants a chance to flee northward over Parallel 38 or make a stand somewhere before the line.

MacArthur's headquarters said the Reds were retreating north and northeast from Seoul toward Uijonbu with Allied troops in pursuit.

Marines and infantrymen inside Seoul fought off desperate Red charges. They took a heavy toll of Red tanks and troops.

Maj.-Gen. Edward M. Almond, commanding the 10th Corps, said his liberation force had accomplished in 11 days since Sept. 15 the prime objectives of the second front operation.

He added that Seoul for all practical purposes was in Allied hands and Tuesday night predicted its complete liberation within 24 hours.

MacArthur's headquarters said the North Koreans generally were showing little desire to fight against the Allied tide.

Last Ditch Effort

But a Red Korean rifle company and two tanks smashed into Seventh Division infantry Tuesday four miles southwest of Suwon airfield, 20 miles south of Seoul.

The Red elements were believed to be fleeing northward. They were overrun by the 1st Cavalry column which speared north of Osan for the link-up with Allied front forces.

Behind the 1st Cavalry, the U.S. 24th Division sped toward Taejon, scene of its worst defeat in July.

The road near Yongdong was lined with Communist wounded. Scores of Reds poured out of the hills to surrender.

On the southwestern front, a 25th Division task force pushed out from captured Chinju in a two-pronged drive. One steel finger reached southwestward toward Hadong; the other stabbed northwest toward Hamyang.

Golden Haze Covers Albany

ALBANY, NY, Sept. 27 (AP). —A golden haze cast an eerie light over the Albany area today and across most of New York State the sun was obscured by smoke or clouds or both.

The golden aura over Albany was due to the smoke from forest fires in Canada. It moved in late Tuesday and was expected to remain until Friday.

The Weather Bureau said that the smoke from the Canadian fires had blown south as far as Tennessee, but that the present air movement was sending it north.

The sun over Albany, as viewed through smoke or clouds or a mixture of the two, varied from golden to bluish.

Buffalo also reported smoke overhead. At Utica, a smoke layer based at 5,000 feet was reported.

Reports to the Weather Bureau here said the sun was obscured also over many cities, including Binghampton, Elmira, Bear Mountain, Poughkeepsie, Glens Falls, and Watertown.

In New York City, local smoke conditions curtained the sun.

Wildcat Gas Strike Continues In London

LONDON, Sept. 27 (Reuters)— London's wildcat gas workers' strike ended its 13th day today, with [illegible] was also the coldest day of the walkout.

Added to the difficulties of trying to cook on low gas pressure, was the discomfort of unheated homes and offices. Individual gas heaters for each room still are widely used in British homes.

The gas cuts also brought more north London factories to a standstill. And the strike spread: about 50 maintenance engineers in south London joined the 1,400 already out in north London gas works.

The men are striking because they were granted only part of a pay increase they sought.

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 27—(AP) —The U.S. flag flew briefly over the Russian consulate here today A U.S. Marine Company hoisted the stars and stripes over the empty, shell-damaged building. But they lowered it because it was their only big flag and they wanted it for another building—the U.S. Ambassador's residence.

Tudeh Secrecy Threat To Peace Iran Gov't Fears

TEHERAN, Iran —(AP)— The vague and formless threat of the pro - Communist Tudeh party hangs over this key middle-east country bordering Russia.

The Tudeh is a secret organization. It's secrets are so well-guarded that little is known outside of the party regarding its leaders, membership or activities.

The party went underground in February, 1949. It was banned [illegible] being blamed for an unsuccessful attempt to shoot and kill the Shah.

Since then, the party has continued to publish and secretly distribute weekly newspapers and pamphlets. Police efforts to find the printing plant have been without success.

Outside of this activity, the Tudeh has practically sunk out of sight, although officials believe it has had a hand in several strikes and jobless demonstrations.

Potential Threat

The Tudeh strength cannot be measured in terms of present membership—believed roughly to be between 10,000 and 20,000. Observers say it's the potential membership the party might have if its existence were legalized that worries both the government and western democracies anxious to thwart the spread of Communism.

Up to now Tudeh has been the only organized party in the country with a solid program of reform.

A decade ago the Tudeh was a Socialist, self-styled progressive, liberal organization. Many of its founders had been jailed for their ideas by the dictator Reza Shah, father of the present shah. During the war and Russian occupation of part of Iran, the Tudeh grew strong. More and more it reflected the Communist line as Moscow agents grabbed control.

Had 5,000,000

At one time Tudeh (which means masses), claimed a membership of 5,000,000. Iran's population is about 15,000,000. Observers say this is exaggerated. They say membership might have been about 100,000 when the party reached its peak in 1946 just before the collapse of the Soviet-sponsored peoples republic in Azerbaijan province.

About half the present Tudeh membership is believed concentrated in Teheran—in government offices, army headquarters and other vital spots.

[illegible] around Abadan, in Isfahan and other textile factory centres and among the peasants of Azerbaijan province.

Azerbaijan — with about one-fourth of the country's population —is potentially the most explosive spot in Iran. Qualified observers believe that only a good crop this summer saved Azerbaijan from an open peasant revolution.

Needless to say, the Tudeh has capitalized on the discontent. Russian radio propaganda is concentrated on this sore spot.

The government drive against the Tudeh following the attack on the shah resulted in arrest and imprisonment of some party leaders. But a large number went into hiding.

New US Ambassador

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27—(AP)—The White House announced today President Truman's selection of Walter S. Gifford as Ambassador to London. Gifford, former chairman of the Board of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and a Republican, will succeed Lewis W. Douglas in the post. The change will be made effective Nov. 1 after Douglas returns to London to conclude his work there.

Children Fight To Enter Schools In Ethiopia

OTTAWA —(CP)— It is hard to imagine Canadian children fighting to be admitted to high schools or travelling several hundred miles to be enroled, but that is what is happening in Ethiopia.

Ephraim Borrou, one of Ethiopia's two deputy directors of education said the desire for learning is so great that the ministry of education can hardly cope with the situation.

Frequently they announce by radio that no more students will be admitted to government schools.

In Canada recently for a short visit, Mr. Borrou said: Children even run away from home to go to school."

Fees Based on Means

He explained that educational fees are based on the student's ability to pay. All schools are the boarding type and are operated by the government. Therefore, the students are housed and fed in addition to being taught.

The big push behind Ethiopian education, he said, is Emperor Haile Selassie. The Emperor established the first school in Addis Ababa—the capital—in 1890 with his own money and every year sends students abroad to train as teachers.

"Whenever a new school is built, Haile Selassie is the man who lays the corner stone. He personally attends every school function in Addis Ababa."

Previously, anyone desiring a formal education had to go abroad, but now with the construction of two universities in the capital, this situation is expected to be remedied.

General Offers Many Excuses

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Sept. 27 (Reuters) — A German general said today he had considered resigning his army commission, "or even committing suicide," to avoid obeying Hitler's orders.

Gen. Ernst Von Falkenhausen, 72-year-old former German military governor of Belgium and Northern France, was testifying before a war crimes court on charges accusing him of executing civilian prisoners.

He said, commenting on Hitler's orders for the executions:

"My resignation would never have been accepted in Berlin.

"Had I committed suicide I would have been replaced by a civilian governor whose treatment of the Belgian people would have been more cruel."

He and three other German generals are being tried on charges of executing 240 civilian hostages, sending Jews to concentration camps, and deporting 250,000 civilians to forced labor in Germany.

Strange Blue Sun

An RAF pilot who went up to investigate last night said he found a layer of fine brownish dust 5,000 feet thick, beginning at 38,000 feet.

The sun first turned to blue about 4 o'clock Tuesday evening over Scotland. The effect spread over most of Northern England. Then the full moon appeared—and it, too, wa blue. When the sun rose in London this morning, it was blue again.

Other Ideas

Dr. James Paton, a meteorology lecturer at Edinburgh University, said he thought the hue was caused by cloud compose dof uniform tiny droplets.

Dr. Mogens Ringkjoebing of the Royal Observatory said he had no firm theory on the cause.

"It may be ice crystals," he said, "or it may have been caused by smoke from the Canadian forest fires."

In Rome, Paris and Brussels the sun was its usual color.

In Oslo, Frankfurt, Stockholm and Helsinki it was hidden by heavy clouds.

"I went back and tried to lift the truck but I couldn't do it alone," said Bonner. "I could see Sanders underneath; he must have [illegible] Kinsman and Willis Hall (all Cavan residents) came along and we managed to lift the truck back into an upright position."

Dr. J. W. Wright of Millbrook arrived shortly after but he was unable to be of any assistance. The coroner is Dr. R. M. McDerment of Port Hope.

Second Accident

While the fog was still thick another accident accurred. A westbound car struck the tractor of Jack Thompson, also of RR 1, Millbrook, which was parked nearby. Nobody was injured.

Little damage was caused to the delivery truck. Sanders was apparently thrown from the left door and pinned to the pavement by the left side of the empty truck.

Besides his wife and daughter he leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Sanders, and two brothers, Vincent and Douglas, all four living in Millbrook. The fatally-injured man was a lifelong resident of the village.

Parking Meters Raised $7.85 Councillors' Report Reveals

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 27 (ENS)—Councillor W. A. Kingston, chairman of the Finance Committe, has released a statement of the income and expenses of the parking meters, showing the meters made a net profit over a 12 month period of $7.85. The posts, which for more than a year have supported the parking meters, have now been removed and the sidewalks repaired. This is the culmination of long and sometimes bitter, arguments in council and among the public.

Due to some of the wild rumors concerning the cost of these meters to the town, the report states it has now been brought to light that: (1) the installation and removal of the meters did not cost the town one cent in taxes; (2) had the meters remained on the streets beyond the one year trial period, the contract called for the town to pay $3 per meter a month, and the sum of $318 a month for 106 meters would have to be sent to the meter company regardless of how much the meters took in.

In five months of 1949, when there were 156 meters, the total collections were $1,751.75 or an average of $250.25 a month. Each meter brought in an average of $1.60 a month. During the next seven months, 106 meters brought in $1,678.75, or an average of $239.82 a month, or $2.26 a meter per month, the report states.

Councillor Kingston continues: On the basis of experience the meters cannot be a paying proposition at least for some time to come. If the contract had not been cancelled the town would have had to pay $318 a month to the meter company, and $60 a month to the caretaker—a total of $378 a month.

Would Use Taxes

The average take of the meters was, as outlined above, $239.82 from the present installations. The taxes of the town would have to meet the costs not met by collections, or nearly $140 a month. In addition, the town would have to pay for any parts and service or repairs. This was done by the company prior to the expiry of the 18 months trial period.

Taxes would have had to be raised by $1,680, or one mill for the next 18 months, after which the meters would be paid for. The town owed $6,033.66 on the meters at the time they were removed.

During the year of operation the town retained $715.11 and paid the meter company $2,845.86. The cost of operation of the meters was $908.26. Fines of $201 covered the operating deficit, showing a total net profit of $7.85 for one year's operation.

Officials Plan To Prosecute 2 Phone Girls

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 27.—(AP).—Officials said today they will prosecute members of the "Brassiere Brigade" who allegedly smuggled thousands of dollars in coins from a telephone company counting room.

County Solicitor Robert R. Taylor and J. M. Phillips, district manager of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, said the case against 13 persons questioned in the long-term thefts was not closed.

Police estimated that more than $100,000 was stolen from the telephone company's counting room over a period of years by girl employees who sneaked rolls of quarters out in their brassieres.

"If everyone will just keep their brassieres — I mean their shirts—on for a few days," Taylor said, "we will have some cases. It is a question of assembling evidence and charges definitely will be filed."

Because the telephone company had not signed a complaint, all 13 persons held in the case were released yesterday. They included six telephone employees, their boy friends and members of their families.

James S. Rainwater, lawyer representing the 13, said he would personally escort the girls back to their jobs today, and if the company refused to take them back, he'd sue.

Rainwater also announced he would file suit to recover $10,000 which was turned over to the clerk of Circuit Court pending further action in the case. Rainwater called it "personal property" taken from the girls.

Electrical Contractors Offer To Aid Defence

GUELPH, Sept. 27 (CP)—Services of the Electrical Contractors Association of Ontario were offered Tuesday to the provincial government in civil defence organizations.

The move was the highlight of a day-long session which saw 30 zones of the association represented. The organization takes in an area from Port Arthur to Kingston and from Kirkland Lake to Toronto and Windsor.

It was pointed out that electrical contractors could render great service to municipalities in controlling fires by removing wiring hazards both before and after a bombing attack.

Star Skaters Start Canadian Tour At Cobourg

COBOURG, Sept. 27.—(ENS). Like something lifted out of a Hollywood movie setting, the International Ice Revue opened last night at the Cobourg Recreational Centre for a two-night run, after which the show goes for a three-day stand at Peterborough, and thence on a coast-to-coast tour of Canada. The world premiere at Cobourg drew a capacity crowd and the show made an instant hit with the large audience.

Among the outstanding male skaters with the show are Jerry Rehfield, former leading man with Barbara Ann Scott; Eddie Brandstetter and Len Furnas, two comedians; Nick Dantoes, one of North America's leading stilt skaters; Jimmy Hambly, who made his debut with "Skating Sensations" last season; Bob Duray, Oscar Dussault of Sherbrooke, and John Flanagan.

The show stars beautiful Eileen Seigh, for two years leading lady in the Sonja Henie-Arthur Wirtz New York production, "Howdy, Mr Ice," and co-starred with Barbara Ann Scott in "Ice Capades." Direction is by Dorothie Littlefield, well-known director of Sonja Henie shows Bob and Peggy White, adagio team, also starred The De Witt twins, Joan and Jean of Regina, popular pair with Skating Sensations last year, are also headliners on the show. The ice revue is sponsored by Robert W. White and Jerry Rehfield.

When Bob White and Jerry Rehfield, two of the stars of "Skating Sensations of 1950," which headlined Barbara Ann on a Canadian tour of 60 cities last winter, conceived the idea of an ice shows they played for high stakes and managed to lure the outstanding combination of the beautiful and talented Eileen Seigh for the leading skating role and Dorothie Littlefield to direct it.

Superb Cast

Gathering about them a number of stars with whom they were associated last year, and taking on others who fit admirably into the picture, they succeeded in lining up a superb cast of entertainers, and for several weeks they have been training at Cobourg in the new Recreational Centre.

Other talented skaters combine as representatives of the best in Canadian and American skating performers, provide a well-balanced blend of Canadian and American skating personnel to give the show a good international tinge.

Entitled, "Frozen Fantasy," a delightful number followed the opening overture, with Eileen Seigh as snow queen and about her in lovely costumes the snowflakes, northwinds and snowclouds. "A Hunting We Will Go" with Ed, Brandstetter and Leonard Furnas; "Stepping High" with stilt skater Nick Dantos; Bobby Duray in his Jack-in-the-Box number; Studio of the Dance, Ballet Blah; Bob and Peggy White in the "Poetry of Motion," and an elaborate group, including Eileen Seigh and Jerry Rehfield in "Soiree De Vienne," comprised the first half of the program.

After the overture which opened the second half, Jerry Rehfield and Leonard Furnas performed with a group in "Rhapsody in Rhythm," followed by a comedy number, "Ten Too Many," with Eddie Brandstetter. "Gypsy Revelry" was a colorful number in which the performers were headed by Jerry Rehfield, Eileen Seigh, Bob and Peggy White. Country Fair was featured by Leonard Furnas, Eddie Brandstetter, a comedy number in two parts. "Canadian Hoe Down," a beautiful and elaborate number completed the program.

Handwriting On The Wall For Peterborough Workers

The Canadian Congress of Labour which last December suspended the United Electrical Workers union (U.E.) from its association, now has permanently expelled the U.E. because of its communist leadership. This is of very earnest importance to Peterborough.

• • •

Peterborough is a stronghold of the U.E. in Canada. Through its two Locals (524 at the C.G.E. and the composite 527 which includes workers at the Lock company, Raybestos and the Marble Works) it has secured the bargaining agency for more than 4,000 Peterborough workers. Not all these 4,000 are members of U.E., or even adherents. But U.E. is their bargaining agent.

• • •

The fact that Mr. Conroy, secretary-treasurer of the C.C.L., has denounced the U.E. leaders as "prisoners of the Communist Party" does not condemn the members of U.E. in Peterborough. Most of the workers in Peterborough plants who are either active or passive members of U.E. are respected, worthy citizens of unquestionable loyalty to Canada and her democratic institutions. But these people, and other workers who must now accept U.E. as the dominant plant union, cannot, must not, ignore the verdict of the C.C.L.

• • •

It is not employers who have put the finger on U.E. leaders. It is not management which has ostracized the U.E. It is a responsible, nationally representative association of fellow-unionists who have ousted U.E. from their ranks and condemned the leadership as Communist. When almost every other union in Canada has denounced the U.E., can Peterborough U.E. members, and those other employees who passively accept U.E. as their bargaining agent, stay heedless? Are they going to keep folded hands while other unionists for their own protection and in their own interests have damned U.E.?

• • •

Ordinary Peterborough U.E. members are not tainted as U.E. leaders are, but they cannot quit themselves of obloquy by remaining under such leadership. So long as they remain in U.E. and so long as U.E. keeps its present leaders they are in danger of being hobbled or led along paths which they would personally shun. (For instance, Mr. C. S. Jackson, Canadian head of U.E. has loudly espoused, as U.E. spokesman; the notorious Stockholm Peace Declaration.) So long as they remain in U.E. and under their present leaders they can have no voice in the general councils of organized labour in Canada. They are outcasts from their own fellows.

• • •

It is not our intention to argue a case. We do urge Peterborough workers to read both sides and not blindly to accept only a U.E. version, an I.U.E. version, or a C.C.L. version. In assessing the matter they must take into account the national and international situation as well as the local. In the past U.E. has served Peterborough workers well. Their conditions of employment and rates of pay have improved vastly. U.E.'s domestic record is good in that regard—though we may point out that it is not the only union which has secured notable benefits for its members; for instance I.U.E. recently won a 42-hour week and a 12-cent hourly increase in factories for which it is the bargaining agent. But wage rate victories are not the only gauges of a union's value. Organized labour has now a very important voice in the affairs of this country. Is U.E.'s voice the kind Peterborough workers want, a thin solo echoing, as the C.C.L. alleges, from Kremlin turrets?

• • •

The great labour convention in Winnipeg has taken into account U.E.'s political record and principles and will have none of it. They understand the danger of Communism in the labour movement; they know the nature of the U.E. leadership and the direction it is taking. Are Peterborough workers as clear-sighted and straight-thinking?

Illustrated London News, 1843:

Man's attempts to fly were discussed with considerable scepticism in 1843, and an article in The Illustrated London News by a Professor Partington listed several failures of the period. It also predicted failure for other attempts scheduled for the near future and, in general, intimated that anatomists, engineers and physicists were fairly well agreed that flying was an impossibility. Humans could never survive the great air speeds attained by birds, and pressure of air created by even lesser velocities would break "the entire machine into shreds".

The professor's arguments must have seemed entirely logical in their day, and it must be admitted that none of the contraptions discussed ever flew, with the exception of a steam conveyance-rocket. Since no person volunteered to test the practical utility of the latter by making the first trip, it remained purely experimental. The most interesting feature of the article, however, did not concern attempts to fly in 1843, but told of the first attempt made in England, in the sixteenth century.

An Italian adventurer at the Court of King James IV of Scotland, favourably received by that monarch and presented with the abbacy of Tungland, had promised to gratify the Court with an exhibition of flight. His apparatus consisted of huge wings, operated by cords; thus equipped he leaped from the battlements of Stirling Castle, and, "as might have been expected, speedily reached the ground." His reasoning on this unlucky result was considered worthy of preservation by Professor Partington—"My wings," said the Italian, "were composed of various feathers! among them were the feathers of a dunghill fowl, and they, by a certain sympathy, were attracted to the dunghill on which I fell; whereas, had my wings been composed of the feathers of eagles alone, as I proposed, the same sympathy would have attracted my machine to the higher regions of the air."

We join Professor Partington in refraining from attempting to analyze the sophistry of the ingenious Italian. We feel reasonably sure, however, that his own good sense had far more to do with his comparatively soft landing than any feathers that may have been used.

Frederick Montague de la Fosse

We are certain that we speak for all our readers when we record our deep regret at the death of Frederick Montague de la Fosse, one of the oldest and certainly one of the best known of Peterborough's citizens. As he celebrated his 90th birthday last July it would be foolish to pretend that his passing was unforeseen, but he was so filled with high spirits, wit and intellectual curiosity that we can ill spare him, and in this office, as in many other quarters of the city, he will be sadly missed. Mellow old age has its charm, no less than youth, and that charm had been granted to him in generous measure.

In manner he had retained much of the formality of the days of his youth, and that formality was illuminated by the true courtesy of his own spirit. He had lived an adventurous and sometimes a hard life, but his character was not at the mercy of circumstance. He reminded us often of Colonel Newcome, that character of Thackeray's who embodies so much of the character of an English gentleman; he was guided by lights of honour and courtesy which were never dimmed.

He enriched the life of Peterborough in his time, not only by his building up of the local library, but by the example of his conduct and his attitude toward other people. He met life courageously, humorously, and with all his wits about him. It is good to have known such a man, and we who knew him will never forget him.

The Death Of Colonel Maclean

The Canadian publishing world loses a prominent figure by the death of Lt.-Col. John Bayne Maclean, the head of the Maclean-Hunter Publishing Company. He lived quietly, though in considerable splendour, and his energies were devoted almost entirely to the conduct of his business. His fortune was entirely of his own making, for he began with no monetary advantages. From a very humble position he grew to be a rich man, and unquestionably the most successful publisher of magazines in Canada. He did it by business acumen and hard work.

In character he was mild and agreeable. There was nothing spectacular about him or his methods of work. But he had the courage which a man must have who increases his publications from one small trade magazine to forty magazines, including most of the best this country produces. As a publisher he did much to increase the market for Canadian writing, and privately he was kindly and helpful to many Canadians of ability.

ON THE MARGIN:

Serious And Not So Serious

REPRIEVE FROM WAR, by Lionel Gelber (Macmillan).

IT is still a bit of a shock to come upon a good book by a Canadian. More surprising, if one did not know Mr. Gelber's "Peace by Power" published in 1942, is to find a good book on political philosophy and current international affairs written with authority by a disciplined pen. There are probably a couple of dozen men in Canada so well informed by study and experience that they know what they are talking about when they talk about modern international problems. (Most of them will be found in the Department of External Affairs.) But there are very few who can write lucidly about these matters; fewer still who have reasonable, forceful ideas of their own. Lionel Gelber, now only in his early forties, is one of these few, and none can match the urgency of his theme and style of writing.

MR. Gelber, a Torontonian now living in New York, a Rhodes Scholar, a former university instructor, and United Nations staffer, has in this book the same basic and topical theme he brilliantly unfolded in "Peace By Power". It is restated in the Preface to "Reprieve From War", published a few weeks ago:

> We have learned in a hard school that, while you can have power without freedom you cannot have freedom without power—and that belief in your society is one of the foundations of its power.

The thesis is not original; it it is as old as power itself, as cogent as Machiavelli. From this basis Mr. Gelber reviews in this book the history—yes, it must be called history—of the first five post-war years, marshalling facts, incidents, personalities and principles learned in schools of political science, to support what may be an unwelcome point of view: that among nations, might is right, as it is among individuals, and that it behoves the nations of the West, who are in the right, to be mighty. The West must be powerful, or submit.

THE thesis is hard, the reasoning stern to a generation born during a war to make the world safe for democracy, maturing in soft League of Nations days on Wilsonian principles, and tempered in a dreadful second World War, whose disappointments and complexities the victors are now bearing. But as the reader is pushed headlong through the 190 pages of this "manual for Realists" (the sub-title of the book) he cannot avoid the conviction that there is perpetual crisis in the affairs of man, that appeasement does not pay, that the notion of national sovereignty will die slowly, that the martial and political supremacy so dearly purchased in 1914-18, (and allowed to crumble in the '20's and '30's) must be maintained. "What we want is not peace alone but peace with freedom" . . . "Would-be architects of a nobler edifice for humanity are apt to forget that blueprints are futile when you have been robbed of your title deeds or when trespassers have seized your land".

MR. Gelber makes his intermediate points with the tight-packed clarity with which his main thesis emerges. For instance, this: "The leadership of the West, a legacy to the United States from Britain and France, is the supreme art of politics. After being accustomed for generations to compensate with pronouncements of principle for the exercise of power, the American people have suddenly had to discover that neither one will do without the other."

Incidentally, in another, later chapter, there is an oblique criticism of this American power: "We must look to the more enlightened among small and Middle Powers when the responsibility which Great Powers possess is muddled by ignorance, collusion, or abitrary caprice."

Two aspects of this book lessen its influence in this reviewer's mind. The style is obtrusively mannered. The writer has a Macaulay fondness for balance and antithesis: "Counsels of despair must not cause us to despair of prudent counsels" "Tomorrow's cynicism is the spoiled child of today's illusions", etc. The style is so forceful as to lead one to suspect that there is something lacking in the argument. Secondly, Mr. Gelber repeatedly finds parallel relations between the condition and state of nations, and a person in municipal or provincial society. It is a homely, direct touch, but what weight of proof and authenticity of pattern is there?

It is a remarkable, readable and important book. T.J.A.

MURDERING MR. VELFRAGE, by Roy Vickers (British Book Service).

AS the title indicates, this is a "whodunit". This particular "whodunit" cannot be called, as mysteries sometimes are, a "four-penny fearful", not only because it isn't fearful but because it costs $2.25.

The mystery story that doesn't try to make the reader shiver and shake at the core, that has normal people taking part in an abnormal situation that has some humour, and last but certainly not least, some mildly spicy sex, pleases this reviewer. Murdering Mr. Velfrage has all these, plus some chapter-to-chapter suspense.

THE hero, Bruce Habershon, is a young man who is everything a respectable young man should be, but his baser instincts lead to a thing or two that come as a surprise to him and came as even more of a surprise to this reader. Bruce finds himself in the deplorable state of being liable to accusations of drunkenness, theft and murder. Our Bruce is not one to take this sort of thing lying down and proceeds to get to the bottom of things, for better or worse (the worse being that he is not completely sure that he's innocent of these charges). Amateurs at detecting can do some very foolish things at a time like that, and Bruce does them. Luckily there is a competent police officer overseeing operations who refuses to be confused by some bizarre circumstances.

There are two young women ostensibly helping Bruce clear himself: Prinny Loftus a "luscious" red-head, and Celia Rabethorpe, ash-blonde with "natural colouring" who is obviously the right girl for Mr. Habershon. With such help as this, how could life be dull? It certainly isn't dull, but it is rather uncertain as the ladies' actions leave some doubt as to whose side tney are on.

THE plot that Habershon and Kyle (the police officer) are trying to foil is quite transparent but Mr. Vickers is skillful at creating situations that the reader has to get the hero out of before going to bed. If you're losing any sleep by staying up to finish "this chapter", be smart; you can stop in the middle of any chapter; it's all a clever hoax.

If you need to get away from it all for an evening, read Murdering Mr. Velfrage. And don't worry; it won't leave a ripple on your consciousness. V.J.

DILEMMA IN THE U.S.

Tale of Ticket Punch

(CANADIAN NATIONAL MAGAZINE)

WHENEVER you ride a train, the conductor punches your ticket to cancel it. Now, no two of these ticket punches are the same. Each punch, like a human fingerprint, leaves a mark that has no duplicate. This variety in punch marks is part of the Canadian National's accounting system.

The hole the conductor punched in your ticket today may make the outline of a lady's head, a high button shoe or a top hat. In any event it will be unique, identifying not only the conductor but also the section of the C.N.R.'s lines over which you were travelling when the ticket was punched. There are 2,000 different punch marks in use.

The railway will never run short of these punch marks, for while there are 2,000 in use, the company has 1,500 more dies. Punch marks include the letters of the alphabet and animate and inanimate objects such as a star, a mushroom, a half moon, a hatchet, an anchor, a fish, a trowel, the four symbols of playing cards a horse's head and many others.

AS we have said they have a direct bearing on the accounting system. They are a factor in proving that a portion of a ticket is refundable. The railway doesn't expect a passenger to pay for more than he has received. If you have used only a portion of your ticket, the company is prepared to return your money on the remainder.

However, to make refunds possible, the railway must maintain an accurate tally of the tickets and parts of tickets that have been honoured on its trains. The punches by its conductors provide this tally.

Let's suppose you bought a ticket from Montreal to Winnipeg and that for some reason or other, you left the train at Capreol. Out of Montreal and Ottawa the conductors will leave their punch marks (a diamond and horseshoe) to indicate that you travelled the distance of their runs, that is, Montreal to Capreol.

On return to Montreal, you apply for a refund from Capreol to Winnipeg. Your application and ticket is forwarded to the auditor of passenger accounts office. There, by consulting the records, it is found that the diamond belongs to conductor Smith on the Montreal-Ottawa run and that the horseshoe punch mark belongs to conductor Jones on the Ottawa-Capreol run.

By checking the daily ticket report it is determined that these conductors were on duty when you made the trip. Hence the punch marks on your ticket when checked against the records show that you travelled only from Montreal to Capreol. Therefore, the Capreol-Winnipeg part of your ticket is refundable.

Since punches play an important role in making refunds, they are issued with care. When a conductor receives a new punch, its particulars are filed with his superintendent and with the auditor of passenger accounts.

At the latter's office, an additional record for each punch is maintained. It is called the Record of Ticket Punches. This record contains all the transfers made of a punch until it goes out of service. Something of a master record also is kept there and is used as a ready reference. This record lists all the punches in use and names the conductors to whom they have been issued and the runs on which they are used. All the records bear the marks of the punches so that when a conductor turns in his ticket report, his punch mark is his signature.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others: Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.

The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess. And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.

I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted. (Luke 18: 9-14.)

◇ ◇ ◇

What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee. In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me. (Ps. 56: 3, 4.)

Unconsidered Trifles

"So sorry, Inspector, I'm afraid my little dog has eaten my ticket."

"Then, madam, I suggest you buy him a second helping."

Falling off a small step-ladder and hurting herself, a maid sued her mistress for damages. The plaintiff's prize exhibit, the ladder itself, was on show, and she alleged it was rickety and unsafe. Counsel for the maid's employer was seeking to prove that the ladder was sound. To make his points, he climbed it and stood on top, and then he jumped on the ladder. It fell to pieces under him.

The counsel picked himself up. "You see, members of the jury," he said quietly, "you see how solidly that step-ladder was built. I weigh 160 pounds and I had to jump on it with all my weight to break it."

He won his case.

Justice

(The Brooks Bulletin)

In the early days of Brooks an oldtimer was chosen as justice of the peace. He knew little law and when a case came before him he would take out, with a flourish, a fine-looking book, inside of which he had fastened an Eaton's catalogue.

In one case he thumbed the pages, put his finger on a point, and said: "You are fined $4.98." The defendant got up to protest. "Sit down," his lawyer cautioned. "You're just plain lucky he turned to Pants instead of Pianos."

No Sign Of War Preparations Between Israel And Arab States

Since the signing of the armistice agreements with Israel last year, the Arab States have passed into a kind of limbo between peace and war.

In spite of the warlike speeches of some Arab politicians and declared Israeli fears of an arms race—which have provided the desired stimulus to fund-raising in the United States—there are no signs of active preparation for war, the London Times reports.

On the other hand the tentative meetings of Israeli and Jordanian representatives have given no cause for hopes of an early formal peace. Yet there are few regional factors preventing Israel from realizing its ambitious immigration program, or Jordan from completely integrating the remnants of Palestine under the Hashemite crown, or, for that matter, deterring the Syrian army from engineering another coup d'etat. Each country is more or less free to work out its own salvation without regard for the late enemies, especially since the declaration by Britain, the United States and France guaranteeing the Palestine armistices lines.

The deliberations of the Arab League do not vitally affect the peoples of the member nations. They occupy the professional attention of the politicians and fill a certain amount of newspaper space, but merchant in Beirut, the landowner in Aleppo, the Beduin officer in the Arab Legion, the farmer of the rich, red, rolling plains of northern Syria, and the rabble-rouser in Damascus are now less concerned with Israel. Even the educated Palestinian refugees — especally the young ones—have since the opening of the new Jordanian assembly turned eastwards and see their future with Amman, and not in the wake of an avenging army. For many Arabs Israel could easily; be in another continent except that geographically it separates Egypt from Arabia.

No New Party

During recent journeyings through the Arab countries and Israel, from Cairo to Aleppo, from Tel Aviv to Damascus, there was no evidence apparent to your correspondent of even a desire to resume hostilities. Recent supplies of military equipment under the terms of treaties have not produced a war party anywhere.

In the Arab countries this hopeful if still negative development springs from a variety of factors, chief among which are the healing effect of the passage of time on wounded national pride interest in internal affairs, and rivalry between governments.

Internal affairs and rivalries have also diverted attention from Israel. The alliance of Egypt and Saudi Arabia against Jordan is well known. It divides Arabia and reduces the Arab League to a tottering facade supported only by the endeavor and compromises of the secretary-general, Azzam Pasha. In the north the compelling geographic, racial and cultural oneness of Syria. Iraq and Jordan which conditions the minds of many to think of the future in terms of federation or union.

Profiteers Now

The Egyptian press has proved adequately enough for most of its readers that the Palestine war was not lost by the inefficiency of the army command or the lack of enthusiasm of its troops but because of the profiteers who supplied the forces with unserviceable equipment.

Little effort appears to have been made to punish the offenders; it is apparently sufficient to transfer the responsibility of defeat. The commanders of the Syrian Army—or the Noble Army, as it is called—have already forgotten the inactive part it played during the war and may be regarded as a band of armed politicians. The Lebanese, the world's oldest trading community, are far too busy enriching themselves in currency exchange, trade, and the growing and processing of hashish to bother with unprofitable martial adventures. Jordan has made known its peaceful intentions, and Iraq has indicated its willingness to support it. Certainly no Arab agitator at present could arouse public opinion or town mobs to demand revenge by war.

All these factors contribute to bringing about a kind of equilibrium. A formal peace with Israel is not regarded as an immediate necessity: it is easier for Arab leaders to allow the present situation to continue undisturbed. It is argued that a formal peace would bring no advantage for the Arabs unless Israel accepted the return of the Palestinian refugees. This it is obviously not prepared to do, or even capable of doing.

The denial of direct access to the sea through Haifi has increased the communications problem of landlocked Jordan, but King Abdullah himself has decided that Jordanian routes to the sea must be through Arab territory. Beirut merchants and transport owners naturally applaud this decision. Some trade in food exports to Israel is lost but it is not considered serious.

HAPPY RED grins into camera and makes no bones about his joy at being captured with a whole skin. The North Korean was taken by U.S. Marines near the Kimpo airfield, north of Seoul, and appears to be very relieved that the war is over, at least for him.

Launch Drive For 'Old Tars'

LONDON (CP).—A campaign has been launched throughout the British Commonwealth to enrol a minimum of 300,000 former "tars" as members of the Royal Naval Association.

Known hitherto as the Royal Navy Old Comrades Association with 250 branches in various parts of the Commonwealth, the organization was recently authorized to change its name on authority of the new president, Admiral of the Fleet Sir John Cunningham.

Explaining the reason for the proposed change, Sir John said: "I was attending a service at St. Paul's Cathedral when I noticed a banner being carried bearing the white ensign. I learned it belonged to the Royal Naval Comrades Association and I thought it must be some sort of a benefit society for Crimean veterans. For a Sea Lord not to be better informed that was pretty grim."

To forestall any misunderstanding among the rank-and-file, the executive had agreed to the change in title. With determination and initiative, Sir John Felt there would be no difficulty in attaining the membership objective.

Millbrook News

An amateur night sponsored by the Smith group of St. Andrew's W.A. will be presented in the Town Hall on Friday. There will be instrumental, vocal, elocution and public speaking classes judged by people from out of town.

The special speaker at St. Andrew's United Church Sunday morning was Lorne Peebles, a 23-year-old insurance salesman of Toronto. He spoke on behalf of the Ontario Temperance Federation. Mrs. Laurence Winslow was the soloist.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Coulter and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olan have returned from a visit to New York City, where they were guests of Mrs. Burr Walker, Mr and Mrs. Coulter's daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bowman of Grand Rapids, were guests at the weekend of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holden.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. MacDonald of Toronto spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith.

Mrs. H. Leeder of Victoria has returned to her home after spending two weeks with her father, Mr. H. V. Kent, her aunt, Miss E. Kent in Millbrook and her sister, Miss Vickie Kent in Toronto. Mrs. Leeder made the trip by plane. On Saturday night, before her departure, a family re-union which took the form of a weiner and corn roast, was held in Norval at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. Alex. and Miss Christine McGregor. There were 28 present.

Mr. Lorne Peebles of Toronto, the speaker at St. Andrew's United Church Sunday morning, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Payne and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gray.

The Rev. and Mrs. T. G. Husser and daughters, Marie-Claire, Marlyn, Mariel Mae and Pamela motored to Putnam at the weekend where Mr. Husser conducted anniversary services. They were the guests of Mr. Husser's brother, the Rev. G. L. Husser of London.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Standen of Victoria, B. C., who are returning to their home after spending the summer in England and Scotland, were the guests last week of their niece, Mrs. Bruce Ingham.

The Rev. James Ritchie of the Hastings-Warkworth charge, and Mr. Sam Castle of Peterborough, were guests on Sunday of Mrs. Walter Patterson at the manse.

The Rev. Walter Patterson took the services in Warkworth and Hastings Presbyterian Churches on Sunday. He was accompanied by Mr. John Blair and they were the guests of Mrs. James Ritchie at the manse in Warkworth.

Students who have returned or are returning this week to schools and colleges include: Tom Willoughby and Lindsey Belch at the medical school, University of Toronto; Pauline Kennedy, Queen's University, Kingston; Margaret Dawson, Frances and Bennett Handley attending Peterborough Business College, and Betty North at Peterborough Normal School.

Annual harvest thanksgiving services were held in St. Thomas Anglican Church Sunday evening. Members of the congregation had brought fruits, vegetables and flowers to decorate the church in keeping with the service. The rector, the Rev. A. A. Choté, preached the thanksgiving message. The special music consisted of an anthem in which Mrs. G. A. Spicer and Mr. Tom McCamus took the solo parts and a girls' trio comprising the Misses Dorothy Hutchison, Joan Sanders, and Lena-Marie Lowery. Miss M. Collins directed the choir and played the organ.

So you're going to get married

When Mary and John got married... John made a decision. "Mary," he said, "our income is going to be very small. But if we watch it well, it should cover our food ... the rent, and one day perhaps, a house of our own." Then he laughed, and said: "Mary, I want you to look after all the money for us. I'm not just trying to pass the buck ... It's simply that I believe a small income should belong entirely to the wife." So Mary took over the entire responsibility of saving the money. John settled down to making a success of his work. John's plan worked, until the first baby came. Then he had to take over the family bank account. He found everything in splendid shape. Mary was well known at the Branch of the Dominion Bank near her home. And, over the years, John established a good credit. They had many of the things they wanted, by building up their Bank Account ... a little at a time.

Today, John's financial responsibilities are more complicated than they were when he and Mary were first married... More complicated, yes... but in no way confused... He looks after many of them himself... with the help of his friendly, helpful Branch Manager.

The fast-moving netminder will fill the shoes of Harry Lumley, traded to the Chicago Black Hawks in a major player deal following the end of the 1949-50 season.

Lee Gets Main Grapple Go By Pinning Seelie Samara

Pro westling, villainy and Hi Lee returned to Peterborough simultaneously last night in the first mat card of the season at the Brock Arena, and the fans ate it up. The towering shaggy-haired Texan with the landslide voice won the main bout over colored Seelie Samara, taking the third and deciding fall when Seelie's flying tackle off the ropes ended on a thrust-up knee. It lasted slightly more than two minutes, with Samara starting out in whirlwind style.

Lee took the first fall of the main event in 15 minutes. The 290-pound chunk of mean matman used a rolling choke-hold to down his 245-pound opponent. while the fans screamed blue—and some, even, black—murder at the referee. The latter, Sam Gotter, was just a little fellow, hardly 200 pounds, and he had trouble trying to haul the husky well-built Hi off his luckless opponent. At that, Seelie got in the odd head butt, fist or knee and re-acted with an air of injured ebony innocence when reprimanded. Lee was slower but stronger and had a barrel of illegal stuff.

Evened it Up

Seelie evened the count at 12 minutes with two jarring head butts, a crotch hold and body slam. There was plenty of tricky work on the ropes with a befuddled official trying to figure out who was either using the hemp for leverage or tricking him by jarring the stands in a scramble near the ring edge. Samara made made up for lack of height and weight with some foxy stuff and it was the best round of the bout, and the result was highly pleasing to the crowd when Lee was counted out.

Pat Flanagan, at 225 pounds, gave away 23 to Pat O'Shocker in the semi-final but won the go in 21 minutes with a reverse leg full nelson. It was on an unusual hold and he got a quick count from the ref, though Flan earned the bout. He was out of the ring shortly before taking quite a beating from a bigger and rougher rival, O'Shocker throwing the book at him. He had no regard for rules and softened Flanagan up plenty, though the latter had it over him on speed and smart ring tactics. He once caught O'Shocker with a flying leg scissors and he kept the fans yelling whenever he got loose from the bear-hugs and choke holds applied by the burly Irisher. It was a good bout most of the way with lots of action.

A Rough Bout

Abe Zvonkin, 234-pound grappler who once played football for Hamilton Tigers, went to a 30-minute prelim draw with 240-pound Jack Moore. Abe played it rough and wasn't too popular but later both mixed it up with plenty of illegal stuff pulled and the referee having a tough time of it. He was caught once trying to break a grip and both huskies landed on him. Abe used a choker grip to advantage and Moore did best by banging the other's head on Jack's knee. It was fast and furious, and downright dirty wrestling by both towards the end of a heated prelim, but both were going strong at the finish and it had to be called a draw.

Pension Fund For NHL Now $460,000

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 27—(CP)—President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said here Tuesday that assets of the league's player-pension system started three years ago ow total more than $460,000 and will reach $1,500,000 by 1957.

He told members of the Toronto Maple Leafs Club in training here that 160 players, both active and retired, are taking part in the plan.

Campbell is on a tour of N.H.L. training camp talking to the players about the plan which they operate themselves through representation from each club. Players contribute $900 a year to the fund and to qualify for a maximum pension must remain in the league 10 years.

Other sources of revenue are the annual N.H.L. all-star game and a percentage of gate receipts from annual playoffs.

Accompanying Campbell was Carl Voss, recently appointed referee-in-chief, who said he had signed five referees and 13 linesmen for the 1950-51 season.

Bill Chadwick of New York and George Gravel of Montreal are the two senior officials. Hugh McLean of Hamilton will be starting his second season. Newcomers will be Red Storey of Montreal and Bill Knott of Seattle who officiated in the Pacific Coast League last season.

Shutouts In Soccer

King Edward Intermediates created a surprise in the school soccer league game Tuesday afternoon when they defeated King George in their own pitch 1-0.

Both elevens opened up at a terrific pace to test the goalkeepers repeatedly, but King Edward half-backs forced the issue to allow Wayne Rowe to score the only counter. The second half found King George boys retaliating with vigor in an attempt to tie the count, but Parks, the KE goalie, was unbeatable.

King George— E. English, goal; G. Pollard and P. Denniser, backs; D. Greenly, G. Barclay, and K. Dixon, half-backs; A. Clark, C. Crowder, A. Baptie, E. Innes and P. Hayden, forwards; subs, R. King, L. Hale, J. Donaldson.

King Edward— J. Parks, goal; R. Murduff and F. Ball, backs; W. Rowe, T. Collins and P. Waldie, half-backs; A. Beggs, J. Rose, R. Stevens, J. Byers and K. Davies, forwards; subs, W. Cuff, J. Murphy, R. Rowe, K. Vagelsang.

Referee—Mr. Crown.

Confederation Wins

Confederation and Queen Mary opened their Intermediate soccer series Tuesday afternoon, on Confederation School grounds when the former won 4-0. In the first half hard tackling and close checking prevented any scoring. The second half saw the Southenders practising positional play to gain two quick goals by Ferguson. Then a Trotter-Chesney combination got a third counter as the former found the inside of the upright; while Parnell headed the ball into goal from a cross by Walling to make it read 4-0.

Queen Mary—G. Vincent, goal; L. Staves and W. Hendry, backs; B. Lincoln, W. Haig, and A. Stewart, half-backs; R. Frazer, R. Atkinson, G. Dafoe, R. Hutton and R. Brown, forwards; subs, S. Dinsdale, F. Jobbitt, R. Dobbin, V. Brisbois.

Confederation — J. Hotston, goal; B. Druery and D. Mace, becks; R. Jones, G. Kimbell and R. Brown, half-backs; L. Ferguson, P. Parnell, J. Chesney, T. Trotter, and L. Walling, forwards; subs, K. Whatman, G. Rollins, G. McArthur.

Referee—Mr. Gainer.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press.

Batting: George Kell, Tigers—kept Detroit's pennant hopes alive with three-run double in eighth inning to give Tigers a 5 to 3, second-game victory over Browns.

Pitching: Don Johnson, Browns—though in frequent trouble, stopped Tigers in opening game of twin bill, 3-1 on nine hits.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Lou Gehrig hit his first home run for New York Yankees 27 years ago today at New York. The big first baseman was voted the most valuable player in the American League in 1927, 1931, 1934 and 1936. His record of playing 2,130 consecutive games with the Yanks still stands. He died June 2, 1941.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

A win for the local Orfuns here tonight—game's at 8.15 in Morrow Park—over Orillia Bombers would tie the two clubs in their ORFU senior "B" grid grouping. The Bamforth bunch just can't afford another reverse in this short, hard schedule. Bombers edged Oshawa Raiders last Saturday, so the Orillia outfit is definitely not a soft touch. But Orfuns have all their husky imports—including the three Beaches of Toronto—here for the big game tonight, and they've just got to win. It is sure to be a speedy but bruising battle between two classy football clubs, and it should draw a whopping big crowd.

* * * * * *

Johnny Russelle says: "Don't write off the Mutuals yet." They're down a game to Toronto Motors in OASA intermediate "A" quarter-final playoffs, but they figure to even the series at 7.30 tonight in the Bowl d'Ashburnham. Thus forcing a third tilt. Mutuals turned in a sloppy game in Toronto and they should be much better in this return go. They have to be or they've had it. Either Bob Greenlaw or George Hunter (both of whom left here recently) will be brought back for this important fray to do the flinging. We rather expect the local softballers to square the account tonight before a hefty gallery.

Civic Loop Has Plans

Prexy Ralph Mason of the Civic Softball League drops a line (several, in fact) to advise us that the loop has a big night planned for Thursday at the Bowl over east. A final playoff at 7.15 betwixt Bell Telephone and Foresters, Bell being two up now in the best-of-five sawoffs. They're well-matched outfits, all games between 'em being close affairs. Second game of the night sees two league all-star squads in action, these players being picked by Tommy Drumm, past president. Some good prizes up for a draw at the same time, Ralph informs us.

* * * * * *

All-star team No. 1 has G. Strickland and D. Dyer as pitchers, D. Dummitt catching, D. Davis at first, G. Rome second, P. Dracup third, Davidson at short, with Loucks, M. Gordon and L. Brown in the garden. Team No. 2: Thompson and Phillips to twirl, R. Craig catching, W. Simms first, T. Chenier second, R. Menzies third, Carveth at short, C. Loveless, G. Minor and Naismith in the field. Spares include E. Hay, F. Adams, T. Smith and Edmondson. Chum Gillespie manages the first-named team and Art Reynolds handles the other. The skippers will switch players around at their own discretion. So, there you are, folks.

About The Trojan Club

At a meeting of the Trojan Athletic Club in Legion Hall, President Lloyd Long and vice-prexy Henry Dunn were returned by acclamation, same as Charlie Foster, secretary-treasurer. Several new members added to the executive and plans outlined for the minor hockey season coming up. Trojans will have entries in each section of the PMHA again. Ron Balaam is publicity chairman and Wally Bent the hockey and entertainment chairman. This large and lively young association had a good summer in sports and should be prominent once more during the puck season, having a strong executive and a hefty membership. More power to 'em.

* * * * * *

Pro wrestling returned to this city last p.m. at the Brock and with it came villainy not tolerated in any other sport. They really disregard the rules in that game, and ye ref is pretty much a helpless little beaver gnawing away at big rough oaks. Hi Lee, a mere 290 pounds and in perfect flat-stomached shape, won the main bout over black Seelie Samara, kneeing his opponent down for the third fall. Pat Flanagan pulled a fancy leg hold—okay, then, it was a reverse full leg nelson, if you insist—to flatten Pat O'Shocker in the semi-final. Prelim went to a draw between Jack Moore and Abe Zvonkin, and if the latter was as rough for Hamilton Tigers when he played with Mick Magee, we're sorry for his late opponents.

Curling News

By HERB MARTIN

It hardly seems proper that we should be writing about a winter sport when there is so many summer sports still in progress. However, while writing about curling we do not wish to create the impression that the boys are already tossing the stanes up and down the ice at the curling rink—far from it—in fact about six weeks—but the phase of curling we are going to talk about is organization, and just at the moment the main plank in the organization is "membership."

Notices have been sent out to all of last year's members and by now they know what is expected of them—to curl or not to curl. It is important that they sign their application and return it to the secretary at once.

Next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock there will be a meeting of the skips in the club's parlors and no doubt the matter of membership will be discussed.

If there are some old curlers who have ben overlooked, or if there are any curlers from out of town or if there is any one who would like to try the game for the first time if they will contact secretary Ira Moore, Phone 4109, or chairman Dr. M. McCartney, Phone 2-2564, they will be only too pleased to assist.

Remember, if we have no members, we have no club, and if we have no club, we have no curling. Then what would a lot of us chaps do all winter?

Gives Up Football

TORONTO, Sept. 27 — (CP) — Fraser (Moose) Mustard, one of the Intercollegiate Football Union's best linesmen, has been forced to give up football for medical reasons. The 205-pound middle wing will continue with the University of Toronto Blues as a line coach. A standout with the Blues for three seasons, Mustard was eligible for three more seasons of college football before graduating in his medical course. Exact nature of the injuries which brought about his retirement was not disclosed.

Levantis Retires

TORONTO, Sept. 27 — (CP) — Steve Levantis, top-flight lineman with Toronto football teams for 18 years, has retired from football because of business reasons. Levantis, who joined Hamilton Tiger-Cats this season, notified Hamilton coach Carl Voyles of his decision Tuesday. Levantis played with five Grey Cup winning teams—four with Toronto Argonauts, one with Montreal Navy.

McFater Gets Decision

TORONTO, Sept. 27 (CP). — Alan McFater earned a unanimous decision over tough Young Junior of Springfield, Mass., with a late flurry of furious action in an eight-round bout before about 4,200 fight fans here Tuesday night.

Orioles Trip Rochester 3-2 Hold 3-2 Edge

By The Associated Press.

Two righthanders were slated to oppose each other on the mound in tonight's (8:15 p.m., EST), crucial sixth game of the International League final playoff series between the Baltimore Orioles and Rochester Red Wings.

Holding a 3-2 lead in the series, Orioles manager Nick Cullop was expected to send Tommy Fine to the hill as the series returned to Rochester for a decision.

Red Wing pilot Johnny Keane planned to counter with big John Yuhas.

Orioles grabbed hte edge in the series Tuesday night in Baltimore as Karl Drews hurled a classy five-hitter for a 3-2 triumph. Austin Knickerbocker, whose pinch homer Monday night won for the Orioles, and George Byam slugged successive sixth-inning round-trippers as the Birds touched John Faszholz and Bill Reeder for nine safeties.

After the sixth inning in which Don Richmond homered, Drews pitched hitless ball, setting the Wings down in 1-2-3 order.

Hastings Ousted

HASTINGS, Sept. 27 (ENS).—Hastings juniors dropped out of OASA competition, losing a 6-5 decision to Gravenhurst in the deciding game played at Oshawa. It was a close, hard-fonught game in weather that was more suitable for rugby.

Hastings won the toss and took the field, and after holding Gravenhurst scoreless in the top half of the first innings, West came through with a long homer with no one aboard. B. Barnes came right back in the third and rounded the bases for the equalizer, but it was the fourth inning that proved Hastings' downfall, as they momentarily faltered, and Gravenhurst pounced on them for four runs, and a lead they never gave up.

Hastings kept plugging away, but it was strictly an uphill battle all the way. In the bottom of the ninth, with the tying run on third and the winning run on second and two out, Macoun, usually good for a hit in the pinches, grounded out to the pitcher, and that was it.

The lineups:

Gravenhurst—B. Barnes 3b, D. Barnes 2b, Irwin c, Walker p. Daikoff 1b, Gavalin ss, Beers rf, Cope lf, Macoun cf.

Hastings — Fife rf, Spencer cf, Oliver c, Holmes 1b, Kelly 3b, West p, Morrow ss, Richardson lf, Thomas 2b.

Stevenson replaced Fife in 7th, Macoun replaced Thomas in 6th.

Cards And Togs Tie To Open Girls Loop

Cardinals and Towne Togs tied for top honors to open the Girls' City Bowling League season at Duffus, each rolling a total of 2,836 in respectively blanking Collis and Dickson's. Togs, last year's winners, had the best single game effort of any of the 10 teams with a roll of 1,026, while Cardinals were next with 1,019. Some keen bowling for so early in the season was seen as the top trundlers among girls in the city started the long schedule.

Curtin's took a 2-1 victory over Sevenaires, Arcos beat Brintons by a similar count, and an unnamed team consisting of A. Barnes, I. Buckton, C. Monk, M. Stephenson and T. McClelland, won over another team—with no name submitted—comprised of D. Martin, M. Timm, J. Castle, G. Milliken and B. Castle. Marg. Selkirk was best bowler of the night for Togs and for the loop with a single of 305 and a total of 676 for three.

Yanks, Phillies In Position To Clinch Pennants

By WILL GRINSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

This could be "flag day" for New York Yankees and Philadelphia Phillies.

New York's magnificent "clutch" team and Philadelphia's dashing youngsters are in a position to lock up the American and National League championships before sundown and put to rest all the feverish excitement over who will play in the 1950 World Series.

This would name a mere formality of the weekend windup that was figured to be loaded with high-tension stuff.

American League:

| | W | L | Bhd | Lft |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| New York | 96 | 54 | — | 4 |
| Detroit | 92 | 57 | 3½ | 5 |
| Boston | 91 | 57 | 4 | 6 |

National League:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Philadelphia | 90 | 58 | — | 6 |
| Brooklyn | 84 | 62 | 5 | 8 |

The so-called magic number for the Yankees thus is two. For the Phillies it's three.

That means any combination of three numbers—in victories for the Yanks or Phils and defeats for their challengers—would catch the pennant.

Possibilities Open

Yankees moved today into Philadelphia for two games with the last-placed Athletics before finishing off against Boston at Fenway Park.

A Yankee victory linked with a single loss for Detroit and Boston would return the Bronx Bombardiers to familiar World Series surroundings without further ado.

Detroit Tigers, their once-flaming pennant hopes chilled by a last-week letdown, met the cantankerous St. Louis Browns at Detroit. Boston entertained Washington in a doubleheader. Both must keep winning to stay "alive."

The Phillies, meanwhile — already long overdue in staging their flag-clinching party—moved into New York where the first item of business was a doubleheader with New York Giants.

The challenging Brooklyn Dodgers, five games in arrears, play the Boston Braves twice at Ebbets Field. The Phillies could clinch by winning two while the Dodgers split or by splitting while the Dodgers lost a pair.

Wants Quick Decision

Yankees' manager Casey Stengel wasn't in a mood to prolong things.

He sent his ace lefthander, Ed Lopat (18-8), to the mound against the Athletics. Thursday he'll come back with 21-game winner Vic Raschi, in hopes of taking all pressure off the windup two-game series at Boston's Fenway Park.

At Detroit, manager Red Rolfe sent out Art Houtteman, his 19-game winner against St. Louis' Dick Starr, (7-5), a former Yankee.

The Phillies also shot for a quick decision, pitching Robin Roberts and Bubba Church against the Giants' Jim Hearn and Dave Koslo.

Roberts is making his fourth shot at the 20-victory mark.

Brooklyn Dodgers, still hugging hopes of a miracle pennant, used Don Newcombe and Dan Bankhead on the mound against Boston's Johnny Sain and Warren Spahn.

Split With Browns

The Tigers' pennant hopes, already ebbing, all but disappeared Tuesday when they could get no better than a split with the Browns.

The Brownies won the opener 3-1 behind Don Johnson after the Tigers left a dozen men on bases They were ahead 3-1 in the aftermath until George Kell unloaded the bases in the eighth to help the Tigers to a 5-3 triumph.

They had a chance to pick up ground on the Yankees who lost a weird game to Washington Senators 11-9 before snatching the second 10-7.

After spotting the Senators a 10-1 lead in the opener, the champions had the winning run on base in the ninth with one out but couldn't quite make it as Mickey Harris put down the uprising.

Whip Braves

Phillies eliminated Boston's last mathematical hope of a pennant by whipping the Braves 8-7. Bob Miller was relieved by Jim Konstanty, making his 71st relief appearance for a major league record. Konstanty in turn was relieved by Blix Donnelly, who was the winner.

Gil Hodges and Carl Furillo banged home runs as the Dodgers turned back the Giants 8-4.

Cleveland Indians blanked the Chicago White Sox 2-0 on Early Wynn's six-hit pitching at Cleveland. Al Rosen homered for the Indians.

Further misery befell the once-mighty St. Louis Cardinals who lost to Cincinnati 7-2.

The unlucky Miss Canada IV will be taken to Picton today for another assault on the world's powerboat speed record.

She will probably make a trial run Friday, and if all goes well, will attempt to beat the world record Saturday.

Owner Harold Wilson, Ingersoll sportsman, has said the attempt will be his last fling at the title in the boat that has run into trouble on nearly every record attempt it has made. Present record is 160.3 miles an hour, set by Stan Sayres of Seattle in Slo-Mo-Shun.

Miss Canada IV isn't the only racing boat with tough luck. An attempt to take a turn too fast resulted in the sinking Sunday of the $100,000 "Miss Pepsi" at New Martinsville, West Virginia.

Damage was estimated at $3,000 when the boat was fished out of the water Tuesday, "Miss Pepsi" was also after the world record when the mishap occurred.

Bob Moran, president of Toronto Argonauts, says he had heard nothing about a protest that an official of the Ottawa Rough Riders claimed was made by three of the Big Four football clubs against alleged illegal blocking by Argo backfielders.

Moran said if Ottawa, Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Montreal Alouettes had protested, it appeared to be a case of "sour grapes" on their part because of Argos' success this season.

J. P. (Jimmy) McCaffrey, vice-president and general manager of the Riders, said the three other clubs think that Argo halfbacks "are getting away" with too much illegal interference. He added that they are asking for strict enforcement of the rule, which allows backs to block only one yard in front of the line of scrimmage.

Moran said McCaffrey "is crying out of his teacups." He pointed out that Argos beat the Rough Riders for the first time in two years last Saturday and it appears that McCaffrey "can't take it."

Moran said there are efficient referees in the league and "surely they are more capable than McCaffrey in knowing when illegal interference is committed."

Pete Peterson of the Brantford Navy Club pitched a no-hit, no-run game against the Stratford Kroehlers in the Memorial League finals to win 5-0. Pete saved his own no-hitter by knocking down two line drives and throwing the batters out at first base. Brantford leads the best-of-five series 2-0.

Lou Alter, Montreal featherweight making his first appearance in a British ring, scored a technical knockout over Stan Rowan in the seventh round of a scheduled eight-rounder in London Tuesday night. Each weighed 126 pounds.

ESKIMO MENTOR — Annis Stukue, 35-year-old former Toronto Argo great, is coach of the leading Edmonton Eskimos in the Western Provincial Rugby Football Union. Stukus, serving his second year at the helm of the Eskimos, not only coaches the team but does all the placement and convert kicking. His educated toe has placed him among the loop's leading scorers.

HAMILTON COACH—Carle Voyles, coach and general manager, is piloting the Hamilton Tiger-Cats combination through their first season in the Big Four. Voyles, a veteran of 25 years in United States football circles, was named coach after the Wildcats of the Ontario Rugby Football Union amalgamated with the Tigers of the Big Four to form one Big Four entry. Prior to assuming the Hamilton post, Voyles was head coach with the professional Brooklyn Dodger Football Club.

Tommy Farr, who went 15 rounds with former world champion Joe Louis in 1937, starts on the comeback trail today.

He will meet Jan Klein, Dutch heavyweight champion at Pontypridd, Wales, just a few hours before Louis comes out of retirement to fight Ezzard Charles at Yankee Stadium, New York, for the world title.

Arthur King, British Empire lightweight boxing champion from Toronto, dropped a 10-round decision to Bobby Lloyd of Kingston, Pa., at Wilkes-Barre Tuesday night. King weighed 138¼ pounds, Lloyd, 139¼.

In running his record to 37 victories in 39 starts, Lloyd won the nod of all three officials Judge Stanley Kulakowski gave Lloyd seven rounds and King three. Referee Johnny Kelly and Judge Andy Mihal saw it five and two with three even.

The defeat was King's first in his last 18 starts. But Tuesday night he was no match for the Kingston boxer as Lloyd beat him to the punch consistently.

Strange Election Held In Sark Politics Barred But 25 In Field

By ANN BUCHANAN

SARK, Channel Islands, Sept. 27 (Reuters)—One of the world's smallest—and strangest—general elections will take place here next week.

Twenty-five non-party candidates are wooing an electorate of 360 voters—out of a population of 580—for 12 seats in the chief pleas, the parliament of the tiny channel island of Sark.

This will be Sark's first general election since 1922.

Six of the candidates come from the island's principal hotel. They include the gardener, the chambermaid and the porter. Votes will be cast for personal popularity. Politics is outlawed.

But the successful candidates will be in a permanent minority. They will sit alongside the 40 tenant farmers who retain Sark, and Mrs. Sybil Hathaway, 63, who rules the island under feudal rights granted to her ancestors by Queen Elizabeth more than 400 years ago. She can deport her subjects without reason.

Constitutional Upheaval

The reason for the electoral upheaval is a constitutional one.

The island of Sark has been British-owned since the Norman conquest. Mrs. Hathaway leases the island from the King, to whom she owes allegiance as Duke of Normandy, for 50 shillings a year.

No constitutional amendments may be made without the King's approval.

Early this year, the King's privy counsellors discovered that the island had not submitted the constitutional amendments of 1926 for Royal approval. A general election was ordered, as a means of restoring legality to the tiny parliament.

So the islanders are being canvassed by foot-weary candidates—all forms of motor vehicle are prohibited on the islands, except for agricultural tractors.

Whatever happens the petticoat rule of Sark will go on. Behind the granite walls of the "Seigneurie," traditional home of the seigneurs of Sark, Mrs. Hathaway's privacy is insured by a massive wrought-iron gate surmounted by two Elizabethan cannons. She remains absolute monarch.

Enforces Laws

From her stronghold, which she never deserted during the German occupation of the island in the Second World War, Sybil Hathaway enforces the mediaeval laws of her domain.

Each islander must give two days' free labor a year and an annual loan of his horse. No horse-drawn carriage—the only transport—is allowed on the roads Sundays. No pigeons may be kept by any one other than Mrs. Hathaway herself, who is also the only citizen with the right to keep a bitch.

When it was recently found that an islander had kept a bitch on Sark for two years, the dog was killed.

Taxes are payable to Mrs. Hathaway, but not in sterling She sends out all tax demands for produce and livestock to stimulate the agricultural effort.

Inhabitants of Sark speak an ancient Norman Patois. And they don't grumble too much about the laws of the middle ages which govern their island.

Will Mint Millions of Pennies Result of Abbott Budget

OTTAWA—(CP) — Millions of new "pennies" will be minted to meet the demand resulting from Finance Minister Abbott's special budget which added a cent or more to many items.

W. C. Ronson, master of the Royal Canadian Mint said the full impact of the "add-a-cent-or-two budget" hadn't yet been fully felt, but it would certainly mean the minting of millions of one-cent pieces.

During the war, owing to various add-a-cent taxes the mint made millions of new one-cent pieces. While these are still in circulation, Canada's national economy has grown rather than decreased, and more coins are necessary.

At present there are approximately 929,732,100 pennies in circulation in Canada.

Need a Billion

However, Mr. Ronson said this number isn't enough to enable merchants to make proper change. He said Canada will need about 1,000,000,000 pennies for this purpose.

The job of keeping track of the "small change" is no small task.

At present there are in circulation: 2,512,108 silver dollars; 23,309,836 50-cent pieces; 129,746,812 25-cent pieces; 206,044,440 dimes, and 302,114,020 nickles.

Mr. Ronson disclosed that in addition to these coins, there are still 1,050,000 20-cent pieces, most of which were minted by Newfoundland before it joined Confederation.

Most of these are changed as 25-cent pieces although their legal value is only 20 cents.

Gold Coin Hoard In Yard Forms New Estate Problems

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27—(AP)—Two new facts in the fantastic puzzle over the fortune of an elderly eccentric, the late Charles Babonet, confronted public administrator's investigators Tuesday.

They dug up $4,680 worth of $20 gold coins in the back yard of Babonet's brother, Frank, who also used the name Frank Landl. Landl died last February. Charles Babonet, 66, died Aug. 7 leaving more than $130,000 in cash in his modest cottage and a total fortune that may reach $500,000.

Neighbors recalled seeing Charles digging at times in his brother's yard. The gold was added to Charles' estate.

The next puzzler is a torn piece of what appeared to be a 1941 will of Charles Babonet. Public Administrator Ben Brown said this document was mailed to him from Sacramento, Aug. 24. It is so fragmentary that its complete bequests cannot be determined, investigators said.

Another and presumably genuine will of Charles Babonet, dated in 1943, and written in pencil on butcher paper, was pushed under a door at the Bank of America, Aug. 25. A hearing has been set for Oct. 19.

This is the document in which Babonet bequeathed $100,000 to the family of William Tyson, Los Angeles, who befriended Babonet 31 years ago.

Get MORE for your money with Esso gasolines!

You get more anti-knock quality with ESSO and ESSO EXTRA.

But that's not all—ESSO gasolines give you more in all-round performance because they combine all of the gasoline qualities in proper balance.

You're always ahead with ESSO gasolines. The new improvements in ESSO and ESSO EXTRA are the result of a continuing program to keep them abreast of car engine requirements—to give you gasolines that are continually up-to-date.

Most cars now give satisfactory performance with ESSO—a balanced gasoline with stepped-up anti-knock quality and controlled volatility to give smoother performance at regular price.

Some cars—due to extra high compression, or the condition of the engine—need premium quality gasoline. For those cars your Imperial Esso dealer has ESSO EXTRA with extra anti-knock quality.

Fill your tank with ESSO or ESSO EXTRA. Take your car out on the road. Notice the fast starting, quick warm-up, surging power on hills and highways!

MORE EFFICIENCY FOR YOU!

Get more for your money with the new Atlas Micronic Oil Filter Refill with the built-in Dirt-Check Window that lets you see at a glance when your filter needs replacing. There's more dirt-catching capacity, more engine protection, longer life than old-style kinds in the new Atlas Micronic Oil Filter Refill.

MORE BATTERY LIFE!

Atlas leads the field in batteries. Atlas Batteries have more reserve capacity, starting power and longer life. Get more with the Atlas written Guarantee, the most liberal offered motorists, and made good by 38,000 dealers in Canada and the United States.

MORE GUARANTEED LIFE!

No other tire has such a Guarantee—covering all road hazards and honored by over 38,000 dealers in Canada and the United States. No other first-line, first-quality tire offers the same price advantage. With each Atlas Tire you get a Written Guarantee that is backed by Imperial Oil Limited. Ask your Imperial Esso dealer about Atlas Cushionaire, Atlas Grip-Safe or Atlas Mud and Snow Tires.

MORE PROTECTION!

Marvelube Motor Oil keeps your engine clean and operating efficiently. Imperial's solvent extraction and treating processes give you a cleaner motor oil that stands up under extreme temperatures. Marvelube gives more protection, more economy, more trouble-free performance. That's why Marvelube is Canada's largest selling motor oil.

MORE SERVICES!

Stop at the Imperial Esso sign when you want radiator and tire pressure checked. It's a service that your Imperial Esso dealer is glad to offer.

Drive in for your oil check and 1,000 mile oil change so that you can be sure your engine is lubricated with clean, fresh Marvelube for engine protection at all times.

Ex-Soldier Aids Deserters Back To Service

LONDON (CP). — A former army captain, 43-year-old Sidney Frame, has developed a unique hobby which is paying dividends in reclaimed manpower for the armed forces. He spends his spare time persuading deserters — or "trotters," as they call themselves —to give themselves up.

Frame, a London physiotherapist, traces the beginning of his unusual mission to a visit he made one day to Marylebone police court.

A man charged with a minor crime was unable to plead his case and he came to his aid. Later, he discovered that his "client" was an army deserter, and talked him into rejoining his unit. Frame pleaded for him at the court-martial and got him off with a light sentence.

Aided 140 Men

"Since then," he said, "I have somehow run into about 140 other deserters and managed to persuade them to reconsider the error of their ways." One of the lads reclaimed readjusted his outlook so thoroughly that he won his sergeant's stripes.

"I am, of course, only interested in those who had reasonable grounds for running off, such as illness in the family or domestic trouble," Frame said. "Most of them I find are miserable and haunted. They are sick of living like criminals in hiding and once they have plucked up their courage to go back, are glad they have done so."

He says his secret of winning the confidence of the deserter, is never to ask a man questions and not to make the first move to persuade a man to give himself up.

Wants Reds Recognized

TORONTO, Sept. 27 (CP) — David Croll, Liberal member of parliament for Toronto Spadina said Tuesday night the Canadian government should recognize Communist China. "Like Britain, we in North America must take this step of reconciliation immediately, otherwise we are merely tossing China away," he told members of the Toronto Junior Board of Trade.

Threw Soup On Officer

WHITBY, Sept. 27—Pouring a bowl of hot pea soup on a constable resulted Tuesday in a fine of $10 and costs or 10 days for Mrs. Grace Atkinson, 55 Brock St. N., who pleaded guilty of intoxication.

PC Robert Crozier told court he was investigating a disturbance at a canning factory and found Mrs. Atkinson standing on a weighing scale, using abusive language and holding stones which she theatened to throw through the windows.

The woman lay screaming on the floor of the mayor's jeep which PC Crozier was driving and kicked the front seat until it became jammed under the dashboard, he testified.

"Approaching the jail she hit me on the shoulder with a two-by-four and attempted to hit me with a can of oil," the officer said. "Inside she threw the soup on my uniform."

A charge of doing $1.50 worth of damage to PC Crozier's uniform was withdrawn and the cleaning bill tacked to the fine.

Barlow Couple Marks Silver Wedding

BONARLAW, Sept. 27 (ENS). —Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barlow celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Saturday when a number of relatives and friends visited them at their Bonarlaw home. On Monday evening they were visited at their Crowe Lake cottage.

The Rev. J. M. Brownlie, at the Bonarlaw party, complimented Mr. and Mrs. Barlow as being two of his best parishioners and wished them all success and happiness for many years. The couple received many gifts.

C. Preston Leads Service For Young People's Union

SPRINGVILLE, Sept. 27 (ENS) —The Young People's Union held its Sunday evening service at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carman Seymour. Carl Preston missionary convener, had charge of the program.

Letters from missionaries were read by Dianne Cullen, Doreen Bowles, Lila Seymour and Carl Preston. Graham Lowes read the scripture and Roger Hanbidge and Hazel McIntosh led in prayer.

Each of the members suggested his favorite hymn and the singing of these, with Myrna Seymour at the piano, closed the meeting.

The next meeting is to be held on Oct. 8 at the home of Dianne Cullen. Roger Hanbidge will be in charge of the program.

The Friday evening meeting on Sept. 29 has been withdrawn so that the Young People can attend the preparatory service at Fairmount church on that evening.

On Oct. 1, the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the morning service in Springville Church.

At the close of the Young People's meeting, the hostess, Mrs. Carman Seymour, and her daughters, served refreshments.

On Sunday evening, Oct. 1, the annual temperance service will be held in Springville church. A choir of Young People will lead the service of song. Children and their parents will also take part in the service.

Nehru Refuses Retaliation Against Moslem Minority

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

Hoe of resolving the dangerous India-Pakistan differences has received a fillip from an indirect but dramatic extension of the olive branch by Prime Minister Nehru of India.

Nehru's gesture came in a rebuke to extremist political followers at the annual conference of the All-India Congress Party. These extremists had demanded retaliatory action against Hindu India's Moslem minority because of alleged mistreatment of Hindus in Moslem-dominated Pakistan. Referring heatedly to such retaliation, Nehru said:

Not Democratic

"Even if some people want it, can it be accepted in the name of democracy? If that is called democracy then I say to hell with such democracy. Democratic principles are not a matter of convenience to be treated as suits and whims of anybody."

Nehru proclaimed that he refused to bow to "the wishes of the mob." He added that if the Congress wanted him as premier, it would have to follow his lead "unequivocally." Otherwise he would go out and fight independently for his ideals.

The outcome of the theatrical session was that the Congress gave Nehru an overwhelming vote of endorsement.

Significant Act

The significance of this development over Hindu-Moslem relations is that the age-old differences between the two religions enters strongly into the bitterness between India and Pakistan. Indeed, when the Indian subcontinent was divided to create the new states of India and Pakistan, the division was along those religious lines. The Hindu population areas went to India, and the Moslem zones to Pakistan.

In the old days before the revision there were continual communal disturbances based on the religious hatreds. Destruction of property and bloodshed were frequent. Often these outbreaks were deliberately inspired by extremists.

When Pakistan and India were created, naturally many Hindus were left in Moslem Pakistan, and a lot of Moslems remained in Hindu territory. There have been cases of mistreatment of these minorities, and these have increased the danger of strife between the two countries.

Kashmir Problem

Then to those difficulties there was added the dispute over possession of the rich princely state of Kashmir. The ruling prince was a Hindu and when it became clear that Kashmir would be absorbed by either India or Pakistan, he elected to join Hindu India. But his subjects were Moslems, and they wanted to join Pakistan.

This quarrel over Kashmir has several times come close to war during the three years it has been going on. A United Nations mediator now is trying to straighten the matter out, and he has recommended partition as the best way to settle it.

It will be a godsend to peace if the UN can solve the Kashmir quarrel. But perhaps even more important is a solution of the religious strife in the two countries, for there is danger of war in that, too.

Nehru's attitude toward the Moslems in India certainly should contribute to better relations with his neighbor. It will be interesting to see how Pakistan reacts to the prime minister's political explosion over reprisals.

UK Market Loss May Be Blessing

WINNIPEG, Sept. 27—(CP)—An Ontario poultryman said Tuesday that loss of the British market may prove a "blessing in disguise" to Canada's poultry industry.

C. L. Luckman of St. Williams, president of the Canadian Poultry Council, made the statement in a talk at the convention here of the Canadian Federation of Hatchery Associations.

He said that while government contracts with the United Kingdom were in effect, Canadian producers tended to forget that the domestic market is their best market.

The Association approved a recommendation from a committee of the Canadian Poultry Council for establishment of a Canadian egg and poultry board whose primary purpose would be to promote and maintain the greatest possible use of Canadian poultry products.

The board would be financed by a levy of five cents a case on eggs in May, five cents a 100 pounds of poultry from mid-November to mid-December and five cents for every 15 dozen hatching eggs received or used by hatcheries during march.

Floral Britannia To Greet Tourists

ST. MARGARET'S BAY, Kent, England — (CP) — Britannia, in flowers, will greet next year's Festival of Britain's visitors entering the country by Channel routes.

Civic leaders consider St. Margaret's "the gateway to England" for tourists from the Continent, and wish to give them a symbol of greeting.

The floral Britannia, 100 feet long and 70 feet broad, on a part of the downs which slope down to the sea, will be clearly visible to ships and aircraft.

Legion Auxiliary Sponsors Tea, Bazaar

APSLEY, Sept. 27 —(ENS)— The Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion (Apsley Branch) held on Saturday afternoon, a very successful afternoon tea and bazaar in the Legion Hall. Ladies in charge were Mrs. Chas. Smith, Mrs. B. McIlmoyl and Mrs. Owen Montgomery.

Rally Day Service was held in Trinity United Church Sunday School on Sunday morning. A choir composed of Sunday School scholars led the service of song and sang an anthem with Marie Tucker at the organ. OPP Bert Howden gave a very instructive and inspiring talk.

Harvest Festival

Harvest festival service was held in Trinity United Church on Sunday. The church was beautifully decorated with fruits, vegetables, grain, autumn leaves, cut flowers and potted plants. A large congregation was in attendance.

The Recreation Club held on Saturday afternoon a shooting match for chickens. Messrs. Harry Tanner and Norman Lean were the most successful contestants.

Among those who attended Lindsay Fair were: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Harris. Margaret Dafoe, Rena Earnshaw, Mr. and Mrs. H. McColl and children, Mr. and Mrs. W. Everett and children, Mr. and Mrs. N. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Don Newberry, Mr. and Mrs. W. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. W. Earnshaw, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. V. Windsor and W Fowler.

American Schools Stress Oral Work

WINNIPEG (CP)—Jack Fraser, back in Winnipeg after a year of teaching in California, says youngsters here don't talk as well while on their feet as their American counterparts.

But he thought Winnipeg students better when they take pen in hand.

"American students do very little writing, but a tremendous amount of oral work," said Mr. Fraser. "By comparison Winnipeg students are somewhat shy when it comes to talking in front of the class."

Hold Rally Day

COTTESLOE, Sept. 27 (ENS) The Rally Day service in the Sunday School was held Sunday morning. Miss Helen Tedford, superintendent, was in charge.

Mrs. Fred Bolton gave the story and Miss Helen Tedford gave a reading. The offering was taken by Marie Patterson and May Bolton. Mr. Dyson of Warsaw conducted the church service here on Sunday morning when the Rev. E. E. Pugsley took the services on the Warsaw circuit where Communion service was observed.

Skippy Homeier Now At College, Not Many Offers

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 27 (AP)—Ever wondered what happened to Skippy Homeier, who played the mean Nazi kid in "Tomorrow the World"?

The young actor was a stage sensation when he played the German boy who didn't take to democracy. He starred in the film version with Frederic March and Betty Field in 1944. What has happened to him since?

"I got lost inside a big studio," he says. "M.G.M. signed me when I opened in the try-out of the play. They loaned me out to do the picture version for another producer, making a profit on the transaction. But the studio never planned anything for me.

"Finally I got to do one picture 'Boys' Ranch' with Butch Jenkins. It was lousy."

In Between

Homeier now is 19, a six-footer and a University of California freshman. He hopes that he has bridged the in-between stage that every child actor has to face.

"I hope I am through with it," he told me. "I take my hat off to anyone who can get through that age successfully in pictures. It's murder."

Among those who have discovered that fact are Jackie Coogan, Jane Withers, Jackie Cooper, Freddie Bartholomew, Peggy Ann Garner and Baby Leroy. None was able to recapture the film charm they had as children. On the other hand, such stars as Shirley Temple, Judy Garland and Mickey Rooney made the grade.

Light Comedy

"I hope I can do as well," Hoheier remarked. "My ambition is to play light comedy—the kind of thing Clifton Webb does."

So far in his grown-up career he hasn't had much luck along that line. He was the Yellow Kid who plugged Gregory Peck in "The Gunfighter." He plays a marine who blows his top in "The Halls of Montezuma." And he has a lighter role in his current film, "The Gaunt Woman."

HOW TO GET QUICK RELIEF from sore, PAINFUL PILES

A Candid and Honest Discussion on a Delicate Subject

IMPORTANT! Here is frank information — in non-technical language—regarding an annoying, painful, often embarrassing physical condition which now afflicts countless thousands — you, perhaps, among them. Far too frequently this condition, at first superficial in itself, can be Nature's warning of more serious trouble to come. We believe everyone who suffers from this condition owes it to his or her own personal comfort to read the statement below. LEONHARDT PROPRIETARIES, LTD.

Since the dawn of civilization, medical men have been fighting a ceaseless war — to save lives and to conquer dread diseases.

When they discover a new "miracle" drug or surgical technique, the news rings round the world! Yet all the while, other "unsung" men of science are working equally hard to relieve suffering caused by less dramatic, "everyday" maladies. Among them is perhaps the most painful of all — piles!

A Subject Seldom Discussed

Pile sufferers are burdened with a double hardship. They yearn for relief, but hesitate to seek it because of false pride and embarrassment. Yet to the man or woman who knows the agonizing torment of itching, burning piles, the truth about their trouble may mean a world of difference in business efficiency, in social pleasure, in good looks and vitality!

What Causes Piles?

Piles are not a primary ailment. Conditions which cause them never originate in the parts affected. At first, piles are simply inflamed and distended "varicose veins" in the delicate membranes of the rectum. A common cause is hepatic congestion (torpidity of the liver) which results in ordinary, everyday constipation.

How Piles Develop

As the liver function slows down, blood flow from the lower bowel to the liver is retarded and small rectal veins swell with blood. Then, usually, constipation starts. Hard, clogging masses form in the lower bowel — irritating and bruising the distended rectal veins. Blood stagnates in and bruised areas, until the tiny veins become greatly inflamed, lumpy, horribly painful.

This agonizing pain aggravated by constipation, is "self-perpetuating". The constipation adds to the itching, burning pain and soreness—which in turn increases the constipation — which then tends to further enlarge the swollen veins until they become pile tumors. If this vicious circle is not broken, there is only one choice — chronic piles or the surgeon's knife!

Why Face This Choice?

Decide now to break this vicious circle! Many others have done so, thanks to an able professional man who, more than 50 years ago, began an intensive study of piles — their cause and effect. Knowing that piles are caused by congested conditions inside the body, he wisely searched for an internal medication that would relieve hepatic congestion, stimulate bile flow, gently ease constipation and improve circulation of the blood in the lower bowel — thus helping Nature herself promote a healthier condition in the sore, painful areas where piles are found. Finally, in his own practice, he devised a formula of medically-proven elements — small tablets taken by mouth — which showed amazing results in 86 out of 100 cases that came to his personal, professional attention!

Sufferers Acclaim Hem-Roid

He gave his formula the trade name of Hem-Roid — using it first in his own practice, later supplying it to friends and acquaintances. In 1904 he sold the formula and name. Since that time, millions of packages have been bought by the public throughout the world — and countless satisfied users of Hem-Roid testify to its quick, efficient action.

Accept This 10-Day Offer!

Naturally — long-standing, neglected cases of piles may call for a doctor's advice. But for average pile conditions, we know nothing better than Hem-Roid to give you the relief and results you want. To prove it, we make this special 10-day offer!

Now from any drugstore, get a package of Hem-Roid — 60 tablets, 20 full days treatment — at the amazingly low price of $1.50. Use the tablets exactly as directed for 10 days. If at that time you are not delighted with results you get, just return the package with unused tablets to your druggist for full refund of the purchase price! You risk nothing — and you stand to gain immeasurable relief from the embarrassing discomfort and torment of itching, burning piles. Ask for Hem-Roid — today!

Tremendous Job Handling Wheat Cargoes

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Perhaps the best spot from which to sense the power of Canada's wheat crop going to market is from a 65-foot tower in the Canadian Pacific Railway yard at Winnipeg.

The yard is the world's largest privately - owned marshalling place, with 280 miles of track and 1,200 acres o. land, and the tower is its nerve centre.

Into it in the coming weeks and fall months will roll grain-laden trains, sometimes at the rate of 100 cars, or 200,000 bushels an hour.

In a busy day some 20 trains of 65 cars each will come in from the prairies, will be checked by Canadian Wheat Board samplers, and within 5½ hours will be on their way again for Fort William and Port Arthur to reach water transport.

Simultaneously, freights are westbound, for the cars must go back for fresh loads after discharge at the lakehead, and they either take back freight or go as empties.

Not All Grain

Even the eastbound trains, of course, are not all grain. Mixed in are cars of general freight headed for various places from Winnipeg, and these must be cut out and the grain cars reassembled.

And this is where the control tower comes in.

The man in the control tower sees most of the yard, offices, roundhouse, ice-houses, scales, signal tower, coal dock, coach yard, industrial sidings.

In addition, he can speak to all sections and they can speak to him, through a two-way conversation system which consists of some 50 loudspeakers and transmitters, all leading into the tower panel.

Start In June

One busy day last year the following was handled: 22 eastbound freights; 16 westbound; 34 passenger trains.

Preparation for the fall rush starts in June.

Between them, the CPR and the Canadian National Railways assemble about 46,000 freight cars in the western region, principally for the grain movement, and at its peak an average of 2,500 carloads daily are delivered to the head of the lakes by about 1,000 locomotives. And meantime other grain is going to Vancouver to reach Pacific tidewater.

Altogether, from the harvest fields to the mouths of the world's peoples, it is a majestic and human picture.

Driving 40 Years Man Wins Contest

JOHANNESBURG (CP) —The older folks can still teach the youngsters a thing or two.

A challenge driving test between 58-year-old, six-foot S. H. Morris and tiny, 19-year-old Sybil Gutchen finally settled an issue that had considerable space in local newspapers.

Followed by cameramen and reporters, and watched by official driving examiners, Mr. Morris began his test by knocking over the portable markers. He went on, however, to amass a total of 322 points.

Sybil negotiated the markers, but collected only 262 points.

His 40 years of driving gave Morris only a small margin in the road test, but he talked himself to victory in the oral test, where he piled up an extra 41-point lead.

Sybil says: "I didn't know they would ask me about skids, burst tires and things. Mr. Morris is very good, but I still think that lots of older drivers would fail the modern driving test."

Fine Concessionaires

EXETER, Sept. 27 (CP)—John Lauman and George Knapp, both concessionaires at the Lake Huron summer resort of Grand Bend, pleaded guilty in county magistrate's court here Tuesday to operating on Aug. 27 and Sept. 3, contrary to the Lord's Day Act. Each was fined $20 and costs for each offense.

Tunnel In Operation

TORONTO, Sept. 27 (CP) — The University of Toronto's new $250,000 supersonic wind tunnel went into operation Tuesday. It will be used to test performances of aircraft at speeds up to seven times that of sound. The wind tunnel, to be operated by the newly-established University Institute of Aerophysics, was opened by Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, RCAF chief of staff.

"I think I can drive okay—now yell at me as if you were my husband so I'll get used to that too!"

Will Try Again On Power Plan

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (CP). — The Ontario Hydro Commission and the New York State Power Authority plan another attempt to get federal approval in the United States and Canada for the proposed St. Lawrence river power project, Robert Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Commission, said Tuesday night.

Saunders said he talked Tuesday with New York State officials on the steps to be taken.

If the development goes ahead, he said, it will not interfere with long-term plans for a future seaway project.

"Our plan for joint power development provides for future navigation development," Saunders said.

Ontario and New York asked for approval of the project in 1948 after consideration of the seaway was shelved. The U.S. government withheld approval and Canada followed suit.

Too Many Desertions To Penalize Husbands

TORONTO, Sept. 27 (CP). — The Ontario Welfare Department wants to toughen the penalties for men who desert their wives and had asked municipalities for information on desertion cases.

Welfare Minister Goodfellow told reporters Tuesday: "The alarming number of desertion and separation cases receiving public assistance in the form of direct relief is a major concern of the department."

He said he believes something must be done to halt the increased number of desertion cases. He has asked municipalities for data on the types and lengths of desertions and the efforts that have have been made to track down absconding husbands and make them contribute to the support of their wives and families.

Illegal To Drink Beer In Rooming House Hall

TORONTO, Sept. 27 (CP). — If you live in a rooming house it is illegal to drink beer in the hall, Magistrate F. C. Gullen ruled on Tuesday.

It cost Terry O'Neill $10 and costs to find out. Mr. O'Neill has a grocery store with an apartment above it. He lives in three rooms and rents the others. Police said they found 72 pints of beer in the hall outside O'Neill's living room last Sept. 17.

Magistrate Gullen's ruling: "The building as a whole may be construed as a private residence only to the tenants but the privacy does not extend to any individual tenants. The hallway was not exclusive to O'Neill."

BALANCE OF NATURE

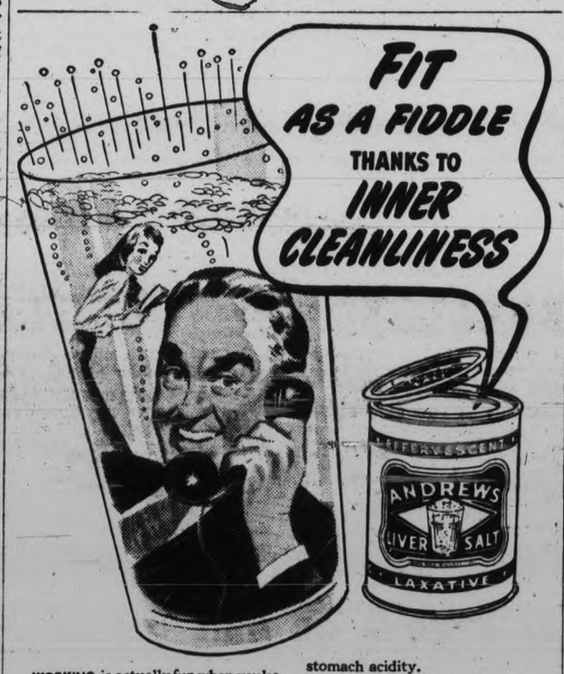
An Australian gardener imported prickly pear cactus a few years ago to keep out rabbits, today the weed has overrun 60,000,000 acres of formerly productive land.



An amazing new diaper cover, DRYFOLD, puts an end to unsanitary, irritating rubber pants which often cause babies to cry. DRYFOLD pins right on with diapers. Tucks in around your baby's legs to stop seepage, but isn't tight or binding. Baby stays cool and fresh 24 hours a day. DRYFOLD allows air to circulate so diaper dampness evaporates and baby doesn't get chafed or diaper rash. Easy to wash and dry in seconds.

Made of Soft, Transparent Plastic

Made of finest, softest plastic, DRYFOLD never gets stiff like rubber pants. Has reinforced corners to protect it from being torn by diaper pins. Sizes to fit all babies from infants to 2 year olds.

Saltee 'Prince' Founds His Own Little Monarchy Off Irish Coast

DUBLIN —(CP)— Ever since he was a boy of 10, Michael Neale has dreamed of the day he could retire to a rugged little island he could rule and call all his own.

Seven years ago, he bought the very spot he had visualized and announced his plans to establish a realm, independent of the republic. He would have his own flag, coinage and police force.

Neale, now a married man with a family of five, set off along one of Dublin's rocky roads and headed for his tiny domain.

He hired a boat at Wexford and made for the Great Saltee Island, seven miles off the south coast of Ireland, for the first time as an acknowleged prince. The proof of his title was in his pocket—a summons from the Department of Justice for an alleged motoring offence. It was addressed to Michael Neale, Prince of the Saltees.

"At last I seem to be winning," he remarked.

Trouble over Taxes

But he was wrong. His troubles were just beginning. The local authority in county Wexford brought action against him covering taxes for roads, police and other services.

Neale challenged the claim. Any services he enjoyed, he said, were provided by himself and anyway, his island was outside the republic's territorial waters.

The court ruled against him.

To assert his princely rights, Neale left the island and set up temporary residence in Dublin. A tax bill, he argued, could not be charged if he didn't live on the property.

But when the county persisted that Neale owed $1,600, he stuck to his guns and refused to pay.

"Now that I have been recognized as a prince of the Saltees, I may find good reason to lodge a counter-claim," he said with a smile. In any case, he added, it was his intention of forming a trust in support of his move to legalize the title and establish it on a hereditary basis.

SLIP LENGTH: "What is the proper length to buy a slip so that it won't show when I sit down and yet is best length for walking?"
Dressmakers suggest one inch less than the length of the skirt, is the best length for slips.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS: "I would like very much to make some Birds of Paradise sets — pins and earrings for Christmas gifts. Where can I buy coloured plastic in small quantities for this purpose?"
The material you would need is called Metallic Acetate and may be purchased in any quantity necessary at most hobby shops.

HIGH SCHOOL OBJECTOR: "I am seventeen and a half years old and have gone to high school for three years. I took two years matric and one year commercial but I do not like school. Where could I learn to be a riding instructor or a horse trainer? This I would love to do although I cannot ride."
Why not contact Mrs. V. W. Bladen or Mrs. D. G. Rockwell of the Eglinton Hunt Club — these women are riding instructors and no doubt would be able to assist you. But if I were you, and I'm sure your mother would agree with me, I'd complete your education first.

Night School Registration Starts Oct. 2

A varied program of commercial, home economics, industrial, technical and special courses is offered by this year's night school course at PCVS.

Registrations will be accepted at the collegiate next week on Monday and Wednesday nights between 7 and 9. The classes will commence a week later to open the fall term which will run until December 19. The spring term will begin January 3 and end March 16.

School officials hope this year to begin a course for foremen and prospective foremen if enough are interested to form a class. The following topics will be included: the supervisor's job, leadership and leaders, personal qualities, basic industrial psychology and industrial relations.

Upper school subjects offered for each Monday and Wednesday this year between 7 and 9 p.m. will be algebra, geometry, botany and zoology. Next year's upper school subjects will be physics, chemistry and trigonometry. In the 1952-53 course English literature and composition, French authors and composition will be on the night school course.

For New Canadians

English and civics for new Canadians will be taught each Monday night in three classes. The classes will be from 8 until 10. Other general subjects and special courses include Art and sketching oils, elementary applied psychology and public speaking.

The Commercial department this year is under the direction of H. A. Toole. Included in the program is bookkeeping, typewriting for beginners, advanced typewriting, shorthand for beginners and advanced shorthand. Most of these classes are held Monday and Wednesday nights between 7.30 and 9.30. Registration will be in the school library.

Miss H. Gerrard is the director of the home economics department. Registration in this department will be held in room 213 for cooking classes and rooms 214 and 217 for the sewing classes.

Two Cooking Courses

Two courses are offered in cooking. The first is designed to give an understanding of the fundamentals of cookery and the selection of food in relation to cost and nutritive value. Practice in the preparation of attractive, nutritious meals and foods and simple entertaining is the major part of this course.

The second cooking course is an advanced course in foods for pupils having a basic knowledge of cookery and wishing further instruction in special recipes, menus with attention given to their use in entertaining.

Three grades of sewing will be given in three classes. Children's sewing classes (for children's garments) is also divided into two classes. Each sewing student is asked to be equipped with a box or bag for work, tape measure, thimble, sharp scissors, pin cushion, fine pins, needles and one bobbin.

Big Industrial Section

The industrial department is by far the largest department of the night school and is directed by B. W. Switzer. The courses include subjects in auto mechanics, blueprint reading and drafting, building instruction, electricity, electronics, machine shop, mathematics, plumbing, tool design, machine technology and woodworking.

Registration for the various subjects is: commercial department; school library; foods, Mrs. Sollitt, room 213; sewing, Miss Gerrard, room 214 and 217; auto mechanics, G. Beals and H. Choate, room 116; blueprint reading, Al MacQuarrie and Mrs. D. Palmer, room 113; drafting, room 113; building construction and woodworking, J. C. Rutherford and Alex. Londry, in room 114; electricity, A. J. Weames, room 117; machine shop, machine design, tool design, heat treating, machine technology, B. W. Switzer, room 108; mathematics, R. H. David, Room 111; public speaking and art, J. D. McNabb, room 110; plumbing, Upper School subjects, psychology, and supervision, R. D. Brown, room 118.

Add Three Men, New Truck To City Dep't

Sanitation department is enlarging its equipment by purchase of another dump truck for which the staff will be increased by three men, Ald. J. E. Gillespie, chairman of that department, reported to the board of works Monday.

Ald. Gillespie recalled that two of these trucks were bought in the spring when the council decided to motorize the department and sell its horses. Continuing expansion of the city, opening of new streets, and reducing the work week from 48 to 45 hours have forced the department to meet these changes.

"We can buy a truck and take on three men and still finish the year with a slight surplus," Ald. Gillespie told the board.

A dump truck will cost approximately $3,000. Ald. Gillespie said that as chairman of the sanitation committee he did not try to take any advantage from the increase in assessment for 1950. The expenditure of the department last year was $85,658, and the appropriation for this year's business of removal and disposal of garbage, etc., was $85,800.

Authority to buy the truck was moved by Ald. Doug Miller and Ald. P. J. Anglesey.

Mrs. McNeill Heads Choral Society

Plans for a concert to be held in the latter part of October were discussed and this years executive was elected at the Choral Society meeting held at the Y.M.C.A. Monday night.

The members of the executive are Mrs. J. A. McNeill, president; Bernie Hogg, vice-president; Miss Mary Trotter, secretary and Miss Gwen Kilborn, treasurer. William Simms is director and conductor of the Choral Society.

Predicted War With Russia Date Set For September 22

List this one among the predictions that didn't come off; War between the western world and Russia on September 22, 1950.

The prophecy came last April from the lips of a retired porter in London, England, who said he was perfectly willing to shoulder the blame if his forecasts did not come true.

The porter is William Melhuish, who says he has spent 25 years digging deep into human history "tracing the cycles of human existence."

From his research, the earnest, bespectacled former porter says he has worked out a chart from which he claims he can foretell major events in the future.

Among other predictions he made in April of this year were:

An earthquake that will send the Mediterranean churning into the Dead Sea in Palestine;

Disappearance of the Nile river;

A plague that will destroy the Russians;

Peace with a western victory. August 20, 1953.

At the time he released the predictions Melhuish said: "People say I am a crank, but I am willing to take the blame if my forecasts do not come true. You will see that they will."

MAIN ST. TOPICS

FORMER WARDEN DIES

George Earle, former warden of Haliburton county and for years a member of Dysart township council died Tuesday.

LIBRARY CLOSED

The Public Library will be closed Thursday afternoon from 1:30 until 3:30 to allow the staff to attend the funeral of F. M. de la Fosse who was librarian from 1910 until 1946.

TO ALTER SIGN

Permission to Duffus Motor Sales to change the position of their sign on the Charlotte St. side of their building was given by the board of works Monday.

BYLAW TO PEOPLE

Board of Education has formally asked the council to submit a bylaw for the borrowing of $585,000 for the proposed Collegiate Institute on Monaghan Road south. This amount is for building, equipment and other furnishings. A motion by Mayor Swanston and Ald. Waddell instructed City Solicitor Hycke to draw up the bylaw.

BUY $8750 TRACTOR

Purchase of an International power tractor at $8,750 was recommended to the council by the board of works Monday. The depreciation fund has a credit of $7,000, City Engineer Chalmers reported. The chairman, Ald. Dodds explained the need of the new machine. Authority to buy was given in a motion by Mayor Swanston and Ald. Gillespie.

BLOSSOM STILL BLOOMS

Apple blossom on a tree in E. J. Seawright's garden, 583 King St., has withstood last week's frost and is now an attractive decoration indoors. The tree, which was partly dead, bore two bunches of blossom which were picked this week before the tree was cut down.

STOP SIGN ON GEORGE ST.

Traffic travelling south on George St. will now have to stop at Parkhill Rd. to obey a stop sign that was put up Monday. Northbound traffic on George St. may still go ahead. Motorists driving either east or west on Parkhill Rd. must still stop before entering George St.

Wild Grapes In Profusion

Wild grapes and wild apples throughout the countryside around Peterborough are ripe for picking by people who like to wander about side roads and enjoy the feeling of living off the land to a small degree.

Wild grape vines are to be found everywhere growing along road fences and people can pick them without invading farmers' fields. The grapes, although small in comparison with cultivated varieties, make delicious jelly and wine.

There are also plenty of wild apple trees which bear good fruit for those who want to take the time to hunt around. Many of the apples are sour and hard, but they make excellent pies and apple sauce. A few wild trees, mostly those found in abandoned orchards, yield sweet, juicy apples as good as you are likely to buy in downtown stores.

This is also the season for puffballs, white fungi, that people find growing in woods anywhere from a couple of inches to two feet in diameter. Sliced and fried, in butter or margarine, they make excellent eating. And they are not poisonous, despite the beliefs of many suspicious people.

Car Stolen Overnight From Charlotte St.

A car was stolen Tuesday night while parked on Charlotte St.

Owner Cecil Johnson, 344½ Charlotte St., parked the car, a black 1937 Dodge, licence number J9343, Tuesday night at about 9.30 p.m. He discovered it was missing about 9.20 this morning. He said the keys had not been left in the car.

Old 93rd Plan Reunion November 11

A reunion of the 93rd Battalion which was recruited in Peterborough in 1915 will be held at the Armouries November 11. Highlights of the reunion will be the reunion dinner in the Armouries and a church parade Sunday morning.

At a recent meeting Harold Freeman was elected chairman of the reunion committee with Howard Hall as secretary, Fred Oxley as treasurer and committee members Ald. Arthur Burrows, Douglas Loomis and Jack Playford.

Because of its link with the city a number of former battalion members thought it would be appropriate to have a reunion during centennial year. The last reunion was held in May, 1936, when more than 300 attended.

Since then a number of the members have died, said Mr. Freeman today, and the number expected at this reunion will be between 150 and 200. These men, he added, are scattered across Canada and the United States and in some cases will be difficult to notify. All members are asked to contact Mr. Freeman or Mr. Hall regarding the reunion plans.

In 1915 the battalion was formed in Peterborough under the leadership of the late Col. Tom Johnston. However on arrival overseas the unit was broken up and men sent as drafts to other units which had suffered heavily in the fighting.

Bought Car Tuesday Damaged Same Night

More than $100 may have been added to the price of a car which Clare Bell, 138 Perry St., bought Tuesday when, he reported, the brakes failed and he crashed into another car the same evening at Park and Lansdowne Sts.

Bell told police he was driving east on Lansdowne St., but because his brakes failed, he was unable to stop for a red traffic light.

Another car driven by William G. Lustic, 208 Rutherford St., was travelling north on Park St., through the intersection. The cars collided.

The Lustic car suffered an estimated $100 damage to the left front and rear door and rear fender. Damage was done to Bell's left front fender. Constable Dennis Traynor investigated.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Curtis Mark 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. David Curtis quietly celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Tuesday at their residence, 318 Frederick St. with relatives and friends.

The wedding ceremony which took place 50 years ago at the home of Mrs. Curtis near Ida was conducted by the Archdeacon W. C. Allin of St. John's Anglican Church, Cavan.

Mrs. Curtis, the former Mabel Seeney was born in Emily township daughter of John W. Seeney and Catherine Ferguson. She attended Sharp's School.

Mr. Curtis was born in Douro township, son of James Curtis and Sarah Curtis. He attended Auburn School.

After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Curtis resided four and one half years in Ashburnham before moving to Saskatoon for two years. Returning to the east, they lived at Downer's Corners for four and one half years and moved into Peterborough. They have resided in this city ever since.

Mr. Curtis was a harness-maker before his retirement a year and one half ago. He has been in this trade for more than 50 years. He was employed with the B. F. Ackerman Company for 40 years.

The groomsman at the wedding ceremony was present to celebrate this anniversary. He is E. W. Curtis, brother of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis are members of All Saints' Anglican Church.

Bell Employees Protest Company Order

Rather than take a drop in pay and be forced to leave their homes in the Peterborough district about 35 Bell Telephone Co. construction employees are willing to quit their jobs.

Spokesman for the dissatisfied construction workers (splicers and linemen) say this ultimatum has been passed along to the Canadian Telephone Employees Association, the workers' bargaining agency.

"We're 100 per cent behind the grievance," they say.

A reclassification of Bell employees in this Central Division from "attached" to "unattached" would mean a slash of from $6 to $9 on a weekly wage averaging $40, the spokesmen say.

Due Here October 15

They also claim that the reclassification has already gone into effect in North Bay and Orillia and is due in Peterborough October 15. Last week more than 100 splicers and linemen from such scattered points in the Central Division as Sault Ste. Marie, North Bay, Orillia, as well as Peterborough, met in the Empress Hotel to plan defensive action.

The men say that from 1946 on, construction workers in the Central Division accepted jobs on the understanding they would be "attached" to a central post, such as Peterborough. This meant that ordinarily they could return to headquarters where they had their homes at the end of the day's work.

Occasionally a "gang" would have a job to do at some distant place and would be unable to return home for a few days, but generally they were within commuting radius.

In contrast, they say, an "unattached employee" is one who operates from no particular headquarters and travels anywhere in the company's territory.

Say No Guarantee Given

Company officials deny that when the men were hired they were permanently guaranteed a central base of operations if they became "attached." It was only a temporary measure.

A spokesman from the Peterborough office said that until 1941 there were no "attached" groups; the men were posted from one locality to another as needed. However, in 1946 the policy changed and the Central Division became 100 per cent "attached.'

This was merely because the work was localized to a few areas and Peterborough was one of them. Now the work is once again scattered and mobile squads are needed. Apart from a week's notice the company is under no obligation to the affected workers, the company spokesman commented.

Moreover, management contends, some of the men are probably making " a little bit more" than they would as "unattached" forces and it is unfair to the Bell employees in the other divisions.

The construction workers say that eight men from the Peterborough post, out of about 45, will be affected by the October 15 reclassification. But, they contend, the others will gradually be reclassified as well. And eventually the whole Central Division "will feel the axe."

One husky young lineman said that the starting rate for a craftsman was $21.50 with progressions after six years up to $55 a week. He explained that he has been with Bell for four years as an "attached" employee, and if he is reclassified he will drop $7 a week.

"My wife has just had a baby and we're buying our house. Now on a week's notice I'll have to break up my home and be ready to travel anywhere in the Division."

"Don't forget," he added, "we're not making a million dollars like the advertisements make the public think. The average wage for construction men is $40 a week. Like a lot of other guys I'll just have to quit."

Police Hold Soldier Follows Drunk Charge

Charged with being drunk, Fred Bloxam, 37, Toronto, was remanded in police court here today when Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said the man was AWL from the Canadian Army Special Force.

Victor Grady, 40, of 19 Park St., pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk and was fined $10 and costs or 10 days. He took the ten days.

HARVEY DAVID SYLVESTER, 32, was charged in police court Tuesday with starting the $200,000 Kresge store fire Aug. 17, 1948. The charge was laid after questioning by an official of the Ontario Fire Marshall's office.

Paving Program On 3 Streets Been Delayed

Paving of Lock, Perry and Townsend Streets may be set over until next year as indicated at the board of works meeting Monday.

Bennett Construction Company have been told not to continue laying curbs and gutters until they have laid the pavement on the streets which they have already prepared for a base and surface.

Paving is under way on Park St. north, and on Monaghan Road the old top is being carted away for the finishing stage of road-making.

Board of works intends to avoid leaving any of the roads partly broken up for curbing and then overtaken by weather too cold for paving operations.

Mayor Swanston said Monday that this suspending action would transfer the three streets, Lock, Perry and Townsend, into a new contract for whatever work will be undertaken in 1951. New contract implies new tenders.

Forest Fire Smoke Eases

EDMONTON, Sept. 27 (CP). — Dense smoke was disappearing today from the heart of the giant forest fire area along the northern border between Alberta and British Columbia.

Light rain and traces of snow fell in the area overnight and minimum temperatures ranged from 35 to 40 degrees.

The cooler, damper weather appeared to be holding the fires in check and, in some cases, dousing them. At one time some 100 fires were reported raging in the sector.

Heavy smoke still shrouds the Lac La Biche area of Alberta, 180 miles northwest of Edmonton, where some fires still are burning. But the situation there had not been as serious as along the southern end of the Alaska highway.

At last report there were 35 fires in northern Alberta, 10 of them out of control. No settlements were endangered.

J. L. Janssen, chief timber inspector for the province, reported that loss to market timber so far had been negligible.

Labor Denounces Government's Housing Policy

WINNIPEG, Sept. 27—(CP)—Demands for improved housing conditions and denunciations of federal housing policies were voiced today by delegates at the 10th annual convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor.

The Congress also adopted a resolution calling on the government to continue rent control "until every Canadian is properly housed" and to enact legislation barring "unjustifiable" eviction of tenants.

The convention heard more than a score of speakers led by CCL President A. R. Mosher demand immediate action to remedy the housing situation.

Proposals ranged from the sending of a mass delegation to Ottawa to the calling of a nation-wide strike if necessary to enforce the stand of the Congress.

The degate came on a resolution asking the CCL executive to continue pressing for a low-rental housing program and urging the government to remedy "inequalities" in the pricing and distribution of buildng materials.

At the end of a debate lasting almost two hours, the resolution was sent back to the committee to be made stiffer.

Man Asks Police Put Me In Jail To Sober Up

"I want to be locked up to sober up," said a man who walked into the police station this morning.

"What have you been drinking?" asked Constable John Morrow in charge in the sergeant's office.

"Oh a few shots of wine, some rye and some beer," the drunk said as he leaned up against the wall.

"I'm afraid of the shakes," he explained. He thought some time in jail would help him and he asked the police to get in touch with Alcoholics Anonymous for help.

He was locked in the cell and the AA was called.

Court Gives Man Time To Pay Debt For Board

Arrested on a warrant, Arnold Hayes, 284 Brock St., was charged in police court today with fraud for not paying board to Mrs. Myrtle Lee, 229 King St. last July.

Hayes admitted he owed the money and had arranged to pay it by August 28, but he had been ill and unable to work to get the money. He promised to pay Thursday.

A check with Hayes' doctor revealed he had been sick. The case was adjourned to Friday to allow him time to pay.

Power Plan Blocking Sabotage, Dewey

MASSENA, N.Y., Sept. 27 (AP) Gov. Thomas E. Dewey Tuesday night accused President Truman's administration of "inexcusable sabotage against the national safety" by blocking New York's plans to harness the St. Lawrence River for cheap electric power.

"The only real obstruction is one man, the president of the United States," Dewey asserted in a re-election campaign speech.

The New York governor charged that the state power proposal was opposed by those favoring a federal power monopoly and those "who want to hold up New York's power as ransom" for the controversial St. Lawrence seaway project.

Because of strong opposition in Congress to federal development of the dual seaway and power project, Dewey proposed two years ago that the state be given federal permission to undertake the power plan only, in a joint project with Ontario.

Needed For Defence

Dewey said the potential power that could be generated from the nearby International Rapids section of the river is needed "not merely for home convenience, but for our national defence." He cited a power shortage in the state during the second world war.

Dewey declared:

". . . This obstruction is inexcusable sabotage against the national safety."

Both Truman and Dewey favor development of both the seaway and the power projects.

The president, however, has said the projects should be undertaken together, by the federal government.

The Federal Power Commission has refused to approve an application by the State Power Commission for New York to go ahead with Ontario on the power phase.

Johnson Intends To Develop Canadian Patent

MONTREAL, Sept. 27 (CP)—Edward Johnson, retired general manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York, said here Tuesday night he intends to spend his time developing Canadian talent in Toronto.

Mr. Johnson, who resigned from the Met last April after 28 years as singer and general manager, arrived here aboard the Empress of France accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. George Drew, wife of the federal opposition leader, and her two children, Edward, 12, and Sandra, 10.

Mr. Drew greeted them at the dockside.

"Leaving the Met doesn't mean I leave music," Mr. Johnson said. "I have accepted a part time position as chairman of the board of the Toronto Conservatory of Music and I am still a director of the Met."

The group spent a three-month holiday in Florence, Rome, London and other European centres.

Mr. Johnson said he plans to direct his Toronto activities from his home at Guelph.

Mr. Drew originally planned to make the trip with his family and father-in-law, but was recalled to parliament a few weeks after their arrival in Italy when a special session was called to study the nation-wide rail strike.

The group motored to Ottawa Tuesday night.

Better Prepared For Defence Now—Gregg

OTTAWA, Sept. 27—(CP) — Labor Minister Gregg said Tuesday night that Canada today is in a far better position than in 1939 to meet the problems of defence preparedness.

No one knew what the next move in the current world struggle would be, he said in a speech prepared for delivery in a free time political broadcast, the Nation's Business, over a trans-Canada CBC network.

But though that question could not be answered — the ordinary people of Russia knew no more than Canadians about the next move would—Canada was resolved to go forward with her associates to be ready for whatever might come.

"How far and how fast it will be necessary to move on this course it is difficult to tell," the minister said. "But one thing is certain—we in Canada are in a position greatly improved over that of 1939 to meet defence production problems."

In 1939 the world was emerging from a depression, from 10 years of low output which made the prospect of wartime production seem an unsuperable task. Today Canada's industry was at top efficiency and production and "we have powerful reserves of vocational and professional skill."

Miss Jessie Johnston Receives Parting Gift

ROSENEATH, Sept. 27—(ENS). —A surprise presentation took place at the home of Miss Jessie Johnston on Monday evening, when representatives of four societies met at her home and presented Miss Johnston with an electric tea kettle.

The societies contributing to the gift were Roseneath Women's Institute, Centenary W.A., St. James' Anglican church W.A. and the W.M.S. of Roseneath United church. Those in charge of the address and presentation were Mrs. Harold Taylor and Mrs. James Brown.

Miss Johnston has been active in every local organization and will be missed for her untiring efforts after her removal to Kingston.

60 Doukhobors Freed

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 (CP)—Sixty Doukhobors—first of 395 eligible for release from British Columbia prisons—left Oakalla prison farm Tuesday. Another group is expected to leave the prison farm within the next few days and a third will clear the provincial penitentiary at New Westminster of its radical Sons of Freedom members, convicted of nudism in disturbances in the south-central interior last fall and winter.

Remanded For Sentence

TORONTO, Sept. 27 (CP) — Nine Ontario and Quebec glass companies were remanded to Oct. 6 for sentence on charges of operating a price-fixing combine. The remand was ordered Tuesday by Mr. Justice R. W. Treleaven of the Ontario Supreme Court following a two-day hearing. In a surprise move Monday, the companies pleaded guilty to the charge.

Receive Petition

HAMILTON, Sept. 27 (CP) A petition of 12,000 names requesting the city for a vote on Sunday sports here was referred Tuesday night by council to board of control. No action was taken immediately on a motion by Alderman Roy Aindow that the city pass a by-law providing for the question to be placed before the electors.

Find Animals Very Cheeky

SKUKUSA, South Africa (CP) —Visitors to Kruger National Park discover that the animals are mischievous and cheeky.

It's fatal to leave your shoes outside your tent these days. The hyenas in the district have developed a taste for shoe leather.

The disappearance of the shoes had been noticed for some time, and rangers began to doubt the presence of sneak thieves when only one shoe would be taken.

A watch was kept one night, an old hyena slipped into camp, bit into a boot and then carried it off The animals also steal meat left hanging in trees outside the huts.

Other animals are creating nuisances of themselves, especially the younger ones.

Hippo Trouble

One motorist recently was held up by a baby hippopotamus in the middle of the road. The hippo wouldn't move, and just watched interestedly as the driver gesticulated at him. The motorist finally got out and shooed the "baby" back to the river, a quarter of a mile away.

At Pretorius Kop, just outside the park boundary, one young zebra is busy wrecking mealie and lucerne fields. He's not hungry, he just gets a kick out of trampling the crops. The natives chase him away, but he's back almost before they're in their huts.

Buck, too, are giving rangers trouble. They wait until lights are out at 10 p.m., then jump the fences to get titbits from the rangers' gardens.

Held In Stabbing

WINDSOR, Sept. 27 (CP) — Windsor police today held Mrs Mildred Mingo for questioning in the stabbing early Tuesday of 38-year-old Leonard Campbell Campbell was found on a downtown Windsor street with knife wounds in his groin, chest and head. Police said they followed a trail of blood to Mrs. Mingo's house, where they found her wiping blood from the floor. A six-inch butcher knife, with blood on the blade, was also found.

Say British Trawler Seized By Russian Trip

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 27 (AP) —A Russian coastal vessel was reported today to have seized the 684-ton British trawler Swanella Tuesday in the White Sea and escorted it to a Russian harbor.

The White Sea, which straddles the Arctic circle, is surrounded on three sides by Russian territory.

The Vardoe radio, in northern Norway, which reported the seizure, said it was witnessed by another British trawler, the Kingston Agate.

Gets 3 Years In Pen

WINDSOR, Sept. 27 (CP) —A three-year penitentiary term was imposed Tuesday on Joseph Huard, Windsor man described by Magistrate Angus W. MacMillan as a "Fagin." Huard pleaded guilty to receiving shoplifted goods stolen by his cousin, 16-year-old Rufine Huard, and other young girls.

Catches 22 Lb. 'Lunge

MARMORA, Set. 27—(ENS)—Success has been attending the fishing efforts of Archie Crossen during the past two weekends. On Sunday he eclipsed his previous record of a 15 pound maskinonge when he caught one on Crowe river south of the bridge weighing 22 pounds and measuring 41 inches in length.

New Appointment

Dutch N. Guinea Netherlands Fort In East

SINGAPORE —(AP)— The Netherlands is planning a new country in Dutch New Guinea, refuge of the Dutch since the transfer of sovereignty in Indonesia, even though its fate still hangs in the balance.

New Guinea's new governor, S. L. J. Van Waardenburg, disclosed a vast development program to open up the country, estimated to cost 30,000,000 guilders (about $8,400,000), here on his way to The Hague to consult with The Netherlands Minister for Union Affairs.

Indonesia has demanded the transfer of West New Guinea to the republic and President Soekarno warned The Netherlands during the recent independence celebrations that a grave situation would arise if the territory is not turned over by the end of the year.

Ready to Fight

Soekarno said Indonesia would fight, if necessary. A top-level conference between Indonesian and Netherland ministers to decide the future of the Dutch portion of the huge jungle-covered island at the eastern end of the Indonesian archipelago is scheduled late this month.

Governor Van Waardenburg, in turn, made New Guinea's stand clear. He said "the armed forces of New Guinea, backed by the people, will fight any attempt at invasion." The governor said New Guinea had 1,000 troops, 500 navy men, a cruiser and 10 amphibian craft.

Refuge for Europeans

Van Waardenburg said New Guinea's European population had increased from 1,000 to 10,000 in since the Indonesians took over in Java. The newcomers are living in makeshift houses built of discarded US army scrap.

The settlers, he said, are sticking it out in primitive conditions, determined to carve out a prosperous new country. In the last six months they have imported about $700,000 worth of equipment from Singapore for initial projects.

Van Waardenburg said the development program included building of a new, modern Hollandia as the capital, along with new harbors and roads; exploration of the country's mineral resources, and development of the fishing industry.

The governor said at present the island is producing oil and a few vegetable crops. Standard Oil and Shell are among the companies drilling for or producing oil.

About 350,000 of New Guinea's 1,500,000 native population are under regular administration, the governor said. The development program would include bringing the remainder—mostly Kapaukus, a pygmy race — under government control.

Teachers Make Plans For Speaking Contest

ROSENEATH, Sept. 27 (ENS) —Miss Lillian Howes, teacher at SS No. 3 Alnwick (North School) was hostess Monday to the teachers of Alnwick and North Haldimand townships for their September meeting.

The president, Mr. John D. Loukes, presided, with Mrs. Louis King as secretary.

Plans were made for the annual public speaking contest to be held in the township hall, Roseneath, the latter part of October.

Schools will hold elimination contests and two candidates will be chosen to represent each school at the final contest in the township hall.

A. A. Martin, Brighton Public School inspector for East Northumberland, was present.

At the conclusion of the meeting, a vote of thanks was tendered Miss Howes for her hospitality.

Use American Letters To Boost Democracy Against Communism

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK —(AP)— Some 35,000,000 Americans are being urger to enter the propaganda war between the United States and Russia.

These are first and second generation Americans who write to relatives and friends abroad. They write more than 250,000,000 letters a year.

"These are not pen pals writing to people they don't know," say Henry Lee Munson. "They are writing to their parents, to relatives or old friends.

"Their letters are read avidly and they are trusted. They carry more weight than formal speeches or official propaganda. They could become the most effective weapon we have for combatting the lies and distortions Communists abroad have spread about the United States."

Heads Campaign

Munson heads a "Letters from America" campaign sponsored by the Common Council for American Unity, a non-profit group which has worked with foreign-born Americans and their families for 30 years.

The council publishes weekly articles designed to help the letter-writer correct prevalent misconceptions about the US. The articles are carried regularly by 182 foreign-language newspapers and 186 foreign-language radio programs in the US.

The council doesn't ask the letter-writers to parrot high-sounding abstractions about democracy and freedom. It does ask them to write about their own personal experiences as Americans.

The "Folksy" Touch

It asks the Italian auto worker in Detroit to tell his uncle in Naples about the new contract his union signed. It asks the French antique dealer in New York to tell his cousin in Paris of the plays or concerts he has attended. It asks the Polish steel worker in Gary, Ind., to tell his friend in Warsaw about his daughter's high school graduation and the party the family had. It asks the German baker in Chicago to tell his sister in Munich about the picnic on the beach, July 4.

These and other details of everyday living are the kind of things the council hopes more Europeans will read about. It does not ask the bad news be omitted but urges that such news be told in its entirety so that no distorted conclusions will be reached abroad.

Four Months Old

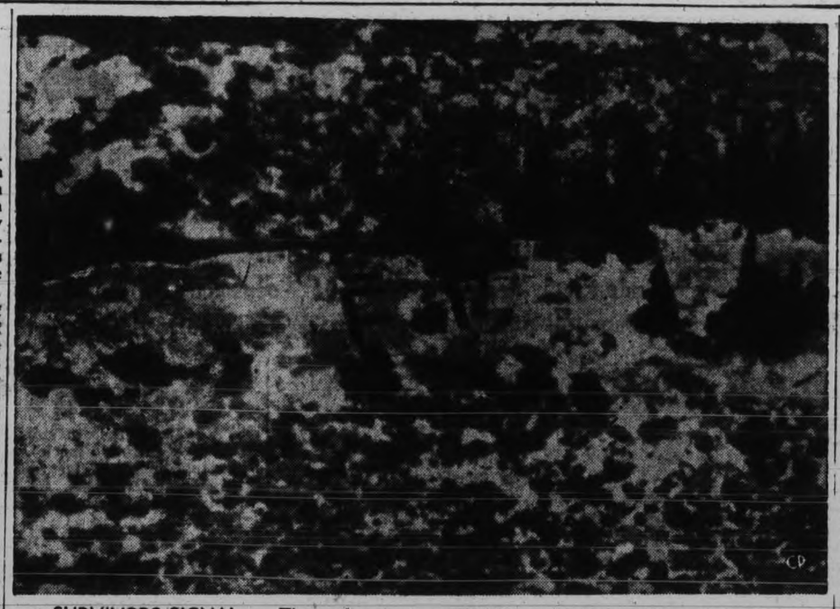
The idea for the current campaign, which started about four months ago, stemmed from the flood of letters written to Italians during the 1948 elections over there. Anti-Communist mail from America was credited with having some effect in the defeat of the Reds at the polls.

In addition to the weekly articles, the council also publishes the thoughts of many prominent Americans: Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Robert P. Patterson, Bernard M. Baruch, Pearl Buck, James B. Carey, Norman Cousins and others.

But chiefly it is the letter writer himself who is asked to carry on the job, through his own words, his own ideas, his own experiences. Repeatedly the council reminds him:



"Think before you seal your letter—have you made a friend for America?"

Find Man's Body

KENMORE, Ont., Sept. 27 CP) —The body of 76-year-old Adolphus Albert was found Tuesday in the Castor river near this small village, 22 miles southeast of Ottawa. A search for the man started Monday night after his employer, George McDonald, reported him missing. The Castor river flows through the McDonald farm.

Take Beer Vote

HARROW, Sept. 27 (CP) — A recount of the recent vote at Harrow on the question of public sale of beer and liquor will be held Oct. 6, Judge Albert J. Gordon said Tuesday. Beverage rooms, dining lounges and cocktail bars were turned down by Harrow voters Sept. 11 when the balloting failed to show 60 per cent in favor of them.

SURVIVORS SIGNAL — These signals amid the bleak Labrador muskeg country led to the rescue of all 16 persons who were forced to bail out of their flaming United States Air Force bomber. The signals, made by survivors' parachutes, were spotted by an RCAF search plane. When first sighted, the code letters were F, meaning food needed, and LL, meaning all is well. As this RCAF photo was taken, the signals had been changed to make a dash beside the LL, meaning a doctor was required.

Politics As Uusual In UK Labor Parley Spotlight

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Sept. 27 (CP) — A traveller returning to Britain this week from temporary exile abroad might wonder whether he had been away at all.

He would find the same feverishly-streamered accounts of unofficial strikes, sputtering briefly and finally subsiding amid universal exasperation; the interminable conferences so bound up in intangibles and generalities; the familiar political stalemate and the same old headlines:

"Split threatens cabinet . . . Bevan vs. Morrison . . . Pressure grows for new election."

Not Much Change

That might have been six months or a year ago. Then political correspondents fondly pictured Labor government driven and torn internally with Health Minister Aneurin Bevan's team of extremists all set for a showdown against party moderates led by Herbert Morrison, deputy prime minister.

They haven't rung many changes in the latest instalment of this serial story. The cabinet has again been reported split, providing a useful cue for a cartoonist who depicted Prime Minister Attlee and his ministers literally "split" by a vertical streak of white separating the two halves of their bodies.

Bevan, it is popularly supposed, wants an early election because he is tired of seeing Socialism in a strait-jacket imposed by the even balance of strength between Labor and Conservative; Morrison is still holding out for "consolidation," for go-slow Socialism, for improving industries which Labor already has nationalized.

Between them stands poor Clem Attlee, trying to keep the peace and decide when the next election should be held.

Deny Friction

Twice in the last two weeks, government sources have trodden emphatically on suggestions that Attlee plans an election this year; and both wings of the party have denied there is any friction between left and right.

Bevan may be brooding, but he is also biding his time. Therefore there is likely to be at least a surface show of unity at labor's annual conference, which opens next week at Margate.

One sign is that the chief speakers will not include Bevan, who opened last year's proceedings in Blackpool with an ominous reference to the "bloodbaths" that might result if Labor were defeated at the polls.

Investigate Tombstone

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 (CP)—Canadian Legion officials said Tuesday they would investigate further the discovery of a 120-year-old tombstone of a soldier's family on a central Ottawa lot to determine if any bodies are actually buried there. If remains are found they may be moved to an authorized burial place.

Expropriation Hearing

TORONTO, Sept. 27 (CP) — Application by the Ontario Hydro Commission to expropriate 34 acres of land owned by Mayor Arthur Reaume of Windsor was heard Tuesday by the Ontario Municipal Board. The land adjoins the site of a new steam generating plant. The mayor is asking $40,000 for the land and $4,000 for "forcible taking."

PC's To Meet At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 27 (ENS)—Friends of the Progressive Conservative Association will meet Wednesday at a reception to be held at the home of Mrs. Wm. C. Tatham, Saskatoon Ave.

Mrs. Leslie M. Frost, wife of the premier; Mrs. G. A. Welsh, wife of the Provincial Secretary; Mrs. Cameron McKenzie, chairman of the Central District Women's Advisory Committee, and Mrs. R. B. Downing, Ontario women's organizer, will receive with the hostess.

The speakers will be Col. G. Arthur Welsh, Provincial Secretary; Mrs. Cameron McKenzie and the Hon. Wm. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Welfare.

Many surrounding districts, including Brighton, Cobourg, Warkworth and Peterborough will be represented.

Denies Truth Drug

LONDON, Sept. 27 (CP)—Dr. Ellis Stungo, of the department of psychological medicine at University College Hospital here, says in an article in the current issue of "The Medical Press," the tag "truth drugs" is an outright misnomer. "There is no drug which can force an individual to produce facts," he writes. "It is quite possible to be honestly mistaken and the use of drugs cannot enable one to distinguish between what a person believes to be true and what is, indeed, factual."

Need Higher Standards

LONDON Sept. 27 (Reuters)—Malcolm Macdonald British commissioner-general for Southeast Asia said in a broadcast here Tuesday night that an improved standard of living is necessary for the people of Southern Asia if they are to keep the political freedom they have so recently gained

Permit To Build Lock St. Service Station

Permission to build a service station on Lock St., east, at Sherbourne St., was recommended to the council Monday night by the board of works. Decision followed a discussion with James Hamilton, Hubert Sills and William Tinker of the city planning committee who had advised against the company's application.

Divided sentiment among property owners in that section of Lock St. had been indicated in petitions for and against the service station, as presented to the council in recent weeks. Members of the council had visited Lansdowne St. east of Lock St. to satisfy themselves of the reported commercial developments from that corner to the Locks bridge.

General attitude of the planning committee was that there were enough gasoline stations in the city without encouraging the building of more of them. Specifically, there was bound to be an adverse effect against property values in the immediate vicinity of the Conger Lehigh site, as expressed by Mr. Hamilton.

As to the business opportunity for gasoline stations, Ald. J. A. Dewart remarked that the oil companies should be the best judges of that. They would not buy property and build stations if the prospect of business did not warrant their investment.

Other Permit Granted

Another factor mentioned in the discusion was that Borden Company had received a permit to built a distributing depot on the north side of the street. Mr. Sills remarked that no opposition had been raised to the issuing of that permit several years ago.

Both boards appeared to be in agreement that commercial activity would increase on Lock St., and that property for that use might become even more valuable than for residential purposes.

"There is a nice little residential neighborhood near the gas station site," Mr. Hamilton said. "They are all good citizens, some of them are keenly opposed to this station, and we know it makes nothing like as desirable place to live once a gas station is operating."

Indicating opinion of the planning board as to the future of that stretch of Lock St., Mr. Tinker said there had been the question "whether we should wait until the people opposing this application catch up on us." However, the planning board did not retreat from their adverse recommendation.

Improve Jet Engine

BIRMINGHAM, England, Sept. 27 (Reuters) — A Birmingham rolling mill is producing a secret alloy designed to improve the performance of jet engines, which may give Britain the lead in jet propulsion. British security has just been lifted on even the mention of the name of the alloy, "Nimonic 90." What goes into it besides Canadian nickel still remains a closely-guarded secret.

Reports Show Increased Activity Red Cross Work

First fall meeting of local branch of the Red Cross Society was held Tuesday at the Red Cross rooms, Mrs. C. J. Ray presiding.

It was evident from reports that many members were busy during the summer on Red Cross work.

Mrs. W. Hinds' report for the swimming and water safety committee showed that there had been a great increase in the numbers trying swimming tests.

Awards given were: YWCA — two junior, nine intermediates, and 33 senior. Lion's Pool—138 junior, 32 intermediate and six senior. Inverlea—11 junior, four intermediate and five senior. Mrs. Crary's class at Bridgenorth—15 junior, seven intermediate and six senior. Mrs. Pansy Forbes' class at Omemee—24 junior, 25 intermediate and 19 senior. This makes a total of 190 junior, 77 intermediate and 69 senior Red Cross awards this summer.

Mrs. W. R. L. Blackwell reported that loan cupboard articles were in great demand, especially hospital beds and wheel chairs, and, although additional ones had been purchased, it was difficult to keep any in stock.

While the local disaster service committee has been organized and practicing for some time, those in charge felt that by planning a system of registration and public information, they would be able to give a more complete service in a time of emergency Mrs. F. E. Hooper has volunteered to undertake this work.

A further committee for shelter and survey is to be formed at a later date.

Reports from Red Cross groups experienced in dealing with victims of disaster have indicated that these plans to help alleviate the worry and suffering of relatives and friends would be an improvement in the Red Cross services.

A letter from the Manitoba division of Red Cross conveyed thanks for the help sent from Peterborough for flood relief and stated everything sent had arrived in good order.

Chairman, Mrs. C. J. Ray spoke with regret of the passing of Miss Mina Ross who was a sincere and active Red Cross worker.

U.S. Designer Creates Ado With Revolutionary Lines

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP) — Another American revolution was launched yesterday with a declaration of independence by Fashion Designer Adrian from Hollywood.

In a season when practically every crossroads store in the U.S. is advertising Paris copies, Adrian's all-American collection created a sensation among the fashion press present at his New York showing.

He showed a series of suits which could be entitled "The Spirit of '76" with their George Washington jackets, velvet weskits and cocked hats.

Similarly, he showed a discreet grey worsted suit called "Buffalo Bill," with loops of self-fabric fringe outlining the sleeves from shoulder to cuff, and adding a pioneer touch to the jacket front.

His collection was divided into three parts—clean-lined coats and suits for town and travel; "at home" clothes for relaxation around the television set or canasta table; and costumes for important evenings.

Some of his street outfits definitely predict the future, such as a dress called "rocket ship," in a pink and maroon checked wool with soaring flanges, suggesting a maid from Mars.

Modern Film Censorship Aimed at Undue Violence

By J. C. GRAHAM

WELLINGTON, N.Z.—(CP) — Modern film censorship is concerned primarily with undue violence, says censor Gordon Mirams. Sex in screen entertainment, he says, is not particularly troublesome.

Mirams estimates that 70 per cent of the cutting done is for reasons falling under the general heading of violence.

Since he took over the censorship job, he has followed a wider practice of issuing certificates limiting attendance at certain films to persons over a specific age. Certificates usually are issued recommending a film for general exhibition or as more suitable for adults. Before Mirams' appointment, only two or three special sex-problem films had been banned to children under a certain age.

In case people should think his new age-limit certificates are imposed for the same reason, the censor explains that sex in a film is a possible but not probable reason for his issuing one of the certificates.

"There is a responsibility on the censor not merely to protect children from the influence of certain films, but also to protect certain films from the influence of children," he said. He was strongly opposed to drastic cutting of obviously adult films in an attempt to make them suitable for juvenile consumption.

He gave as an example the British film, "Give Us This Day," a mature film which has as its climax a particularly grim sequence involving the accidental death of the leading character.

"Many younger children would find this sequence horrible and inexplicable and nothing else," Mirams said. "Almost any cutting would destroy the dramatic force of the climax and the artistic unity of the whole production. I believe that the adult public is entitled, if this is at all possible, to see films of merit exactly in the form in which the maker intended, and not hacked about just to permit a few thoughtless parents to take, or send, children to see films which were clearly never intended as entertainment for juveniles."

Mirams said the same principle applied with a difference in the case of three came home case of "Three Came Home", dealing with an American woman's experiences in a Japanese prison camp. It contained some episodes which were grim enough to be unsuitable for children, but on the whole the director had tried to give a fair and balanced portrayal of Japanese character and behaviour.

Would Whitewash Japs

Some persons might disagree with the director's interpretation, but he was entitled to present it. To cut the grimmest episodes from the film, in an effort to protect children, would not merely destroy the balance of the interpretation. It would also, in effect, whitewash the Japanese.

"In such cases," said Mirams, "the best solution is to use a certificate which definitely restricts the attendance to audiences over a specified age and leaves the film intact. The cinema cannot hope to advance toward greater maturity unless producers are sometimes allowed the opportunity to handle mature themes in a more mature way."

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Jealous Wife May Find Cure In Common Sense Approach

DEAR MISS DIX: I am having a terribly jealous streak that is making me do foolish things and putting wrinkles in my face. My husband works with a very attractive and sweet girl. I know she is crazy about him and he likes her, but I am sure I'm the one he loves. Lately she has been waiting to walk home with him and that is what has got me all roused up. It makes me so resentful toward him that I don't treat him right. A couple of times I have shown my jealousy of her by letting loose and he just thought me silly. How shall I treat the situation? I hate this being jealous and I hope you can knock it out of me some way or another.

Dorothy Dix

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You are the first green-eyed woman I have ever encountered who realized that jealousy made her do foolish things, so perhaps you can cure yourself. The only remedy for jealousy is an application of common sense to the situation.

Look At Problem Calmly

Now, being more level-headed than most women, suppose you look your problem in the face and try to deal with it sanely instead of hysterically. In the first place, calmly decide what real cause you have for jealousy. Because your husband works with a pretty and attractive girl is no sign that he is in love with her. The world is full of pretty and attractive girls but not every man who meets with one falls for her.

The fact that your husband chose you out of all the world for a wife should prove to you that you are his type, and until you have strong evidence to the contrary you are justified in believing that he still prefers you to any other woman. Nor have you any proof that the girl is in love with your husband. Because you are in love with him is no sign that every other woman is.

My advice to you is to try to realize that in a world that is full of men and women you can't protect your husband from temptation; you can't segregate him from attractive women. The only way you can possibly have any happiness is by trusting him and not letting the thought of these other women keep you worried and stirred up. If he has not enough love for you to be faithful to you because you are the only woman in the world for him, and if he has not manhood and loyalty enough to be true to you, then he isn't worth a single jealous pang, much less putting wrinkles in your face.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: How can I decently end an engagement with a young lady? I have deliberately and politely asked for my liberty but to no avail. I have rushed other girls she disliked but it did me no good. I have done everything I know how to make her angry so I could make my getaway, but she doesn't get visibly angry, just hurt and sad. The situation is one that calls for drastic measures and I am at my wits' end to know what to do. Can you suggest a decent and honorable way out? FRED

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I should think that the thing to do would be to just come out flat-footed and tell the girl in plain and unmistakable language that you do not love her, and that you do not intend to marry her now or ever, that the whole affair is washed up. Inasmuch as it is difficult to tell the brutal truth in a convincing fashion to one who professes to love you, I would further suggest that you put your ultimatum in writing rather than deliver it by word of mouth.

If you lack the backbone to act the part of a man, emulate the tactics of a balky mule. Make no more dates with the young lady. Don't answer her telephone calls. Use passive resistance. After all, no woman, no matter how determined she is, can force a man to marry her if he puts his back up and refuses to do so. There are no more unhappy marriages than those entered into by men who make a little near-love that they never intend her take seriously to a girl and who find that they have tied a knot with their tongues that they can't untie with their teeth.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a man of 40, with two little children. Lost my wife last February. After ten weeks of bewilderment I was deeply attracted to one of my wife's friends, who has always loved my children. I proposed to her and was accepted and we expect to be married before the year ends, but I have received much criticism about my haste in replacing my wife. Is this just? K. C. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The accepted canon of good taste is that a man shall wait a year before marrying again. But it is a matter of individual inclination and, of course, a husband who isn't greatly bereaved has a perfect right to do as he pleases in the matter.

What's Right

Your child, in your hearing, says something impudent to a grown-up.

WRONG: Ignore it.

RIGHT: Correct the child and if it is something that calls for an apology, ask him to apologize.

COOKBOOK OF THE WEEK

Unusual Ideas Outlined For Cooking of Vegetables

Every homemaker runs out of ideas every now and then and needs a culinary shot in the arm to lift family dinners, or even party menu out of the doldrums. The Culinary Arts Institute series of twenty-four cookbooks, which are now being made available to readers of the Examiner, a book each week, are the remedy for this condition. Besides containing specific directions on how to prepare everyday foods they are full of cooking ideas, illustrations which suggest novel ways of serving, and recipes for tasty sauces to improve humdrum cooking. So far Snacks, Leftovers, Cakes, Poultry, Pies, Soups, Salads, Meat, Fish and Eggs have been released. Now the eleventh book—"250 Ways to Serve Fresh Vegetables," is available.

The Vegetable Book is arranged in alphabetical order so that you can look up any vegetable and find anw number of recipe suggestions for cooking it. Paging through this book you will find many unusual vegetables that you may have seen in the market and just didn't buy because you thought you would not know what to do with them after you bought them. Here is one of the tasty suggestions for the preparation of vegetable marrow that you will find in the Vegetable Book:

Stuffed Vegetable Marrow

1 large vegetable marrow; 1½ cup chopped cooked meat; ½ cup bread crumbs; 1 tablespoon minced onion; 2 tablespoons tomato catchup, ¼ teaspoon salt, dash cayenne.

Cut marrow crosswise into halves. Remove seeds from each half. Mix remaining ingredients together and pack into marrow halves. Place halves together and fasten with picks or place in pan of same length as marrow to hold halves together. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degress F.) 30 minutes or until tender. Serve in slices, for 6.

You will surely want to obtain your copy of the Vegetable Book right away, and start catching up on the earlier books. All you need do is clip a coupon from page 2 of any issue of this newspaper and present it with 25c at the Examiner Office, or to your Examiner carrier, or at Braund's Home Food Markets. If you wish to send for your copies by mail enclose the coupons with 30c for each book (5c additional for postage and handling) to Cook Department, Examiner, Peterborough.

Directions

You will notice I have been stressing the use of fish, and I find that this Egg Sauce makes many an economical cut of fish most palatable. To make the low-calorie egg sauce stir 1 tablespoon cornstarch into 2 tablespoons cold water and stir this into 1 cup boiling water and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. When thick cook over boiling water 10 minutes. Stir it into 1 beaten raw yolk or sprinkle over it and stir in the sieved yolks of 2 hard cooked eggs. Season with salt and pepper to taste.

✧ ✧ ✧

Spanish Lamb with Rice

One cup boiled rice, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 finely chopped onion, 1 cup stewed or fresh tomatoes, 1 cup water, 1½ cups diced cooked or raw lamb, 1 tablespoon horsradish, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper. Saute the onion in the butter, add remaining ingredients and bake in covered casserole. If raw lamb is used this requires about 1¾ hours at 350 deg. Fahr. If cooked meat is used about 40 minutes will do.

Plum Crumb

There is plenty of leeway in making this dish. I stone and cut up plums, and cover them with a mixture: 1 cup flour, ¾ to 1 cup white or brown sugar, ½ cup butter or margarine, ¼ teaspoon freshly grated nutmeg. I bake at 325 deg. Fahr. for. 1¼ hours. Change it to suit yourselves, and serve it with pouring cream.

Upside-Down Peach (or pineapple Cake

Melt 2 tablespoons butter in frying-pan, tip till pan is covered, and add 1 cup brown sugar and 2 to 3 cups sliced fresh or canned peaches or pineapple. For special occasions, dot a few maraschino cherries on bottom of pan. Set aside.

Make a sponge batter by beating the yolks of 3 eggs with 1 cup sugar. Add ½ cup pineapple or peach juice. Sift over this 1 cup flour sifted with 2 teaspoons baking powder. Stir in and then fold in 3 stiffly beaten egg whites and ½ teaspoon vanilla. Pour this batter over the fruit. Bake at 340 deg. Fahr. for 40 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before turning out and serving upside down with unsweetened pouring or whipped cream.

Alberta Expert Can Ease Poultry Malady

EDMONTON —(CP)— Dr. C. H. Bigland, pathologist in poultry diseases for the Alberta Department of Agriculture, has formulated a remedy for a poultry disease widely known as "water-belly."

His recommendations are being used with great success in the poultry industry of Alberta, Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba.

Dr. Bigland's findings are reported in the Canadian Journal of Comparative Medicine.

The disease, which last year caused the death of many young turkey poults in Alberta, has no apparent symptoms in some cases. In others, birds become dizzy, drink large quantities of water and refuse food.

The condition affects poults between the ages of eight and 22 days. It can kill up to 20 per cent of a poult brood.

High Salts Content

Dr. Bigland traced the cause to an excessive intake of sodium salts, obtained both from water and feed. Much of the well-water supply on Alberta farms proved to be high in sodium salts.

The practice of many poultry raisers of adding new feed on top of old feed in the trough also contributed to the incidence of the disease. The salt particles in the feed are heavier than other feed constituents and filter to the bottom of the trough. There they pile up until the poults get a relatively large quantity of salt at each feeding.

Dr. Bigland recommended prevention of the disease by feeding water low in sodium salts to poults under 22 days of age. He suggested use of rain or river water. He also recommended feeding of fresh feed in clean troughs to young poults.

Does your house need perking up We don't mean big items like a grand piano, but the things that can be done in a few moments with little or no expenditure. We read the other day about a housewife who takes inventory every now and then. She walks through the house and garden with pencil and pad and jots down two lists —things to do and things to buy. These range from "new catch for kitchen cupboard door" to "tack down fringe on dining room rug." One list is carried to town the next time she goes shopping; the other is hung in the kitchen where items can be ticked off as they are attended to in odd moments. In her house this is an annual event and the rest of the family takes part, too.

The other day a customer was heard to remark on the wonderful roast beef at Dominion. Yes, the Dominion Master Market in Peterborough not only has excellent roast beef, but the meat salesmen pride themselves on the variety of the more economical cuts as well.

These cool, crisp days call for hot meals and here's a suggestion for a Vegetable Pot Roast which will meet with the approval of the entire family:

VEGETABLE POT ROAST

1 tablespoon drippings or salad oil
2 lb. pot roast
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ green pepper
2 medium onions
1 clove garlic
3 tomatoes
2 stalks celery
Few sprigs parsley
2 small turnips
2 carrots

Heat drippings or salad oil in Dutch oven or heavy kettle that has a tight fitting lid. Brown the beef quickly on all sides and sprinkle with salt, pepper and cayenne.

Chop all the vegetables in tiny pieces (sorry we can't suggest putting them through a food grinder but that way the good juices are lost). Add to meat and cook very slowly, tightly covered, for 2½ hours or until beef is tender when pierced with a fork. If you're the worrisome type it's quite all right to stir vegetables occasionally to make sure they're not sticking.

This tender, moist, rich pot roast is perfect served with the unthickened vegetable-meat gravy spooned over it. Serves 6.

Here's an easy way to stretch cereal We are all sometimes stuck with dribs and drabs of various dry cereals. When this happens, do not throw them out . . . just mix them all together and serve them to your hungry youngsters. They will love the dish and so will you—it's really tasty

6—In Memoriams

BEER—In loving memory of a dear husband and loving father, E. S. Beer, who passed away September 26, 1949.
Gone from us, but leaving memories
Death can never take away,
Memories that will always linger
While upon this earth we stay.
—Ever remembered by wife and family.

DRAIN—In loving memory of mother, Mrs. Maude Drain, who passed away Sept. 28, 1949 and father, Mr. John Drain, who passed away Oct. 6, 1939.
We mourn for them in silence,
No eyes can see us weep,
But many a silent tear is shed
While others are asleep.
—Ever remembered Earl and Basil Drain and families.

7—Cards of Thanks

Mrs. Charles Masters and family wish to express their sincere thanks to Rev. A. A. Mathews, the attending doctor, Outboard Marine & Mfg. Co. and employees, the many friends, relatives and neighbours for floral tributes, expressions of sympathy and any kindness shown during their recent sad bereavement in the loss of a [illegible] husband and father.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fulton and family wish to extend their sincere thanks to the sisters, nurses and staff of St. Joseph's Hospital, the attending doctors, Rev. O. G. Shantz of Gospel Hall Church, Mr. Samuel Wood of Buckhorn Presbyterian Church, the many friends, relatives and neighbours who sent floral tributes, cards of sympathy and helped in any way during their recent sad bereavement in the loss of a loving son and brother, Leon Fulton. We would also like to extend our thanks to Miss Leona Shearer of Buckhorn for the many acts of kindness shown to Leon during his recent illness and also to Mr. Dan Hendren of Lakefield who so nicely arranged the funeral rites.

Council Holds Up Approval Of New School

HASTINGS, Sept. 27—(ENS)—Hastings town council refused to approve construction of a new public school when the matter was discussed at this month's meeting. A motion that approval could not be given at this time, was presented by Councillors W. A. Thomas and F. C. Foster.

The council decided to forward a resolution to Lynn Central Board asking for the removal of the warehouse on Bridge St. because of the heavy traffic there.

It was agreed to that A. Anderson be rebated for the year on the building which was totally destroyed by fire in 1948.

Start H. And S. For Norwood Public School

NORWOOD, Sept. 27 (ENS)—Norwood Public School Home and School Club was formed Tuesday evening at a meeting of teachers and parents held in the school building.

Mrs. R. Fuller was elected president, Mrs. Earl Hamblin, Mrs. Wilson Small, Secretary, Max Scott, treasurer, executive committee: Mrs. John Cronin, Kenneth Trumpour, Mrs. Victor McNeely, Harold Mainland, Mrs. Jack Stewart.

The Rev. R. D. Duncanson was chairman of the meeting and Mrs. E. Chambers of Peterborough, vice president of the Ontario Home and School Association explained the objectives and told the history of the Home and School movement.

The fee was set at 50 cents and a rule was made allowing the executive to spend a maximum of $5 without reference to a meeting of the club. The meeting will be held the fourth Monday in every month.

The committee which was set up to organise the first meeting, under the leadership of Mr. Sinclair, withdrew prior to the election of officers.

Must Keap Korea War Localized, Reds Told

NEW DELHI, India, Sept. 27 (AP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has told Communist China the Korean war must be localized and has expressed the desirability of a peaceful solution, an authoritative source said today.

The source denied reports, however, that India had threatened to withdraw her support of Red China if the regime there sent its troops to Korea or Formosa.

Deafened People Now Hear Clearly

Science has now made it possible for the deafened to hear faint sounds. It is a hearing device so small it fits in the hand and enables thousands to enjoy sermons, music and friendly companionship. Accepted by the Council on Physical Medicine of the American Medical Association. This device does not require separate battery pack, battery wire, case or garment to bulge or weigh you down. The tone is clear and powerful. So made that you can adjust it yourself to suit your hearing as your hearing changes. The makers of Beltone are so proud of their achievement that Mr. George H. Eaton, a Factory Trained Consultant, will be at the Empress Hotel in Peterborough on Thursday, September 28th, from 2 to 8 p.m. to give you a demonstration of this remarkable hearing device. If you find it inconvenient to meet Mr. Eaton during the above hours, phone him at the hotel and he will be glad to call on you in your own home. Hearing Aid Centre of Ottawa, 44 Bank Street, Ottawa. # Expert Urges Limit On Wages For Nationalized British Industry

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON

LONDON —(CP)— Creation of a statutory authority, independent of the government, to determine wage trends in Britain's nationalized industries, is urged by Sir Arthur Salter, noted economist and former parliamentary secretary to the ministries of shipping and transport.

Writing in the current issue of the National Provincial Bank Review, Sir Arthur charges that "certain inherent defects" in nationalization may add seriously to the country's difficulties in expanding its foreign markets.

The old system of collective bargaining, he contends, can not operate satisfactorily in nationalized industry. Under private enterprise, negotiations are practical and beneficial because employees realize that if they push their demands too far increased costs would result in bankruptcy and disaster.

"There is no such restraining influence in a nationalized monopoly," Sir Arthur writes. "Because it is a monopoly it can pass on increased costs in increased prices to the consumer till he breaks. And if there is still a loss the taxpayer shoulders it."

Standards Sag

Wage increases granted workers in nationalized monopolies, he declared, will stimulate similar demands in private industry. The difficulties, however, do not end there. Standards of work are bound to sag if there can be no dismissals in cases of persistent slackness and absenteeism.

Insisting that the problem must be solved if nationalization is not to be fatal to Britain's exporting industries, Sir Arthur offers this solution: "It is possible that a statutory authority, independent of the government, might be set up with the duty of determining from time to time the total wage bill in each nationalized monopoly, after comparison with wage rates in other countries . . . bargaining could then be legally allowed within the total so fixed, but not beyond it."

Low Priced Exports

Under conditions of intense competition which, he says, Britain must soon expect, costs of exportable goods will have to be kept low enough to enable them to compete successfully in foreign markets. Devaluation, he adds, gives the United Kingdom an advantage for the moment, but any substantial rise in prices would pose a serious problem.

To avert this danger and to establish British economy on a sound basis, he recommends: (1) Severe restraints on inflationary tendencies: (2) more efficient operation of nationalized industries; (3) full employment; (4) increased production, encouraged by bonus incentives; (5) removal of government controls as soon as they are no longer necessary; (6) reduction in government expenditure.

"At every point from which we look at our economy, we see that we still lag behind the standard of effort needed to put it on a sound basis," Sir Arthur says.

He believes "disinflation" is the crux of Britain's present economic problem. It could probably be achieved through a rigid program of austerity. But increased production, accompanied by a smaller boost in spending power, would be as effective and preferable.

Production, he thinks, will be increased by improved techniques and mechanization. However, adequate incentive to the workers are also desired. Precise methods of granting these would vary from industry to industry. And he suggests some workable plan could best be devised by the combined efforts of industrialists, trade unions and the government.

Sir Arthur says conditions contributing to the "sterling areas" gave Britain sheltered external markets. One effect was to narrow the margin afforded by devaluation. As soon as other countries earned more dollars and found sterling prices less attractive, the "elaborate but fragile" shelter of inconvertibility, bilateral agreements and exchange controls would collapse.

"The only way to avert disaster that would then follow is to anticipate it," he says. "Otherwise we shall drift into a situation in which a further devaluation becomes as inevitable as the first, and sterling may cease to be a world currency."

OBITUARY

WILLIAM HENRY MANTEL

William Henry Mantell, 75, of 548 Douglas Ave., died to-day in hospital following a lengthy illness. He was born in England, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Mantell, and came to Peterborough from there 45 years ago. His wife, the former Bertha Wood, predeceased him in 1942.

He leaves one son, William E. Mantell of this city and a sister, Mrs. C. Cartwright of Toronto. There are three brothers in England, Charles, Richard and Albert Mantell. Mr. Mantell was employed in the fractional motors division of the CGE for more than 25 years and was a member of their Quarter Century Club. He attended the Church of England.

A Veteran of the Royal West Kent Regiment in the Boer War and of the 21st Battalion in the First World War, he was also a 25-year veteran of the IOOF No.

Funeral service will be held on 13.

Friday at 2 p.m. at the Nisbett Funeral Home. The Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite of All Saint's Anglican Church will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake cemetery.

King To Loan Part Of Stamp Collection

LONDON, Sept. 27.—(CP)— The King will send part of his stamp collection to the International Stamp Exhibition in Toronto next year, it was made known today. The exhibition will commemorate the centenary of the first Canadian stamp issue.

The King's collection includes Canadian issues which King George V gathered while a midshipman serving in North American waters.

Mrs. Thomas McMillan

A largely-attended funeral service for the late Mrs. Thomas McMillan of 197 Rubidge, was held on Monday at the Comstock Funeral Home. The Rev. C. G. Boyd, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, officiated and pallbearers were Frank Gray, Reginald Moore, Bert Harris, Joseph Grierson, David Millar and Thomas Craig. Burial was at Little Lake cemetery.

Up To U.N. To Act At Frontier

CANBERRA, Australia, Sept. 27.—(Reuters).—Prime Minister Robert Menzies told Parliament today the Big Three has agreed that Allied forces should go no further than Korea's 38th parallel—the old frontier — without United Nations' direction.

He was discussing possibilities likely after North Korean forces are rolled back to the line they crossed June 25.

Menzies said indications are that South Korea's invaders will be rolled back as long as no one else intervened.

"I don't assume that when the armies reach the 38th parallel there would be a 'cease fire.' It may be in the middle of battle. The situation must be taken into consideration."

Suspend One Player For Striking Umpire

KITCHENER, Sept. 27 (CP)— Suspension of one player and fines on two others have been imposed on members of Waterloo Tigers of the Intercounty League who were ejected from Monday night's 21-inning senior baseball game with Brantford.

First baseman "Red" Kane has been suspended for an indefinite period, pending written reports from the umpires.

League president Otto Manske slapped $10 fines on playing manager Alex Kvasnak and second baseman Jim Muldoon.

Kane struck Umpire Hal Baird of Stratford after a play at second base in the seventh inning. Kvasnak and Muldoon were ejected together in the 11th inning for arguing with base umpire Russ Tyne of Hamilton.

AMOS Supplies Hospital Beds

The Ancient Mystic Order of Samaritans, a branch of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, the Northern Division of which is this weekend holding their fall convention in Peterborough, have for the past year operated a hospital bed program.

These beds, six in number, are controlled by the AMOS and are available on a no-charge basis with the exception of transportation charges. These beds are loaned to patients to whom this type of bed is necessary in order that they may recover from their illness. The beds themselves are available only upon receipt of a doctor's recommendation.

The Hospital Bed Committee is under the direction of James Price, Rink St., and it is the hope of the AMOS that by conducting this program that they may, in a small way, be instrumental in aiding some citizen to regain his or her health and happiness.

RAPID EXPANSION

In three years of operation, trans-Australian airlines have established 13,400 miles of domestic air routes.

Scottish Pipers Receive Annual Grant

EDINBURGH (CP)—The Scottish territorial army—equivalent to the Canadian reserves— has won a 40-year-old fight with the British Treasury. It will be allowed a yearly grant for pipe bands.

Previous grant of £300 (930( nn the first year and £150 each following year, was for brass bands only. This, said the Scottish regiments, was a "heathen, sassenach idea." A Scotsman's instrument was the pipes.

They are now hapy with a pipegrant of £120 in the first year and £60 a year afterwards.

Freedom Medal Given Soldier

VANCOUVER — (CP) — The Medal of Freedom of the United States has been presented to a Norse patriot who saved a group of American soldiers during the Second World War.

The presentation was made here to a mild-mannered Norwegian, John Moan, now a millworker in New Westminster, BC. It was presented by American Consul-General A. W. Klieforth.

His citation shows he saved an American patrol near Snaasa, Norway, March 24, 1945, which was headed for a well-armed German force in ambush.

Then a soldier in the Norwegian army, Mr. Moan was on patrol when he spotted a German sentry, and he returned to warn the Americans.

"If the German's hadn't been so interested in keeping warm instead of on the lookout, they would have caught me," he told reporters at the presentation ceremony.

McCallum Announces TTC Fares To Go Up

TORONTO, Sept. 27 — (CP).— Mayor Hiram McCallum said on Tuesday night that Toronto Transportation Commission fares will be increased to three tickets for 25 cents. The rate now is four tickets for 25 cents.

He told delegates to the Chamber of Commerce of Quebec Province at a civic dinner that the TTC would charge the same fare underground as on the surface when the city's subway is completed.

The Mayor gave no indication as to when the increase would become effective or whether it would be deferred until the subway is finishd.

He said that in Detroit the fare was 13 cents and in most other cities 10 cents.

Send Brig. Allard For Course In Britain

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 — (CP).— Brig. J. V. Allard, 37-year-old army commander of the Eastern Quebec area and former Canadian military attache to Russia, will leave Canada in November to attend a course at the Imperial Defence College in the United Kingdom, Defence Minister Claxton announced Tuesday night.

His move necessitates two other shifts of senior officers.

Col. M. L. DeRome 39, who has been ofifcer in charge of administration at Quebec Command Headquarters, Montreal, will command the Eastern Quebec area in a temporary capacity during the absence of Brig. Allard.

Col. W. Clement Dick, 37, who recently completed a tour as director of the Canadian Army Staff College, Kingston, moves to Montreal to replace Col. DeRome.

Order Red Troops Retreat Into North Korea As Army In Complete Rout

Intercept Communist Leader's Secret Orders As Enemy Quits Seoul; Canadians Raid Islands of Orang, Byang

SEOUL, Sept. 28—(Reuters)—North Korean leader Kim Il Sung has ordered his troops to break off contact with United Nations forces and retreat north of the 38th parallel, an authoritative source told Reuters tonight. The source said that American intelligence agents had intercepted a top-secret order from the Communist leader to his field commanders telling them they must get as many men as possible back into North Korea, taking arms and equipment with them.

The source said that American intelligence officers were at first doubtful of the authenticity of the intercepted order but recent events on the Korean battlefield, combined with reported peace moves, appeared to prove it genuine.

The intercepted order said that the withdrawal beyond the 38th Parallel was to be made "in as orderly a manner as possible."

There has been no serious resistance to United Nations troops in Korea in the last week except at Seoul.

Try To Keep Route Open

There is evidence that the Communist defence of Seoul was intended only as a delaying action.

The purpose was apparently to keep the escape route to the north open as long as possible to allow the majority of Communist forces in Seoul to be withdrawn.

Communist opposition in the city, fiercely stubborn for almost three days, suddenly collapsed last night while the defenders were still in a strong position.

Observers say this indicated that the bulk of Communist forces in Seoul to be withdrawn.

Communist opposition in the city, fiercely stubborn for almost three days, suddenly collapsed last night while the defenders were still in a strong position.

Observers say this indicated that the bulk of Communist troops were out of the city and the signal was then given to the Seoul defenders to join them.

No Longer Organized

The Allied High Command in Korea said today the North Korean army now is a smashed remnant and finished as an organized fighting force.

This was announced amid racing new Allied advances throughout South Korea where the Reds are reduced to small combat pockets or are retreating and fading from view.

The United Nations armored fist tightened in Seoul.

Taejon, Namwon and Hadong were recaptured.

Ninety-one American prisoners-of-war were rescued in the latter two southern towns. All had been abandoned by fleeing Communists.

Lt.-Gen. Walton H. Walker, U.S. Eighth Army commander, told war correspondents at his Korean headquarters the Reds were in complete rout, and added that their army no longer exists as an organized force.

Will Investigate St. John River For New Project

OTTAWA, Sept. 28—(CP)The External Affairs Department announced today that the International Joint Commission will investigate the St. John River system above Grand Falls, N.B., "in order to determine whether its waters may be more beneficially conserved and regulated."

The aim, said a statement, is to seek more hydro-electric power for the power-short Maritime provinces.

It said the Canadian and American governments have agreed that the commission should study the question.

It added:

"Canada's chief interest lies in the possibility of providing water storage on the upper reaches of the St. John River system which would permit the regulation of the flow of the lower river in the interests of hydro electric power generation in New Brunswick."

The commission consists of three Canadians and three Americans. It studies questions relating to boundary waters. The St. John River, in this case, flows through both Maine and New Brunswick.

The chairman of the Canadian section of the commission is Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton.

Rumors Flying About Brigade

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 (CP). — Hundreds of the army's special force soldiers were on a four-day leave today as speculation flew about their eventual destination.

The army said Petawawa Camp, 125 miles from here, has given four-day leaves to men of the 2nd Battalion of the Royal Canadian Regiment because they have finished their basic individual training.

An army spokesman said the same step may have been taken by other units.

On return to camp, he said, they will pitch into advanced individual training, the second of four phases in the training of combat troops.

The swift, triumphant march of American troops in Korea has given rise to speculation that the special force will not go to Korea but to Western Germany instead.

Its destination is believed to be under consideration now both here and at United Nations headquarters in New York.

By-Election In Britain Test For Labor Party

LEICESTER, Sept. 28—AP)—Fifty thousand voters picked a new member of parliament today in a by-election that may show whether Britain is ready to break its political deadlock in a new general election.

The vote will be the first test of political strength since the Labor party lost all but a six-vote edge of its majority in the House of Commons in last February's general election.

Political observers figure the Labor party will win the election with little trouble.

But the result may show a swing to or from the Labor party.

The Labor candidate is A. L. Ungoed-Thomas, a lawyer. His Conservative foe is H. A. Taylor, a London newspaperman who sought election in vain in the same constituency in February.

Unconscious, Grows

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Sept. 28 (AP)—Hospital authorities reported today that a five-year-old boy has gained 14 pounds and grew four inches while unconscious for 207 days. The child, Charles V. Ryan, was injured last March 5 when a car struck him. He has never regained consciousness, although he had flickered his eyes and smiled occasionally.

Report Progress Being Made In Quebec Talks

QUEBEC, Sept. 28 (CP). — Prime Minister St. Laurent told reporters today as the federal-provincial constitutional conference neared adjournment that "everyone is agreed that this thing is going to succeed."

This was the first clear indication that the federal and provincial delegates, striving to bring to Canada full and complete power to amend the Canadian constitution, are coming closer to agreement on the many-sided issue.

Heretofore, official comment from the closed sessions of the conference have been confined to sparsely-worded statements indicating only that it was making headway or progress.

Making Progress

Mr. St. Laurent's statement was not taken to mean that agreement necessarily will be reached in the Quebec phase of federal-provincial negotiations, but rather that the dominion and the 10 provinces are moving along the path to eventual solution of the problem.

The Prime Minister, speaking as the delegates emerged from their fourth secret meeting, indicated the conference will be adjourned later today and likely will resume in Ottawa early in December.

He said the next meeting will follow a federal-provincial fiscal conference tentatively scheduled to open Dec. 4 in Ottawa.

One more secret session of the constitutional conference will be held this afternoon. There may or may not be another public meeting following the in camera talks.

Mr. St. Laurent made his statement at the close of the morning session of the conference in commitee of the whole at which delegates assembled in an atmosphere indicating progress.

24-Hour-A-Day Guard

SOREL, Que., Sept. 28 (CP).—A 24-hour-a-day guard by three Quebec provincial police constables has been set up at the jail here as a result of recent "escapes" and voluntary return to cells by inmates.

Provincial police said an additional constable has been sent to the jail to join two who have been acting as guards since the suspension last week of jail governor Lucien Badeau.

The new guard set-up came after police chief J. A. Tanguay testified in court Wednesday that prisoners had admitted escaping twice, committing burglaries and then returning to cells.

Scattered Red Disturbances Harass Gov't

VIENNA, Sept. 28 (AP). — Scattered Communist disturbances today broke out for the third day as Russian-organized workers in Vienna continued to harass the Austrian government.

Communists seized control of two Danube river bridges connecting suburbs in the Russian sector of the four-power city with the central part of the town.

One railroad station also was occupied.

The Danube bridges were blocked by automobiles and Communists sitting astride the road.

In another Russian sector Reds help up street-car traffic for several hours.

The demonstrations were all restricted to Russian districts of Vienna.

There was a back-to-work movement in many factories, although in some Russian-controlled factories workers remained on strike.

Austrian sources said the Russians apparently had given orders that factories which had fulfilled their production quotas could remain idle. Those, however, which had failed to do so apparently were ordered back to work. Similar sporadic strikes were reported throughout the country.

Socialist party headquarters, which has good intelligence of Communist developments, said Wednesday night that the Austrian Reds had decided to call off their strikes after two days of disturbances and sporadic interruptions of rail traffic.

Communists who seized the Chamber of Labor at Linz yesterday in a series of scuffles and proclaimed a rump "provisional local executive" in that American zone city left the building without further incident Wednesday night.

United Korea Proposed By Pearson

Urge Asian Lands To Supervise Post-War Set-Up

NEW YORK, Sept. 28—(CP)—Canada Wednesday called for a united, free Korea not disturbed by "subversive Communist elements directed from outside Korea."

In an important policy statement before the United Nations General Assembly, L. B. Pearson, Canada's External Affairs Minister, outlined the Dominion's ideas for settlement of the post-war Korean problems.

Calling for a cease-fire in Korea, Pearson said that if the Communists admit defeat now, U.N. forces may not have to advance "far beyond their present positions."

Pearson said the U.N. must leave its military forces free to ensure that the Communists are not allowed to re-establish a base of aggression in North Korea. This was interpreted as Canadian approval of proposals that U.N. forces cross the 38th Parallel—dividing line between North and South Korea—if necessary.

Has Five Points

Pearson outlined five points which he said should be embodied in any assembly resolution on Korea:

1. A united, free Korea in which the Korean people govern themselves without interference from outside powers.

2. U.N. assistance to Korea to establish peace and order.

3. Korea must be free of foreign bases and military domination.

4. Nothing done in the re-establishment of a united, free Korea which carries any menace to Korea's neighbors.

5. The free governments of Asia should take the big share of the responsibility for advising the Korean people on methods of government.

The Canadian minister also said the U.N. should try to negotiate an agreement on the question of international control of atomic energy if Russia indicates that such discussions might bear fruit.

U.S. Proposal

American sources today outlined a six-point peace formula for Korea calling for a united country to be put back on its feet by the combined resources of the United Nations.

The elements the United States considers essential for Korea's future follows closely proposals advanced by Canada and Britain. British authorities are rushing work on a post-war plan for Korea.

American informants said the "United States has no desire for bases or special privileges in Korea" and wants the country to be free from the domination of any other country.

It also desires Korea's admission to the U.N. and the organization of the country in such a way that it "will pose no threats to its neighbors"—China and Russia.

Basic in the whole American idea is the establishment of a strong U.N. commission with wide authority to handle on the scene the multiplicity of post-war problems in the country

Keays Hearing Is Adjourned

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 (CP). — Hearing in the trial of J. E. (Ernie) Keays, former Ontario provincial police constable charged with illegally wearing a police uniform and carrying an automatic, was adjourned abruptly on Wednesday after a three-hour session.

Magistrate Glenn Strike brought the hearing to a close after Keays, arrested in county court here Sept. 11 when he brandished an automatic in open court, spoke for some time in his own defence. Assistant Crown Attorney Rupert Broadfoot will present his final argument next Monday.

WILLIAM SIMMONS, 72, Orpington Rd., was almost instantly killed about 1:30 p.m. today, when struck by a car driven by an old friend, Archie Patterson, N. Monaghan township, at Lansdowne and Park Sts. He was hit near the manhole cover and was either thrown or carried part way by the car, a distance of about 35 feet to the northeast curb, where he is shown lying under a blanket. Also in the picture is Archie Patterson explaining to Constable Donald Mackay and Coroner Dr. Herbert Young, what happened.—(Parks Studio Photo)

Appeals Court Orders Jan Bata Freed

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP). — An appeals court ruled Wednesday that Jan Bata, jailed in a civil action involving a $10,000,000 business, must be released.

The appellate division of the State Supreme Court ruled that the failure of a lower court to release Bata was "an abusive discretion."

The court said that civil arrest was a drastic remedy seldom resorted to, and should be used only where the right to it is clear.

Bata, half-brother of the late Thomas Bata, founder of the Czechoslovakian Bata shoe firm, was jailed in default of $50,000 bond on an arrest order obtained by Mrs. Marie Bata, widow of Thomas Bata.

She asked the arrest of the Brazilian national to insure his appearance in connection with law suits started by herself and her son, Thomas, Jr.

They are asking the court to rule that Bata holds in trust for them capital stock and interests in 53 companies in 27 countries, including a plant at Batawa, Ont.

Bata contended that he had purchased the stock from his half-brother.

The appeals court held that "the civil liability of defendant to plaintiff has not been shown to be the counterpart of criminal liability" and added:

"The affidavits before the court in our judgment, leave this whole subject in too much uncertainty to warrant resort to so severe and summary a remedy. . .

"The order of arrest should have been vacated and the failure to do so constituted an abusive discretion."

Menzies Reintroduces Bill Banning Reds

CANBERRA, Sept. 28 (Reuters) Prime Minister Robert Menzies today reintroduced the Communist Party dissolution bill and challenged the Labor government to force an election on the issue.

He asked in the House of Representatives:

"At a time when men from Australia are fighting and dying in a war of aggressive Communism, should we be so spineless as to leave the Communist agent at home free to do his work?"

The bill would outlaw the Communist party.

A full time-table requires its passage through the House of Representatives by Oct. 3, in readiness for resubmission to the Senate the next day.

It would empower the governor-general to "declare" a person, on the advice of ministers that such a person was engaged or likely to be engaged in activities prejudicial to defence of the Dominion or to the maintenance of laws.

Labor Congress Demands Improvement In Housing

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28—(CP)—Policy declarations on a wide range of national issues were on record today from the Canadian Congress of Labor at its annual convention. Major demands made by the 700 delegates Wednesday were for improvements in housing and unemployment insurance, for retention of rent controls and for a sweeping health insurance scheme.

The Communist and anti-Communist factions of the 360,000-member C.C.L., scrapping among themselves on the first two days of the convention, united Wednesday to turn their concerted firepower on the Federal government, condemned by speakers from both camps over the housing situation and unemployment insurance.

Delegates adopted a resolution urging the federal government to take home-building out of the hands of private capital and to launch programs for the construction of homes for rental and purchase by low-income groups.

Need Decent Housing

The resolution also pledged the Congress to rally its membership behind a concentrated drive to have the government wipe out what it termed "the shameful lack of decent housing in Canada."

Another resolution called upon the government to retain rent controls until all Canadians are "properly housed." These controls are due to expire next March 31 and the government has indicated that it does not plan to extend them.

Pat Conroy, national secretary-treasurer of the CCL, termed the government's attitude on housing "nothing short of a national scandal."

Other delegates suggested a mass delegation to Ottawa, the calling of a country-wide strike to emphasize the CCL attitude on housing and the election of a CCF federal government.

(The Congress is associated with the CCF which it designates annually at its conventions as the "political arm" of labor.)

The government also came in for criticism over its handling of unemployment insurance.

George Burt of Windsor, national chief of the 50,000-man United Automobile Workers of America, said the government is turning a "deaf ear" to labor proposals for changing the unemployment insurance act.

Mr. Burt, chairman of the CCL's unemployment insurance committee and a member of the advisory board to the unemployment insurance commission, submitted a report—adopted by the delegates—calling for several changes in the act.

500,000 Aliens Nabbed By U.S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP) —An immigration service official said today that 500,000 aliens were caught trying to enter the U.S. illegally during the last 12 months, twice as many as in the preceding year.

It is anybody's guess, he said, how many others actually got in without legal means.

Harlon Carter, chief of the Border Patrol, said the service is "concerned" over the situation and has asked Congress to supply money to hire 800 more patrol officers, bringing the total to almost 2,000.

Carter said there has been a "new influx" of attempts at illegal entry by persons from Southern Europe, many of them via Canada.

He noted increased activity along the Canadian border, particularly from Maine to Michigan.

Men Behind Dock Strike Trying Disrupt Industry

LONDON, Sept. 28 — (CP) — Labor Minister George Isaacs says the men now trying to disrupt British industry are the ones who were behind the disastrous dock strike in the summer of 1949.

Without naming names, Isaacs said those who played the leading part in the dock strike—which had its origin in Canada—formed a "lockout" committee.

"Since then they have changed its name and now it is called the 'London Port Workers' Committee," Isaacs said in a BBC broadcast Wednesday night. "They now are seeking to set up similar committees wherever they can."

Bluntly, Isaacs linked these committees with what he called a "Communist conspiracy" to paralyze Britain by unofficial strikes in the docks, in road transport, meat distribution, and other services.

The dock strike to which Isaacs referred arose out of a dispute between the Canadian Seamen's Union, the Seafarers' International Union (AFL) and Canadian Shipowners. It spread to London when local dock workers, responding to a "solidarity" call from the CSU, refused to work the Canadian ships Argomont and Beaverbrae.

The strike ended July 22, 1949, after 25 days of non-working which placed a strain on Britain's food reserves.

In his broadcast, Isaacs referred to the strike as a "disgraceful chapter" in Britain's industrial history.

Man Struck Crossing Intersection

Didn't Have Time To Put On Brakes; Driver Tells Police

Struck by a friend's car while crossing the Park-Lansdowne St. intersection, William Simmons, 72, Orpington Rd., was killed almost instantly at 1.30 p.m. today.

The elderly man was knocked 35 feet by the car and died in a pool of blood by the north-east curb.

An ironic feature of the fatal accident was that the driver of the car, Archie Patterson, 75, North Monaghan, was an old friend. The two men roomed together 20 years ago at Simmon's home on Orpington Rd.

Simmons was struck almost in the centre of the intersection after stepping from the west curb of Park St. and walking in a north easterly direction across Lansdowne Et.

Couldn't Miss

Patterson told police that he was just taking in his car for a checkup as the brakes were faulty.

"I didn't have time to put on my brakes," he said. "My foot just got to the pedal. . . I swung to the left thinking I would miss him but he kept on going and I hit him." Patterson said he first sighted his friend walking across Lansdowne St. when he was about six feet away and directly in front of the eastbound car.

There was no time to avoid the collision, he said.

"I was just taking my car in to have the brakes fixed," he told city police. "They don't work so good."

Simmons was retired. He was formerly a machinist employed at CGE.

He leaves a grown-up family of eight children, also four sisters and two brothers. The two brothers, Edward and John of Peterborough, arrived shortly after the accident and remained until Coroner Dr. Herbert Young directed the body to be removed.

G. S. Wade, John St., was an eyewitness to the accident. He was parked on Park St. preparing to drive south when he saw Simmons struck. Wade said the victim seemed to "bounce" along the road after the collision for about 35 feet.

Patterson contended that he started east on Lansdowne with a green traffic light and was travelling 20-25 miles an hour as he crossed the intersection.

Police Constable Donald Mackay investigated.

Hear Gen. Dean Moved To Seoul

WITH U.S. FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION, Korea, Sept. 28 (AP). American counter-intelligence officers said today South Korean informers reported they recently overheard Communist army officers planning to move Maj.-Gen. William F. Dean from Chongju's stockade to Seoul.

Dean has been missing since the July retreat from Taejon. He was commander of the U.S. 24th division.

The officers did not say whether the South Korean informers actually had seen the General before they escaped from the stockade.

Chongju was captured Tuesday.

Throw Communists Out Of Headquarters

DUESSELDORF, Germany, Sept. 28 (Reuters)—German police today threw Communists out of their own party headquarters here to make way for British troop reinfocements.

A hundred men and women singing Communist songs and shouting "Tommy Go Home" were pushed out of the main entrance as British requisitioning officers moved in.

The building—a new five-storey structure of 150 rooms, built with party funds—had just been taken over after the West German Communist party moved its headquarters here from Frankfurt.

40 Countries Attend Tariff Talks

Delegates Prepared To Trade Several Concessions

TORQUAY, England, Sept. 28—(AP)—Horse-trading on a global scale began here today with representatives of nearly 40 countries opening an international tariff conference.

Task of the delegates is to pull down tariff barriers. The job may last six to nine months and may be the largest concession swapping meeting in history.

Represented at the conference are signers of the general agreement on tariffs and trade which held previous meetings at Geneva in 1947 and at Annecy, France, in 1949, plus seven countries which have accepted invitations to join.

Results of the negotiations will be secret until the conference ends. Many delegations brought with them special security officers to enforce the rule.

To Trade Concessions

The United States, with a delegation of more than 100, will seek to snap tariff concessions with at least 24 countries. Britain has announced plans to seek agreements with 12 member countries.

Western Germany, long a high-tariff country, will be under strong pressure from both the United States and the British Commonwealth to lower its barriers.

Czechoslovakia is the only iron-curtain country represented.

Battered Korea has accepted an invitation to participate. Besides Korea, other first-timers at the meeting are Austria, West Germany, Peru, the Philippines, Turkey and Uruguay.

Some 700 delegates are housed in huge hotels at this seaside resort. Meetings will be in Torquay's giant Marine Pavilion.

Represents Canada

Dana L. Wilgress, Canadian High Commissioner in London and chairman of the 1949 tariff conference, will open the parley.

Speakers at the opening session—the only one at which the press and the public will be admitted—include Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade and chief of the British delegation; Andre Philip, chairman of the French delegation; and Willard Thorpe, assistant secretary of state, chief United States delegate.

Then the negotiators will begin their difficult bilateral talks under the provisions that any concessions granted one country must be extended to all other members.

Britain's preferential trade with Commonwealth members is expected to be attacked by some participants.

Canada Issues An Invitation

TORQUAY, England, Sept. 28 (CP)—Dana L. Wilgress suggested today that the next international meeting on tariffs be held in Toronto.

The Canadian High Commissioner in London spoke at a public meeting welcoming some 800 delegates from nearly 40 countries to the opening of a new round of tariff talks.

In his speech, Wilgress also said countries represented in the agreement must face the "fundamental question" of eliminating trade restrictions. This was interpreted as an indirect reference to the British system of imperial preference.

(The British Conservative party, official opposition to the Labor government, has often expressed criticism of concessions which resulted from other meetings in Geneva and Annecy, France.)

Wilgress said the gradual elimination of quantitative restrictions has started to expose industries to competitive forces from which they have been sheltered for balance-of-payment reasons.

"Strong forces are therefore developing for the provision of protection by other means, particularly by the imposition or retention of high tariffs....

"There still prevails the old tendency to regard protection as some benefit obtained at the expense of the foreigner....(but) protection is in essence a subsidy paid to high-cost producers."

Wholesale Prices Hit New High

OTTAWA, Sept. 28—(CP)—Pushed ahead by higher prices for automobile tires, rubber, sugar and other commodities, the wholesale price index climbed 1.6 points during August to establish a new high of 168.5, the Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday.

The August climb continued an unbroken series of monthly advances since the beginning of the year, when the index touched 157.1. The index is based on the calculation that 1946 prices equal 100. In July the index was 166.9.

Wholesale prices moved up sharply for a variety of goods in August, the Bureau said. Prices for raw rubber advanced 31.5 per cent, calf skins 28.6 per cent; raw sugar 25.3; canned peas 25.0; automobile tires 20.7; pepper 15.3; toilet soap, 14.6; sheepskins 14.3 and tallow 50.

Ottawa Gov't Landlord For Many People

OTTAWA, (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent, who will pay $5,000 a year to live in the new prime minister's residence at 24 Sussex Street in Ottawa, is the government's No. 1 tenant.

And the federal government, especially in the last few years, has become the capital's biggest landlord. Scores of government officials and others outside the public service live in homes owned by the Crown.

Among such homes are a number of Ottawa's best residential properties, and while many are old-fashioned in design and equipment, their location and grounds are usually unequalled.

At one time, a free government house went along with certain jobs as a condition of employment. But, like time, this practice has passed.

Moderate Rents

Today the official who lives in a Crown-owned house pays rent for it and the rent is deducted from his monthly salary. Rentals are fixed at what is considered a fair level by the departments concerned, but are strictly moderate in relation to rentals paid for comparable accommodation to private landlords.

Reason for this is that there is no absolute security of tenure. An official and his family occupy a government house only as long as he holds his position. The lease automatically lapses with a transfer, retirement or death.

Many of these government-owned homes are located on the grounds of the experimental farms, the National Research Council laboratory grounds and close to the atomic energy plant at Chalk River, Ont.

United Korea

The U.S. favors strong Asian representation on that commission.

The British proposal is expected to be combined with another post-war Korean plan presented to the assembly Wednesday by Canada.

British delegates are holding almost continuous conferences with other delegations to work out details and especially with Asian countries. The Asian countries would be called on, under the British proposals, to make up the greater part of a U.N. commission to supervise post-war Korea.

The British plan, still subject to modification, envisages an independent, united Korea with a democratic government elected under U.N. supervision. The U.N. would continue to furnish assistance to prevent an armed attack and would set up the supervising commission.

Another hot Asian problem comes up in the security council this afternoon when that body is expected to reach a vote on inviting Communist China to present in person her charges of American aggression on Formosa.

Have Two Resolutions

The council has two resolutions to this effect as the first order of business. They are a Russian proposition for an immediate invitation and one from Ecuador which would invite Red China provided debate on the Formosa question is put off until Dec. 1.

Ecuador's plea for delay is based on presence of the Formosa problem on the general assembly agenda. Ecuador feels that the council might benefit from the assembly's investigations.

Since Ecuador would make the seventh vote needed to invite the Peiping government, she is in a strong position to bargain for the delay. She has announced that she will not vote in favor of the immediate invitation proposed by Russia.

None of the post-war Korean proposals yet contain a definite statement that U.N. forces will cross the 38th parellel and occupy the entire country. Their substance, though, calling for a united Korea, apparently takes such a country-wide occupation for granted.

Believe Authority Given

The consensus here is that Gen. MacArthur already has the necessary authority to chase retreating Reds into North Korea and that no explicit directive is necessary. The problem before the assembly, informed sources feel, is the political future of the war-torn country.

That question is expected to come up Friday when the 59-member political committee meets at Lake Success. The first item for committee discussion is slated to be the report of the U.N. Korean commission during which consideration of the British plan would come up naturally.

Obituary

ROBERT WILLIAM HEAFIELD

Robert William Heafield, 76, of Otonabee Township, died in hospital Wednesday after a short illness. Born in Leicestershire, England, he came to Canada in 1915 and operated an electrical store in the Angus Shops in Montreal until 1939. He then retired and moved to Otonabee where he has resided since.

He leaves his widow, the former Alice Ruth Baldock; one son, Robert; one daughter, Mrs. A. G. Stock (Nan); three grandchildren, Jeff, Joan and Jerry, all of Otonabee, and two brothers and three sisters. Frank Heafield, one of the brothers, formerly of Peterborough, is now living in Southgate, California. The remaining brothers and sisters reside in England.

The body is resting at the Mather Funeral Home, Keene, until Thursday afternoon when it will be brought to Belleghem's Funeral Home. Funeral will take place in St. Luke's Anglican Church Friday at 2:30 p.m. The Rev. W. J. Gilling will conduct the service. Burial will be in Zion Cemetery, Otonabee.

Hard Local Fights

He said hard local fights may lie ahead but that United Nations forces are wiping out many Communists before they can reach the 38th Parallel. That's the dividing line between the Russian-sponsored North and the South Korean republic.

AP correspondent Stan Swinton reported white-clad South Korean civilians cheered and waved Korean flags as the American columns pushed ahead on the southern roads almost unopposed.

Taejon, highway-rail hub 90 miles south of Seoul, was recaptured two months and seven days after outnumbered and out-gunned U.S. forces yielded the city to the onrushing Red hordes.

With the Reds making tracks for the 38th Parallel, an answer apeared forthcomingp shortly on whether U.N. troops will cross the boundary. Gen. Walker said he expected instructions on this soon.

Canadians Take Part

Canadian sailors joined South Korean marines in a shore raid on the south-western Korean island of Orang Monday, a naval release said today.

The Canadian destroyer Athabaskan and two South Korean naval craft shelled the island for 2½ hours before the raiding party went ashore.

The release said the Canadians and South Koreans withdrew after completing their mission, leaving an estimated 70 North Korean troops dead.

The same units bombarded and sent a landing party ashore on Byang island, five miles from Orang island, but found no enemy troops there.

Columns In Flight

Raked by allied fighter-bombers Red columns fled from Seoul toward the 38th parallel, 35 miles north of the South Korean capital. B-29s bombed the escape route ahead of the Reds.

Inside the fire-blackened capital, U.S. troops flushed out die-hard Reds from building to building. Most of the rear-guard Reds appeared resigned to die fighting.

More than two-thirds of the city was in allied hands.

Walker told correspondents that if the offensive continues as planned, more than three-fourths of the Red army will have been wiped out. The Communist force that invaded the fledgling republic June 25 was estimated at some 150,000 men.

The General said all Red forces south of the Pusan-Taejon-Seoul highway, winding diagonally from southeast Korea to the northwest, will be annihilated. Any possibility of organized Red retreat from the south was doomed Tuesday by the link-up of armored columns from the Inchon and Pusan beachheads.

That line now is "secure," Walker said.

Spokesman at General MacArthur's headquarters said a Communist build-up was observed around Suwon, in the northern corner of the huge allied trap.

He said it had "potentialities of being dangerous," but added:

"It is difficult to say at this time whether the enemy in this build-up is prepared to fight or whether they are just trying to get out."

That area is about 20 miles south of Seoul. Seventy miles farther south, at Taejon, another Red concentration was under attack by fighter-bombers and forward elements of the U.S. 24th Division.

MacArthur's 3:40 p.m. (2:40 a.m. EDT) summary said planes and ground forces destroyed 23 Red tanks near Taejon. Infantrymen pushed within three miles of the city which they had yielded in a bitterly fought withdrawal in July.

A fighting front no longer existed around the old beachhead where Allied forces had withstood repeated assaults for two months. Since pushing out from southeast Korea in mid-September, U.N. forces had raced 30 to 115 miles.

Last Pocket Wiped Out

MacArthur's spokesman said the last pocket of Reds east of the Naktong River — former Allied Western defence line—was wiped out Wednesday. This was in the U.S. 2nd Division sector 14 miles southwest of Taegu.

Elsewhere in South Korea—from Seoul to the southern coastal area—the fighting was a patchwork of scattered local actions. No longer were the Reds able to lash out with crack divisions. Walker explained why:

"The hard core of the enemy that came across the parallel and did such terrible damage in the first months had been reduced by death."

A heavy Red attack eight miles northwest of Seoul near Kimpo airfield was reported thrown back after a small penetration Wednesday.

North of Kimpo, American troops tightened their hold on the Inchon second-front beachhead peninsula by pushing five miles to commanding high ground and the town of Yanggong.

In the south section of Seoul, Reds entrenched on the northern slope of South Mountain—a city park—were reported still offering strong resistance. It was a pocket that evidently escaped detection when 7th Division forces took the mountain early in the week.

Cave Paintings Puzzle Archaeologists

CAPETOWN —(CP)— The mystery of the long-haired girl who lived near Untali in Southern Rhodesia more than 10,000 years ago intrigues archaeologists here.

Her portrait on a cave wall so puzzled a Capetown scientist that he organized an extensive search for more evidence of her.

Who or what she was, and why she had long hair among a people whose hair was universally short and clung round the scalp, remains unanswered.

But the expedition established that at the moment of her career which a bushman artist chose to perpetuate on a cave wall she was the central figure of a dance.

The scientist, Bernard Carp first saw the portrait last year, and photographed it hastily by torchlight. He failed to notice a little group of three people, painted rather more faintly, on her right.

When he visited the cave again, a few weeks ago, with H. R. Praetorius, a photographer, and Terence McCaw, a painter, he was able to pick out the group.

Mr. Praetorius' picture of the whole scene has since been studied by Prof. C. Van Riet Lowe, a leading South African archaeologist.

This is what Prof. Van Riet Lowe has written to Mr. Carp: "It clearly depicts a dancing girl before an audience of two clapping women seated next to man—but what the meaning of it is is another matter. Your guess is as good as mine.

"The important issue is the long hair. This may be artificial—possibly, as you suggest, of grass or fibre."

Mr. Carp's first theory—that she belonged to a superior race which enslaved the Bantu — is losing ground.

"I believe that all the paintings in this area were made before the coming of the Bantu," Mr. Carp said.

Were there Europeans in Southern Africa centuries before history records their arrival? This is the second rock painting to indicate that there were. A few years ago a painting was discovered in a remote mountain cave in South-West Africa which appeared to represent a white woman dressed in a mode which prevailed in the Mediterranean countries before the Christian era.

This painting has since become known as "The White Lady of Brandberg."

Canadian Sailor Sees Red Atrocities

BRANTFORD, Sept. 28 (CP). — A Canadian seaman aboard the destroyer Athabaskan has told of atrocities and the wounding of civilians in the Korean war.

In a letter to his mother, O.S. Ronald B. Norris described finding five bodies and seeing wounded men, women and children when he went ashore after the Inchon landings.

The Athabaskan, one of three Canadian destroyers serving with United Nations naval forces in Korea, participated in the landings at Inchon that later resulted in the capture of Seoul.

He said one of the Athabaskan's officers reported that North Koreans beheaded South Koreans and tossed their bodies into the sea.

KEPLER
Who Discovered The Laws Of Seeing

Unlike the so-called fixed stars, the planets seem to wander about the heavens, and for ages these wanderings constituted a prime mystery. Johann Kepler, a genius in astronomy and optics, finally cleared up the mystery. Today everyone knows that the planets—Mercury, Venus, Mars, and the rest, including our own Earth—révolve around the sun in accordance with mathematical laws—Kepler's laws, as they are now known.

Kepler was born in Stuttgart in 1571. The tragedy of his life was that in his youth a serious illness permanently injured his eyes. Nevertheless, even though he possessed imperfect eyesight, Kepler was the first among mankind to discover some of the most important facts with regard to the human eye. He found out that human beings have an immense advantage over animals because of the so-called yellow spot in the retina which gives them the ability to focus the eye on small objects. He discovered that far-sighted people are helped by convex lenses, while near-sighted people require concave lenses.

All camera enthusiasts can thank Kepler for having perfected an early instrument, the "camera obscura," which led to the invention of photography. It is, in principle, virtually identical with the modern photographic camera, except that modern plates and films had not yet been invented, and therefore the picture could not be recorded except by sketching.

Kepler pointed out that the human eye with its lens and retina is very similar to that of any photographic camera, the lens in each case serving the same function.

Kepler had the inward vision which sometimes compensates for faulty eyesight.

Record Crowd 5,000 Visits Campbellford Fair Grounds

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 28—(ENS)—Some 5,000 people—the largest number ever to attend Campbellford fair—saw exhibits Tuesday and Wednesday which the judges say were in larger quantities and of a higher standard generally than exhibits at previous fairs in Campbellford. The horses especially, won the admiration of the judges and there were large numbers of entries in cattle, fruit and garden produce classes.

The fine weather was another factor contributing to the success of the fair. Lon Simpson of Brighton, who has been unable to keep close check on his age since he passed his 90th birthday, has been attending the fair for many years. As the oldest visitor to the fair this year, he acclaims it as the best he has ever seen.

Cars were parked at the grounds so densely that there was not even room for the younger people to play ball on their usual spot.

There was a midway with a ferris wheel and merry-go-round and sideshows.

One exhibit which attracted attention was a reproduction of an old fashioned kitchen. This was a feature of the Fair Board and was a replica of a typical pioneer kitchen about 100 years old.

The rural school garden club, sponsored by the Women's Institute, displayed fine examples of garden produce and flowers grown by the youngsters.

Results of the adjudication were as follows:

Class 19—Grain & Seeds

Lady Strickland Dies At Home In Malta

VALETTA, Malta, Sept. 28 — (Reuters)—Lady Margaret Strickland, widow of the former Prime Minister of Malta, died today. She was 82.

Her husband, the first and last Baron Strickland, died 10 years ago. From his she got the title of Countess Della Catena, in the Malta nobility. She was his second wife.

Her father, the late Edward Hulton of London, left her and her sister an income for life on two-thirds of the Hulton newspaper estate. The estate was estimated, 22 years ago, at £2,00,000.

Mabel Strickland, editor of the Times in Malta, is a stepdaughter.

Forty Boys Attend Boxing Club Meeting

More than 40 boys attended the re-organization meeting of the Peterborough Boxing Club held Wednesday night at Ashburnham hall. The greater percentage of the boys present were members of last year's club and they hope this year to attract additional members in a drive which will begin shortly.

Alex Sinclair, recreation director, said today that the club will open the 1950-51 season Monday night. Other training nights will be Wednesday and Friday nights except when bouts are held.

Mr. Sinclair explained that no bouts will be planned for the future until this year's material shapes up. The club hopes to have several inter-city club matches as last year.

Girls Scarce

FAIR ISLE, Scotland, Sept. 28 (Reuters)—Two more boys were born here today. The 70 islanders sighed. There hasn't been a girl born on the island for 20 years.

Too Much Witchcraft

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28—(AP)—A (negro) minister was sentenced Wednesday to a year in jail after criminal court testimony loaded with references to black magic, witchcraft and voodoo. Judge Joseph Sherbow imposed the term on the Rev. Bishop George Nathaniel Lee of Richmond, Va. He was charged with extortion in a shake-down scheme directed at a fellow (negro) clergyman, the Rev. John Rowllins.

Make Plans For Winter

COBOURG, Sept. 28—(ENS)—Northumberland County Federation of Agriculture is making plans for county farm activities during the coming winter and a public meeting will be held at the county agricultural office at Brighton Friday evening. Preliminary discussion of the winter program took place this week at a meeting of the executive at the home of James Bird, Codrington, where a Farm Forum committee outlined its plans to enlarge the scope of interest in the broadcast.

Says Destroyer Shells Chinese Ship

LONDON, Sept. 28. — (AP). — Communist China has charged that a U.S. destroyer shelled one of her ships in Chinese waters and demanded a hearing before the United Nations General Assembly.

Foreign Minister Chou En-lai, in a message broadcast over radio Peiping, said the merchant vessel was "shelled Sept. 21 off the Shantung Peninsula." He claimed that the destroyer, identified as the D-29, lobbed four shells across the stern of the Chinese vessel, the "Anhai 21," then a loading party questioned the captain while her 14 passengers and 11 crew members were lined up on deck. An hour later the destroyer sailed away.

Jane's Fighting Ships for 1949-50—authoritative index of naval craft—lists no U.S. destroyer with a number designation as low as D-29.

So Russia Pledges Itself To Peace

The devil can be sweetly reasonable; that is what makes him so devilish. He can appeal to the good in people, to their highest ideals; he can be soft, logical and alluring. It is only when the tempted person wakes up from the lullaby with a jolt and realizes that it is the devil talking, that he is saved from damnation. When Russia's deputy foreign minister Malik made on Monday his four-point statement on Russia's peaceful intentions he sounded convincing. People so much want what Malik pretends to promise that they are easily lead to belief. That is the satanic subtlety of the Russian approach. It has happened time and again. When the going becomes rough for Russia or western society is outraged, Russia spreads unction and puts on wings of a dove.

* * *

Russia, through Malik, has pledged that it will not be the first to drop an atomic bomb. How wonderful. All the U.S.A. and Britain have to do is likewise to say that they will not be the first to use the bomb, and we shall never have any atomic war. It is as simple, and deceptive, as that. Russia favours outlawing atomic weapons "under a strict system of control and inspection administered through the United Nations". Hm. Very good. But when a workable scheme for such a strict system was devised, Russia turned it down. Has she had a change of heart? Rather a silly question: Communist Russia has no heart; it is a core of lead, the kind of metal in which atomic weapons are stored. Russia agrees to a meeting of the chief executives of the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R., to negotiate differences. Will Stalin come bag in hand to Washington, Ottawa, or even neutral Delhi? Russia favours the free interchange of ideas and information between peoples. How monstrously that inclination is shown now by Russia.

* * *

Mr. Malik's Washington statement gives all people of good will a new hope. Unfortunately, all people of good sense cannot help but think it a false hope. The kind the devil raises. Let Russia act on its peaceful intentions, rather than merely favour them. Then we shall believe.

Food Prices Higher Than They Need Be?

The Ontario Minister of Agriculture, the Honourable T. L. Kennedy, says that the costs of food in Toronto are higher than they are in Washington or New York. That may shock loyalists who take pride in claiming that, even if pay is better in the States than in Canada, the costs of living are so high as to suck up the extra American pay. Mr. Kennedy blames poor distribution for the higher Toronto prices. He says that the distributors are going along in the same old ways of fifty years ago, and not trying sufficiently to find short-cuts to lower distribution costs.

Does the trouble lie with price-fixing? Whenever the primary costs rise (for instance, of raw milk, eggs and the like), the rise is passed on directly in the retail price. Whenever labour costs go up the retail price is automatically advanced—to new and uniform high levels. Is there enough competition? Is it too easy merely to put up the price instead of finding ways to reduce overhead? Is there enough incentive to distributors to find new distributing means which are more efficient and less costly?

The Smoke-Breezy West

Last week-end dark clouds intercepted the sun—clouds darker than usual. Toronto and Hamilton forthwith said: It is smoke from Albertan forest fires. Probably it was. We had dark clouds here in Peterborough, too, though we smelt no smoke. But Albertan smoke over southern Ontario was something to talk about. The Alberta wind has travelled pretty far and fast since the week-end. By midweek England and Scotland had picked up the Alberta advertisement, and blamed their dark clouds, blue sun and blue moon on the forest fires 5,000 or more miles away. We have always had a respect for the wind's velocity, but we never really expected it to travel across the Atlantic in one day. At that rate its speed was well over a hundred miles an hour. That is not impossible. Next thing we know another dark cloud over southern Ontario may be blamed on a strong east wind bringing the smoke of London's million firepots to this fair land.

The Montreal Gazette has dug into its files and come up with an 1819 parallel to the weird atmospheres appalling Toronto, New York, Edinburgh and London this week. In 1819 Montreal and New York were covered by an 'extraordinary darkness'. Montrealers did not then fear an atomic explosion; some thought that a volcano had burst somewhere in the interior of the province; others feared that the city was about to share the fate of Pompeii, that Mount Royal was about to erupt over it. It was so dark even in the morning that candles were lit in the court-house, other public offices and in business offices.

Some Montrealers made preparations to abandon their homes, believing literally an Indian prophecy dusted off for the occasion, that the whole island of Montreal would someday be destroyed by an earthquake. The climax was reached about 2:30 in the afternoon when a terrified crowd of citizens gathered in the Place d'Armes. The weird coloured darkness of the sky was made more frightening by a bolt of lightning which set fire to the spire of the old Notre Dame church. Then rain fell and the sky cleared and the people went home, pacified. In 1823 a scholarly gentleman addressed an Edinburgh society on the great darkness. He thought that it had probably been due to forest fires. So that explanation of a darkness which covers the Canadian earth is not new.

Peace At The Lake

Between Labour Day and Thanksgiving the Kawartha Lakes have a rare short season of beautiful peace. Most of the American fishermen have gone, the hunting season has not started, children and their cottage-keeping mothers are back in town, and the Lakes are quiet, though without the deserted air they get when all the cottages are boarded up for the winter, and the shores are leafless. On Thanksgiving Monday they will be closed, but not yet. This period of three or four weeks can be among the loveliest. On such days as these the sun is gracious, the air kindly, the cool waters blue and placid, and the lakes are not angry with outboard motors. There is the touch of colour on the far shore, and, nearby, sumac and Virginia creepers splash their reds. The dawn is crimson, morning mists hang over the water, pellucid, All day the quiet is disturbed only by burrowings and scamperings in the woods. At night the stars look down, serene and clear, and few cottage lights break into their ordered path across the heavens. Lucky the person who can have the untenanted quiet of the Kawarthas in these first autumn weeks.

Should Canada Censor Its Movie News Reels?

At a local movie house this week we saw an indecent news reel. That it was blatant propaganda is beside our present point. The reel showed, or pretended to show, actual camera shots of the war in Korea, with American soldiers on the hillsides. One was supposed to have been killed and perhaps he was; perhaps the name and his family were real. The camera concentrated on the wife and two litle children at home. A last letter from the soldier to his children is read aloud by the narrator, as the mother, unheard, reads it to her children. The movie short could be pathetic; it succeeds in being maudlin. It unfairly attempts to jerk the heart-strings of the audience. There is the sticky sentiment of the letter, the noble fighting motives of the dead soldier (sounding shockingly insincere or juvenile). There is the stagey cuddling of the two children. The camera tracks one of the little girls to church where she is shown fingering her rosary.

The audience took this drivel, this slush, this public exposure of private pathos, without a snicker, without hoots of rage, without a stampede to the door. Have Canadians lost their sense of decency and good taste that they will endure such stuff without a whisper? We dislike imposed censorship for any purpose, especially to protect public morality. But such an American news reel as this sinks too low. It should have been barred at the border.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Moss Collectors of America are in convention at Columbus, Ohio. We understand that this is the first long journey most of them have undertaken because, of course, a rolling stone . . . . .

A man was arrested in Toronto for sleeping on a park bench with three bottles of booze as his pillow. The Brantford Expositor suggests that he could have found something softer, such as three bottles of pop.

A scientist in Virginia says that if apes could be persuaded to stand erect more often they would begin to behave like humans. And if they could be persuaded to sit down for most of the day, they would begin to behave like highly-paid humans.

Hop - Picking Time

By LORD DUNSANY

A PRINCIPAL trouble of our time, and I suppose of all times, is that races are not static, but move every now and then like the tides, and this movement may mean war. Probably it is a regular movement, though we have not been able to calculate it as we have calculated the tides. But there is at least one human flow that is entirely peaceful, and this is the one that with the first hint of autumn, which even cities must feel, sets eastward and southward out of London to pour into the hopfields of Kent.

◇ ◇ ◇

IT is a tide that carries whole families, men and women, and children of whatever sizes there happen to be in their family, and as it goes it picks up and carries along with it a few of the people of the country. To go from a hotel in London to a hotel a thousand miles away is travel of a sort, but it is nothing to the journey of the hop-pickers who exchange the noise and the lights of London for the horizons of the country and its serene skies at evening, and the sound of a dog barking a long way off and then silence, and an owl hooting and then silence again and, wandering through those silences, the sounds of birds and of winds that had been going up and down that countryside for so long before Caesar began to build London.

◇ ◇ ◇

THEY arrive the day before picking begins, spending the night in huts that a good farmer will have for them, and otherwise how they can; but, however they spend it, it is a new life for them, new almost, after London, as a fortnight in a far continent. Next morning they go to the green mass of the hops, standing like a tropical forest dropped in Kent, far easier to walk through, when you get into it, than tropical forests are, but having the impenetrable appearance of one from the outside.

◇ ◇ ◇

ON the floor of this alien forest is a very neat regularity, a hop-plant, always with four stems, every two and a half yards, and hop-poles about every ten yards, supporting the twine to which all the hops climb up, with twine to support their tendrils. For the first three or four feet they climb to a circle of twine which holds them in like the neck of a vase; but from there all four slant outwards and upwards to the green mass at the top, whence tendrils and festoons descend in the sunlight that glimmers through all the dark-green vine-like leaves, and shines on the scented bunches of hops that are almost golden green.

◇ ◇ ◇

UNDERNEATH them, the tidily harrowed mud might seem to be almost without interest if we are able to observe it and to appreciate it, two difficult things to do, for we do not observe very much, and we cannot appreciate until we have observed. And before hops were cultivated or boots invented, there were plenty of people here for many thousands of years; and, as most of them had no other implements for work or defence than those they could chip from flint, it is not surprising that a great many such old implements are to be found; and there they lie for anyone who can recognize them to pick up, and to keep if he is interested.

◇ ◇ ◇

THERE also lie rusted bits of the derelict things of our time, the remains, about equally, of peace and war, bits of old ploughs and old bombs. And there these migrants from London work in more sunlight than they have seen for some while, pulling down the long tendrils and shredding the bunches of hops into baskets which are emptied whenever full into larger ones, great panniers of woven hazel that are nearly three feet high, whence the scent of the hops goes up, a scent unlike anything else and wilder than beer, wild as some fairy brew called up by a green enchantment at night when the moon was golden.

◇ ◇ ◇

THERE work people of both sexes and all ages, except the children too young to walk, who are left in prams in the shade of a hedge, and those that can walk but are too young to work, who stroll in and out of the hops and round the great baskets and play with whatever dogs have also come out to enjoy themselves in the country. And all the dogs that I saw had their tails on, because these roving people were too simple to understand the necessity for mutilating them, a simplicity that harmonizes, to my way of thinking, with the great folds of the downs, and the hops and men that they shelter in valleys of Kentish streams.

Too Far With This Nonsense

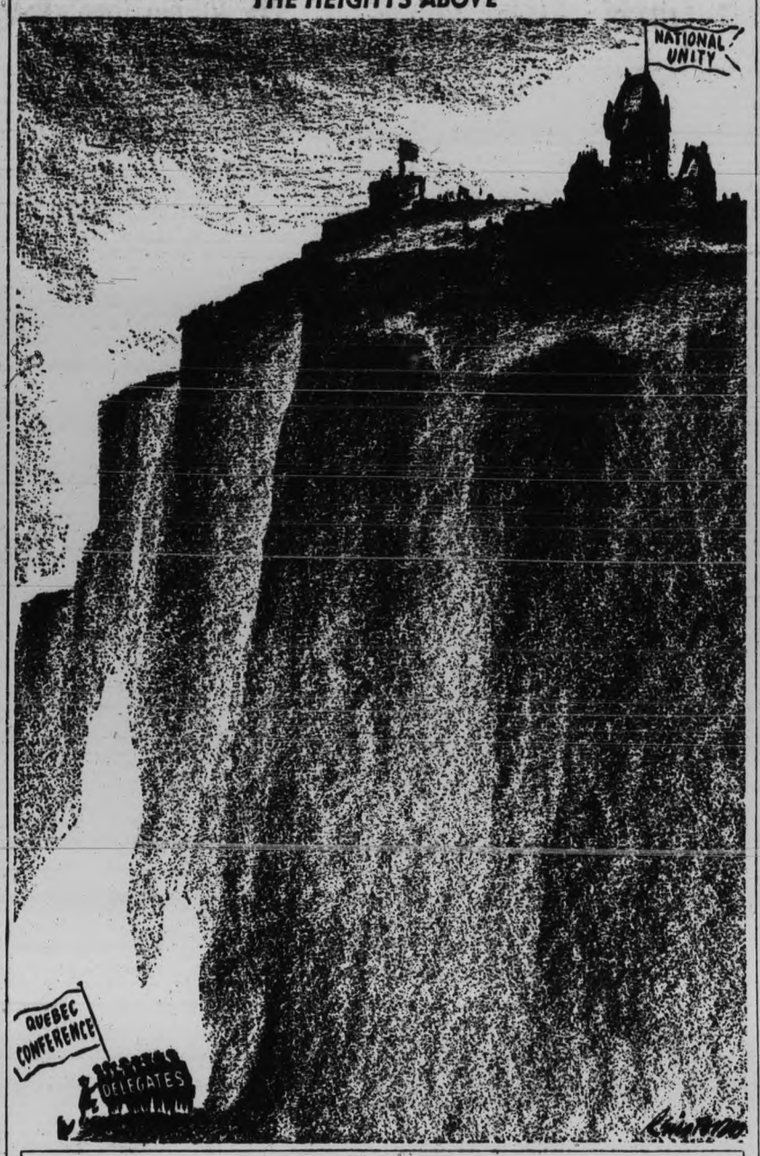
(Financial Post)

An Ontario court has termed discriminatory a municipal bylaw limiting the hours of sale for gasoline. It ordered the return of a fine and costs levied on a service station operator who defied the ban. It is to be hoped that there are more of such decisions.



This nonsense of civic officials interfering with sales of essential goods and services has gone much too far.

Under normal conditions it should not be necessary to man gas pumps at all hours of the day or night. But service operators, like other competitive business people, can surely look after this matter voluntarily themselves. By running to their city fathers for help they only get arbitrary regulations that stifle both trade and competition.

Already we have far too much of this. All sorts of places are shut down for long hours, with the result that many customers who can't always shop before five, are unable to get goods or services when they need them. It is bad enough with groceries, hair cuts or ice cream but when early closing prevents us from getting gasoline, it just doesn't make sense. We antagonize the tourist trade we are trying to build up and we make things difficult for our own motorists and truckers.

But worst of all we put a penalty on the enterprising individual who is trying to build up his own business. In effect these regulations tell him that he must reduce his pace to the level of his most inefficient competitors within the municipality, and let those outside it get all the extra sales.

THE HEIGHTS ABOVE

We Must Advertise

A LETTER BY BERNARD SHAW IN THE LONDON TIMES

NOW that our leading municipal statesman and one of our greatest churchmen have declared their abhorrence of communism, and thereby virtually declared implacable war on the USSR, may I be allowed to make a sane suggestion?

The Soviet State beats us all to nothing in the matter of advertisement, which is a more effective method of propaganda than war, however victorious, can ever be. For over 40 years the Kremlin has been flooding Europe with splendid illustrated magazines in all languages, boosting its extraordinary achievements in changing Asian deserts and Arctic icefields into flourishing cities and fertile pastures.

The pictures are in colour, in folio size, on sumptuous paper: veritable editions de luxe, produced regardless of expense and dirt cheap. The latest portrait of Stalin is so fine that I have torn it out and had it framed. Nobody who sees these publications will ever believe our tales of a half-starved population dwelling in Belsen camps under the lash of a ruthless tyranny.

Meanwhile, what have we to show for our own communism? Plenty. But we never show it. We are ashamed and apologetic, as we always are when circumstances force us to take a step forward and broaden the basis of communism, on which all civilization, all catholicism, and all enterprise, public or private, stand.

Sixty years ago the wage of an English agricultural labourer was 13s a week, or 18s if he lived within reach of a big town. In Oxfordshire labourers with wives and children earned 8s a week as "boys". I was thought mad because I said that what British agriculture needed was a "moral minimum" wage of two guineas a week, then the wage of a skilled engineer. Labourers now demand £6 a week; and engineers are dissatisfied with double as much.

What are our young men told of these advances in the national welfare, all the work of British communism? Nothing, except that communism is a damnable hersey. What was it that saved Russia from the ruin after 1917? —her adoption of British communism, made constitutional and practicable by myself, Sidney Webb, and our fellow Fabians.

LENIN, recognized as a great statesman by me and Mr. Churchill when every one else was denouncing him as a bloodthirsty bandit, began by kindly excusing me as "a good man fallen among Fabians". When he had to govern and administer instead of theorizing, experience soon brought him to his senses; and he proclaimed his New Economic Policy, the first instalment of Russian Fabianism.

Marxism, a British Museum export, was set on its feet by Fabianism, another British export. We are the spiritual fathers of modern successful communism, protesting all the time in our ridiculous British way, that we hold it in abhorrence, yet setting up despotic Soviets all over the land disguised as committees and commissions and boards. Our propaganda of plutocracy is incessant. We call it freedom and private enterprise.

The future is to the countries that carry communism farthest and advertise it most effectually. The Labour slogan used to be Educate, Agitate, Organize. As nobody disputes this nowadays, I propose the addition of Advertise, Advertise, Advertise.

Dread Of Holidays

(Montreal Star)

Unfortunately—but with reason—we have come to dread public holidays, mainly for one reason. Scarcely one of them passes without its shocking casualty lists of dead and injured in highway accidents. The tragedy of these mishaps is all the greater because 99 out of every 100 of them need not have happened. "Somebody blundered" explains them nearly all.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him, And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?..How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days.

Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other. Then the Pharisees went out, and held a council against him, how they might destroy him.

But when Jesus knew it, he withdrew himself from thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all; and charged them that they should not make him known: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, Behold my servant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my spirit upon him, and he shall shew judgement to the Gentiles. (Matt. 12: 10-18.)

Progress

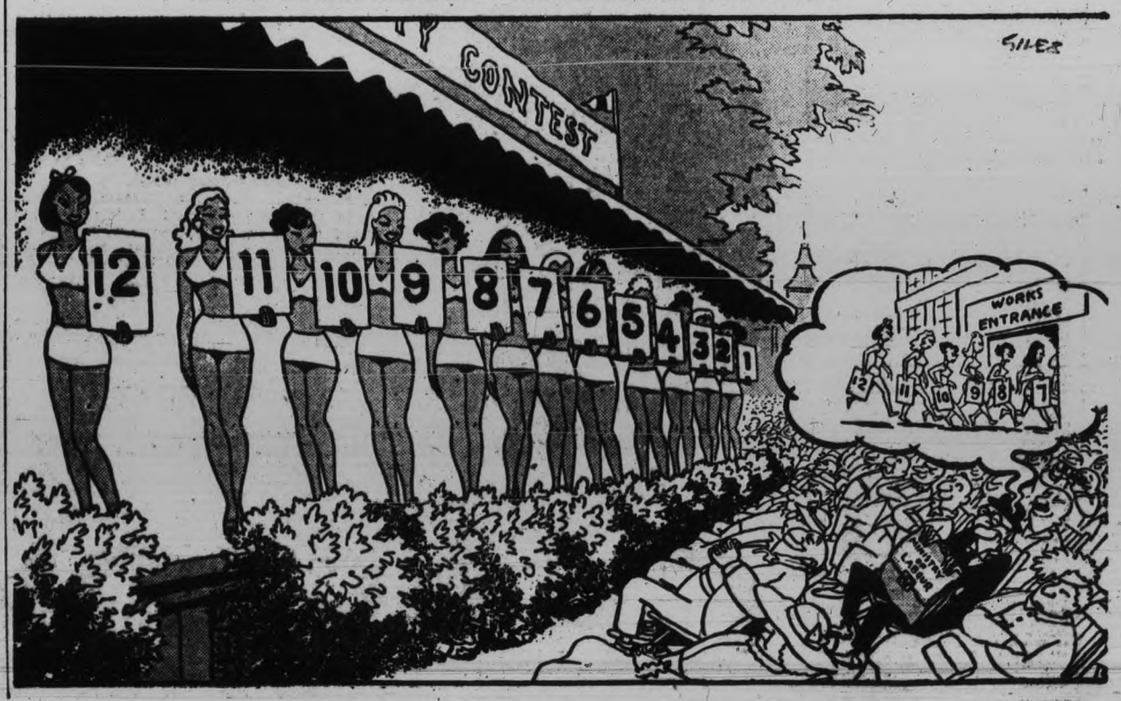
(The Victoria Colonist)



Extremists in the union movement seem bent on taking away the last vestige of freedom the people of this continent once enjoyed in deciding how and by whom they would have services performed. There is a union now in existence with the avowed purpose of turning every funeral into a fully unionized ceremony. This might appear as a farce in the worst taste if it were not for the fact that it is set out in a sober report by the National Industrial Conference Board of the United States:

"Object of the Professional Pallbearers' Association will be to make all funerals union funerals, with relatives and friends permitted to act only as honorary pallbearers. Members must be six feet tall, weigh 180 pounds and fit into a size 40 suit. Union pallbearers' rates vary with the dress. For sugar-scooped coat and diplomat-striped trousers it is $4; for grey flannel it is $3.50, and in ordinary blues, $3."

There it is: the sad intimacy of the last procession to be turned into a parade of tailor's dummies, at so much a suit. Nor should it be long before these professional pallbearers realize their chance to add an additional fee for appropriate sham facial expressions; for example, grief at $1; deep grief, $1.50; utter dejection, $2. A kindred union might also be formed from which to hire professional mourners to shed tears at a high price measured by quantity.

Why stop at fully unionized funerals? There is a wonderful chance for an enterprising union man to organize wedings as well, with the bridesmaids enlisted at a hiring hall from a pool of blondes, brunettes and redheads priced according to the lavishness of their attire; and the best man and ushers permitted to take part only if they sport union buttons. Union rice throwers also might be added, and a junior union could be organized to furnish flower girls and pages for the smart affair. A really alert organizer might be able to figure out an angle for christenings.

Charles Beats Joe Louis In Bloody 15 Rounds, Harries Ex-Champ All Way

By NORMAN MICHIE

NEW YORK, Sept. 28—(CP)—Ezzard Charles proved it again Wednesday night. Heavyweight champions don't come back—not even Joe Louis. Charles, world's heavyweight champion, gave away 33½ pounds. He slashed and harried the once-retired champion through most of the gory, 15-round bout to take a unanimous decision. Referee Mark Conn called it 10 rounds to five, Judge Frank Forbes 13 to two, and Judge Joe Agnello 12 to three.

Some 22,000 fans at Yankee Stadium saw Louis put up the fight of his life, turning dangerous time after time even when he was obviously badly hurt and when his left eye was closed.

Charles now becomes recognized as world champion in the entire 48 states. In all but New York state he was supreme when he beat Jersey Joe Walcott by decision in 1949. But Britain and some European countries recognize Lee Savold as the titlist.

It was a stand-up fight all the way. The 29-year-old Charles, a mere slip of a lad beside his huge opponent, took the offensive from the start and seldom dropped it.

Wasted No Time

He was intent on hitting Louis with all he had as early as possible to slow up the 36-year-old challenger. He drew blood from Louis' nose in the first round.

And Louis, who in training absorbed considerable knocking about, was out for a knockout from the start. He held his own pretty well for the first three rounds, and in the fourth came close to finishing Charles.

In the fifth Charles' left eye was almost closed and he was badly shaken — almost on his knees at one time—from the Brown Bomber's blows.

From then on, except for a brief recovery late in the 10th, Charles carried the fight to his 218-pound opponent. His body blows sometimes left Louis grimacing — something ringsiders could not remember having seen before.

In Better Shape

Louis, who retired undefeated in March, 1949, after almost 12 years as champion, was in much better shape than most expected. His left still worked with piston force and his timing in the early rounds was good. But he missed his famous follow-through rights.

In the 10th he staggered the champion with a right to the face early in the round, then stalked and smashed him in a style reminiscent of his youth. The crowd screamed for a kayo but Joe hesitated twice on what appeared to be chances for the lethal big one.

After that he appeared to be in pain and falling from the vicious body beating his opponent was dishing out. In the 14th at one stage he stumbled against the ropes and clutched them with one hand. He was finished then.

The crowd paid a total gross gate of $205,370. Louis got 35 per cent of the gate of $154,028, and Charles 20 per cent. Louis also got $40,550 of the radio-TV rights, giving him a total take of $100,458.

Charles' share of radio-TV and the gate brought his total purse to $57,405—more than he ever got before from a single fight.

In addition, both get the same percentage of money earned by motion pictures.

Better Than Expected

Charles proved a better fighter than most suspected. His two-fisted attack was in sharp contrast to Joe's technique of jabbing fiercely with the left, stalking and cocking the right only when he scented a kill.

Always boring in, Charles at the end was looking for a knockout and had the bomber stumbling across the ring.

Both fought cleanly and fiercely. Both were blood-covered and bruised when they embraced after the decision was announced.

Louis, who had never fought Charles before, re-entered the ring to pay off income-tax claims estimated at $150,000.

The fight proved once more that they never come back. Louis now joins the company of Bob Fitzsimmons, Jim Corbett, Jim Jeffries, Jack Dempsey and Max Schmeling, all of whom failed on the comeback trail.

Wade's Show Way In Major Bowling

Wade's led the Major Bowling League at Playfair this week with a hefty 3,346 including high single game of 1,310. B. McCarrell led bowlers with an 883 three-some as W. Boon took top single of 356 in his 863 triple. Other good singles were: Boon 312, B. McCarrell 330, J. Murduff 325 and H. Mowry 314.

Post Office blanked Hunt's, Modern Tailors whitewashed McLeod's, and Bickell's won 6-0 over King's Men. Other wins were 4-2 affairs, for Campbell's over Selkirk's, Foster's against Crowley's, Wonder Bread over Kawartha Deaf Club, Parkway from Mongraw's, Cherney's over Caccavella's, Elliott and Browne against McWilliams, Wood's from Calvert's, Plaza's over Bassell's, and Wade's over Odeon.

Mutuals Lose In 11th Of OASA Fray

Toronto Motors defeated Mutuals last night 5-4 in 11 innings to eliminate the Russelle squad in the quarter-final of the OASA intermediate "A" playoffs. The Toronto boys won the opener of a best of three series in Toronto. It was a thrilling game from start to finish, with excellent pitching and fielding by both squads and some hefty stickwork as well.

George Hunter opposed Doug Andrews over the route, with little to choose as the teams were tied at the end of regulation play 4-4, after a see-saw battle that found each team taking the lead only to lose it. Georgs Mills emerged the individual hero for Toronto as his triple in the ninth scored Armstrong with the tying run, while his 11th inning clout scored Whitworth with the winner Al Menzies had four solid hits, including a double and a triple and drove in two runs to lead his mates at bat, while Foster, Hawkes and Dalton had two safeties and all starred afield as the team played errorless ball.

For Toronto, Whitworth with four hits, and Armstrong, Mills, Tilley and Andrews with two, were best. Successive hits by the first three scored the winner as Mutuals were unable to equalize in their half of the 11th.

Separate Schools Get Athletic Association

At a meeting of men teachers of the separate schools, held in St. Anne's School, the Separate School Athletic Association was formed. The purpose is to administer sports in an organized way throughout the schools concerned. Officers are: President, Jim Maloney of St. Peter's; vice-president, David Hayes of St. John's; secretary-treasurer, P. Doherty of Sacred Heart; directors, the Rev. Jos. O'Sullivan (Immaculate Conception), P. Gravelle (St. Anne's), and F. McTeague (St. Alphonsus).

Each school will enter a senior football team, playing six-man rugby, due to the decrease of big boys in the schools. The double hand touch will be used instead of tackling. All games are at Morrow Park, commencing at 4.15 sharp. The schedule:

Oct. 2—Sacred Heart vs. St. Anne's.
Oct. 3—St. John's vs. Im. Conception.
Oct. 4—St. Peter's vs. St. Alphonsus.
Oct. 5—St. John's vs. Sacred Heart.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Gordon Bryson of Toronto won the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship at Vancouver with a birdie on the final hole two years ago today. Brydson tossed away his 16th cigar of the course before sinking a three-foot putt. Runner-up was Stan Leonard of Vancouver, who missed an eagle and a tie on his last putt by an inch.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

A fellow named Eddie O'Meara is in town tonight with the three-day ice revue running at Civic Arena. While he wasn't born here, some of his brothers were, including sports editor Baz O'Meara of the Montreal Star. Their dad practiced law at one time in Peterborough many years ago. We worked with Eddie one winter on the Ottawa Journal, but he drifted away to become a press agent with the Barbara Ann skating shows. Eddie claims that, with Barbara Ann wowing 'em in England, this show here is tops on the continent now and in big demand. We'll have to see it.

Peterborough Hockey Club, the OHA senior "B" entry, holds an executive meeting at seven tonight in the "Y". An hour later there, an open meeting will be held of officers, players, prospective ones and those interested. They'll elect the 1950-51 slate of officers and discuss plans for the coming season. It shouldn't be long this fall ere groupings will be arranged among towns with artificial ice, so that an earlier start can be made in league play. The OHA held the first annual spring meeting in its history in 1950, so that the decks could be cleared for earlier action this autumn where there's artificial ice. Fortunately, we have that.

Maple Leafs A-Comin'

First hockey game to be seen here this season will be one week from tomorrow, an 8.30 touch at Civic Arena. Two teams made up of all Toronto Maple Leafs will strut their stuff. It's under auspices of the local Rotary Club with proceeds going to the aid of crippled children of the city and district. Connie Smythe agreed to bring the club here only on condition that $3,000 be raised for the crippled children and, if the gate doesn't make it, Rotary Club will make up the difference. A worthy cause and it's certainly a grand opening for hockey this semester. Maple Leafs have a whale of an NHL following in these parts. Yeah, it's one week from tomorrow (Friday) night.

The Orfuns really rolled last eve here to earn that 11-1 ORFU win o'er Orillia. Scriver's try in the second and a converted touchdown in the fourth by Huntley did it, and how that guy Huntley can plunge! Spike Matthews did some swell hoofing, the line was a stone wall, and the whole team clicked up to its true form for Coach H. L. Bamforth. No weak sisters last night at all and only a few minor fumbles this game. Orillia looked okay, too, and did more passing but they were outplayed pretty well throughout. Orfuns were barely a yard away from another try at the half, so it might well have been about 17-1. They're off to Orillia this week-end, and have the Cobourg Ghosts here next Wednesday night.

Bruins To Aid IOOF-ers

Mighty glad to hear of the hookup arranged by the local junior "B" Oddfellows and Boston Bruins. It'll mean three or four real good junior imports from the Bruins' Barrie camp, and it'll also mean some financial assistance. It should also mean much better crowd for junior OHA frays here this winter and it might mean that Lindsay—with a connection now with Eddie Shore's AHL squad—back in a "B" grouping with Peterborough, Belleville and Oshawa. Who knows yet? Elmer Pearse is president of the IOOF-ers this season, Vic Brown the vice-prexy, Glen Edwards secretary, Bob McCuaig treasurer, and Len Symonds manager. More on the junior puckists again ere long.

Mutuals lost a tough one to Toronto Motors at the Bowl last night. Took the littler side of a 5-4 count in 11 frames, and that eliminates 'em in quarter-finals, two straight, of OASA intermediate "A" playdowns. Some talk of a protest on the grounds that the visiting umpire, at the plate, failed to penalize Toronto batters for stepping out of the box to hit. They also figured a guy battered out of order. Not being there, we don't know about that. Hunter of Mutuals and Andrews of Toronto both pitched fine ball. Al Menzies led the Russelle squad at bat with four smashes, including a triple and double. A good game but a tough one to drop.

Canadian Football

By DON GRANT

Just as a football team demands tacklers, it demands players who know how to block, that is to remove the opponent from the carrier's way by dumping, pushing and checking him without the use of the hands or outstretched arms. If the hands or outstretched arms are employed in the block, a penalty will result.

Until four years ago Canadian linemen were allowed only to block five yards past the line of scrimmage. The teams demanded that something be done to try to break the defensive systems which were beginning to dominate the play, removing the color from the Canadian game.

The result of this discontent was that the linemen were then allowed to block 10 yards ahead of the line of scrimmage. The backfield rule which allowed blocking one yard ahead of the line of scrimmage remained.

If players block beyond the limit an illegal interference penalty is handed out. Several times during the Runnymede-PCVS senior game last week this penalty was called against the PCI'ers. The Runnymede outside was not charging in after the carrier with the result that the PCVS backfield not noticing kept taking his man out well past his yard limit.

Of the blocks taught by Canadian football coaches six stand out, the single shoulder block, the double shoulder block, the cross body block, the plain cross block, the roll block and the pivot.

In blocking teamwork is just as important as a good passer having a receiver who can catch the ball. Much of the blocking by linemen is done in pairs. One lineman acts as a pivot post by contacting the opponent and holding him, the other lineman charging the opponent around the pivot and away from the play.

Well-drilled linemen have one rule, "to beat the opponent to the charge." They should be keen to observe any breaks such as a slight change of expression or shifting of weight by the opponent which gives his plans away.

Success of any football team depends on its tackling and its blocking. If the footballers can't block, the whole offensive play of the team is lost.

Boston Bruins In Hookup With Juniors

The Peterborough Oddfellows, the OHA junior "B" entry, nas arranged a hookup with Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League. This was agreed upon last night at a club meeting, following a talk a week ago with Harold Cotton, chief scout of the Bruins. Dit Clapper of this city is on the Bruins' list of directors.

Officers of the IOOF squad this season are: president, Elmer Pearse; vice-president, Vic Brown; secretary, Glen Edwards; treasurer, Bob McCuaig; manager, Len Symonds. No coach has been named yet. Secretary Glen Edwards announced the agreement last night between the Bruins and the Triple Links. This team lost out in group finals last season to Oshawa.

It is expected that four players on the Bruins' list will come here from the tryout camp at Barrie to play for Oddfellows. Financial aid will be forthcoming, too, from the NHL club which, in a sense, will be sponsoring the local team, though it has been run for several years by the Oddfellows and will continue to operate under that banner. Nine of last year's team will be lost to the 1950-51 squad due to graduating from the age-limit class or transfers. The present team, with imports and local additions, will take to the ice for drills within a few weeks.

Orfuns Ground the Bombers For An 11-1 ORFU Decision

Flashing their true gridiron form at Morrow Park last night, the Peterborough Orfuns trimmed Orillia Bombers 11-1 before a good-sized crowd to tie with Orillia in their ORFU senior "B" group race. It was the first win in three starts for Coach Bamforth's bunch and the second reverse in three tries for the visitors, both teams still being much in the hunt.

Following a scoreless first quarter, Russ Scriver went over for an unconverted try for Orfuns. There was no count in the third, but after Orillia got a single in the fourth Bill Huntley ripped through for another major, which he converted. Orfuns had 12 first downs to eight for the Bombers, the latter completing five passes to two for the homesters, and few fumbles marring play.

Played Hard

It was a hard-fought game with the rival lines tearing into each other all the way and some stiff tackling seen. Orillia took to the air more, but the ground attack of Orfuns proved ample for the verdict. The local line looked real good in every quarter and opened up timely holes for fast-stepping backfielders. Orillia drew more yardage penalties, though the winners lost a lot of ground, too, in this way. The game was pretty open and Orfuns came within a yard of another try, losing out at the half.

Huntley was the big ground-gainer with his terrific plunging for Peterborough. Bill Thompson and Jim Conlin were quite effective, also and Spike Matthews outkicked Milligan regularly with some hefty hoofing. Scriver played his usual steady game. Consistently good line play was shown by Beatty, Frank Fitzgerald, Don McGillis and Bonney, with the whole team playing up to true form. Milligan stood out for the losers, with Greenwood a tough one to pull down when he got rolling. White, Wilde, Smith and Street were other aces.

Penalties Hurt

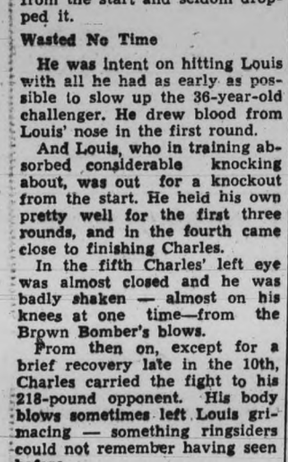
Orillia drove early but were stopped on downs in close with penalties also hurting later after a 20-yard drive by Greenwood. Thompson and Huntley carried the Orfuns' mail and Huntley flipped a short forward to Beatty at the quarter. Several Bombers went off hurt in the hard second stanza. Huntley, Conlin and Scriver tore up on the march with Thompson also in there, and Scriver cut through for 20 yards for a major, not converted. Huntley later threw a pass to Frank Fitzgerald and Huntley then knifed the line for 15 to the Bombers' five. Scriver got four but they lost possesion a yard out.

Greenwood got 14 in the third but they had to kick then. Conlin cut through for 15, Thompson bucked eight and Huntley moved the sticks. The latter tried a placement but it was blocked. After an Orillia pass, they kicked. Matthews bucked eight later and Greenwood near the close picked up 20 around the end. Some good Orfuns' runs were called back in the third and fourth for penalties. Orillia, on runs by Greenwood, got within shooting distance and on Milligan's kick, Scriver was rouged by Clarke. Huntley, Thompson and Matthews drove up a space but later Spike kicked. Orillia were stopped cold and lost possession on futile "statue of liberty" play. Huntley took over then with some wicked bucking to march up the field and finally go over, then kicking for the extra point at the finish.

SCORES TRY—Russ Scriver got the first touchdown of the season for Orfuns last night as they beat Orillia 11-1 here in a fine ORFU senior "B" scrap. Bill Huntley later counting another major.



Orillia: Flying wing, J. Cooke; halves, Bredin, Wilde, White; quarter, Milligan; snap, Newark; insides, McIntyre and Middleton; middles, Boorer and Brown; outsides, Smith and Street; alternates, Rolland, Firth, Ouelette, Johnston, Clarke, Garry, Johns, Groves, Ward, D. Cooke, Gray, Thomas, Caldwell, Russell, Greenwood, Burns.

Orfuns: Flying wing, Conlin; halves, Huntley, Matthews, Thompson; quarter, Scriver; snap, Beatty; insides, Masters and F. Fitzgerald, middles, Lynch and Sullivan; outsides, D. McGillis and Davidson; alternates, De Carlo, Levantis, Hodson, Hill, Trimm, Bonney, Farr, Fraser, Marshall, Archibald, J. McGillis, R. Fitzgerald, McKim and Dalton.

Officials: C. Hiltz, E. Quigg, J. Ferrier.

Summary:

First Quarter
No score.
Second Quarter
Orfuns 5—Scriver's try.
Third Quarter
No score.
Fourth Quarter
Orillia 1—Clarke's rouge
Orfuns 3—Huntley's try.
Orfuns 1—Huntley's convert.

Yankees Fumble Chance Bow To Athletics 8-7

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

So near and yet so far.

That's the situation in the major league baseball pennant races today.

Both Philadelphia Phillies in the National and New York Yankees in the American are within two victories of a World Series meeting but the road is strewn with glass.

The Yanks and the Phils have a chance to end it all today but the task is not as easy as it appears on paper.

New York can clinch with the help of St. Louis Browns. The Yanks must beat Philadelphia Athletics and the Browns must down Detroit Tigers in order to assure New York its 17th pennant.

The Phils can nail down their first flag since 1915 by taking a doubleheader from the tough New York Giants. The Phillies can also win if they split with the Giants while Brooklyn Dodgers divide with Boston or if the Dodgers lose a doubleheader to the Braves.

The picture in both leagues:

American:

| | W | L | Pct | GB | GL |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| New York | 96 | 55 | .636 | — | 3 |
| Detroit | 93 | 57 | .620 | 2½ | 4 |
| National: | | | | | |
| Philadelphia | 90 | 60 | .600 | — | 4 |
| Brooklyn | 85 | 63 | .574 | 4 | 6 |

The Yanks appear a good bet to assure themselves of no worse than a tie. The Bombers are sending Vic Raschi (21-8) against the tail-end Athletics. Raschi has been poison to the A's ever since he came into the league, owning a 16-2 lifetime record over the Mackmen. A victory by Raschi will make it impossible for Detroit to win the pennant in the regular season.

Philadelphia, on the other hand, should find the Giants no push-overs. Ken Johnson (4-1) and Russ Meyer (9-11) are scheduled to face the Giants' Larry Jansen (18-13) and Jack Kramer (3-6).

The Phils have an unwilling ally in the Braves who have given the Dodgers a hard time all season. The Braves are shooting veteran lefthanders Bob Chipman and Mickey Haefner at the embattled Brooks, who are countering with Preacher Roe and Joe Hatten.

The Yanks Wednesday fumbled a chance to assure themselves of no worse than a tie by dropping an 8-7 decision to the Athletics while the Tigers nosed out St. Louis, 5-4.

The Phils boshed an opportunity to clinch the pennant by dropping a double-header to the Giants, 8-7 in 10 innings and 5-0. The Dodgers divided with the Braves, winning the opener 9-8, but losng the nightcap 4-2.

Dooms Yanks

Sam Chapman doomed the Yanks by banging a two-run homer off Whitey Ford in the ninth to win the game. The loss was Ford's first compared to nine victories.

The A's rolled up a 5-1 lead during the first six innings for sore-armed Joe Coleman. The roof fell in on Coleman in the seventh when the Yanks scored six runs to take a 7-5 lead. Yogi Berra knocked in three runs with his 27th homer and second of the game. Johnny Mize completed the uprising with his 25th homer. The A's got one back in their half to set the stage for Chapman's game-winning clout.

The Tigers scored four runs in the sixth, three on a homer by Pat Mullin, to take a 4-1 lead against St. Louis but Art Houtteman, seeking his 20th victory, couldn't hold it. Houtteman was knocked out in the ninth when the Browns squared matters. The Tigers came back to win in the last half when Hoot Evers flied out with the bases loaded to score Johnny Groth.

Eliminate Sox

Washington eliminated the third-place Red Sox from contention by sweeping a doubleheader from the Sox in Boston, 2-0 and 6-3.

Bob Feller turned in his 16th victory for Cleveland as he pitched the Indians to a 7-0 five-nit victory over Chicago White Sox in a night game.

The Giants piled up a 7-2 lead over the Phils but the whiz kids tied it with five runs in the eighth only to lose in the 10th when Al Dark singled home Monte Irvin from second.

Jim Hearn shut out the Phils on seven hits in the finale to win his 11th game and ninth without a loss over Philadelphia in his career. The Giants sewed it up in the first inning when Bob Thomson homered with the bases loaded.

Pittsburgh Pirates trounced Chicago Cubs 7-4, with Ralph Kiner, Jack Phillips and Gus Bell leading the way with home runs. Kiner's belt was his 47th. Andy Pafko and Carl Sawatski homered for the Cubs.

Harry Brecheen pitched St. Louis Cardinals to a 1-0 three-hit victory over Cincinnati Reds in a night game at St. Louis in the remaining game.

Louis Loses Like Champion No Whimpering

By FRED HAYDEN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP). — After the long, hard road Joe Louis travelled to attempt a comeback, he lost like a champion.

As quiet and monosyllabic as ever, the big Brown Bomber, who never exploded in Yankee Stadium last night, took his decisive defeat by seven-years-younger Ezzard Charles without an alibi or a whimper. He reached the end of the road the way he had come up—with class. But now, Joe says, he's had enough.

Charles the conqueror was almost as quiet in his dressing room, although obviously enjoying his greatest moment in victory. He did not boast about winning a unanimous verdict over the man who used to be his idol, but had only praise for his victim.

Lots To Say

Not so dulcet was the comment from Jake Mintz, his Pittsburgh pilot who never was noted for reticence. Voluble Jake took full advantage of the happy occasion. Asked who Charles would fight now, he gushed:

"We'll fight anybody, but we'll have to have the champion's end. We came up the hard way, and always have taken the short end. Now we're champ, and anybody who fights us must take the challenger's end. That goes for Lee Savold, too. We don't recognize no European world champion."

"I planned the fight. Did you see me in Louis' corner giving signals across the ring between rounds? We had a code worked out. At the end of the 13th round when I saw we had the fight won, I went around to Ezzard's corner and told him to coast. . ."

A Sad Sight

To Louis' many admirers, the Brown Bomber presented a sad sight in his dressing room, a gallant old warrior sitting on a table with his left eye closed and his left hand in a bucket of ice.

"I'm through," said Joe. "I won't fight again. I done the best I can."

Louis said he knew from the seventh on that he "didn't have it." He even congratulated Charles before the verdict was announced, as they threw their arms around each other after the final bell.

Asked if Charles was the best man he ever fought, Louis just said "Naw." He had the same simple answer when asked if he felt bad. To the question "is Charles a great champion?" he merely said, "He's good in all departments."

Takes No Credit

Some of the boys thought the 36-year-old Louis had Charles in a bad way in the 10th, but Louis wouldn't even take credit for that.

Asked if this fight would take care of Joe's income tax troubles the beaten bomber just replied "Yeah."

Charles, too, had to peep through one eye in his dressing room. The left one was closed by Joe's jabs. Ezzard's remarks went like this:

"Sure I was in trouble—all the time—the 10th round was pretty tough. . . He hit me a good left hook and a hard right to the back . . . his left jab is his best punch, though . . . it's real stiff . . . I can see why he was champion so long."

Toronto Tramples Guelph Aggies 30-0

GUELPH, Sept. 28 (CP)—Speed and the ability to capitalize on the breaks enabled University of Toronto Blues to trample Ontario Agricultural College Aggies 30-0 Wednesday in an exhibition football game. The senior Blues didn't look that much better but they made the most of the intermediate Guelph team's mistakes.

Bib Bob Bazos and Bill Bewley each scored two touchdowns. Jack Gray counted the other on a brilliant 75-yard run. Al Stevenson converted all five.

Shortly after he converted the fifth Toronto major, Stevenson was injured in a pile-up after a Varsity fumble. He was carried unconscious off the field and taken to hospital here. He suffered a concussion and a possible fractured skull.

Bill Carse shuffled the salt and pepper shakers around on the table and drew diagrams furiously with a fork.

The Vancouver Canucks' coach was explaining how he hopes to benefit from the new no-icing rule of the Pacific Coast Hockey League. The league opens Oct. 6 and Canucks, as well as Victoria Cougars, are in training at Nanaimo, B. C.

"We'll gamble," said Carse, "and the way some of our forwards can skate, I'm not so sure it won't produce a few goals."

The new rule prohibits icing the puck at any time during a game, even by a team that's shorthanded.

"Okay, we're shorthanded. If we have the puck in our own end we'll try to toss it down the other end of the rink.

"But remember, when the puck crosses the red line at the other end, it isn't automatically iced. It doesn't become an iced puck until a member of the defending team touches it.

"We'll have one forward breaking every time we get the puck. If we can reach it before the opposing defence gets back to its own end, it works to our advantage.

"We'll be in possession of the puck, or, with a break or two, we might get a goal. In any case, it will help keep the opposition defencemen off balance and it'll give our forwards incentive to get up the ice and fight for the puck."

Tommy Farr, who at the age of 36 is attempting a comeback on the heavyweight boxing trail, scored a six-round knockout victory over Dutch champion Jan Klein at Pontypridd, Wales, Wednesday night.

Farr weighed 196, Klein 218½.

The elated Welshman who went 15 rounds with Joe Louis in 1937, cabled Louis:

"I have just won my comeback fight, I hope you win yours. Your old opponent Tommy Farr."

The former British heavyweight champion, made a brilliant return to the ring before 30,000 of his fellow Welshmen.

He knocked the Dutchman out in two minutes and five seconds of the sixth with a right hook to the jaw followed by a murderous short left. Klein landed flat on his back and was unconscious long after the full count.

---

Pancho Gonzales, former American champion, reached the finals of the world indoor tennis championships at Wembley Stadium Wednesday by beating Don Budge, 4-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2.

Gonzales will meet Welby Van Horn in the all American final. Van Horn upset Bobby Riggs, 6-4, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3, in the other semi-final.

---

Three goals by forward Roy Kelly led Cleveland Barons to a 7-4 victory over the Springfield Indians in an exhibition hockey game at Hamilton Wednesday night.

A small crowd of about 1,200 fans saw the two American League clubs play.

Five hockey leagues will definitely take part in a "major" series this season, Doug. Grimston, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said at New Westminster Wednesday.

The leagues are the Western Canada Senior, Ontario Senior, Quebec Senior, Maritime Senior and Cape Breton Senior.

The CAHA decided on the major series because the five leagues were considered too strong for other senior contenders. A new trophy—donator still to be named—will be put up for the major series while the rest will play for the Allan Cup.

10-Yard Blocking Rule In Catholic Conference

TORONTO, Sept. 28 — Friday night at Oakwood Stadium, in the opener of a double-header football contest, St. Michael's College will meet St. Peter's of Peterborough. This will be the first scheduled senior "B" game to be played in the new Ontario Catholic Athletic Conference. Both these teams meeting for the first time are anxious for a victory which would mean a one-game lead on the third team in the loop which is De la Salle Oaklands. Considerable interest in the Conference games has been aroused by the rule which permits 10-yard blocking by everyone on the team. This rule will allow a faster and more rugged type of play and the results will bear watching.

In the second game of the evening St. Michael's of Toronto will clash with the fast-moving St. Jerome's squad from Kitchener. This is the second senior "A" game of the Conference but the first to be played in Toronto. The supporters of the Irish expect great things from their team—based on their victory of 16-2 over Assumption College from Windsor last Sunday afternoon. However, the St. Michael's boys will have to be on their toes if they intend to stop star quarterback Mike Roga and shifty fast-moving half Bobby Kuntz. These players were the deciding factors in St. Jerome's victory over De la Salle (28 to 5) in Kitchener last Friday.

Orioles To Play In Finals, Nip Rochester

By The Associated Press

Baltimore Orioles, after a six-year absence, will represent the International League in the Little World Series.

Baltimore qualified for the series Wednesday night by defeating the pennant - winning Rochester Red Wings 10-2 in the sixth game of the league's final-round series. The stunning upset gave the Orioles the series four games to two.

The Orioles will meet either Columbus or Indianapolis of the American Association in the LWS. Columbus and Indianapolis are tied at three games apiece.

If Columbus wins, the series will open in Baltimore Friday night for three games. If Indianapolis wins the first three games will be played in Indianapolis.

Second Victory

Tommy Fine pitched the Orioles to their clinching triumph. It was the veteran righthander's second victory over Rochester in the series.

The game was a nip-and-tuck affair up to the fifth when the Orioles scored seven runs on as many hits to take a 9-1 lead. Eddie Yuhas and Johnny Wittig, a former Oriole, were the victims of the bombardment.

Austin Knickerbocker, who pounded out nine hits in 28 trips during the series, led the Oriole attack with three blows. Babe Barna started the Oriole scoring with a home run in the first inning.

Alouettes Win Game At Last

MONTREAL, Sept. 28 (CP). — Montreal's Dominion - champion Alouettes finally won a football game Wednesday night—but a college team carried them to the third quarter before bowing to the more-experienced Big Four squad.

The Als staged a powerful second-half drive which carried them to a 19-6 victory over the classy McGill University Redmen in the fourth annual Kiwanis exhibition match before 10,000 fans at Royals Stadium.

Alouettes showed they were finally getting into mid-season condition by rolling back the collegians with two converted touchdowns in the third quarter, another in the fourth and a kick to deadline.

Ralph Toohy, Virgil Wagner and Tommy Manastersky scored the touchdowns for the winners with Ches McCance converting the first two and Nick Scollard the other. Scollard kicked the single.

For McGill, it was George Valois with Frank Wilmot converting. The game proved costly to both teams. Valois was carried off the field with a separated shoulder that will keep him out of play for about three weeks. John Harper of Als is reported to have dislocated a shoulder, his second major injury of the season.

St. Catharines Athletic Trip Crescents 9-3

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 28 (CP)—St. Catharines Athletics defeated Owen Sound Crescents 9-3 before 1,500 fans Wednesday night to deadlock the Ontario Lacrosse Association finals at one game each. Crescents won the opener at home 9-7 Monday.

Third game in the best-of-seven series will be played Friday night in Owen Sound.

Big Bill Whitaker sparkled in the A's nets as the visitors fired 34 shots at him during the bruising encounter. The winners had 21 shots on goal.

Harry Wipper, McGill University student, flew here from Montreal to play with the Athletics.

Soccer Stages Three Tilts

Confederation soccer eleven of the senior division opened their schedule, Wednesday afternoon, when they won 4-0 at Queen Mary's expense in King Edward Park.

Both teams opened up with smart combination but the break went to Confederation when Mein scored on an individual effort. Just before the interval Hamilton sent a long drifter that fell over the goal-keeper's head into the goal. On resuming, Queen Mary battled hard to score but lacked finish while the southenders' combination by Miller, Chamberlain, and Little terminated in Simmons registering the third counter. Then Floyd accepted a pass from the same trio to make it 4-0. Losers' best men were Graham, Deal and Brown.

Queen Mary—H. Stinson, goal; R. Graham and K. Bech, full backs; P. Deck, R. Brady and R. Brown, half backs; E. Deal, F. Boyce, H. Horton, R. Dubay and O. Schweir, forwards.

Confederation—J. Brown, goal; D. Goldie and R. Linsey, full backs; D. Sloan, J. Hamilton, and R. Bolton, half backs; A. Little, D. Mein, R. Miller, W. Chamberlain and C. Simmons, forwards. Subs.: B. Floyd, B. Douglas, G. McIntosh, S. Greaves.

Referee, Joe Barnard.

King Edward Lost

King George visited King Edward school team in the Exhibition grounds, Wednesday afternoon, to win by a 2-1 count in an easy going tilt that was lacking life.

In the first period King George repeatedly went right into goal to find Wilson, King George goalie, unbeatable but the payoff went to MacKenzie when he dribbled his way towards goal to beat the King Edward custodian. On resuming, King George was more aggressive around goal to register another goal through Simpson, who beat three men in a row and pulled the goalie out to score. Towards the finish, King Edward reduced the count when Sutherland hit the inside of the upright to count.

King George—A. Wilson, goal; P. McIlmoyle and G. Harding, full backs; B. Campbell, D. Foote and K. Parker, half backs; C. Butcher, B. Simpson, P. Harding, J. Rogers and P. MacKenzie, forwards; subs., G. Ellis, F. Roberts, D. Johnson, B. MacNaughton.

King Edward—R. Hobart, goal; R. Tarrington and E. Robins, full backs; J. Phillips, J. Sutherland and M. McFadden, half backs; A. Curtis, H. Wood, C. Chalmers, D. Sutherland and A. McArthur. sub., J. Mills.

Central Victors

Queen Alex.-Queen Eliz. aggregation met Central in a senior loop game on Wednesday afternoon at the Exhibition grounds with the latter winning 7-0 in a smart tilt. The losers' field work was good but they found the Central custodian brilliant.

Perfect positional play opened up the combination that was working smoothly in every department. Eventually Gardner registered two smart goals then Patterson and Lunn made it 4-0 for Central at the interval. The second half found the losers' combination being effective until reaching the goal area. Central scoring through Patterson, and Lunn twice to make it 7-0.

Q.A.-Q.E.—W. Macklin, goal; F. Anderson and D. Dillman, full backs; C. McWilliams, W. Whitnell and J. Morris, half backs; R. Whitton, R. Druce, J. Johnson, R. Hicks and W. Whitton, forwards; subs., R. Turnbull and W. Kemp.

Central—D. Bye, goal; R. Rowe and J. Matthews, full backs; S. Brooks, B. Martyn and B. Patten, half backs; B. Gardner, J. Smith, D. Patterson, R. Butler and P. Lunn, forwards; subs., C. Craymer, D. Grey, R. Freeman, B. Woodward.

Referee, Mr. Wilson.

'TOSSIN' TEXAN — Lindy Berry, Edmonton Eskimos' 22-year-old quarterback import from Texas Christian University, shows the form that made him the leading passer in the first half of the Western Interprovincial Rugby Football Union schedule. In the first seven league games, Eskimos averaged 235 yards a game on completed forwards, mostly thrown by Berry. He played four years in the Southwest Conference against such stars as Doak Walker and Kyle Rote.

CITY CARPETBALL

At a recent general meeting the financial statement was adopted as read.

It was also decided to close entries for the coming season, Sept. 30.

The following signified they were entering teams:

St. George's, Glengarries, Sons of England, LOL No. 50, three Legion teams, Quaker Oats and Fire Hall; possible entries: Bonner-Worth, St. Luke's Men's Club, Sergeants' Mess and St. Luke's Boy Scouts.

We would welcome any men's club or association of any factory or lodge to enter at least one team for a season of recreation, sport and pleasure for the small fee of $7.50 per team of five men. This fee entitles team to participate in the season's schedule plus entry into the President's Cup and the Gracie's Memorial Doubles.

The season's play starts the week of October 16 and first schedule will be printed in the Examiner Thursday, October 12, so any organization desiring to enter, phone 5432.

The new rules and regulations are in the hands of the printer and will be ready for the start of the schedule.

The tickets for the draw for a pressure cooker and teaset and electric kettle are on sale and draw will take place Dec. 6, proceeds to refinish cups, shields, etc. Any member wishing to sell tickets please get in touch with Art Pilling, Bill Wilson or Harry Clapham.

His Second Defeat

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP).—Joe Louis' defeat at the hands of Ezzard Charles Wednesday night was his second in a professional career dating back to 1934 and covering 62 fights. Max Schmeling was the only other man to take the Brown Bomber's measure and he scored a 12th-round knockout in New York June 19, 1936.

H. S. Gridders Heavy Schedule

Collegiate football shifts into high Friday night and zips along for a whole week as no less than 10 games will be played.

Friday night will see three local teams battling to bring honors from out-of-town games. St. Peter's High seniors who suffered a 11-0 loss last Friday to PCVS junior A's will open their new schedule in Toronto under the floodlights at Oakwood stadium with St. Michael's College senior Bees. The SPHS juniors will play an exhibition game in Lindsay with the LCI junior "A" squad.

Coach Bev Goulding's senior boys will have the toughest assignment of the week when they tackle the East York Collegiate Goliaths at the East York stadium Friday night.

Coach Hull of East York has only lost one of his first line regulars which swept all football honors last year in the Toronto district. Their line averages close to the 200-mark while the backfield is big and sturdy with speed to spare.

Last year the local Garnet and Greys held off the giants (whom Toronto sports scribes claim is one team in 20 years) for the first half and then Goliaths walked through for 23 straight points to wallop the PCI'ers 25-0.

Not Afraid

Most Toronto and district teams prefer to have games with the Toronto huskies late in the season when they are more sure of themselves. The PCVS squad because of its early practices did not shy away from the Toronto exhibition.

Saturday the gridiron scene shifts to Oshawa where Alex Londry's junior "A" squad will open the season with OCVI's juniors. In the Lakeshore championship game last year, the only meeting between the clubs, the PCI'ers walked away Things may be different this year as Oshawa has 14 back from the 1949 club.

At Cobourg

Dick Ouimet's junior "B" team from SPHS will invade Cobourg Monday afternoon to open the "B" group. This will be the first encounter between the two clubs and little is known of either's setup.

Coach Alex Londry's juniors will be off to Lakefield Tuesday afternoon when they will play an annual game with the Grove school juniors. Al MacQuarrie's junior Bees will open the season Wednesday at Nicholls Oval against the SPHS juniors in a junior "B" league game.

Coach Goulding's will attend another annual date Wednesday afternoon when they travel to Port Hope to meet the Trinity College footballers. Last year the TCS boys downed the COSSA finalists.

A week Friday night at Morrow Park under the floodlights the PCVS seniors and junior A's will have a double-header with Toronto Western Tech seniors and Lindsay Collegiate juniors. The junior game will be a league fixture.

FIRE REFUGEES—G. F. Simpson, farmer in the Wanham district, 340 miles northwest of Edmonton, escaped with a few belongings and neighbor's children from a orest fire which burnt out 50 square miles of countryside. Here, Simpson with Glen Curley, 4, and his sister Jean, 8, ride to safety with his few possessions piled on a wagon. Smoke from the Wanham area fire and others like it in northern Alberta and British Columbia drifted east during the week-end to blot out the sun in Ontario and the eastern United States.

Fletchers Take All In Tennis Play

The Kawartha Tennis Club championship tournament was completed last evening on the Kawartha courts with John Fletcher retaining the singles crown for this year. He and Mrs Fletcher won everything in sight in the tourney. Mrs. Fletcher is ladies' champion, she and Mrs. Ralph Charlton took the ladies' doubles, and she and Mr. Fletcher won the mixed event. The latter teamed up with Jack Leeming to capture the men's doubles title.

Both of these fine players came here within the past year from England. Mrs. Fletcher was prominent in local and county play in England and Scotland, and was with the London University team. Mr. Fletcher played regularly in the North of England Lawn Tennis League before the war. He hopes to see a revival in the game here to pre-war years when many more courts were in use. There was a good entry in the club tourney, with 19 competing in men's singles.

Reds Work Out System Keep Candidates In Line

By HEINZ SCHWAG

BERLIN, Sept. 28 —(AP)— The Communists have worked out a system to make sure every candidate for the mid-October election in Soviet-occupied Eastern Germany hews to the Moscow line.

They call it "democratic examination by the working population," and it works like this:

Candidates nominated by the parties and Communist-led mass organizations appear at a public meeting in their town, preferably held in some big industrial plant.

First, they must report on their political activities in the past. Then Communists in the audience get up and ask them embarrassing questions.

One is: "Are you for unswerving friendship with the Soviet Union and the people's democracies?"

A candidate may think he knows how most of his voters feel about that. But if he expresses these feelings, the "working population" throws him out.

Another question may be what the candidate thinks of the single list of the Communist-sponsored "national front" for the elections. With this single list, the Communists have secured for themselves in advance a 70-per-cent majority in the new parliament of the Soviet Zone Republic.

Fight for Peace

The population may want really free and competitive elections. But if the candidate says so, he's out.

The Communist press reports that one candidate was asked whether it is enough to be against war and agitate for peace. It commended the man for his "clear answer," which was: "No, we must fight for peace."

From Walter Ulbright, the Kremlin's political boss of East Germany, top Communists have made it clear what is required of a candidate for the East German elections:

He must be "progressive," that is, an ardent fighter for peace, and he must be a champion of the new "anti-Fascist democratic order" the Communists have established in the Soviet Zone since 1945.

In other words, a Communist. Or, if he happens to belong to to a non-Communist party, a "yes man," who dutifully obeys the orders from Walter Ulbright's Communist politburo.

RULE OF FOOT

The height of an elephant can be roughly deduced from the size of its footprint; twice the circumference of its forefoot is approximately equal to its height.

Mexican Actress Finds Hollywood Fantastic Place

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 28 (AP)— Katy Jurado, Mexican film star and bullfight commentator here for a peek at Hollywood, finds the place "fantastic."

"Fantastic" is the favorite American word of Katy Jurado (pronounced Kotty Hoorahdo). She only started to learn the language five months ago, to play a leading role in "Torero," a bullfight film produced by John Payne in Mexico.

Katy uses "fantastic" in an admiring sense when she describes her impresions of Hollywood. But when she terms US films about Mexico the same way, she is not being complimentary.

The trouble with most Hollywood films about Mexico is bad advice, the actress said.

"When the studios want to know about Mexico, they ask the Mexicans who live in Los Angeles," she said. "But many of the Mexicans here have never been to Mexico and do not know what the country is really like."

Katy has appeared in 26 films in Mexico and also functions as an outspoken bullfight commentator on the radio. She lashes out at the inept toreadors and will accept no pay for the broadcasts. "That is so I can be independent and say what I want," she said.

Sent Her Flowers

Her commentaries on the bullfights have a large following, apparently including President Alman. Once she directed a broadcast to him personally, asking that he do something to improve the quality of bullfighting. He sent her flowers the next day.

"Americans don't like bullfighting because they do not know all the skill that goes into it," says Katy. "It would also help if we could learn more about your football. That is the one American sport Mexicans cannot understand.

"All those men pounding each other on the football field—it is fantastic."

Order Movie Writer Jailed For Year

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP) —Adrian Scott, movie writer and producer, was ordered Wednesday to serve a year in jail and pay a $1,000 fine for contempt of Congress.

Scott was among the 10 film writers, directors and producers who refused to answer questions in the House of Representatives Un-American Activities Committee's Reds-in-Hollywood investigation in 1947.

The other nine received identical sentences and now are in jail.

NZ House Told Air Force Unfit For War Service

By J. C. GRAHAM

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP) — New Zealand's air force is unfit for war service either at home or overseas, according to the chief of air staff, Air Vice-marshal Sir Arthur Nevill.

In his annual report presented to parliament he said that progress had been made during the past year. However, he added: "Much remains to be accomplished before the operational control organization is fit for war in this theatre and before any units of the regular air force reach the minimum strength and operational efficiency necessary for service overseas."

He placed the blame chiefly on the insufficient response to recruiting campaigns for ground staff and to problems arising from the continued use of obsolete aircraft. The most modern planes in use in any numbers in the air force are Mosquitoes, all other planes being of still earlier vintage.

Despite Air Vice-Marshal Nevill's statement, a small unit of the New Zealand air force has been operating overseas with conspicuous success since late last year.

A transport unit of Dakotas stationed at Singapore has been taking part in the air lift to Hong Kong and also in the campaign against the rebels in Malaya on supply-dropping missions.

As a major step toward improving the position the government has already placed orders in England for large-scale re-equipment The planes selected after lengthy investigation as most suitable for New Zealand requirements are the De Havilland Vampire, a Jet fighter-bomber, the Handley-Page Hastings, a four-engined long-range transport, the Bristol Freighter, a twin-engined short-range transport, and the De Havilland Devon, a communications and training type.

Convention Time Under Way For Businessmen

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor.

This is the season for various branches of business to get together through their associations and consider their situations against the background of mixed peace and war.

There is today and tomorrow, for instance, the annual meeting at Niagara Falls, Ont., of the Canadian Electrical Manufacturers' Association, and the president, Arthur L. Brown, sums up one big value of these gatherings when he says:

"The annual meeting offers an opportunity for an exchange of ideas among delegates, and should be regarded by those attending as time gainfully employed. To reach these same men at their places of business would require weeks of travel and expense."

Billed as Canada's largest show of food, groceries and equipment, the annual convention and food show of the Foods Division, Retail Merchants' Association of Canada (Ontario) Inc., will be held in Toronto October 1-3.

Have Model Store

The displays, including a model store, and demonstrations of efficient and profitable store management, are additional to the discussion sessions and panel of speakers.

The Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating gets together at the Seigniory Club, Que., October 2-5. John H. Stevens of London, Ont., president, comments:

"Production and distribution in the plumbing and heating industry have been increased to record levels as every effort is made to keep up with the huge demand for products, goods and services."

The Canadian Exporters' Association annual convention will be held November 6-7 at Ottawa, and a pre-convention notice comments:

"The two-day meeting will afford all members the opportunity of getting to know officials of the Department of Trade and Commerce with whom they have been corresponding for many years....

"There has seldom, if ever, been a time in Canada's history when the government and the trader should be closer together than now."

Britain's Labor Party Worried About Consumers

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Sept. 28—(CP)—Britain's Labor party is still hopeful of making sure that the customer is always right. Many members are still pressing for what they call a consumer advice centre—an organization which would in effect tell housewives how to spend their money by comparing various brands of pickles, toothpaste, garters and so on.

This bright idea was first advanced in Labor's manifesto for last February's general election. It proposed that the advisory centre should:

1. Conduct expert tests and examinations of various consumer goods on the market.

2. Issue buying guides indicating relative merits or demerits of products tested and say how far each represents reasonable value for the money.

Little Utopian

Most critics thought the proposal a little Utopian. Since then, its sponsors have worried about Britain's awkward libel laws. If they were to publish arbitrary statements criticizing Blotz' dog food, they might find themselves with a lawsuit on their hands.

Party lawyers thus are inquiring into the possibility of obtaining statutory powers to dodge the libel laws.

Before the House of Commons adjourned for the summer recess, the importance of a consumer advice centre was urged in the House by Elaine Burton, Labor member of parliament for Coventry South. A board of trade spokesman said the idea was good but there were difficulties to be overcome.

Paper Trouble

Miss Burton wasn't deterred. In a recent newspaper article, she said she believes that any manufacturer who wanted to bring an action in law would have to prove that the report he didn't like was not only malicious and untrue but that it also caused him damage.

"So any advice centre could, under the present law, publish findings — mentioning branded goods by name — to its members," wrote Miss Burton. "But if newspapers published damaging details out of the reports, they might render themselves liable to proceedings."

Miss Burton visited Canada and the United States in 1948 to investigate the "consumer angle." She returned to report, a trifle aghast, that "in America they even have tasters of toothpaste to advise on the actual taste of different brands."

Have Triple Wedding

ROME, Sept. 28 (Reuters). — Childhood dreams came true for three Irish colleens in Rome on Wednesday. They were married to their Irish sweethearts — the Heavet brothers, Michael, Thomas and Patrick. The three colleens had said "yes" on condition the ceremonies could be performed in the eternal city. So the enterprising brothers bought a handful of plane tickets and made it a triple Holy Year wedding at Sant Alfonso Church.

Post-War Record

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP). —The Federal Reserve Board reported Wednesday that industrial production jumped to a post-war record in August. August industrial production was listed on the board's index at 207 per cent of the 1935-39 average (that is, 107 per cent above it), compared with 196 in July and 170 in August a year ago.

This is no time for a Race!

THE UNSEEN FIGURE OF DEATH rides beside the motorist who races a train to a level crossing. The way may look clear, and there may seem to be a split second in which to avert calamity. Unfortunately for many of the 140 who were killed and the 549 who were injured in 443 railway crossing accidents in Canada in the 12-month period ended June 30th last, the train was moving faster than they judged, or they were closer to the point of impact than they imagined and they paid a high price for their impatience. The old rule of STOP, LOOK and LISTEN applies with more force than ever today when more automobiles and trucks are on the road. Make sure you have a clear path over the crossing; obey the signs placed there for your protection. It's better to be delayed a minute than to be killed or maimed.

Forecaster Blames Blue Sun On Smoke

TORONTO, Sept. 28 ((CP). — W. T. Turnbull, chief weather forecaster for the Toronto district, said Wednesday there is no doubt in his mind as to what caused a blue moon and a blue sun over Scotland and the North Sea area.

It was the same smoke from the Alberta forest fires that darkened the sky over parts of Ontario and the Eastern United States on Sunday and Monday and then moved north-eastward to the Atlantic provinces.

"It is the Alberta smoke all right," Mr. Turnbull declared in an interview. "It has had plenty of time by now to get over the British Isles."

Magazine Editor Craick Retires

MONTREAL, Sept. 28—(CP)—W. Arnot Craick, 70, for 35 years editor of Industrial Canada, monthly business magazine, will retire Sept. 30. He is also manager of the publishing department of Canadian Manufacturers' Association at Toronto. He will be succeeded in both positions by A. L. Abbott, of Toronto, assistant editor of Industrial Canada, official publication of the CMA.

For 30 years, Mr. Craick has been active in the Empire Press Union of whose Canadian section he continues to be honorary secretary-treasurer. He was a secretary of the second Imperial Press conference held in Canada in 1920 and attended as delegate to the five conferences held quinquennially since in the United Kingdom and various dominions.

Born in Port Hope, Mr. Craick graduated from University of Toronto in 1902 and was with Maclean Publishing Company for eight years until 1910. He will continue to reside in Toronto and plans to engage in free-lance writing.

156,421 Now Employed In Government Service

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 — Total strength of the government service on March 31 last was 156,421 employees.

The total for the date mentioned, the latest for which official figures are available, included 59,509 permanent, 86,675 temporary and 10,066 casual employees.

The government service employee figures are of special interest for a variety of reasons.

The government is now considering a request from the organized Civil Servicve for a flat salary increase of 23.5 per cent in the light of the still rising cost of living.

Finance Minister D. C. Abbott recently told Civil Service organizations that the government is considering plans for stepping up the all-round efficiency and productivity of the government service.

Last session Mr. Abbott told the House of Commons that the government will endeavor to reduce the overall cost of government in the different departments in the interests of economy.

Some government departments —notably the income tax division of the National Revenue Department—are reducing staffs these days.

Other departments, such as National Defence and Trade and Commerce, require added staff to handle additional governmental responsibilities concerning Canada's greatly stepped up defence preparedness program.

The Bureau of Statistics, in preparation for taking the decennial census for Canada next year, will be requiring several thousand temporary employees.

Breakdown

Detailed figures of the number of employees in different important departments are given below, showing permanent, temporary and casual employees in that order and the total concerned.

Hold Service For J. B. Maclean

TORONTO, Sept. 28 — (CP) — Funeral service for Lt.-Col. John Bayne Maclean, founder of Maclean-Hunter Publishing Company, was held Wednesday at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church here. He died Monday at 87. Burial was in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Pallbearers were Maclean-Hunter employees: E. Nymark, George Niblett, L. Tolson, B. W. Spicer, James Ritchie and B. T. Huston.

Honorary pallbearers included Ray Lawson, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario; Chief Justice Albert Sevigny, of Quebec Superior Court; Senator Rupert Davies, Kingston; L. Vieira De Campos, Consul-General of Portugal at Montreal; George Drew, leader of the Progressive Conservative Party; Horace T. Hunter, Floyd S. Chalmers, Thomas H. Howse and Napier Moore, all of Maclean-Hunter; Arthur Ford, editor-in-chief of the London (Ont.) Free Press; R. C. Rowe, Montreal, president of the Periodical Press Association; Leopold Macaulay, Toronto, chairman of the national executive committee of the Canadian Red Cross Society, and W. F. Holding, Toronto, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

Postal Workers Expect Raise

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 — (CP) — The Canadian Postal Employees' Union, representing 18,000 workers, presented a brief to the Civil Service Commission Wednesday seeking an across-the-board salary increase of $360 a year.

"We gathered that salary increases will be granted but no figure was given," F. W. Whitehouse, national secretary-treasurer of the union, said after the meeting.

Chairman C. H. Bland, of the Civil Service Commission, termed it "a profitable discussion."

The brief was presented on behalf of sorters, deliverymen and the men who man postal cars on trains.

It pointed out "certain anomalies" in salaries and working conditions. In the request for a $360 annual increase it pointed out that postal employees in the United States work a five-day, 40-hour week compared with a six day, 44-hour week for Canadian postal employees.

It said U.S. postal employees get paid more for their shorter working hours.

Gets $20,000 Bail

TORONTO, Sept. 28—(CP) — Bail was set at $20,000 Wednesday for Doris Jameson, attractive mink-clad bonde charged with illegal possession of narcotics. It was immediately provided by four friends and the girl walked out of the court room, due to return Oct. 3 for trial. Remanded to the same date on charges of having drugs illegally were eight other women and 11 men.

Millbrook Lady Lions Plan Health Program

MILLBROOK, Sept. 28 (ENS)—Mrs. Percy Hamilton, the newly-elected president of the Lady Lions, was in the chair at the first meeting this fall, held at the home of Mrs. W. W. Kennedy on Monday.

The club decided to sponsor a health conference commencing the last week in October, to be held monthly for pre-school children with a public health nurse in attendance.

Mrs. H. Perkin was appointed treasurer. A committee selected to look into the purchase of new curtains for the stage of the Town Hall auditorium includes: Mrs. A. R. Payne, Mrs. M. E. Hobbs and Mrs. F Hindle.

Mrs. C. Brackenridge, leader, and the other members of the Smith group, are to cater for the Lion's Club banquet to be held in the Waiting-Room next Monday.

Supper hostesses were Mr. W. Elson, Mrs. J. W. Wright, Mrs. L. Winslow and Mrs. M. Wood.

The October meeting of the Lady Lions will be held at the home of Mrs. J. T. Crowley.

Men Too Shy

LONDON, Sept. 28 (Reuters)—London's borough of Edmonton has had to drop its plan to choose a carnival king this year due to the shyness of Edmonton's young men. Despite urgent appeals, there were only two applicants to rule during carnival week. In contrast, there have been 15 applicants for the position of carnival queen.

Ambush A Bus

RANGOON, Burma, Sept. 28 — (AP)—Rebel Karen tribesmen ambushed a bus on the South Burma coast, killing 27 persons and wounding 16 others, an unofficial report said today. Two policemen were listed among the dead. The report said the tribesmen stopped the bus near Mergui with a hand grenade, then raked the passengers with rifle fire.

Garbage Mixer For Kitchens Said Harmless

"Disposall" is a C.G.E. machine for reducing kitchen garbage to a consistency that can be poured down the drain.

H. G. Mitchell, Toronto, explained its use to the Board of Works this week.

"Let's take this up with our sewage disposal consultants," Ald. J. E. Gillespie proposed, and that was the present shift into the discussion stage.

This domestic implement is built into the kitchen plumbing system. Its action is similar to that of the vegetable shredder, and its product is simply flushed down the pipes connecting to the sewer.

Toronto Only Ban

Mr. Mitchell mentioned an Indiana town that locked up its incinerator when most of the householders installed Disposalls. Toronto is the only Canadian city that has banned this gadget. Ottawa lifted its ban after investigating the merits of the machine.

"If we had only 25 or 50 of them I suppose you wouldn't notice their effect in the sewage disposal system.

Bus Diversions For Road Work

Municipal work on south and north end streets has temporarily disrupted the routes of three city buses.

Byersville buses have to avoid the street paving project on Monaghan Road. They go straight down Park St. to Romaine, then west to Monaghan Road, and return by those streets.

Monaghan Road south buses turn west at Frank St., then south on High St. to Lansdowne St., east to Monaghan Road, south to Arndon St., east to Park St., then north on Park. This service is diverted from the strip on Monaghan Road between Frank and Lansdowne Streets. Further south it follows the Arndon St. turn to avoid the new sewer job on Cameron and also the new drain on Park St.

Jackson Park buses turn south from Park Hill Rd. at Gilchrist St., avoiding the paving project on Park St. between Park Hill Rd. and McDonnel St.

Police Want Man Held In Windsor

John D. McIntosh, 32, Peterborough, arrested in Windsor by police Wednesday, is wanted by Peterborough police on a charge of housebreaking.

Detective Sergeant John Stevenson left this morning to pick up the man in Windsor.

McIntosh is the man who was convicted in December, 1945, of attempted armed robbery of the post office sub-station in the Fitzpatrick and Geraghty store on Charlotte St. Sept. 14.

He and his accomplice, Norman James Woodcock, were arrested near Fowler's Corners the same day. They were both sentenced to four years in penitentiary.

McIntosh has been sought in connection with the theft of clothes from a west end home last winter.

SS 6 Creaking At Seams As Enrolment Jumps To 63

Unforeseen crowds of public school children at SS 6, Smith township burst the one-room school at its seams this fall. Monday morning 25 children of the first two grades were moved from the school to two rooms in a rented house on the Lakefield highway for their schooling.

SS 6, located at the junction of the Buckhorn and the Lakefield-Bridgenorth roads, has an enrollment of 63 this year compared with 49 last year, acting secretary of the Smith township school board Newton Young said today, and more are expected next year.

Grades 1 and 2 with 25 pupils under Mrs. Helen Wilson now occupy two rooms in the Amys house almost a mile away. This is a much more central location for the students who come mostly from the families who have erected new homes along the highway in the last few years.

Population in the area is going to take another jump, said Mr. Young. The Department of Veterans' Affairs has bought a 100-acre plot to develop into a Veteran's Land Act project on which 30 houses will be built for families with an expected average of two children each. In a few years room will have to be found for another 60 children in school.

Many of the residents of the area want to build a new school, but there is strong opposition to it from some of the district's longer-established residents. It would be sufficient they say to build an addition to the present 50-year-old building.

In the meantime, school officials feel they are fortunate in being able to supply room for the new students. Desks have been ordered but not arrived yet. Rented folding chairs and temporary blackboards have been set up. The rooms are being heated with oil space heaters.

The School Board tried to get some of their students in the Lakefield school, but that is so crowded classes are being staggered.

Truck, Car Crash Man, 66, Hurt

John Wesley Manley, 66, of RR. 4, Peterborough, is in Civic Hospital with injuries received when his car was wrecked late Wednesday by a dump truck loaded with six tons of gravel.

He has a fractured left foot that is also badly cut, and possible head injuries. Hospital authorities said today his condition is "quite satisfactory."

Manley, a Smith township resident, was driving his car north on the centre line of Smith when it was struck broadside by the eastbound gravel truck at the 7th concession. The impact was so great that the left side of the car was pushed through almost to the other side.

The car was wrecked but the truck, owned by Fred Nelson of Keene, received about $100 damage to the front. Earl Dickson, the driver, was uninjured.

The gravel was being hauled from the Blythe Construction Co. pit on the Lakefield-Chemong Road to Warren Paving in Ashburnham.

Dr. H. E. Gastle of Lakefield attended Manley and he was then taken to Civic Hospital by a Hendren ambulance. Provincial Constable Jack McKendry investigated the accident.

SAUNDERS FUNERAL

Funeral service for M. W. Saunders, 38, of Millbrook, who died Wednesday as a result of an accident, will be held at his home on Saturday. He is survived by his widow, the former Grace Sloan, and one daughter, Dianne. Burial will be in Gardiner's Cemetery, Cavan.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

VICTORIA PLOWING

Victoria county plowing match is at Manilla Oct. 6, and the juniors will turn up stubble at Cambray on the 2nd.

HOLSTEINS TO ECUADOR

Twenty-seven Canadian Holstein heifers ranging from five to nine months have been bought by General Francisco Gomez de la Tore, Quito, Ecuador. Delivery has been undertaken by International Livestock Exporters, Oakville.

NEW MAINS AUTHORIZED

Extension of water mains to the Cobourg Housing subdivision west of High St. was authorized by the Utilities Commission Wednesday. The company has begun the building this year of 25 of their projected 62 houses, and will need the water services for the first houses completed possibly before the new year.

ICE REVUE POSTPONED

The ice revue scheduled for tonight at Civic Arena has been postponed one night, due to a mechanical breakdown in the ice-making equipment. Manager Walter Smillie reports that the machine is now fixed but the show will not go on until Friday evening. Those holding Thursday tickets will have them honored Friday or Saturday if exchanged at Tem Ticket Agency.

Greatest Modern Evil

TORONTO, Sept. 28 (CP) — A gathering of Salvation Army officers from Ontario and Manitoba yesterday gave unanimous approval to a declaration that "the greatest single evil of modern times is over-indulgence in strong drink." It criticized the licensing of what it said was a growing number of liquor outlets, expressed opposition to commercialized Sunday sport and commended the CBC board of governors for "stifling" attempts to promote radio bingo.

Resort Owners To Hold Meeting Oct. 11

Plans for a full day conference for resort owners of this district were made at the executive committee meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, resort operators section, Wednesday night.

This conference will be held October 11 at the Empress Hotel and will be open to all resort owners whether members of the Chamber of Commerce or not. Chief purpose of the conference will be clarification of resort owners' hydro rates. There will be an open discussion with hydro officials concerning rates in this district.

Game and fishing regulations will also be on the agenda with particular reference to the prohibition of June drift fishing. Resort owners want this prohibition removed in order that the tourist season in the district may be lengthened.

Protest Licence Increase

A protest will be launched against the increase in price for non-resident fishing licences and the reduction from two day's catch to one day's catch that can be taken home.

Meetings will take place before the conference with hydro and Lands and Forests officials to discuss these matters.

Other items under discussion at the conference will be the advisability of sending an exhibit to the Cleveland Sportsman's Show next year.

A plan for a presentation to the Federal Government asking for improvement loans to resort owners at low interest rates will be put forward.

Other government departments attending the conference will be from the Departments of Highways, and Travel and Publicity.

No Stop Sign At Corner Two Cars Crash Badly

Two cars collided at Bethune and Simcoe Sts., where there were no stop signs Wednesday afternoon, doing considerable damage to both cars.

Miss Anne Heffernan, 263 Hunter St. W., was driving south on Bethune St. As she crossed the Simcoe St. intersection, her car met in collision with a car driven west on Simcoe St. by Donald Flett, 576 Stewart St.

The grill and bumper of the Heffernan car were damaged and anti-freeze was lost from the radiator when a hose was torn from the radiator. The right rear fender of the Flett car was damaged. Traffic Officer Gordon Trennum investigated.

City's W. Ovens To Arbitrate TorontoMilkRate

Canadian Press reports that an arbitration board will rule on a demand for an increase in the wholesale price of milk in the Toronto area. This was announced by Ontario's Agriculture Minister Kennedy today.

He said Judge J. A. McGibbon of Victoria County has been appointed chairman. William Ovens of Peterborough, president of the Ontario Milk Distributors' Organization, will represent the distributors, and Roy E. Lick, secretary of the Producers' Association, the producers. Mr. Ovens is a former mayor of Peterborough and managing director of Campbell's Dairy.

Regulations governing sale of milk call for arbitration in the event that producers and distributors cannot reach agreement on a wholesale price. Farmers, now receiving $4.07½ a hundredweight, turned down the distributors' offer of an increase of 12½ cents.

The retail price of milk in the Toronto area was increased last week to 20 cents a quart for standard milk, a boost of one cent.

Local Price Not Settled

In Peterborough the farmers received, in August, $4.00 a hundredweight for their raw milk. At that time the retail price to the consumer was 18 cents a quart. A Peterborough dairy official today said that the September rate for this district has not yet been settled.

Ordinarily a price rise to the consumer is accompanied by an increase in price paid the farmer by the distributor. On September 11 and 12 retail price of milk was increased locally by one cent a quart to 19 cents. This is a cent below the new Toronto retail price.

The dairy official remarked that usually the Peterborough retail price paid producers is correspondingly lower.

OBITUARIES

MRS. JAMES GORDENIA

MARMORA, Sept. 28 (ENS)—Mrs. James Gordenia, 53, died Wednesday at her home on Hayes St. after a long illness. The former Elizabeth Phillips, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phillips and was born in Marmora township. Her entire life was spent in this district.

A member of St. Andrew's United Church, Mrs. Gordenia was also a member of the Woman's Association at the church. She was a member of Marmora Women's Institute and was secretary-treasurer of this organization for several years.

Besides her husband, she leaves two children, Mrs. Hubert Vanstone (Vera) of Marmora and Roy of Peterborough. She also leaves her parents, two brothers, Charles and Hugh of Toronto and five sisters: Mrs. Lindsay Melvarcy (Hilda) Minden; Mrs. Don McInroy (Edith) Marmora; Mrs. William Holmes (Iva) McLaughlin, Alta.; Mrs. Don Ellis (Clara), Calumet, Que.; and Mrs. George Shaw (Nellie), Campbellford. The funeral will be held on Friday, leaving the house for a service at St. Andrew's United Church at 2.30 p.m. The Rev. G. O. Young will officiate. Burial will be in Marmora Protestant cemetery.

MICHAEL ZAMMARO

Michael Zammaro, 76, died Wednesday at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Chimenti, 627 Park St. He was born in the province Cosenza, Italy, son of the late James Zammaro and Theresa Gaudio. He has resided in Peterborough for two years, coming here from Montreal. His wife, the former Rocanno Grono, predeceased him.

He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Joseph Chimenti (Chiarino), Mrs. Frank Mazza (Maria), both of Peterborough, and Mrs. E. Ferroto (Antonietta) of Vancouver, B.C.; two sons, Emilio of Italy and Fiore of Sault Ste. Marie; two brothers, Frank and Guy, both of Monesson, Pennsylvania and one sister, Mrs. Jack Sisco of Belle Vernon, U.S.A. Mr. Zammaro was a member of Sacred Heart Church.

The funeral service will be held Saturday from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Chimenti, 627 Park St., at 9:45 a.m. to Sacred Heart Church for requiem mass at 10. Burial will be in St. Peter's cemetery.

JOSEPH REDMOND

Joseph Redmond, 79, of Peterborough, died Wednesday. He was born in Cavan township, son of the late William Redmond and Eliza Eagan. He was a member of Immaculate Conception church.

The funeral service will be held Friday from the parlors of the House of Providence to Immaculate Conception church for requiem mass at 9 a.m. Burial will be in St. Peter's cemetery.

UE Must Be Swept From GE Labor Speakers Urge; IUE Starts Campaign Soon

The United Electrical Workers' union must be swept from the Peterborough CGE plant. That was the gist of speakers' remarks who Wednesday night addressed the organizing committee of Local 524, International Union of Electrical Workers (CIO-CCL). Within a month's time the right-wing IUE will open its campaign to supplant the left-wing UE as the bargaining agent for 3,600 CGE production workers.

David Lewis, former CCF national secretary, now specializing in labor law, outlined the steps necessary for certification.

By the terms of the new Ontario Labor Relations Act it is only necessary to sign 45 per cent. of the eligible workers in a plant to apply for certification. But Mr. Lewis said that organizers should obtain more than that percentage, allowing for unforseen difficulties, such as a turnover in the plant.

He urged the committee to work carefully and submit "foolproof evidence" so the application to the Ontario Labor Relations Board would be a success.

"You can't afford to leave any legal loopholes when dealing with an outfit like the UE," said Cyril O'Donnell, acting recording secretary. Mr. O'Donnell said the UE had been expelled by organized labor and it was now "fighting a desperate rearguard action to maintain its Communist control of the workers."

Fred Hannah, a member of the IUE organizing staff, spoke of IUE activities in Canada. He laid particular emphasis on the recent contract agreement at the CGE Cobourg plant. The UE was unable to match these gains, he said.

Mr. Hannah said IUE contract negotiations are already underway at two Toronto plants—Gray Forgings and Stamping Ltd., and Willard Battery—and about to begin at Leland Electric, Guelph.

James Wilson, chairman of the organizing committee, thanked the speakers and said plans for the IUE campaign in Peterborough were well underway.

Seek 40-Hour Week Same Pay At Ovaltine

A reduction in the work week from 45 to 40 hours with the same take-home pay and an improvement in seniority are the chief demands which will be presented to A. Wander Ltd., by Local 434, United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO-CCL).

Tonight the 30 production workers will hold a general meeting to approve changes in the contract suggested by the negotiating committee. The present contract continues unless either or both parties give notice of ending it by November 14.

Negotiations will begin with the company almost immediately.

At present the starting rate at A. Wander Ltd. is 86 cents an hour for men and 70 for women; and the labor rate, obtained after six weeks' service, is 99 for men and 80 for women.

Part Time Guard For School Traffic Gets Approval

Employment of part time traffic guards for the protection of school children at certain corners of heavy traffic, proposed by the special traffic committee of the council, received the approval of the board of works this week.

The idea came from the board of education and K. S. Wightman, superintendent of schools. Supervision at the time children are going to and coming from school was proposed for Lansdowne and Lock Streets because many children of Confederation School were being transferred to King Edward.

The corners at which this safety suggestion will be tested are: Lock and Lansdowne; Weller and Monaghan Road; Murray at Water and George Streets; Sherbrooke at Park St.

The committee is also to be given authority to set up school and "children crossing" signs at places indicated in their recommendation.

Storm Drain Plans Laid For South End Block

If any of the south end property owners object to the council's plans for laying storm drains, they will have an opportunity of asserting their protest to the Ontario Municipal Board.

The area laid out for this improvement is bounded by Lansdowne, Lock, King George and Park Streets. Board of Works has directed that the construction bylaw be prepared, and eventually the property owners will be informed of the reference to the Municipal Board.

CITY HOST TO SAMARITANS

Marked by a smart parade in colourful costumes and headed by the C.G.E. Pipe Band and the Peterborough Citizens' Band, the 34th Convention and Ceremonial of the Ancient Mystic Order of Samaritans and Ladies of the Orient will be an interesting spectacle in the city throughout this Saturday, September 30th.

The parade will proceed north on George Street from Sherbrooke Street to Confederation Square at about 1.30 p.m. A brief service will be held at the War Memorial.

Precision Patrol Drills by corps of Samaritans will be put on in the Armouries to band music from 3 o'clock to 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The public is cordially invited to these ceremonies.

Merchants are requested to put out flags to express the city's welcome to the marching visitors.

Chief Testifies On Jail Escape

SOREL, Que., Sept. 28—(CP)—Sorel Police Chief J. A. Tanguay testified Wednesday that a prisoner at the local jail had admitted escaping twice, committing burglaries here and then returning to his cell.

Chief Tanguay appeared at the preliminary hearing of Donald Watso, 24-year-old Indian from nearby Odanak reservation, charged with burglaries at two Sorel garages Aug. 29 and Sept. 4 and theft of a safe during the second job.

Last week, the governor of 100-year-old Richelieu county jail was suspended after a series of escapes. The breaks now are being investigated by the Provincial Solicitor-General's Department. Last Monday, after two provincial police constables had taken over administration of the jail, another prisoner escaped. He was apprehended by Sorel police and returned to the jail before the provincial officers knew of his escape.

Watso and another prisoner are alleged to have left the jail twice on night sorties and a companion was said to have failed to return with them on the second occasion.

HOLD POW-WOW — Indian problems with regard to the Indian Act, fishing and hunting rights and treaties were the subject of long debates at a pow-wow of Six Nations Indian tribes of Ontario and Quebec held at Sudbury. All attending were members of the North American Indian Nations. Shown here are Chief Francis Peghamagabow, left, of Parry Sound, an Ojibway and supreme chief of the assembly; Jules Sioui, Loretteville, Que., reservation, secretary, whose hunger-strike against proposals concerning an Indian franchise gained nation-wide notoriety last summer, and Chief Jim Horton of Emo, Ont., representing the Chippewas.

Russia Prompt Paying Bills

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 (CP). — Russia pays her bills, the Finance Department said Wednesday.

The Soviet borrowed $2,900,000 under the Canadian Export Credits Insurance Act in 1946-47 to buy hydro-electric machinery. The bill came due last month. It was paid in full.

The interest payments that fell due every six months in the intervening period were always paid promptly, too, an official said.

Russia still owes Canada nearly $8,000,000 for loans and advances made during the war, most of it to buy wheat and flour. Settlement of that account is under negotiation now, the official said.

The transactions drew attention to more than $1,900,000,000 owed to Canada by various foreign powers, mainly Britain, as a result of war and post-war loans and credits.

Russia's bill is a mere drop in that financial bucket Britain owes $1,347,000,000, France $245,000,000, Holland $118,000,000, Belgium $64,000,000 other countries less amounts.

One Export Credits Insurance Act loan that has been pretty well written off is that for $50,000,000 to Nationalist China.

Student Vets Prize Winners

HALIFAX (CP). — Nearly 60 per cent of all prizes awarded by Nova Scotia universities since 1945 have been won by veterans, Dr. H. L. Scammell, Registrar of Dalhousie University, reported here.

But what was more important, said Dr. Scammell, was that "the universities received a large number of mature students of high intelligence and able to profit by university training. The student veterans have had a great effect by giving leadership....to the non-veteran students."

A. Baxter superintendent of veterans' training for Halifax, said 6,194 veterans were registered from 1945 to 1950. This did not include the current term. Nearly half of these—3,030—had enrolled at Dalhousie.

The professions seemed to be the first choice of the veterans—engineering, medicine, dentistry and law. Arts and sciences came next and then such studies as commerce, agriculture, co-operative leadership, journalism, and pharmacy.

Defer Strike Vote

FORT WILLIAM, Sept. 28 (CP) —Twelve hundred Lakehead grain elevator workers have deferred decision on a strike vote. The grain handlers, members of the International Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, decided to leave the matter in the hands of their union chief, Frank Hall of Montreal. A conciliation board has suggested a wage increase of five cents an hour. The union, which asked seven cents and a 40-hour week, rejected the board recommendations.

Neglect Charge In Victoria Hospital Labelled False

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 28 (CP)—Victoria Hospital board of trustees Wednesday night labelled as "utterly false a charge of neglect on the part of the hospital resulting in the death of an accident patient early in August. The charge was made by Robert Findlater, delegate to the London Labor Council.

"This type of criticism must stop, and if someone must pay the penalty for making such charges, it's just too bad," chairman William Loveday said. "Such charges are unfair to the board and to the hospital."

Findlater, a delegate from Local 35, Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, told members of the LLC at a meeting on Aug. 27 that a woman accident victim lay in the corridor outside the emergency department of the hospital for more than an hour before receiving attention. It was "just through neglect" of the emergency department that the woman died, he said.

The next day Mr. Loveday demanded that the charge be substantiated in writing by Mr. Findlater.

No Letter Received

At Wednesday's meeting of the board of trustees, Dr. Carman J. Kirk, superintendent of the hospital, said no such communication had been received although city solicitor Huron R. Davidson had written Findlater requesting one.

Dr. Kirk said he had written Mr. Davidson about further legal action and said Mr. Davidson replied he thought the hospital had a suit and could win it but didn't advise taking the action.

"Perhaps we should take the solicitor's advice but to take legal action might put a stop to this criticism," Mr. Loveday commented.

In a report from the medical committee, Dr. A. J. Grace said the charges made by Findlater had been investigated and found to be "utterly false."

'Devil Moves In With Us' Farmers Moan As Hail, Frost, Finally Fire Destroy Crops

FORT ST. JOHN, B. C., Sept. 28 (CP).—"The devil has moved in with us," fire-fighting farmers muttered Wednesday.

Early this summer, hail destroy many crops in this northeastern corner of British Columbia. In mid-July, there were nine inches of snow and 10 degrees of frost.

Now prairie fires are eating up the ripe grain waiting for the combines. It was estimated Wednesday that at least 3,000 acres of grain have been destroyed by the forest fires.

Hundreds of settlers were plowing trenches around fields to save crops and buildings from the onrushing flames.

At Cecil Lake, 18 miles east of here, three settlers from Saskatchewan were burned out and lost all belongings.

The three families, with eight children ranging in age from two to eight years, watched from a fire break as the flames, swept forward by a high wind, consumed their new homes and scattered embers over the countryside.

Company Fined

WINDSOR, Sept. 28 — (CP) — Donald Fielding and Company, which pleaded guilty to a charge under the Farm Products and Sales Act, was fined $50 Wednesday by Magistrate J. A. Hanrahan. The company admitted failure to have an inspection made of fruits and vegetables trucked from Colchester township.

Adviser Dies

NORTH BAY, Sept. 28—(CP)—William Maurice Flannery, 51, legal adviser to the Dionne Quintuplets, died Wednesday in hospital of a heart ailment. Mr. Flannery practised law here for 27 years and was a member of the collegiate board and other civic bodies. He was active in the North Bay Liberal Association and president of the Lions Club. Funeral service will be at 10 a.m. Friday at the Pro-Cathedral of the Assumption.

Foils 3 Bandits

CHATHAM, Sept. 28 — (CP) A routine cash transfer Wednesday frustrated three armed bandits who tied up a service station watchman and escaped in an automobile with an empty cashbox. A few minutes earlier the watchman, John Beaumont, had transferred the cash to another container as part of his regular duties.

Boer War Nurse Mrs. S. Ball Dies

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28 (CP).—A little old lady, who carried dispatches during the South African War, died Tuesday night, only weeks before she would have been 100 years old.

She was Mrs. Samuel G. Ball, who served as a nurse in the Boer War and became known to the soldiers as "Sister Frances."

She travelled around the world three times and once was shipwrecked off Gibraltar.

Two husbands predeceased her and four sons and a daughter died in military service during the First World War.

Wins Her Spurs

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 28 (CP). — Helen Bompas, 26-year-old Ayrshire breeder of Bell's Corners, near Ottawa, made her debut on Wednesday as a judge of dairy cattle and decided it wasn't as difficult work as showing cattle. She won her spurs when she placed a strong class of three-year-old cows on the final day of the Aylmer fair. Her performance earned the praise of John L. Stansell, western Ontario breeder. "I've seen men judges do a worse job of placing a class like that," he said.

Robbery Tip False

MONTREAL, Sept. 28 (CP). — The latest tip on the $1,500,000 Brinks Express Company robbery is "completely false," assistant commissioner Josephat Brunet of the RCMP said Wednesday night. Boston police announced earlier that an unnamed Canadian ex-convict had claimed he knew four of the bandits who staged the unsolved giant robbery last Jan. 17 in Boston.

Liner Goes Aground

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Sept. 28 (AP).—The big French luxury liner Liberte ran aground near the mouth of Southampton harbor Wednesday night and was refloated at 10:30 p.m. (5:30 p.m EST), the British Coast Guard said. The 49,000-ton liner nosed into a mudbank when the starboard propellor fouled a buoy near it.

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, Sept. 28th — "Even the youngsters enjoy dishwashing now!", a happy reader writes. "I read about C-I-L SPONGES for housecleaning and dishwashing in your column and decided to try them. Now I find cleaning jobs much easier . . . and I haven't washed a dish since I bought the sponges. My children do that chore for me!". Yes, it's true! C-I-L cellulose Sponges are ideal for dishwashing. They're velvet-soft when wet — so they can't harm your finest china or glassware. Their square shape makes it easy to chase dirt from the inside edges of glasses 'n' pans. Their flat surfaces cover more area faster — cuts 'way down on dishwashing time. And they're so sanitary . . . they can be cleaned in a jiffy under the tap — or sterilized in boiling water. Ask for C-I-L Sponges (in five convenient sizes) at your favourite hardware, department, drug, variety or grocery store. And remember . . . look for the C-I-L label — it's your assurance of quality.

Something New And Glamorous has been added to my dressing table. Nestled among my jars of creams is a box that looks as though it came direct from Fifth Avenue . . . a box in a simulated tweed design that's wonderfully realistic. And inside it — guess what! — dainty FACE-ELLE face tissues in a veritable rainbow of lovely pastel colours. What's more these tissues are 3-PLY. . . . That means a cushioned softness that's kind to your complexion AND extra strength that won't go to pieces when you're "working in" make up! You can get Face-Elle En Pastels at most drug stores . . . or, if you buy your face tissues at your grocers, ask for Gibson's Tinted Tissues. If you have any trouble getting either brand just write me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q. —enclosing 25c in coin or postage stamps and I'll mail you a box.

Send Me Your Recipes or your favourite uses for beefy-good BOVRIL. In return I'll send you a free bottle of Bovril in Cordial, Concentrate or Cube form, whichever you prefer. I'm looking forward to your suggestions, so when you have a few moments to spare, send them to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q. There's one thing I must tell you . . . once your recipes or uses for Bovril are sent to me, they become the property of Bovril (Canada) Ltd. So you may pick up your newspaper some day and see your Bovril recipe. Here's one of my favourites:

Bovril Melba Pick-Ups: Cut bread (day old at least) wafer thin. Remove crusts. Spread Bovril cordial lightly with pastry brush (do not soak the bread). Place on baking sheet and toast in warm oven until very crisp and golden brown. Serve with soups or salads. Don't waste the crusts. Dry and save them for bread crumbs.

Here's A Tip From A Reader, who writes:— "Some months ago I moved into a furnished apartment, and found a very shabby beige rug covering the floor. The rug wasn't worth the money I would have to spend on cleaning or dyeing, so I thought "Why not try Tintex?". I bought a couple of packages of Creme de Menthe Tintex — got out a pail and mixed the dye . . . and next morning I was looking at a beautiful rug — not new . . . but so improved. Everyone I know is simply amazed at the good results. When the Tintex begins to wear off, I just touch it up with more . . . and it dries overnight!" Why not take this reader's tip:— buy TINTEX at your drug, department or variety store and add new colour to faded rugs—drapes —dresses, the economical Tintex way!

Pedigreed! . . . that's what the brand new crop of Heinz Tomatoes are! Picked, rich and rosy, in sunny southern Ontario, Heinz are rightly proud of them! Now's the time to buy them in HEINZ TOMATO PRODUCTS . . . Heinz Tomato Juice — Heinz Cream of Tomato Soup — Heinz Ketchup and Heinz Chili Sauce. Just think! — from September to September, you'll be able to perk up your meals with this famous foursome — specially luscious in the "New Pack" now! Take advantage of the new Autumn crop of Heinz "pedigreed" tomatoes — they're at their best in Heinz Tomato Products!

There's Something About Brassware that's very homelike. Brass candlesticks that glow in candlelight — brass door-knockers that give a cheery welcome to guests. Possibly that's why there's been such a revival of brassware in home decoration. It's perfectly in tune with contemporary furnishings — perfectly beautiful when it's polished regularly! But be sure to polish it with BRASSO! It's so very easy to use — for, you see, this polish is made especially for brass!

High Up On My List Of Dessert Favourites — that's where JELL-O PUDDINGS stand! So quick, so easy to prepare — a certain hit when served — Jell-O Puddings are a delightful finale to any meal! . . .

Gala Party Pudding —

1 package Jell-O Butterscotch Pudding
2 1/2 cups milk
8-inch layer chocolate cake
1/3 cup cream, whipped and sweetened
Few drops rum extract

Prepare pudding as directed on package, but use 2 1/2 cups milk. Cut cake in cubes and arrange in fancy serving dish. Pour chilled pudding over cake. Garnish with rum-flavoured whipped cream and slices of maraschino cherries. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

I Pledge You My Word . . . you can't beat the new FRIGIDAIRE "Thrifty-30" ELECTRIC RANGE. It's the biggest little range in the world . . . 30 inches wide . . . with a giant oven that stretches clear across the range and cooks loads of food on little current. There're many other "big range" features, too . . . new, faster-cooking, 5-Speed Radiantube Units, High-Speed, Waist-High Broiler and new counter-balanced shelf-type door, to name but a few. If you're one of those who have thought Frigidaire make only a refrigerator—here's your introduction to the fine line of Frigidaire Electric Ranges. See them at your Frigidaire Dealers' now.

You'll Want To get in on this new discovery, too! More and more women are discovering delicious KRAFT DINNER, that marvelous macaroni-and-cheese combination that cooks to tasty lightness in only 7 minutes! Yes, it's certainly easy to prepare. . . . and it's wonderfully economical! One package of "Kraft Dinner" contains enough for a main dish for four . . . at just a few pennies a serving! You'll find several helpful suggestions for main dishes on the "Kraft Dinner" package . . . all of them delicious . . . all of them money-savers.

For Your Off-To-School Youngsters . . . here's a breakfast dish that will start the day right! Tempting 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat" is not only good — it's good for them! For it contains Iron necessary for good red blood and Calcium and Phosphorus — for diets deficient in these elements. What's more — 5 Minute "CREAM OF WHEAT" is so quick and easy to prepare — takes only five minutes of boiling for full digestibility. That's why I urge you to serve "breakfast cheer" to your family the year 'round . . . you'll find it in every appetizing bowl of 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat"!

Ever Noticed how uncomfortable a man is when his shoes need shining — and how proud he is of well-shined shoes? And he's conscious of the condition of your shoes, too . . . don't think he doesn't notice! That's why it's a good idea to make MELTONIAN Shoe Cream a "must" for good grooming! Buy it in the handy dumpjar — use it constantly to keep your leathers (handbags and belts, as well as shoes) in the "pink" of condition! For Meltonian Shoe Cream not only gives your shoes beautifully rich lustre — it also helps preserve the leather! Yes, this English shoe cream has an international reputation for superior quality. Ask for it at your favourite department or shoe store — in the colours you want. Order an extra supply for your husband!

Footnote — There is also a Meltonian Wax Polish available in the new, easy-to-open key tin!

You Won't Want To Miss This Bargain Offer! . . . By saving Libby's Evaporated Milk labels, you can have a set of 6 teaspoons or a 24-piece set of famous Wallace Brothers Silver Plate in the beautiful "Laurentian" pattern exclusive with this Libby offer! All pieces except knives are silver-plated on finest quality nickel silver with an extra deposit of silver at the point of greatest wear. Knives have stainless, mirror-finish blades and silver-plated handles. Get in the happy habit of using delicious, nutritious LIBBY'S EVAPORATED MILK in your cooking — you'll soon have enough Libby's labels to take advantage of these amazing bargain prices — 6 teaspoons ($2 open stock value) for just $1 and 6 Libby's Evaporated Milk labels — OR — a 24-Piece Set of 6 teaspoons, 6 dessert spoons, 6 forks, 6 knives ($15 open stock value) for only $6 and 24 Libby's Evaporated Milk labels. (Labels from both large and small tins are acceptable for both offers.) For your silverware — simply send labels and money order to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.

Here's How to make delicious tea every time! First of all — be sure it's BLUE RIBBON TEA. The makers of Blue Ribbon Tea see to it that you get the very best quality — yet you pay no more! They've made their blend from some of the finest India and Ceylon teas . . . tender small tea leaves from hill-top estates . . . tea leaves picked in the "full-flavour" months at the peak of their quality! So ask your grocer for Blue Ribbon Tea — then for perfect tea—follow these fool-proof tea-making rules:— Bring fresh water to a vigorous boil; warm tea-pot; one teaspoonful of tea per person and "one for the pot"; then let tea steep for at least five minutes. It is always important to be accurate and careful in your preparation.

I Know A Bride Who's In Luck (and in love) with her new SUPREME ALUMINUM TREASURE CHEST. Just wait 'til you see these big pink and blue Treasure Chests—gift-packed with no less than twenty gleaming Supreme Aluminum cooking utensils — a complete kitchen set for the lucky bride . . . so perfect for a kitchen shower! You see, a Supreme Aluminum Treasure Chest costs only $19.95 . . . figure that out among, say, twenty friends! And there's just the one big gift to buy, with no chance of embarrassing duplication. Hardware and department stores carry Supreme and Lifetime Treasure Chests . . . they're of the same high quality—the same marvelous value!

One Of The Things I like most about Aunt Jemima Pancakes is that it doesn't take more than minutes to make them! A heaping plateful of golden-brown AUNT JEMIMA READY-MIX PANCAKES is as easy as 1-2-3 to prepare! Just add milk or water—stir—and pop your Aunt Jemimas on the griddle. M-mmm! Off they come, luscious as a dream—then I spread them with butter, smother them in syrup and serve them with crisp bacon or sausages. A tried-'n'-true formula for keeping families happy — and, here's good news!—one of the best ways I know to help keep food budgets balanced! Treat your family to Aunt Jemimas at breakfast, lunch or supper . . . they're a "More, mom!" dish at any time of the day!

Did You Know that, according to health authorities, 50% of children at 10 years of age suffer from foot defects? Bunions, callouses, corns, ingrown toenails almost always begin with badly fitting shoes. That's why it's so important to choose your child's shoes wisely and well. That's why I urge you to ask for genuine DELLI COLLI children's shoes! They're priced as low as ordinary shoes, yet they're made of the finest leather and designed for your child's foot health by experts in the art of making children's shoes! Ask for Delli Colli shoes by these names — Merry-Go-Round, Bolo, Chiropedic, Delico.

New Discovery for families everywhere! It's the new antihistamine formula for colds — ANOHIST! And right now —with the cold season just around the corner — it's extra important to know about Anohist . . . for by taking Anohist at first sneezes or sniffles, you can stop cold symptoms in a single day! And yet Anohist's prompt, effective relief costs only about 3c per tablet in the Super-Economy Family-Size bottle. So — discover Anohist for yourself — get a supply at your druggist's today! Remember: all antihistamines are not alike. They vary greatly in performance. Anohist is the antihistamine formula recommended for family use because of its success in actual clinical tests.

Here's An Important "Footnote" to remember when you're buying the family's shoes for Fall and Winter . . . look for the NEOLITE name on the soles of the shoes you buy. Neolite soles are healthy . . . they're absolutely waterproof — so when pavements are wet—feet stay dry. Neolite is more flexible than leather, needs no breaking in. And Neolite is economical. With the same amount of wear 'n' tear, it outwears leather over 2 to 1. And, mothers—one special feature of Neolite you'll like particularly is that it doesn't mark floors. So buy shoes soled with Neolite for the whole family. Insist on Neolite when you take shoes to be resoled. You can't get a more healthful shoe sole.

Married Office Worker Can Improve at Both Jobs

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young married woman, working in an office where I have a lot of idle time on my hands. How can I best employ this? Should I read? If so, what sort of books? How much time should a young married couple give to housecleaning? It has become an argument between my husband and myself. I find something to do every night about the house which leaves us no time for pleasure, to which he objects. How much should a husband help his wife with the housework if both work during the day and then the wife comes home to do the cooking?

ALICE.

ANSWER: The more proficient you are in your work, the better pay you will get. It is the experts in any line who get the fat pay envelopes, and so the very best way in which you can put in your idle time is to study your job. No matter what you do, learn to do it better. Get the accuracy and speed that only comes by incessant practice. If you are a telephone operator, be our little Mrs. Blank who never plugs in the wrong numbers, never forgets a message. If you are a stenographer, memorize the dictionary, and particularly learn how to spell all the technical terms that your employer uses in his letters. If you are a bookkeeper, make yourself a wizard at figures. If you are a file clerk, be the memory of your firm.

As long as you have to work you have to spend your hours in an office and you have to go through certain motions of labor, why not make this count, as you can do by improving your work?

Reading Profitable

Of course, reading is a profitable way to spend your time, always provided you read worthwhile books. As to what to read, go to your nearest library and talk it over with some sympathetic librarian who will start you on the right pathway.

The only answer one can possibly make to the question of how much time a young married couple should give to housecleaning is as much as necessary. Cleanliness is next to righteousness in a home. In fact, the home spirit cannot survive in an untidy house.

The girl who keeps on with her job after marriage has an entirely different domestic status from the one who has nothing to do but to keep house. Then the husband should do his share of the housework. He should do his part of the sweeping and cleaning and cooking, and not dump all the labor of making a home on his wife. When a wife goes fifty-fifty with her husband in working outside of the home, it is up to him to give her a square deal in it.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Please answer these questions concerning matrimonial agencies. (1) Are a substantial number of marriages made through these agencies successful? (2) Are not marriages made through these agencies dependent upon the financial condition of the persons involved? (3) In the absence of the conventional way to marriage would you advise the services of a matrimonial agency?

E. A. W.

ANSWER: There are no statistics about the way that mail-order marriages turn out, but your own common sense must tell you that very few of them can be successful. Heaven knows that there is risk enough in marrying a man or woman you made mud pies with in your childhood and went to school with; whose every quirk of character you think you know, whose family you know and whose background is the same as your own. Why, then, the hazardous chance that anyone would take in marrying a man or woman whom one had not even seen, whose antecedents and past were shrouded in mystery and of whose character, habits and taste one had not even an inkling?

Of course, the property consideration is the bait with which these advertising suitors fish. It is always a woman with property or a man with a nice business who would like to meet a congenial soul— object matrimony. Many suckers leap at this tempting morsel of easy money that is dangled before them, and it is a dangerous business because it may even lead to their death. Some years ago a woman was convicted of having murdered 12 men who answered her advertisements saying she was a widow who possessed a fine farm, was lonely and would like to marry a man who had a few thousand dollars and would like to run the farm.

Marriage isn't all it seems to be, anyway. It never is what it is advertised to be.

DEAR MISS DIX: How can I persuade my husband to permit me to drive our car? I sacrificed and did without things I needed in order to pay for it, but he does not allow me to use it, although I am a good driver. He works within walking distance of our home, but drives the car every day and parks it outside of where he works rather than let me have the pleasure of taking my baby and going someplace one afternoon a week.

A WIFE.

ANSWER: The car belong just as much to you as it does to him, and if you have a baby to take around you need it more than he does. He is being colossally selfish and should be ashamed of himself.

A ONE-CRUST APPLE PIE is a new way of making an old favorite and now with lovely fall apples available the recipe which Mary Moore gives in the accompanying article can be put to good use.

Making Good Use of Apples Availalbe in Early Autumn

By MARY MOORE

Oh scrumptious apple, luscious fruit
Delectable to me,
I'll bake thee, stew thee, eat thee raw,
For breakfast, lunch or tea.

Two baskets of apples, one Gravenstein and one Wealthy, provided me with my weekend's entertainment and were the source of material for this short story (and poem) on apples,—the universally popular fruit.

While the Gravensteins and Wealthies are obtainable I hope you will try an apple crisp using them. It is an entirely different dessert from the apple crisp you make with winter apples.

This is true too, of apple dumplings made with Gravensteins or Wealthies. Your crust must be very tender though for the apples cook softer than most and you do not want to be caught pressing hard with your fork to break through a tough crust and suddenly crash through the soft apple centre to your china plate.

Heaven forbid anyone should make such hard crust—except my children that is—with whose pastry we have been known to play football.

New Apple Pudding

Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, ¾ cup sifted flour, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 teaspoon almond extract, ¾ cup chopped walnuts, 1½ cups chopped raw apple. Beat eggs for 3 minutes, then beat in sugar. Sift together flour, salt, baking powder, cinnamon and nutmeg; sift into egg mix. Add extract, nuts and apples; mix. Pour into buttered baking dish and bake at 325 to 350 deg. Fahr. for 50 minutes. Best served with unsweetened whipped cream or Beaumert cheese.

A One-Crust Apple Pie

Crust: One and one-half cups sifted pastry flour, ¼ teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup shortening, 5 to 7 tablespoons ice water. Sift together the dry ingredients and cut in the shortening until mixture resembles coarse oatmeal. Cut in the ice water, mixing only long enough to make ingredients hold together.

Filling: 4 cups chopped apples, 1 cup chopped prunes is optional (I like the addition of a cup of fresh or dried peaches or apricots too), 1 tablespoon grater orange rind, 1-3 cup orange juice, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup sugar, 4 tablespoons flour, ½ cup corn syrup OR ¼ cup each prune juice and molasses, 2 teaspoons melted butter, 1 cup unsweetened whipeping cream.

Line deep large pie plate with crust, having it come ¼-inch above top edge, then tuck this extra crust under so that edge is double, then scallop it by pressing between thumb and finger.

Mix apples, prunes or other fruit, orange rind and juice. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Pour into pie shell. Bake at 450 deg. Fahr. for 15 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 deg. Fahr. for finish cooking apples and crust. Cool. When pie is cold put border of unsweetened whipped cream around edge. (About 350 cal. per serving.)

New York Central Baked Apples

Cut skin from one-third of apple at top, cut out core. Fill centre with raisins mixed with honey, and top with a whole walnut dipped in honey. Bake in dish containing a little water at 375 deg. Fahr. for about 40 minutes (for fall apples).

SILVER-FOX PELTS

The first sale of silver-fox pelts, held in England in 1910, averaged $1,339 per pelt, one alone bringing $2,627.

PAPAL TITLE

K Harris led in the worship service and presided for business which included announcement of the sectional rally to be held in Mark St. United Church October 5 with Miss Annie Bishop, supply secretary of the Dominion Board as speaker. Miss Jones and her committee served tea and refreshments after the meeting.

Jamieson-Taylor Wedding At Bride's Home

COLDSPRINGS, Sept. 28. — (ENS).—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Artless Taylor, Coldsprings, was scene of a pretty autumn wedding Saturday when their youngest daughter, Mary Kathleen, was united in marriage to Everett Arthur Jamieson, only son of Mr and Mrs. Arthur Jamieson, Camborne. The Rev. Preston C. Brown performed the ceremony.

The house was beautifully decorated with pink and white gladioli, white candles and wedding bells, pink and white streamers and autumn flowers. Mrs. Wm. Stephens, Cobourg, great-aunt of the bride, played wedding music, before the ceremony and during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin and Chantilly lace with nylon yoke and long lily-point sleeves. A beaded tiara held the fingertip veil, and she carried a bouquet of deep red sweetheart roses and white baby 'mums.

Miss Beatrice Jamieson, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Her gown was of pale blue net over taffeta with matching mittens and head-dress. She carried a nosegay of pink roses and white baby 'mums.

Mr. Harold Taylor, brother of the bride, was groomsman, and Gordon Buttars, Plainville, brother-in-law of the bride, was usher.

At the reception the bride's mother received in a wine crepe dress with cut velvet bodice and black accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow baby 'mums. The groom's mother assisted in a navy crepe dress with navy accessories, and she wore a corsage of red roses.

Assisting to serve were Mrs. Arnold Hare, Cobourg, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Edwin Lacey, Camborne, cousin of the groom, and Mrs. Reginald Willis, Cobourg.

Guests were from Toronto, Fenelon Falls, Perrytown, Port Hope, Cobourg and Camborne.

After the honeymoon the couple will reside on the groom's farm at Camborne. For travelling, the bride wore a wine gabardine suit with black velvet accessories.

200 at Banquet Share In Arrangements

About 200 guests were welcomed to the mother and daughter banquet Tuesday evening at St. St. James' United Church by WMS president Miss M. Bowers. The occasion was also a fall rally of the missionary organizations of the church and each one contributed either by sharing in the program, or giving assistance in the preparation of supper.

The tables were attractively laid by members of the Mother's Auxiliary to the Baby Band. An inspirational worship service was conducted by Jean Wagar Mission Circle with scripture being read by Miss Shirley Potts and meditation by Miss Jean Hammond who also led in prayer.

Mrs. Hazel McLaren presided for the program when recitations were given by Peggy Ann Meiklejohn, Eleanor Seabrook and Betty Clysdale, a vocal number by Lorraine Bullied, Patsy Warman and Doreen Hutchison, and piano solos by Patsy Warman and Ruth Pitchford, the latter also playing a duet with Miss Ruth Snider.

Mrs. E. Alton, Presbyterial Secretary of the Baby Bands, extended greetings to the Mother's Auxiliary which she had organized last year.

The Rev. F. W. Craik spoke of the spiritual benefit to be derived from sharing in missionary work. Social—Home and School Crest .

Mason-Warr Vows Are Pledged At Westwood

In St. Andrew's United Church, Westwood, the wedding took place Saturday afternoon of Mary Evelyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney C. Warr, Westwood, to Mr. William Alan Mason, son of Mrs. Magaret Mason of Peterborough.

Standards with gladioli decorated the chancel and the Rev. N. Cole of Hastings performed the marriage ceremony. Mrs. Malcolm Baker, also of Hastings, played the wedding music and the bride's brother Mr. Bruce Warr was soloist. Before she entered the church he sang "O promise me" and during signing of the register he sang "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore white embossed organza over taffeta. The dress was styled with a boat-shaped neckline and collar extending across the front and forming caps over the shoulder, and the skirt was gathered in back to give a bustle effect. Her veil of silk net was held in a cap scattered with seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of deep pink roses.

Bridesmaids were sisters of the bride and groom, Miss Zola Warr and Miss Anita Mason. Their dresses were made similarly to the bride's of similar material in turquoise and pink and each wore a coronet of matching flowers. They carried bouquets of pink roses. Little Barbara Russell as flower girl was dressed in yellow embossed organza over taffeta, the skirt frilled from waist to hem, and she wore a headdress of yellow flowers and carried a nosegay of mixed blooms.

Groomsman was Mr. Hugh Morrison and the users were Rex Warr and Frederick Mason, brothers of the bride and groom.

The reception was at the bride's home where her mother was receiving in a dress of wine crepe and navy felt hat and she wore white carnations. She was assisted by the groom's mother who was in grey flowered silk and wore a black felt hat and pink carnations.

Leaving on a trip to Toronto and the United States, the bride wore a navy suit with matching hat and accessories and carried a of white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason will live in Peterborough.

Former Wren Assistant To Minister

REGINA —(CP)— Miss Alison Andrews with equal ease can preach a sermon, give a snappy naval salute or draw up a neat legal document.

She has come to Regina to serve as assistant to the Rev. Ray Hord, United Church minister in the growing Lakeview community.

Miss Andrews, born in Pictou, NS, became a minister's assistant the round-about way. Starting as secretary in a law office in Halifax, she later joined the navy and was overseas for 18 months.

She was graduated from the United Church training school for women workers in Toronto and for a year served as acting minister at Porcupine Plain, Sask., and also at Smeaton, Sask.

Miss Andrews, in an interview, said that on a whole there is a definite place for women in the ministry. While they encounter some prejudice, at the same time they have an advantage over men in some situations. Many people, for instance, will speak more freely to a woman minister than to a man.

Not Ordained

Although she acted as minister at Porcupine Plain and Smeaton, she explained she is not an ordained minister in the full sense, her qualification for church work being limited to the training school course in Toronto.

In Regina, she expects to be doing mainly youth work and assist Mr. Hord in pastoral visits and as secretary. In youth work, she said, the emphasis will be on Christian education, but there will be a well-rounded program including social activities and discussion groups.

Home and School Association News

PRINCE OF WALES SCHOOL

A plea to parents to take stock of their own children and to help educators and teachers by their support and co-operation was made by Mr. R. J. Bolton, principal of Prince of Wales School, when he addressed the Home and School Association meeting Tuesday evening. He was also explaining the new curriculum and the new trend to teach children rather than the subject.

Mr. Bolton praised his teaching staff most highly and introduced new members, Miss Mann, Miss McIntosh, Miss Donald, and Mr. Anderson.

The opening scripture and prayer was taken by the Rev. H. G. Douglas and president Mrs. W. E. Baggs was in the chair.

Regional conference being held in the Empress Kawartha Room October 28 was announced. Conveners and officers reported.

Parents visited the various classrooms after the meeting and then were served a cup of tea in the lower hall by Mrs. A. Smith and her committee.

Next Association meeting will be October 24.

New Challenge In Mission Work

GUELPH, Sept. 28— (CP). — The Rev. G. Dean Johnston of Brantford told the Dominion Council of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church Wednesday night that a great mission field exists among Canada's present "'footloose and wandering generation."

He said the immediate challenge offered "is to meet the need of money for extension of the work of the church in large urban areas" to follow young people from rural districts.

Rev. Johnston, chairman of the General Board of Missions, estimated that in another 50 years population figures would show 75 per cent living in urban centres and 25 per cent in rural areas —exactly the reverse of figures in 1900.

He said that if the church does not follow the movement of the young people into the cities from the country some one else will. "We must follow our people," he added.

He said a program now is under way to build suitable halls, small churches, and providing ministers for outlying districts in urban areas.

In overseas missionary work, the church's biggest problem was in war-torn Korea and China. A great shadow also hung over Formosa. Missions in Korea in particular were in great need of help.

Mayor Opens Dixon House As City Handicraft Centre

"I now declare the 1950 centennial year handicraft season open." With these words Mayor M. J. Swanston officially opened Dixon House Wednesday night as the handicraft centre of Peterborough and district.

A large crowd, including members of the City Council and the Recreation Commission, attended this official opening and display of handicraft work under the sponsorship of the Peterborough Handicraft Guild.

Mayor Swanston commented on the excellence of the display of the handicraft work and of the fine appearance of the house. He congratulated those who took a lading part in the work, and stressed the importance to the community of this type of recreational work for adults.

Colonel R. J. Bolton, chairman of the Recreation Commission, spoke briefly of the commission's pleasure in the development of Dixon House as a handicraft centre and of the good work being done. He congratulated the officers of the Peterborough Handicraft Guild and particularly Mrs. J. G. Wharry, who is also a member of the Recreation Commission, heading the handicraft committee.

Alex Sinclair, director of the Recreation Commission, was master of ceremonies. He reminded the audience that persons interested in any type of handicraft work should register with Dixon House as soon as possible He explained that no payment of fees was required at this time, and that classes would be arranged and teachers provided, according to the demand

President of the Handcraft Guild, Mrs. R. H. Parker, presented Mayor Swanston and Colonel Bolton with samples of pottery work, on behalf of the guild.

Wednesday night was the first time that Peterborough handicraft work has all been in one centre. Previously classes were held in the Normal School and Central Public school. The Handcraft Guild, which is affiliated with the Canadian Handcraft Guild, was established two years ago, and classes in handicraft have been held in the city since then.

Adult classes at Dixon House will be held in the afternoons and evenings in leathercraft, weaving, pottery and metal work. Registration for these classes will continue tonight and Friday night at Dixon House.

The third floor of the house will be used for weaving. The second floor contains leathercraft and art metal craft rooms. Pottery work will be done in the kitchen.

The purpose of the Handcraft Guild is to promote interest in the crafts in Peterborough. Since its beginning two years ago, there has been much growth of interest in this work. Many members won prizes at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, this year.

"This is the best display we have ever had," commented Mrs. Parker, president of the guild. The opening display included various types of leatherwork, brass and copper trays and other metal work, woven articles and displays of pottery. All articles in the display were made by members of the guild or handicraft classes.

Dixon House has been used for recreation purposes since 1941. After the last war it was given to the city by the Government.

Executive of the Handcraft Guild are Mrs. R. H. Parker, president; Mrs. E. C Frost, vice-president; Miss Jean Scott, secretary, and Mrs C. B. Waite, treasurer.

Franco's Wife Assuming Bigger Role in Spanish Life

By HENRY BUCKLEY

MADRID — (Reuters) — A slender, graceful, well-dressed woman of medium height, Dona Carmen Franco, 52-year-old wife of General Franco, is coming more and more into the limelight as First Lady of Spain.

In the first years of General Franco's tenure, she rarely accompanied him on official occasions. Today, she goes everywhere with him.

Recently she went to Rome for a Holy Year visit, virtually deputizing for her husband. He could not risk fierce demonstrations by Togliatti's Italian Communists.

Also recently, she gave an interview to a North American Roman Catholic weekly newspaper. No one in the entourage could remember any member of Franco's family ever having given a press interview before.

Likes Dark Dresses

Balenciaga, a French dressmaker despite his Spanish name, is couturier to Senora de Franco. Like most Spanish women with grown-up families, she favors dark dresses or tailored suits.

She can often be seen shopping in Madrid, hatless and simply dressed, without police escort. But on ceremonial occasions she is dressed with considerable elegance.

Sartorial Rivals

Her stiffest sartorial trial was during the visit of Senora de Peron to Madrid in 1947 when Argentina's First Lady appeared in a series of dazzling "toilettes." However, it was generally conceded that Senora de Franco successfully kept the Spanish sartorial flag flying despite the difference in age between herself and Senora de Peron.

Senora de Franco comes from Northern Spain, from the mountainous, industrial region of Asturias, where the people are restful and reserved, and not talkative like the Madrilenos and the Southern Spaniards.

She was just 15 and attending a high school when the then 20-year-old second lieutenant Franco an unknown subaltern in Spain's over-officered army, began to wait outside school to walk home with the dark, slim Carmen Polo.

Frowned on Courtship

Carmen's father, a wealthy member of an old Asturian family, frowned on the courtship. Franco's prospects at that time were negligible, and, in any case, her father was of liberal and rather anti-militarist sentiments. Obviously, a penniless subaltern was not a promising match. But Carmen had made up her mind.

Eleven years later, Colonel Francisco Franco, holder of the highest military decorations, commander of the Spanish Legion Gentleman of the King's Household, was married to Carmen in Ovido Cathedral. The captain-general of the region represented King Alfonso at the ceremony.

BABY'S UPSET STOMACH QUICKLY CORRECTED

BABY'd little "Tummy" is often easily upset. It is easily righted again, too, if you know just how to do it. Let Mrs. M. S. Alway, of London, Ont., tell you: "Baby's Own Tablets are a great help at the first sign of upset stomach, during teething time or when a cold is coming on. They work quickly yet gently to carry away poisons and promote restful comfort."

And Mrs. W. R. Sharp says: "I nursed my baby shortly after being alarmed over a motor accident and her stomach became quite upset. I gave her Baby's Own Tablets and she soon stopped crying — and quieted down."

Equally effective for teething troubles, constipation, simple fever. Sweet-tasting, easily crushed to a powder, if desired — prompt in action. No "sleepy" stuff — no dulling effect. Buy a box today for sickness so often strikes in the night. 20 cents.

VEGETABLES must be properly prepared to bring out maximum taste and maximum benefit. The vegetable book tells you how to prepare them and how to serve them.

COOKBOOK OF THE WEEK

Learn 250 Different Ways To Prepare Your Vegetables

For the right way to prepare vegetables, the right sauce to use with them, and for endless attractive ways of serving vegetables, you must see the cookbook "250 Ways to Serve Fresh Vegetables," the eleventh in a series of twenty-four cookbooks currently being released a book a week to readers of the Examiner.

Like its ten predecessors, Snacks, Leftovers, Cakes, Poultry, Pies, Soups, Salads, Meat, Fish, and Eggs—the Vegetable Book takes one specific phase of cooking and treats it completely, thoroughly, simply, and imaginatively. The proper handling and cooking of vegetables is explained first. Then vegetables are arranged in alphabetical order, so you need only turn to the vegetable you wish to prepare and you will find a selection of recipes and tempting methods of preparation. At the end there is a large selection of recipes for sauces. Not to be overlooked are the many luscious photographic illustrations which give you no end of grand suggestions for serving vegetables attractively.

One especially attractive looking illustration in the Vegetable Book is of broiled tomato halves wrapped in bacon and topped by a pearl onion. Here is the recipe.

Broiled Tomatoes

6 tomatoes
Salt and pepper
¼ cup butter, melted

Cut firm, round tomatoes into halves and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Broil under medium heat about 10 minutes or until tender. Pour butter over tomatoes, garnish with parsley and serve at once. Serves 6.

With bacon—Omit butter and salt. Wrap each half tomato in 2 strips of bacon placed at right angles to each other, fastening on top with picks. Broil in preheated broiler until bacon is crisp. Top each with a pearl onion before serving.

You will surely want to get your copy of the Vegetable Book right away. All you need do to get it or to catch up on any of the earlier titles in the series is clip a coupon from any issue of this newspaper—one coupon for each copy you want, and present the coupons with 25 cents for each book to the Examiner office, your Examiner carrier or Braund's Home Markets. Or send the coupons with 30 cents for each book (5c additional for postage and handling) to Cookbook Department, Examiner, Peterborough and they will be mailed to you.

What's Right

You don't care much for the necktie your husband picks out for himself and brings home.

WRONG: Tell him you think it's awful.

RIGHT: Since any criticism you make is a reflection on his taste, keep your opinion to yourself.

6—In Memoriams

JACKSON—In loving memory of James R. Jackson, a dear husband and father, who passed away two years ago, September 28, 1948.
Your dear kind face to see,
Your loving smile, your welcome voice
That meant so much to me,
No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who have such can tell
Of the grief that is borne in silence
For the one I loved so well.
—Sadly missed by wife, Viola, Robert, Louise Dorothy, Audrey and Mary

SANDS—In loving memory of Samuel Sands, who passed away two years ago to-day.
Time speeds on, two years have passed
Since death its gloom its shadow cast
Within our home where all seemed bright,
And took from us a shining light.
We miss that light, and ever will,
His vacant place there's none to fill;
Down here we mourn, but not in vain,
For up in heaven we will meet again.
—Ever remembered by Wife and Family.

Prisoner Says B.C. Jails Brutally Run

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Sept. 28—(CP)—A penitentiary prisoner testified in court Wednesday that British Columbia is notorious in the underworld for its brutal treatment of narcotic addicts.

Adolph Abrahams, serving a three-year term for possession of narcotics, told an assize court jury:

"I was whipped while awaiting trial last April at Oakalla Prison Farm and I wasn't tried until May 5." He was a defense witness for Jack Dillon, an Oakalla prisoner, charged with assaulting a guard.

Abrahams claimed routine treatment for drug addicts was to throw them on the floor of a cell and leave them there crying for medical assistance.

"They (the prisoners) break out in hot and cold chills . . . in many cases the men become hysterical."

Prison guards testified that addicts do peculiar things such as slashing their wrists, swallowing razor blades and safety pins and sometimes attempt to hang themselves.

Dillon, conducting his own defence, entered a plea of temporary insanity brought on by a withdrawal of narcotics.

"An addict becomes virtually insane during the time that narcotics are withheld," he said.

Have Milk Selling On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Sept. 28 (CP). — Prices opened with an upward rush but encountered mild selling as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today to settle back slightly.

Industrials started the ball rolling upwards in early trading but profit-taking that has held sway in two previous sessions appeared and reduced gains.

The majority of issues climbed strongly but market leaders were held to small gains. Papers, features and recent advances, were will ahead of steels, agricultures and financial institutions added. Utilities, liquors and refining oils were lower.

Base metals were moderately strong with Quemont again highlighting activity. Drill reports from the company's property in the Noranda district, northwestern Quebec, sparked heavy demand in Quemont yesterday that continued today. Golden Manitou Quebec Manitou and Steep Rock were also in demand.

Western oils jumped ahead at the opening only to settle back in mid-session.

Golds dipped into minus ground following a strong advance to the highest average price levels in three months yesterday. Seniors were fractionally higher but key juniors were lower.

Volume for the first three hours was 1,024,000 shares.

Will Speed Up Construction Of 2 A-Plants

LONDON, Sept, 28 (Reuters)—A speed-up on construction of Britain's two latest atomic centres has been ordered by the government, it was learned Wednesday.

The centres are at Capenhurst, Cheshire, and Sellafield, on the Cumberland coast. Britain will shortly have seven such centres in all.

Sellafield, in an advanced stage of construction, will house two large atomic piles for the production of plutonium.

Much of the work at Capenhurst expected to be completed early in 1952, will be on the production of uranium 235, and will be secret. The two centres, it is expected, will employ 10,000.

Many atom scientists are to be recruited from overseas countries, and hundreds of aplications from science graduates at British and foreign universities will be invited.

While it was expected construction work would be speeded up following the Prime Minister's statement on defense, some sources believed the government has also been influenced by new unemployment figures which will be announced this week.

These are expected to show that Britain has more than 310,000 unemployed, of whom about 40,000 are located in the northwest area.

Y Pool, Gym Get Paint Job

Activities in the men's and boys' departments at the YMCA will begin next week in freshly painted quarters. The gym and the pool have been painted during the past week.

The wall and ceiling in the pool area are now painted cream, grey and red and the windows have been re-glassed. In the gym the ceiling and walls have been painted cream and light grey. A band on the wall four feet off the gym floor gives an appearance of additional length and width.

Charles Forsyth, general secretary, said today water in the pool will now be heated to 80 degrees instead of 74. This is to encourage greater use of the pool by YMCA members who have not used the pool because they found the water too cool. Further equipment will be added to the pool area to change it into a recreational area.

Equipment will gradually be added to the gym, especially in the weigntlifting room. The floor has been marked for volleyball and basketball.

Recently the bowling alleys were sanded and varnished for the season which opens Monday. Any league wishing alleys should contact Mr. Forsyth, as the YMCA has one night open.

Defence Offices In Washington House 30,000

Time was when the word Pentagon invariably produced either a wisecrack or a moan. The huge reinforced concrete doughnut, built early in World War II to house the Army's brass, together with some 30,000 others, just could not help inspiring both gags and expletives, recalls a writer in the World-Telegram, New York.

Today the world's largest office building has become almost as accepted a part of Washington as the Capitol (which, incidentally, would fit into any one of its five wedge-shaped sections) or the famous Washington Monument.

Some Changes

The Pentagon looks about the same as it did when the Army first took possession, back in 1943. But there have been changes—not all of them due to the fact that it now shelters the top echelon of the entire defence establishment.

For one thing, it is possible now to walk along the 17½ miles of corridors without first arming yourself with an assortment of credentials or a guard. This gives the place a more formal air, less reminiscent of the gold storage vaults at Fort Knox—or a penitentiary.

The distances are as vast as ever and the system of corridors and rings within rings equally as confusing. You can get lost. Before long, if the international situation gets worse, the former system of vari-colored passes required by visitors may be reinstituted. But, despite the Korean crisis, you still can get into the Pentagon, up to 8 p.m., without identification.

Weird Stories

They used to tell all sorts of weird stories about people who got lost in the huge building. One popular legend concerned a busy little repair man, sometimes referred to as Jim and at others as Bill.

In any event, Jim—or Bill—climbed a ladder to fix a hinge on a trapdoor in the ceiling of ring C, corridor 8, on the fourth floor. That was on a July morning in 1943. Nobody saw him again until the day before Christmas, when, beaten and bedraggled, he staggered out of an escalator on which General Marshall was riding.

In the old days—six or seven years ago—many of the thousands of buses, cabs and private vehicles that daily approached the Pentagon often missed the proper turns among the cloverleafs composing the 30 miles of highways giving access to the building.

After the $84,000,000 structure was built, it often was referred to as a "white elephant." Once the war was over, some asserted, there would be no possible use for it except, perhaps, as a gigantic storage space for dead government records. Then the suggestion was made that it be used for an Army hospital. This, for a time, was seriously considered.

House Bosses

No one knew then, of course, what the postwar world would be like. It was naively supposed that peace would reign and the Army would have no need for such a monstrous, out-of-the-way edifice.

Now that the Korean campaign is on, defence leaders are grateful that they have a building big enough to house the bosses, planning staffs and other essential elements of the armed forces.

The building is a veritable city where more than 23,000 individuals—at least 17,000 of them civilians—are employed. This is roughly 5,000 fewer than there were during World War II. It is the kind of place where you will find, in addition to its 600,000 square feet of floor space, such handy conveniences as seven cafeterias, nine beverage bars and three dining rooms—all supplied from a single production kitchen.

The generals and admirals, together with department chiefs, have their own private dining rooms. Officers, equivalent to the rank of major and above, have another. Moreover, there's an outdoor beverage bar situated in the concrete spider web's centre court. This bar alone can serve 3,000 persons at lunch.

Visitors to the Pentagon, a major sightseeing attraction, marvel at finding on its immense concourse such facilities as a post office, barber shop, drug store, department store, book store and complete banking service But that's not all. There are also medical and dental clinics, laundry and dry-cleaning establishments and a vast locker where frozen foods may be checked.

There are 33,000 telephones in the building, and the private branch exchange is the largest of its kind in the world, with approximately 70,000 miles of trunk lines.

Floor space of the building is three times that of the Empire State Building. The structure's concourse alone is 689 feet long and 150 feet wide. It's a mile around the outside. Vast as the building is, however, you can get to whatever part of it you wish in six minutes or less, according to Defence Department statisticians.

Assault Conviction

MILTON, Ont., Set. 28—Lorne W. Hawes, 21, of Oakville, Ont., was acquitted Wednesday of a charge of manslaughter but convicted of assault in the death of Gordon Titus. He will be sentenced today. Titus, 36-year-old father of four children, died Aug. 10 following a scuffle in a Milton restaurant. Evidence was that the men quarrelled over an incident weeks earlier when Titus refused to give Hawes and three other men beer when they visited his home.

Ford-UAW Talks Delayed On New Salary Demands

WINDSOR, Sept. 28 — (CP).—Ford Motor Company of Canada and Local 200, United Automobile Workers (CIO), failed to meet as planned Wednesday to discuss union wage boost demands. But the union said the talks would probably resume today.

"The company asked for a postponement of the discussions until Thursday afternoon," Roy England, president of UAW Local 200 said.

Talks were adjourned last week to allow the company to study union demands for supplementary wage boosts of 10 cents hourly for production workers and 15 cents hourly for skilled and foundry workers.

The union made that proposal later after turning down a Ford offer of a five-year contract involving immediate wage increases and automatic pay boosts during the next five years.

Stomach Out Of Order Long Time—Felt Tired, Rundown

Pains Set In Limbs, Back, Joints. Got Bad Headaches, Dizzy Spells and Couldn't Sleep Well. Tells Of Grand Results He Got By Taking Syntona.

MR. THOMAS W. ELGIE

"I suffered from stomach disorders for a long time, was often afraid to eat, and my entire system became rundown," said Mr. Thomas W. Elgie, 12 York Street, London, Ontario, in a recent report.

"Indigestion, awful gas, and sour acid risings, followed almost every meal I would bloat up with gas and get a full, heavy feeling in my stomach. My nerves were very bad and I was not sleeping at all well. Dark spots floated before my eyes. I'd get terrible dizzy spells and throbbing headaches. Then, more recently, pains set in my back, limbs, joints and muscles which also disturbed my sleep and added to the tired, worn-out feeling that I had every day.

"One day I was telling a friend of mine how I felt and he advised me to try Syntona. Right away I got some and even from the first bottle I found my food was digesting better. I was encouraged and kept on taking it and now I am eating heartily, and sleeping well and have no trouble with stomach distress, headaches, or dizziness. Gradually the pains in my back, limbs, joints and muscles went away. Now I don't feel tired or worn-out as I did before and I certainly can recommend Syntona after what it has done for me."

Thousands of men and women find Syntona a medicine on which they can depend to relieve common disorders of the stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels and associated rheumatic, nervous, rundown condition. It is pleasant to take and the results are quickly felt.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store. (Advt.)

Rules Pilot Of Franconia Responsible

Error In Judgment Blamed By Judge For Liner's Grounding

QUEBEC, Sept. 29—(CP)—Grounding of the Cunard liner Franconia on the Island of Orleans on the evening of July 12 was due to "a grave error of judgment" on the part of Pilot Edmond Lamontagne, Mr. Justice Arthur I. Smith decided in a ruling given here today.

The ruling follows an investigation into circumstances surrounding the stranding of the vessel.

His Lordship ordered the pilot's licence suspended for the balance of the 1950 navigation season and recommended that steps be taken to compel all vessels to comply with Quebec harbor regulations limiting speeds to eight knots.

The vessel ran aground some 30 minutes after she sailed from Wolfe's Cove here with 846 passengers and a crew of 426. All passengers and crew were removed without loss of life.

Travelling Too Fast

His Lordship came to the conclusion that prior to the grounding, the vessel was travelling at approximately 12½ knots through the water.

In that connection, he said, "The court does not find that the speed at which the ship was proceeding was a cause of the grounding.

"Nevertheless the court is of the opinion that in the circumstances the speed was excessive and had the Franconia been proceeding at a slower speed the danger might have been appreciated in time to have been averted."

His Lordship recalled the steps taken after the crash to ensure the safety of passengers and crew members and found them entirely adequate, so adequate that no loss of life was suffered.

Even Caller Surprised

HOULTON, Me., Sept. 29—(AP)—Even the moose caller was surprised at the response he got. Shortly after the Rev. Percy R. Hayden sounded his 29-year-old birch bark horn, four bull moose responded Wednesday in a northern Maine forest clearing. The minister said two of the big animals appeared together. Shortly afterward a third arrived. Soon a fourth came from another direction. They didn't stay long. Moose are protected in Maine by law against hunting at all times—to save the small population remaining in the State.

Premiers Report Good Progress At Conference

QUEBEC, Sept. 20 (CP). — Canada's 11 governments have passed another milestone on the complex constitutional path leading to unqualified nationhood for the dominion.

At the conclusion Thursday of a four-day federal-provincial constitutional conference, the governments reported in a prepared statement that substantial progress had been made towards agreement on a method of giving Canada complete power over her constitution.

They agreed to meet again in Ottawa in December and, in the meantime, to continue their negotiations through correspondence.

The prepared statement was read by Prime Minister St. Laurent at an open meeting in the legislative assembly chamber where the government leaders sat for three days in private studying how constitutional changes should be made once control over the constitution is transferred from the United Kingdom.

The conference statement said there had been a "full and frank discussion" on the principles of a general amending procedure, and agreement had been reached on many of them.

Considerable Progress

"Important sections of the constitution involving what are considered fundamental and basic rights of the provinces were studied at length and considerable progress towards agreement has been made," said the statement. "Various formulae for amendment were submitted which, while having in view the safeguarding of these basic rights, would assure adequate flexibility in the constitution."

Attention was drawn to the spirit of harmony and co-operation that had prevailed. At the final meeting, the good feeling among all delegates was apparent.

In a happy mood, Prime Minister St. Laurent and the Premiers thanked Premier Duplessis for his hospitality and his geniality during the conference. Mr. Duplessis thanked Mr. St. Laurent for the way he handled the chairmanship of the conference.

Premier Frost of Ontario said there had been no disagreements. There had been expressions of different viewpoints, but he was certain the governments would succeed in "achieving the objective we have set for ourselves."

Shells Falling On Reds At 38th Line

No Announcement Yet Whether Allies To Enter North Korea

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Sept. 29—(AP)—A U.S. Eighth Army spokesman said tonight advancing South Korean forces have been ordered to halt for "regrouping" at the 38th parallel.

The spokesman said he would not comment on the prospects of further orders after the "regrouping".

Two South Korean spearheads tonight were near if not actually on the 38th parallel, which separates Communist North Korean and Democratic South Korea.

The forward force was on the eastern—Sea of Japan—coast and firing artillery shells into Red positions astride the border line.

It was the closest reported Allied approach to the Communist north and the first ground engagement known to have taken place along the Reds' home country.

There was still no announced decision of whether Allied forces would cross the border into North Korea.

Across the peninsula, other South Koreans were reported nearing the 38th Parallel north of liberated Seoul. The border is 30 miles north of the South Korean capital. The Red capital, Pyongyang, is 70 miles farther north.

AP Correspondent Leif Erickson, flying over the east coastal area on an observation mission, reported the South Korean big gun shells plumped into ridges on the boundary line.

Seoul was handed back ceremoniously during the day by Gen. MacArthur to President Syngman Rhee in a solemn victory celebration among shattered ruins in the capital.

Would the South Korean forces stop at parallel 38 or drive ahead and try to seize the Reds' capital, Pyongyang, 70 miles farther north?

MacArthur conferred in Seoul with President Rhee and his own Allied top commanders on that point and others.

No Decision

Then the United Nations commander flew back to his headquarters in Tokyo without announcing any decision on what his forces might do at the border.

In non-Communist diplomatic capitals elsewhere, the United Nations circles particularly, it is generally agreed that MacArthur has broad powers under UN edicts to pacify Korea and the surrounding area in any way he deems best.

That means that crossing Parallel 38 is within his discretion if deemed a military necessity.

The aim of non-Communist countries in the United Nations is to unify the Soviet-indoctrinated north and the UN-sponsored republic of the south, and clinch the union in general elections under UN supervision.

Horses Battle Wolf

BARRIE, Sept. 29—(CP)—Two plow horses battled a wolf Thursday until Charles Grant killed it with a tree branch on his farm at Minesing, 10 miles west of here. Grant said he had just chased another wolf from his chicken-coop; it had eaten three hens.

Taxicab Plows Into Truck Four Killed

PETAWAWA, Sept. 29—(CP)—The death toll as a result of Thursday night's crash between a taxi and a light delivery truck climbed to four with the death today of a third Special Service Force soldier in Pembroke Hospital.

Army headquarters declined to disclose the names of the three soldiers who have died as a result of the crash, nor the name of a fourth soldier injured until next-of-kin have been notified. All of the soldiers involved are believed to be from Nova Scotia.

However, it was learned from other sources that the dead are: Pte. G. B. Lair, Pte. M. R. Royals and Pte. W. D. Clooney. Critically injured, Clooney died after he had been removed to Pembroke Hospital.

Another soldier, Pte. Mervin Robinson, 22, whose address could not be learned, is in Petawawa Military Hospital. This soldier-victim of the crash is believed to be in critical condition, suffering from a broken arm, internal injuries and shock. Hospital authorities said the latest report is that he is "sinking."

Others injured are a 15-year-old girl, Louella Lachance, of Pembroke, in Pembroke Hospital in critical condition, and Don Barnes of Ottawa, 32, driver of the truck, whose condition in hospital is reported "fair."

The civilian who died in the crash was Theophile Lair of Pembroke, the cab driver.

Near Pembroke

The crash occurred about 2½ miles west of Pembroke, about 20 miles east of Petawawa and about 100 miles northwest of Ottawa.

Police said evidence at the scene indicated the taxi, apparently heading back to Petawawa Military Camp where some units of the special service force have been training, was on the wrong side of a straight stretch of highway when the crash occurred.

Mrs. O. H. Kidd, who lives 25 yards from the scene of the accident said wreckage was strewn for 100 yards along the road in both directions.

British Columbia Premier Severely Injured In Quebec Car Collision

Wife Also Seriously Hurt In Smash-Up On Fog Bound Road; Both Will Be In Hospital For Some Time

QUEBEC, Sept. 29—(CP)—Premier Johnson of British Columbia and Mrs. Johnson, returning home from the Quebec constitutional conference, were injured severely today when their automobile collided with another in thick fog at St. Augustin, near here. Premier Johnson, 59, suffered a fractured left hip and Mrs. Johnson, who is 56, shoulder injuries and possibly rib fractures in the crash on the Quebec-Montreal highway. Dr. Carol Goldenberg of Montreal, adviser to the British Columbia government during the conference which ended here Thursday night, was only slightly hurt. He was not kept in hospital.

The collision occurred near St. Augustin, a small Portneuf County village along the St. Lawrence River north shore, about 15 miles from here.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and Dr. Goldenberg were brought to St. Sacrement Hospital here in a Provincial Police radio car.

Dr. Jean Paul Roger, attending physician at the big St. Sacrement Hospital in the fashionable uptown district, said:

Condition Satisfactory

"Our X-rays have not been studied thoroughly yet, but there is no reason to believe Premier Johnson and Mrs. Johnson have suffered major injuries."

Dr. Roger described their condition as "satisfactory."

He said Premier Johnson had suffered a "small fracture" to the left hip, while the nature of Mrs. Johnson's injuries had not yet been determined. He said she had a shoulder injury and possibly other internal injuries. Mrs. Johnson, 56, was also suffering from nervous shock, Dr. Roger said.

The hospital physician said both the Premier and his wife would have to remain in hospital for some time.

Premier Johnson had expressed the desire to go home as soon as possible, Dr. Roger said, and some arrangements will be made as soon as a clearer picture of their condition is available.

Formosa Debate Opened To Red China

NEW YORK, Sept. 29—(AP)—The United Nations Security Council today voted 7 to 4 to permit China's participation in the Council's Formosa debate after Nov. 15.

Council president Sir Gladwyn Jebb of Britain ruled that the proposal was adopted. Nationalist China immediately challenged the ruling on the ground she had vetoed the resolution.

The resolution on which the Council voted was introduced by Ecuador. Yugoslavia withdrew a similar resolution of her own when the Council convened.

The test came in a vote on the operative part of the Ecuadorean resolution, calling for a postponement of the debate on Red China's charges of American aggression against Formosa until Nov. 15 and inviting the Peiping regime to send a representative here to take part in the discussions.

Line-Up

Voting for this were Russia, Britain, France, Norway, India, Yugoslavia and Ecuador. The United States, Nationalist China, Cuba and Egypt voted against it.

Then the Council voted on the whole resolution, including a long preamble. The result was the same except that Egypt switched from the negative column to abstention.

Council rules require seven affirmative votes, including those of the five permanent members, for approval of suestions of substance. On procedural questions, the permanent membesrs do not have to concur if a measure receives a total of seven votes. In other words, the veto does not apply.

Believe Truman To Appoint Eisenhower Army Head

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—(AP)—Speculation increased today that President Truman may appoint Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to command that projected International Army to defend Western Europe. This talk is based in part on what Truman said about Eisenhower at his press conference Thursday and in part on the fact that Washington officials believe a man of outstanding reputation and proved ability should get the Supreme Command post.

The mere naming of such a man, high officials say, would help to create in non-Communist Europe a new sense of confidence and progress toward real security.

Truman was asked at the press conference whether he was considering Eisenhower for some new job, probably in Europe. He replied that Eisenhower is always available at the president's call but that he has not considered him because there is no appointment to make yet.

Plan Single Army

The foreign ministers of the 12 North Atlantic Treaty countries decided in New York earlier this week that Allied forces for the defence of Europe should be merged into a single army under a general staff made up of officers of all the co-operating powers and headed eventually by a supreme commander.

Theoretically this commander might come from any one of the Atlantic powers; actually, the Europeans have already told the United States they want an American officer to have the job.

In addition, the State and Defence Departments are aware that many European leaders have tremendous admiration for Eisenhower because of his achievements as Allied supreme commander in Europe in the second world war.

His task then, of course, was to lead an international force somewhat similar to that now proposed. His popular reputation as a hero in Europe is considered here to be beyond question and unmatched by that of any other American.

Detectives Save Three From Jail

HAMILTON, Sept. 29 (CP). — Detective work by defence counsel and quick action by two city detectives in verifying certain information and getting a statement from a complainant in an assault and robbery charge was credited here Thursday with saving three men from possible prison terms if convicted of the assault and robbery count.

The three men, Donald Lebarra, Thomas Anderson, and James Gordon, were acquitted of the charge by Judge Theo L. McCombs after he had read the alleged "confession" of the complainant, Edward Ninham, of London. It was introduced into court as an exhibit.

Police said Ninham will appear in Magistrate's Court today charged with armed robbery, perjury and obstruction.

While the statement was not read in court, it was understood to contain an admission that the story Ninham told police earlier was untrue; that he was not assaulted and robbed by the trio, but rather, that he had held them up.

Giant Landslide

GOETEPORG, Sweden, Sept. 29 (AP)—A giant landslide crushed approximately 40 houses and moved a railroad 100 yards in Surte today.

Only one person is known to have been killed, police here said.

Surte is an industrial community of 2,000 inhabitants in western Sweden, about nine miles north of Goeteborg.

Some persons suffered shocks when the earth under their feet started moving toward the Goeta river. Ambulances and rescue squads from neighboring cities rushed to the scene.

Eye-witnesses reported that chaos reigned in Surte.

India Will Oppose Entering North Korea

LONDON, Sept. 29—(AP)—India has told the United States, Britain and other western countries she will oppose any plan for United Nations forces to pursue North Korean Communists across the 38th parallel.

Diplomatic officials reported today Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India, has expressed the view to leaders of the Big Western powers that the U.N. is committed only to the defences of South Korea and not to the subjugation of North Korea.

Nehru's action is considered here as bringing into the open a split between the United States and some of the Commonwealth countries over the question whether North Korea should or should not be altered.

Fire Sweeps Oshawa Plant

OSHAWA, Sept. 29 —(CP)—Truck production at General Motors of Canada Limited here was halted today by fire in a section of the company's north plant.

Officials declined to estimate damage but it was known that expensive electrical equipment is housed in the damaged section. Automobile production was not affected.

Despite the production halt, all truck workers reported for duty today to help clean up. The truck assembly line is expected to remain closed down until early next week.

The north plant employees about 1,000 men.

The blaze broke out in the sheet metal paint department shortly after the workers had gone off shift. It was believed started by an overheated electrical installation.

Plant and city firemen, summoned by a night watchman, battled the flames for more than three hours before bringing them under control. The fire was halted before it reached the conveyer lines connecting the north plant with the company's other major plant here.

Name Dana Wilgress Committee Chairman

TORQUAY, Devon, England, — Sept. 29 (AP)—The international tariff conference today picked Canada's L. Dana Wilgress to preside over its tariff negotiating committee, directing body of the 39-country meeting. Wilgress, Canada's High Commissioner in London, is also conference chairman.

The bilateral talks on tariff reductions are expected to begin Monday. As many as 400 separate discussions may develop during the conference.

The tariff conference, the third in a series sponsored by the United Nations, will last several months.

Thousands of Rioting Reds Threaten Weekend Trouble

BONN, Germany, Sept. 29 (AP) —West German police rushed preparations today to meet an expected onslaught by thousands of rioting Communists in at least nine cities of the industrial Ruhr this week-end.

From Hamburg in the northern corner of the Allied zones to Cologne on the Rhine, cities were gripped by tension as police summoned reserves and warned the populace to stay off the streets and avoid public gatherings.

British authorities said intelligence reports indicate that Communist demonstrations will erupt in nine or 10 cities despite Allied and German bans.

The Communists have publicly trumpeted their intention to "fight ceabelessly" against the strengthening of western defences in Germany and to undermine the West German government.

In the meantime a wave of unrest appeared today to be shaking Germany's Russian zone.

Reports of growing resistance to the Communists were confirmed by the Reds themselves.

The outbreaks may have been encouraged by the United Nations successes in Korea, judging from the timing.

East zone informants said the propaganda activity against the Red regime was particularly heightened in Leipzig, Dessau, Magdeburg, Potsdam and Halle.

A flood of pamphlets urging the Germans to boycott the ration-free stores, the Communist political meetings and the Red press have been found in these cities.

Hadn't Met In 50 Years Sisters Left $100,000

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 29 (AP) —Two Middletown, NY, women have been declared the heirs to an estimated $100,000 left by a sister they had not heard from for more than 50 years.

The women—Mrs. Anna G. Romer, 62, and Miss Katherine Glynn, 74—were found after a two-year search by John J. Fuerst court-appointed administrator for the estate of the late Mrs. Mae Glynn Haas of Cleveland Heights.

Mrs. Haas, 72 when she died in 1948, had fled her home. A half-century ago she came to Cleveland and from then on she kept her identity secret and did not communicate with her sisters.

The administrator finally found the sisters by means of family tintypes found in a secret compartment of Mrs. Haas' kitchen stove.

Student Shoots At Policemen

WHITBY, Sept. 29 (CP)—An 18-year-old high school student turned on two provincial police officers Thursday with a .22-calibre rifle and fired five wild shots at them.

Police did not return the fire. They took the youth—his name was not disclosed—into protective custody.

He left his home in Brooklin, 12 miles north of here, with the rifle and ammunition. When his parents reported him missing, police went looking for him.

The youth hid in a culvert and fired three shots at a police cruiser containing the officers and his uncle when it approached. When the officers closed in from each side of the culvert, he fired two more shots at close range. His uncle finally persuaded him to throw away the gun.

No explanation was given for the shooting. Police quoted the youth as saying he left home because he wanted to be al—

13 Surviving Bomber Crash Have Great Arizona Reunion

TUCSON, Ariz., Sept. 29 (AP) —Thirteen United States air force men who survived a B-50 bomber crash in the wilds of Labrador have returned to a joyful reunion with their families here.

The men landed here Thursday night, looking somewhat haggard from their experience.

The return scene contrasted sharply with first news last Thursday that an air force plane was missing on a flight from Goose Bay, Labrador, to its home base at Tucson.

All 16 members of the crew were listed as missing, and a dramatic search reaching from Labrador to Arizona was started.

The crashed plane was found about 95 miles southwest of Goose Bay at 2 p.m. Sunday. Everyone aboard escaped serious injury.

Capt. Alvin B. Tonne, 29, a bombardier, today described how the 12 crew members and four passengers aboard, all military personnel, were forced to jump to safety.

They were ordered to bail out after three engines went out during the first hour of the flight. The men plummetted into a marshy area.

Cpl. Richard A. McKenzie, 21, a gunner, landed in a lake and had to inflate his life jacket.

Sgt. Leon Poole, 25, broke his ankle when he came down in a river. Lieut. Jack A. Thompson, 31, was credited by Lt.-Col. Martin K. Boger with saving Poole's life.

The men had to survive on cranberries found in the marshes, a bird they managed to kill and two small cans of food. They were making plans to float down the river on a barge when their smoke signals were seen by an RCAF search plane and a helicopter sent to the rescue.

Mrs. Henry Ford Dies In Detroit

DETROIT, Sept. 29 — (AP).—Mrs. Henry Ford, 84, widow of the late World-famed automobile pioneer, died early today of a heart ailment at Henry Ford Hospital.

Death came to Mrs. Ford not many hours after her third visit to the hospital for a heart condition in the last several months. Cause of death was given as acute coronary occlusion.

On the two previous occasions she was in hospital, Mrs. Ford had recovered sufficiently to return to her estate home at suburban Dearborn. Her return to the hospital Thursday was not generally known.

As wife, then widow, of Henry Ford, Clara Bryant Ford was one of the most influential women in the United States. Ford died in 1947.

Special Brigade Will Be Called 25th

OTTAWA, Sept. 29 — (CP) — Canada's Special Service Brigade is going to be called the 25th Infantry Brigade because 25 is a nice, round number.

That's how the army explained it as the official designation was made known Thursday.

"We wanted a number that hadn't been used before," a spokesman said. "All the numbers up to 25 had been used previously, and 25 sounded better than 24."

So they called it the 25th Brigade.

Windsor Appoints Civilian Defence Head

WINDSOR, Sept. 29 (CP). — Cecil Fletcher of Montreal was appointed civilian defence director for the Windsor metropolitan area at a special meeting of city council Thursday night.

Mr. Fletcher had been recommended by Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, federal civilian defence co-ordinator, and his appointment was approved after council turned down the nomination of C. J. De Fields, former Windsor fire chief.

U.N. Racing To Organize Korean Peace

Want To Keep Up With Events, U.K. Has Resolution

NEW YORK, Sept. 29—(AP)—The United Nations shifted today into high gear, racing to keep up with Allied troops who are pushing the Communists back into North Korea.

High officials feel U.N. political action must stay abreast of events brought about by the victories of its forces in the field.

The triumph of the U.N.'s first venture in crushing armed aggression has caused a tremendous upsurge of optimism here. It makes most non-Communist delegations feel that U.N. decisions concerning the political and economic future of war-torn Korea will make that Asian country a show-piece of what the U.N. can accomplish.

These decisions will be embodied in a British resolution which is the subject of last-minute consultations among many delegations. The United States already has given its approval to the British proposals.

High officials believe the resolutions will be completed in the morning and will be put before the 60-member political committee when it meets for the first time this year at Lake Success this afternoon.

Wait Instructions

On the other hand, the Indian delegation said it must await instructions from New Delhi, and pressed for a delay until Monday or Tuesday. This conflicted with the sense of urgency that has seized U.N. delegations as a result of the Korean victories and was expected to be over-ridden.

Key U.N. officials, meanwhile, pressed a move to keep today's meeting of the political committee in session—all night if necessary—to vote another resolution giving express authority for Gen. MacArthur's forces to cross the 38th parallel into North Korea.

They feel the psychological effect of such a resolution would be gratifying at the present time.

Commonwealth countries — Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India and Pakistan—conferred Thursday on the form the British proposals should take, and sent a proposed draft to their governments for approval.

It is known that the resolution calls for a free, independent and united Korea with a democratic government elected under U.N. supervision. The country would be guaranteed militarily by the U.N., economic support would be forthcoming and the country would be constituted in such a way as to pose no threat to its neighbors — Communist China and the Soviet Union.

Resolution Points

The New York Times reported today that Britain, Canada, Australia, Norway, and the Philippines tentatively agreed Thursday on the text of a U.N. resolution.

The newspaper said the resolution gives no direct authorization for United States troops to cross the 38th parallel in Korea "but gives what the sponsors call tacit consent based on previous resolutions by the security council."

The Times gave the following partial text of the resolution:

"The General Assembly recommends:

"A. That all appropriate steps be taken to ensure conditions of stability through the whole of Korea;

"B. That all constituent acts be taken, including the holding of elections under the auspices of the United Nations, for the establishment of a unified, independent and democratic government in the sovereign state of Korea;

"C. That United Nations forces should not remain in any part of Korea otherwise than as is necessary for achieving the objectives specified in A. or B;

"D. That all necessary measures be taken to accomplish the economic rehabilitation of Korea."

Kinsmen Officers Installed By Governor

A new Kinsmen Club executive headed for a second year by Harley Weir was installed by District Governor Harry McLean, Toronto, at a meeting of the club Thursday night.

The executive, elected in June, consisted of president, Harley Weir; first vice-president, Clare Boorman; second vice-president, Howard Doolittle; secretary, Bill Henderson; treasurer, Dick Jones; registrar, Bill Van Atter; bulletin editor, Howard Powell and directors, Art Black, Bill Roche, John Wocker, Jack Lewis and Bill Godson.

Plans Developed

Plans for the District 8 Council meeting which will be held in Peterborough Oct. 13, 14 and 15, were being developed, president Harley Weir announced. Speaker for the dinner Saturday night, Oct. 14, will be Jim Wharry who recently completed a 40-day trip around the world. Delegates will be coming to the council meeting from 39 clubs in towns and cities from St. Ste. Marie to Cobourg, taking in Toronto clubs.

Governor McLean outlined some of the plans the district executive had made for this year. Prominent in these plans was a membership drive in which each club will be given a quota it will be expected to fill with new members. He said District 8 had Canada's worst new membership record in Canada.

Five new clubs have been started in the district bringing in 130 new members, but the total number of members in the district had risen only 20 during the year. November had been set aside as a membership month when it was hoped clubs would have a special membership program.

Attendance Pins

Several club members were presented with pins for 100 per cent attendance of club meetings. Stan Gilmour, past president, got the top award with perfect attendance for five years. Jack Lewis was next with a record intact for four years. President Harley Weir was given a three-year perfect attendance award and two men, Harvey Ball and Art Black, two-year pins. Six Kinsmen attended all the meetings last year: George Bennett, Bill Henderson, Harry Huff, Don Kitchen, Howard Powell and Bill Van Atter.

Shells Falling

Kimpo airfield, served as the victory parade in the Korean capital.

It drove over rubbled streets flanked by blackened ruins to the capital building, which also wore scars of the seven-day siege battle for the city.

Civilians Stunned

Hundreds of civilians lined the streets. Few applauded. They seemed too stunned to realize the United Nations' first armed peace-enforcement campaign had liberated their city.

In the capital building, shattered glass tinkled down on the high Allied officials from the blasted dome during the 35-minute noon ceremony in the assembly room. Earlier in the day, security officers found a cluster of dynamite sticks with a wire attached in the Capitol. The crude bomb was removed before MacArthur arrived.

MacArthur told President Rhee: "I am happy to restore to you, Mr. President, the seat of your government—that from it you may better fulfil your constitutional responsibilities."

Calls For Surrender

Rhee expressed gratitude to the UN commander, then called upon Korean Reds trapped by Allied divisions in the south to surrender or die. Only sporadic resistance was reported there.

Bernardo Africa of the Philippines, current head of the UN commission in Korea, mentioned the 38th Parallel in his speech.

"This artificial separation can no longer be countenanced," he said. "It has long been the purpose of the United Nations to bring about conditions in which the people of Korea, both of the north and the south, can join together in building a new state based on the principles of freedom and democracy.

"Let no barrier prevent the achievement of that goal."

20 Miles From Boundary

As Seoul was handed over, the situation on the war fronts was this:

Two South Korean Divisions were approaching the 38th parallel in eastern Korea unopposed. Other allied troops were less than 20 miles from the boundary in the west, north of Seoul.

Brig.-Gen. Kong Nam Bong operations officer for the republic's forces, predicted at noon that South Koreans would reach the parallel within 24 hours.

The South Korean third division on the east coast was 12 miles north of recaptured Utchin and rolling on. Units of the South Korean capital division, advancing 30 miles from Chunyang, were rolling northward in plains country about 45 miles south of the 38th parallel.

The U.S. 25th division in the far south neared Kwangju after driving 60 miles Thursday and liberating 91 American prisoners of war at Namwon and Hadong.

The division was only 25 miles from Korea's southwest coast.

Mopping Up At Taejon

The U.S. 24th division was mopping up in the area of Taejon recaptured Thursday two months after the out-numbered, outgunned outfit withdrew from the city in bitter fighting.

There were evidences of atrocities in Taejon. Thursday night the bodies of nearly 400 South Korean civilians and police were found in two uncovered trenches in the city's prison. Other bodies were discovered Friday morning in two open wells inside the compound.

These new atrocities were in addition to the finding of 40 bodies of American prisoners-of-war earlier in a covered trench in the rear of the Taejon police station.

Military and political observers in Tokyo told A.P. correspondent Relman Morin Friday they expected allied forces to be ordered into North Korea to take Pyongyang and push to the borders of Red China.

That would take them to a point about 100 miles southwest of Vladivostok, Russia.

Rummage Sale Thief

A thief broke into a store on Charlotte St. at Louis St. Wednesday night and stole 16 shirts, several dresses and other clothing from a supply gathered there for a St. John's church W.A. rummage sale Thursday.

The thief, who picked over the boots, shoes, hats and other articles of clothing, broke into the store by pushing in a securely fastened piece of plywood covering one window.

Constable Donald Mackay and Allen Edmison investigated.

Boys' Classes Opening YMCA Program

Boys' classes in the pool and gym fill start the 1950 YMCA program rolling Saturday morning under the three new officers and the one remaining instructor.

Fraser Wade, the new physical director, will be in charge of all physical activities and Gord Minty, the honorary swimming director, the swimming classes. William McFarlane, boys' work secretary succeeding Donald Duncan, has the program and membership responsibilities for the boys' department while C. D. Forsyth, general secretary, will supervise all YMCA activities.

Saturday morning the pioneers, members from eight to nine years will open the program at 9 a.m. They will be followed by the juveniles (10 and 11 years) at 9:45, the juniors (12 and 13 years) at 10:30 and the intermediates (14 to 16 years) at 12:15, a swim only.

Mr. McFarlane said today that he expects the Fun and Friendship Club for pioneers and juveniles to begin next Friday night. At these meetings the boys hold sing songs, games and skits. A movie and sometimes a cartoon is part of the night's program. Other clubs, he explained, will be formed for the other age groups.

Hi-Y clubs through the collegiate and the YMCA are being re-organized. Mr. McFarlane expects to have four clubs this year, a senior, two intermediate and a junor.

Special accommodation is being made this year for the rural boys. A gym program will be held on Tuesday and Thursday noons and a swim period Wednesday noon. Some other branches of the program will be added as interest arises.

An extra swimming class has been added to the boys' program this year. This group will be for swimmers who can swim 25 feet and will be called the Pollywogs.

The first swimming group will be for the non-swimmers for boys who cannot swim the 25 feet.

The tadpole group will be the third group for boys who can swim a length of the pool. These boys will graduate into the minnows class when they can swim five lengths of the pool in under three minutes. Upon invitation the boys will join the swimming club if they can swim 22 lengths of the pool or a ¼-mile in less than 10 minutes.

For the non-swimmers in the intermediate and collegiate groups special learn-to-swim classes will be held.

Prices In Narrow Rut On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Sept. 29 (CP). — Prices settled into a narrow rut as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Activity slowed considerably as Thursday's mild pressure continued but individual issues were in strong demand.

In base metals, Golden Manitou Mines held the spotlight, booming up to a new high at $4 at one time before settling slightly. Development reports from the company's property in the Val d'Or district, northwestern Quebec, has sparked heavy buying in the stock in recent sessions. Quebec Manitou, with a large interest in Golden Manitou, was also in strong demand.

Industrials tended mildly higher as the majority of issues trading chalked up small fractional advances. Key issues that paced last week's advances were under slight pressure. Federal Grain was the highlight on the board, climbing briskly to a new high at 14.

Gold stocks sagged for a second session. Junior producers showed declines ranging up to 13 cents and seniors were off fractions following a sudden upsurge Wednesday.

Western Oils started strong but settled into a mixed tone as trading slackened.

Volume for the first three hours was 942,000 shares.

The body will be taken from the family residence to St. Joseph's Church for blessing at 10.30 a.m. Burial will be at St. Joseph's Cemetery.

MRS. SARAH REARDON

MARMORA, Sept. 29—(ENS)—Mrs. Sarah Reardon, widow of Jams Reardon, died in Belleville on Thursday.

She was a native of Lancashire, England, and lived in Deloro, where her husband was an employee of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company. She also lived in Marmora before moving to Belleville about a year ago.

It is believed that there are no surviving relatives in Canada. It is expected that the funeral will be held in Marmora on Saturday.

Calls Pour In

News of the mishap to Premier Johnson and his wife spread through Quebec's government and judicial circles quickly and numerous calls poured in to radio stations and newspaper offices.

Provincial Police said the collision apparently occurred when an auto pulled out from a long line of cars travelling eastward to Quebec City.

The eastward-bound car apparently was unable to get back into line, and collided violently with the auto driven by Premier Johnson who was travelling to Montreal.

Driver of the east-bound auto, and its sole occupant, was Mrs. Armand Letourneau of Quebec, who was not injured. Police said she was suffering from nervous shock, but refused to be taken to hospital.

Oil Painting For Church

An oil painting of a Scottish scene which has been presented by two Peterborough painters to Park St. Alliance Church, will be unveiled at a dedication service Sunday at 7 p.m. The picture, painted by Miss Kathrine Millard and Mrs. Albert Waymark, will be unveiled in the baptistry of the church. It measures eight feet by six.

Salvation Army Begins Sunday Musicals

First of the Salvation Army's monthly musicals will be held Sunday. Commissioner Benjamin Orames, former Territorial Commander of the Salvation Army in Canada, will be leader and chief speaker at both 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. services at the Temple. He will also act as chairman at the Sunday afternoon service which starts at 3:15 p.m.

Mrs. Orames, a former resident of Peterborough, was the former Major Hilda Broom. Since relinquishing command of the Canadian Territory, Commissioner and Mrs. Orames have travelled extensively in Australia, New Zealand and the British Isles.

Otonabee Boy Wins Scholarship

Winner of the county council's $100 agricultural scholarship is Norman Blodgett, 19, of Otonabee.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blodgett, Norman is a student at Kemptville Agricultural College where he is taking a two-year agricultural course.

He was recommended for the county council award by Frank Paterson, agricultural representative, for being a high man at the Junior Farmers' Day judging during the Peterborough Exhibition. While he did not win top honors he complied with the stipulation that he was continuing his agricultural education.

Two $100 scholarships were offered but no other junior farmer qualified.

Drinking Cases

Fred Bloxam, Toronto, pleaded guilty in police court today to a charge of being drunk and was fined $10 and costs.

Two other men, Lloyd Blewett, 711 Elcome Crescent, and Harry Primeau, 709 Elcome Crescent, were charged with being drunk and asked for and received adjournments for a week.

Italian Passion Play Wins Bout With Communists

ROME, Sept. 29—(AP) —The Passion Play of Sezze, small town south of Rome, was credited Thursday with winning a bout with Communism.

The play, a traditional Good Friday ritual in Sezze, was revived last Easter for the first time since the war. Now the play is being brought to Rome for a Holy Year presentation in the ruins of the Colosseum Saturday night.

The test with the Communists, who control Sezze's city government, came during a dress rehearsal last Sunday, according to Il Popolo( organ of Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democrat Party.

Il Popolo said the people of Sezze ignored Communist leaders' order to attend a festival staged by L'Unita, party newspaper, and went instead to the Passion Play rehearsal.

The Communists, Il Popolo continued, staged the L'Unita festival on the same day as the rehearsal intentionally, but "nobody remained (at the Unita festival) but some poor paralytics."

Il Popolo said the people of Sezze voted for the Communists in the 1948 election, "but now much water has passed under the bridge and the people dared to disobey the Communists."

Pleads Guilty In Assault Case

MONTREAL, Sept. 29 (CP) — Walter Wilson, 31, construction worker and native of Falkirk, Scotland, who brought an 11-year-old girl with him to Canada three months ago pleaded guilty Thursday to criminal assault of the child.

Judge Guy Gibeault postponed sentence until Oct. 4. Salvation Army officers responsible for finding the girl in a roughly constructed hut in nearby Ville Jacquesnol had not heard from Wilson and the child and made a futile effort to find her in Canada. Salvation Army officers in London, England, communicated with their officers in Toronto and the inquiry was later carried to Montreal.

Inquiries made in Cornwall, resulted in a woman giving information as to Wilson's whereabouts in Montreal and this led to the discovery of the child.

Salvation Army officers said that the girl was given into Wilson's care to bring to Canada when she expressed a strong urge to see the country.

Planning To Adopt Asian University

TORONTO, Sept. 29 (CP)—The University of Toronto may adopt a university in Southeast Asia, helping to supply it with books and student aids.

The Students' Administrative Council voted Thursday night to start sending supplies to some university which will be picked at a later date.

Council president Bill Turner said the move will help counteract Communist propaganda in Asia. He attended the world congress of the Communist-run International Union of Students in Prague this summer and said Asiatic delegates were treated "like heroes" by the Communists.

Five Ontario Centres Consider SundaySport

TORONTO, Sept. 29 (CP). — Plebiscites on Sunday sports are being considered in five more Ontario municipalities — Hamilton, Sudbury, Sault Ste. Marie, Thessalon and Brampton.

Since the last session of the provincial legislature when a law was passed authorizing municipalities to decide the question themselves, nine votes have been taken.

Voters approved Sunday sport here, at Windsor, Port Dover, Dryden, Delhi, Crystal Beach, Port Stanley, Wasaga Beach, Port Dalhousie and Sturgeon Falls Chatham electors turned it down.

Dr. C. W. Webber, general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance indicated in an interview Thursday, the Alliance might ask the government that municipalities be given less leeway in determining what is sport under the act.

Elect Carl Cannon President Of CEMA

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 29 (CP)—W. Carl Cannon today was elected president of the Canadian Electrical Manufacturers' Association, succeeding Arthur L. Brown, of Montreal.

Lucky Escape

TORONTO, Sept. 29 — (CP) — Carol Anne Sawicki, riding in her baby carriage, was run down by a truck at a busy intersection Thursday, and pedestrians worked for several minutes before they could free the 18-month-old baby from the crushed carriage. At hospital, amazed doctors said she had only a bump on her head and a cut leg.

Food Prices Up

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP). —Prices of food advanced about 0.4 per cent between Aug. 28 and Sept. 16, the Bureau of Labor Statistics estimated Thursday. Taking a test to determine what the trend of retail food prices is, the Bureau found that 15 of the 25 most important foods had gone up in the first two weeks of September. The survey covered 13 large cities.

Former Actress Dies

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP). — Amy Atkinson, 47, one-time Broadway actress who sang the lead in many musicals, died yesterday of pneumonia. She played in "The Chiffon Girl," "Adrienne," and two editions of Earl Carrol's Vanities, and was in the original company of "The Desert Song."

Fewer Appliances

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 19( CP)—Delegates to the annual meeting of the Canadian Electrical Manufacturers' Association said Thursday a shortage of steel caused by defence buying may force reduced production of domestic electrical appliances. One delegate said: "During the last war there was a strong demand for heavy armor plate, but present defence plans call for sheet steel which is the type most used in the domestic electrical appliances industry."

U.S. Omnibus Bill Against Reds

The American Congress has passed with a margin of six to one a catch-all bill of eight different sets of clauses. They are aimed at catching all Communists and Reds, in wartime and peacetime. The bill was passed over the veto of President Truman. It requires formal registration of Communist organizations and 'front' groups; the exclusion of Reds from government service; interment of potential spies; exclusion or deportation of subversive aliens, and imposes other restrictions. It is a net-like bill, with as many holes as knots, and it is so loosely woven that it can unfairly catch honest liberals as it can fairly close around disloyal Reds.

* * *

President Truman has opposed the bill for several reasons. Official designation of war plants to be barred to Reds would give away information of military value. The registration of Reds would be "ineffective and unworkable". In carrying out the scrutiny of its employees the government would have the repugnant task of imposing "thought control". The Bill as it stands seems to be an imminent threat to the freedom of speech and thought which the Americans have rightly prized.

* * *

It is not hard to find reasons why Congress pushed the Bill through, despite the President's objections. The propaganda against Communists and Reds has been virulent. Anti-Communism is now so popular a movement that it is easy for politicians to use it for their own gain. The Americans are so fearful of Communists and pinks now that they will accept restrictions on basic freedoms, and listen to senatorial and House of Representatives candidates who would ride to power on the crest of the anti-Communist wave. This autumn all of the House of Representatives and a third of the Senate are facing elections. A convenient battle-cry is "down with the Reds". So the Senate and House of Representatives have passed legislation which would down the Reds (it may merely send them underground), and raise candidates to legislative seats again.

Street Corner Religion

The Kingston Whig-Standard writes with considerable cogency about the arrests of Baptist street preachers in the Quebec mining town of Val d'Or; within the last two months twenty-three people have been taken into custody. It must be emphasized that these disturbances are not of the same character as those at Shawinigan; there a meeting-house was wrecked, although no apparent offence had been given; in Val d'Or the Baptists has been holding evangelistic meetings in the streets, and in violation of local bylaws. The Whig-Standard says:

> If these lay preachers had hired a building in which to conduct services, or had used a private home for that purpose, subsequent police action would have been a denial of the principle of freedom of worship. As far as we have seen, no attempt was made to hold meetings except on street corners. These meetings were distasteful to a predominantly Roman Catholic community, and laws were enforced to prevent them. That action is well within the rights of a municipality. In fact, we believe it is a responsibility a municipality owes its citizens, for no religious group should be allowed to force itself on the public.
> The streets of Canadian communities are maintained by funds collected from citizens of many religious denominations, and from some who do not subscribe to any denomination. All should be free to use those thoroughfares without being subjected to the religious services of a denomination which might be distasteful to passers-by.

We agree with what our contemporary says. And in consideration of the disturbances at Val d'Or certain matters arise which are incapable of final settlement, but which can nevertheless be discussed. We cannot escape a feeling, for instance, that the Baptist street-preachers there are looking for trouble. They know that a Roman Catholic town will not, like Baptist street-meetings, any more than Peterborough, for instance, would like street evangelism by Mohammedans or Hindus. We expressed our opinions on this kind of evangelism a year ago, when a group of American Protestant missionaries set up a tabernacle at Castel Gandolfo in Italy, and tried to convert the Pope's household servants. These people are wasting their time, and we think that they are trying to pick a fight and get a cheap matryrdom for themselves.

If they want to convert Roman Catholics to Protestantism, they are going the wrong way about it. Such conversions are by no means uncommon, just as conversions from Protestantism to Catholicism are not uncommon. But Catholics are not won to Protestantism by singing hymns in the street, or by theological argument on the level which is usually found among street-preachers. The Baptists who are disturbing the peace in Val d'Or are behaving just as badly as the Catholics who wrecked the meeting-house in Shawinigan. Neither activity has much resemblance to Christianity.

"From The Halls Of Montezuma"

There has been some lively debate recently in the U.S.A. about the origin of the tune which goes with the well-known song of the U.S. Marines—the song which begins,

From the halls of Montezuma
To the shores of Tripoli . . .

We did not realize that the matter had ever been in dispute. The tune comes, pretty much as it stands, from Offenbach's light opera Genevieve de Brabant which was first produced in 1859. The song became popular during the American Civil War.

Genevieve de Brabant was what was called, in those days, an opera bouffe; it is a lively piece, with opportunities for a chorus of girls. In the U.S. just before the Civil War, French opera bouffe was considered by many people to be the Devil's own instrument for corrupting American youth; it was rooted in an attitude toward life which was the direct opposite of the moral tone of the States in those days, when decent living and dull living were often confused. Readers of the books of Louisa Alcott—Jo's Boys in particular—may recall the stern tones in which that author warns against the depraved influence of opera bouffe.

Nevertheless this wicked variety of French entertainment flourished in the U.S.A. Its tunes and its jollity were too pleasant to be resisted. And we have always believed that the Marines showed excellent taste when they lifted one of Offenbach's excellent marches for their song.

Some attempt is being made now to show that the tune was a Spanish folk-song, which Offenbach borrowed for his own use. We shall be surprised if this can be proved. For folk-songs are predominantly songs about war, love and death; marches and hymns are extremely uncommon among them.

The Death Penalty For Murder

The John Howard Society of Britain—an organization which devotes its energies to prison reform and the rehabilitation of prisoners—makes the claim that the abolition of the death penalty for murder in some thirty countries has not brought about an increase in the number of murders. It deduces from this evidence that the threat of capital punishment is not a deterrent to murderers.

We have never seriously imagined that the fear of the death penalty had any strong deterrent effect on murderers. There are comparatively few professional assassins, who kill as a trade and who count on murder to augment their income. Most murderers kill one victim, and they do it under stress of fear or hate, without time or inclination to count the cost. There are a few killers who cunningly plot the death of a victim, in order that they may gain revenge, or perhaps inherit a fortune. But in most cases of murder the act is the result of pressure. We think that our belief is borne out by further evidence of the John Howard Society that abolition of the death penalty in thirty countries has not reduced the number of murders. Murder seems to remain constant, whatever the penalty.

But because the death penalty is not a deterrent, we do not agree that it should be abolished. We think that people who agitate for such abolition are on the wrong track. Which is the more cruel: to take a man's life suddenly, or to condemn him to a lifetime in prison?

There is no easy answer to that question. But members of the John Howard Society, more than most people, know what the existence of a "lifer" is. For a man of spirit or intelligence, it is a miserable existence, and a strange comment on the humanity of those who have condemned him to it.

There is an economic side to the question, as well. Why should society keep a number of men and women who have according to present laws, shown themselves unfit to mingle freely with the rest of mankind? The charges upon society now are very great, and they are becoming greater. Is it not more humane and more practical to execute murderers?

The root of the matter lies in a psychological problem: can society take upon itself the burden of killing a man as a form of legalized vengeance, because he has killed another man? Considering the greater responsibilities which society takes upon itself without much thought we are surprised that this should be a matter for scruple.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

SIR: What is the parallel of latitude which is the chief dividing line between Canada and the United States? What part of Canada is farthest south?

ANSWER: The 49th parallel from Lake of the Woods (Ontario-Manitoba border) to the Straits of Georgia in B.C.

The southernmost point in Canada is Middle Island, in Lake Erie, in north latitude 41 degrees 41 minutes. Surprising to people who seldom look at maps, warm Vancouver is as far north as Cochrane, and considerably farther north than Quebec city. No place in any province other than Ontario is as far south as Peterborough, which is to say that southern Ontario is farther south than any other part of Canada. Peterborough is farther south than Venice, (Italy).

WITCH-BURNING: The story some questioner sent me two weeks ago about the burning of a "witch" on Armour Hill somewhere around 1850, has had only the confirmation of rumour. One person tells me this: That at the time the railways were being built to Peterborough (see Mr. Pammett's history, the instalment of last Saturday) there were some Italian workmen and women in the town. A feud developed in this group and one woman was thought to be putting the hex on other families.

Rumour has it that she was "done in" by branding or some sort of firing, but that the spot was in the country, east of Armour Hill, and that officials never got wind of it. I place no credence in the story at all, except to point out that in 1850 the environments of Peterborough were pretty wild; remote bush country such as northern Ontario and Quebec are now. And it was only thirty-odd years ago, I believe, that lumbermen, prospectors, and members of working-party gangs who died on the job in the wilderness, were simply buried, without inquests, medical certificate or anything else. Undoubtedly crimes were committed, and the evidence (the body) dumped into a hole in the ground without further ado. Now an attempt must be made to bring bodies of people dying in the lumbering areas to a centre of population and the cause of death must be certified by a responsible official.

DEAR ALPHA: If it is obligatory upon a driver to signal with his hand when making a turn, are the automatic signals on all English cars, and the flashing rear lights on new American type cars accepted as substitutes?

ANSWER: The law requires a driver to signal when he is making a left turn. All Ontario drivers being tested for their licences are required to know the ordinary hand signals for making a left turn, right turn, slowing down, and stopping. The mechanical signals are recognized by the courts as alternatives to the hand signals. As a matter of fact, they are much better.

Few drivers will go to the bother of lowering a window and putting out a hand to signal when it is cold, raining or snowing. The electric hand signal operated from inside the car is much more reliable because it causes no inconvenience to the driver, and is usually more easily visible to other drivers. The fully automatic signals (arms, or blinkers) are very good indeed.

Unfortunately, some drivers (and pedestrians) seem to go about with their eyes closed to mechanical signals. The other week a driver living in the south end of the town was turning into his driveway, and his mechanical signal was showing in plenty of time. Another driver bumped into him. He claimed that the turner should have had his hand out. Not so; the automatic signal is sufficient, and is perfectly clear to anybody who has a mind to watch for such traffic indicators. I understand that several of the States below the border are going to make mechanical signals compulsory for all cars. A good thing it would be. The lighted signal arms on English cars are compulsory in Britain, and have been for years.

One trouble with the new American type of blinker is that some people do not know what it is or means. A dear old lady of my acquaintance, who also drives her own car, told me the other day that she thought all these gadgets in cars—like dancing dolls on the windows, fancy radiator caps, and red tail lights which go on and off every once in a while, were a nuisance and dangerous! She certainly did not know that these flashing rear lights have a very special purpose.

THE death of our former librarian Frederick Montague de la Fosse this week at the age of ninety, takes from Alpha and a thousand other Peterborough folk a kindly, generous, and cheery-witted friend. He was, incidentally, a constant reader of this column. He was a real gentleman, delighting in social intercourse, in books, in sports and in the wide world he had long seen. His interests varied from cricket to the colon, on both of which he had firm opinions. He was a good local antiquary, aided and abetted by his cherished wife, who, a life-long resident of Peterborough, has a memory of local personages and events extending farther back than her husband's. Mr. de la Fosse did not become a Peterburian until after the turn of the century. Mrs. de la Fosse, a daughter of the late, greatly respected Dr. Thomas Halliday, is Peterborough's first native daughter to have been graduated from a university (St. Hilda's, University of Toronto).

Earlier this summer when Mr. de la Fosse, then approaching his ninetieth birthday, had his foot in a cast, recovering from a broken bone, he was seen hiking north along Water St. An ecquaintance in a car stopped and asked if he could give him a lift. "Thanks, my dear old fellow" was his reply, "I don't need one. Just going up to the hospital to visit a sick friend." There was this gentleman in his ninetieth year with a cast on his foot walking a mile or more to console a friend in Nicholls Hospital. It was only this spring that he confessed confidentially to feeling old.

He played the game of life wonderfully well, through thick and thin.

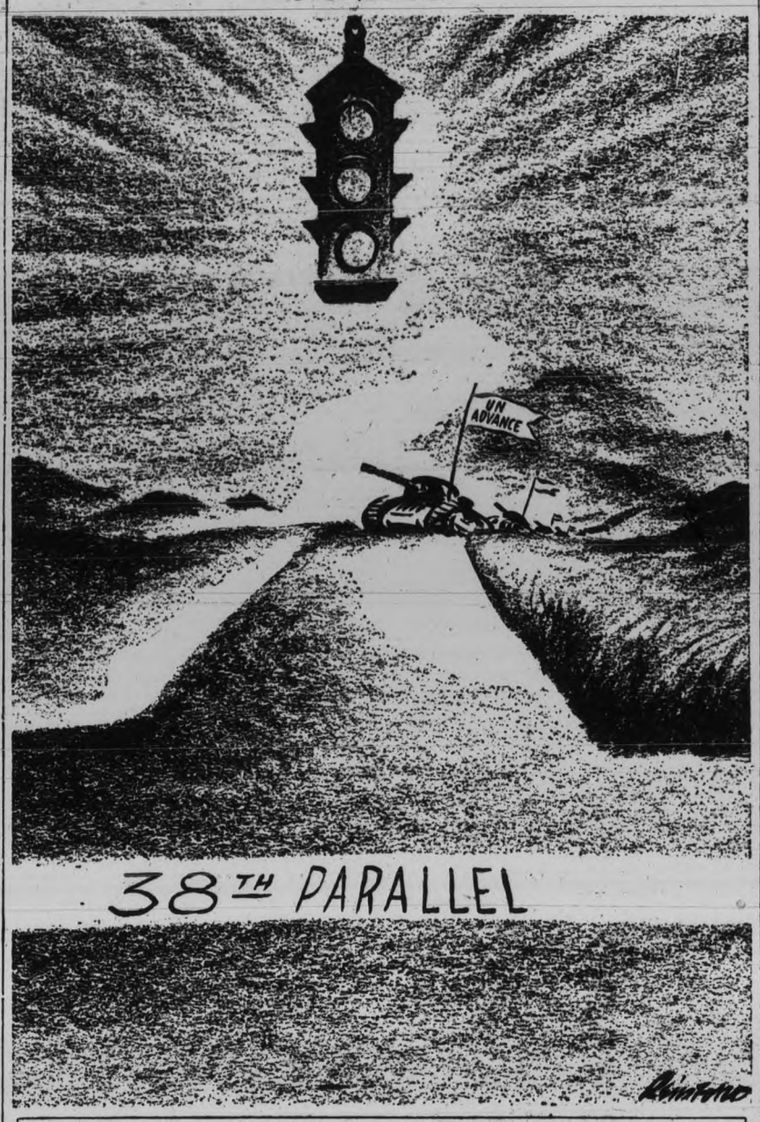
NOTE ON KITCHEN SMELLS: The house has been full of pungent pickling smells for the last fortnight; chili sauce, tomato butter, nine-day pickles, red-pepper relish etc. etc. Aunt Emma is up to her elbows in the regular early autumn pickling bee, and the "fruit cellar" is filing up, not only with quarts and quarts of preserved peaches, pears and berries, but with bottles and crocks of pickles. She has a new recipe for nine-day pickles and complains that it isn't as good as her old one; the split cucumbers taste different. However, as there is already a crock of them made under the old recipe, Alpha will not complain . . . . There is no better gustatory smell than pickles stewing in the kitchen, unless it be the musky, pervasive scent of baskets of peaches, pears, apples and crab-apples in the back kitchen.



Watching the pickles simmering in the pot reminds me to be thankful on behalf of all good housewives that liquids boil up and not down. The cook would have to stand over the pot every minute, stirring like a navvy, if the hot stuff stayed on the bottom and the cold always stayed on the top. The natural law of heat is but one indication that God loves cooks.

Frying smells from the kitchen can permeate the whole house and are obnoxious after a meal. Aunt Emma has discovered that if she squirts an atomizer of chlorophyl (pine-perfumed) liquid around (a little does the trick) the frying smells disappear completely in short order. Now I take my post-prandial nap in the fresh odour of pine-needles, not in stale bacon grease.

FOR THE RECORD: There are now about thirty television sets in Peterborough. The first appeared in April 1949. It was built by Mr. Kenneth McCannan, for his and his firm's use, and to demonstrate that television signals could be received in Peterborough. (All others being sold are manufactured commercially.) The chief station for Peterborough T.V. sets is Rochester, whose signals come smoothly across Lake Ontario, and, despite the distance over the hills from the lake shore up, are fairly satisfactory. Two other stations come in: Buffalo and Syracuse (N.Y.). There is as yet no Canadian T.V. broadcasting station. One is now being built in Toronto, and it is believed that the signals from this station will be received in Peterborough very well indeed. It will be on a higher band than the Rochester station. The lowest price on T.V. sets for sale in Peterborough is about $300; anything worth having runs from $375 up.

Tradition In The Witness Box

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

THE legal rule that a witness in a Canadian court may elect to be sworn on any oath or testament which he considers binding on him, and in most cases to refuse to swear on any other, sometimes strains the court's resources to the limit. The recent provision of Roman Catholic Bibles for witnesses of that faith in Hull's City Court was an easy matter. But other mandatory forms of oath are not so simple.

Consider the problem of a British Columbia court in swearing a Chinese witness of the Confucian faith. The oath had to be administered on the "White Cock"—one of the most startling of Asian ceremonies. A white rooster was found by court officials, and its throat was cut. As the blood flowed before the fascinated judge, the witness recited: "As the blood flows from this bird, so may my own blood flow if I do not tell the truth." Another colourful swearing ceremony is the Asian Oath of the Plate. A common dinner plate is smashed by the witness who then recites: "As this plate is shattered, so may my soul be shattered if I do not tell the truth." Pagan Indians in Canada's northland have been known to demand an oath on Nanabozho, the great spirit of the hunting ground.

The public library must frequently be asked to provide the form for oaths taken on religious books. Mohammedans, who often appear as witnesses in our seaport cities, must be sworn on the Koran, Sikhs on the Granth and Hindus on the Veda. Other religious adherents of the Christian faith, such as Quakers, Moravians and Separatists, may use the verbal "affirmation" without the Bible. In the light of modern efforts to streamline the machinery of justice in our law courts, it is gratifying to know that the rules of admissibility of evidence will permit these colourful customs to survive.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field: but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

So the servants of the householders came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares? He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn. (Matt. 13: 24-30.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right oand of my righteousness . . . . Behold, I will make thee a new sharp threshing instrument having teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and beat them small, and shalt make the hills as chaff. Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them: and thou shalt rejoice in the Lord, and shalt glory in the Holy One of Israel. (Isa. 41: 10, 15, 16.)

Coffee, Cake And Age

(News of Norway)

When the oldest woman in Nordmore, Eli Bersvendsdatter Vatten recently celebrated her 103rd birthday, a reporter asked what she had done to live so long. She replied: "It's the coffee that has kept me going all these years. Coffee I must have from dawn to dusk, with a piece of sweet cake on the side."

Still hale and hearty, the Norwegian centenarian sweeps stairs and beats rugs for a bit of exercise. Indoors, she likes to knit stockings, or reads newspapers. Five of Eli's children are still alive.

10 Cars Of Cattle Sell At Higher Prices

LITTLE CURRENT, Ont., Sept. 29 —(CP)—The first 10 cars of cattle sold Thursday at the annual Manitoulin Island cattle sale brought prices ranging from $28 to $31.50 a hundredweight — an increase of 33 1-3 per cent over last year's prices.

Each of the first lots was sold in an average time of about 20 seconds. Some 2,500 head were offered today. About 1,500 persons, including 120 buyers, attended. Sales are expected to reach about $500,000.

Discover $91,000 Hid In Clothes

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y., Sept. 29 (AP).—A search for more money was started Thursday at the home of a man whose clothing disgorged $91,000 in currency when he was admitted to a mental hospital.

Mrs. Charles J. Wilson, wife of the patient, explained to authorities that the money was part of $500,000 inherited by her husband 20 years ago.

She said her husband, 59, who lived alone, carried large sums of money with him because he distrusted banks.

He was reported to have made a bonfire of $8,000 in bills on one occasion.

Mrs. Wilson said she took to nursing jobs to support herself and her daughter.

Nova Scotia Booklet Helps Tourists On Fleeting Visit

By JACK SCOTT

BEDFORD, N.S. — The Nova Scotia travel people, apart from putting out the handsomest tourist literature we've encountered, have a Jim-dandy gimmick for entertaining the visiting motorist.

Working on the sound theory that the average traveller is usually at too much of a gallop to explore properly the country along his way. Nova Scotia publishes a "Tour Book" with a kind of running commentary for each of the highway routes criss-crossing the province.

If you enter the province from New Brunswick, as we did this morning, your introduction to Nova Scotia is an attractive park with rock garden, manicured lawns and an extravagant widening of the highway. Sort of shows up New Brunswick and I'm surprised that they didn't put a park on their side so you'd be sorry to leave.

This is clearly a trap, and an efficient one, and even the heaviest-footed tourist is apt to rein in beside the immaculate bungalow-office where several Bureau of Information greeters are eager to instruct him in getting the most from their product. It's an idea bound to make friends and influence tourists.

Here we got our copy of the Tour Book, thumbed to the chapter concerning Highway Route Two—from the border to Halifax—and for the first time in this trans-Canada tour, knew a little something of the country unreeling outside the car windows.

How else, for example would we have known that that old railway bed just this side of the boundary was to be North America's first ship railway? Was, says Tour Book.

Says 4,000 men worked five years laying a track that would carry ships up to 5,000 tons from Cumberland Basin to Tindnish, thus saving the long voyage around the Nova Scotia peninsula. No ship ever made the trip because the backers ran out of money.

There. See what I mean about this little volume?

Those Names

Mind you, I'm not at all sure that even such a Tour Book gives a really comprehensive idea of this corridor across Nova Scotia. If somebody were to ask me about Amherst, for example, I would be able to mumble only that Amherst manufactures funeral supplies, aerated water and fox biscuits (biscuits for foxes?) because these items caught my eye. And I know it isn't enough.

But the book answers one question that plagues every traveller: how did such-and-such a town get its name? I'm still haunted by such names as Three Pistols, Quebec; Swastika, Ont.; Seven Persons, Alta.; and a dozen more that I meant to look into, but never did.

And so, today, when we passed through a hamlet with the name "Economy" it saved a lot of frustration to simply look up this maritime Baedecker and find that it came from the Indian name "Kenomee," which means "a long point jutting out into the sea."

Economy, by the way, is south of Nappan which comes from the Indian word meaning "a good place to get wigwam poles."

On the other hand, it is north of the city of Truro which manufactures pyjamas and creosote poles and has a sporty nine-hole golf course with a tough seventh hole ("335 yards, a dog's leg," Tour Book records, "Tee shot 200 yards across 40-foot tidal brook and strip of marsh, to the bend. The green is well trapped with two bunkers on the right and one on the left.")

Fact is, most of the towns we passed through bear Indian names and I am tempted to throw away my Hugo's French Simplified and get down to studying basic Indian, a truly remarkable language. How much simpler it is to say simply "Nappan" rather than "there's a good place to get wigwam poles."

According to Tour Book Stewiacke means "flowing softly from still water," Musquodoboit means "flowing out square," and Shubenacadie means "place where wild potatoes grow." No wonder Indians are traditionally close-mouthed. Two words make a monologue.

Some Sagas

Driving through such pastoral country without Tour Book and a wife to read it, you'd never dream of the high old adventure that went on along this modern highway.

Who would ever guess, zipping across the Sackville River Bridge, that a turnpike bridge was built here in 1782 to collect tolls and was twice destroyed by parties of masked men? (Why, Tour Book doesn't say. Probably just didn't like toll bridges.)

At Parrsboro on the Bay of Fundy, we turned to the guide and found a ready-made scenario for a Hollywood extravaganza with a part tailor-made for Lana Turner. Lend an ear a moment to this:

"Two centuries ago, Deno, an Italian pirate (Tyrone Power) captured a British vessel with rich cargo and made all but the captain's daughter, who was extremely beautiful, walk the plank. A great storm then drove the pirate from his course until at last he arrived in the Bay of Fundy and landed at Black Point. The beach seemed littered with jewels, and each of the amazed pirates gathered a treasure of amethyst.

"The captain, unable to subdue his fair captive, placed her in a cave on the shore, threw in a number of salted pollock as food, closed the entrance with stone, and sailed away. Some time later Indians who passed that way heard strange wailing cries and fled. Later, bolder ones returned to investigate. They opened the cave and found the skeleton of the unfortunate girl. The French knew the spot a Pollock Cave and it was claimed that during certain times of the year the weird cries of the imprisoned girl could be heard."

All of this, as I say, is at Parrsboro, which has a nine-hole golf course ("many sporty hazards") carries on general shipping and offers weir fishing within a radius of four miles.

Amnesia Victim In Military Camp

QUEBEC, Sept. 29 —(CP)—A police search for 38-year-old Paul Emile Faubert of Hawkesbury, Ont., an amnesia victim, ended Thursday when Faubert was found in the military camp at nearby Valcartier where he had joined the Special Army brigade destined for Korea.

Faubert, a former hotel-keeper, had been missing from his home since Aug. 30. His wife told police he has suffered periodic lapses of memory.

Det.-Sgt. Louis Pelletier of the Missing Persons Bureau in Montreal is to take Faubert home.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

By The Canadian Press.

Britain's 1950-51 hockey season opens Saturday with the same all-Canadian cast—and a few new worries.

Men connected with the ice sport admit this may be the last year of lush jobs for Canadian players. Hockey, they say, may ultimately be muscled out by the man on the fling trapeze.

Instead of playing an unbroken schedule, the National League's six teams will bide their time for eight weeks in the middle of the season. During their absence, the big rinks will stage circuses and pantomimes.

"Nobody should sing the blues but it looks like a critical year," said Bobby Giddens of Ottawa, editor of a British hockey publication.

"We're all waiting for the answer to the test question—can you turn off hockey like a tap for eight weeks and then expect fans to pick up where they left off?"

Rink managers report advance bookings as good as ever, but acknowledge the winter break may harm attendances. They listed these other reasons for keeping their fingers crossed:

1. A circus is a bigger money-maker than hockey because it draws crowds every night instead of once a week;

2. Fans may be weary of the Canadian monopoly. Of 72 players in the league this year, only one is a native product. He is Johnny Oxley of Brighton Tigers, who learned to play on roller skates outside Wembley Stadium;

3. Turnover among Canadians is so rapid fans seldom have a chance to develop favorite players.

Eddie Pellagrini, star shortstop of Baltimore Orioles, International League play-off winner, has been sold outright to Philadelphia Phillies.

This will be Pellagrini's second try in the majors, he was with the Boston Red Sox for two seasons and St. Louis Browns for one before coming to Baltimore this year.

He will report to the Phils next spring.

Tassel Hanover established a world record for three-year-old pacing fillies Thursday by going a mile in 2:00 2-5 at the Lexington trots.

The filly from the Arden Homestead stable of Goshen, N. Y., set the mark in the first heat of the Fairmeade-Greenacres pace but lost the race to Mighty Sun, owned by Sol Camp of Shafter, Calif., and driven by Joe O'Brien, the New Glasgow, N. S., reinsman.

O'Brien drove Mighty Sun to victory in the last two heats after finishing second in the opener.

Tassel Hanover lowered the old mark of 2:00¾ held by Anna Bradford.

Another world mark fell in a duel among some of the country's better pacers that went four heats. The combined time for the four miles in the event, the Tattersalls 10 class pace for $3,000, was 8:04 2-5, bettering the 8:04½ mark in 1947.

Highland Ellen, owned by R. H. Kroening of Milwaukee, Wis., was the winner, taking the first and fourth heats. Price Jay with O'Brien in the sulky, and Royal Blackstone won the other heats.

PAT FLANAGAN, pictured above, who will tackle Jack Moore in the semi-final of next Tuesday's mat show at the Brock Arena. Chief interest will be in the main bout which will feature the sensational Irish strongman, Timothy Geohagen, and Hi Lee. Geohagen is the current sensation of the mat world at the present time and local fans are in for a real treat when they see him in action. The preliminary bout will bring together Toar Morgan and Al Korman.

Black Hawks Trip Farmhands 8-3

SUDBURY, Sept. 29 (CP). — Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League turned on their American League farmhands from St. Louis to post a convincing 8-3 decision here on Thursday night.

Supported by some stellar net work by Harry Lumley, acquired from Detroit in a midsummer swap, the Black Hawks ran up a 3-1 lead in the first period, outscored the Flyers 2-1 in the second and 3-1 again in the closing stanza.

In Windsor, Detroit Red Wings were held to a 1-1 tie by their Indianapolis Capitols farm club Thursday night.

Centre Jim McFadden scored the Red Wing goal in the second period, taking a pass from his wingmen, Steve Black and Joe Carveth. Fred Glover of Indianapolis scored a first-period tally behind goalie Terry Sawchuk in a game that was shortened by the watery condition of the ice.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

The annual meeting of District No. 14 (Provincial Lawn Bowling Association) was held at Port Perry Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Our club was represented by Wm. Jeffries and Robt. Gamble.

M. Leitcher, Port Perry, was chairman and he sponsired a well-received program.

During the afternoon the delegates enjoyed a doubles tournament and the Peterborough pair came out on top to win first place and the district trophy. All players receieved a basket of apples.

A lunch was served at the Lions Club and immediately afterwards all adjourned to carry on the business of the district. Many ideas were brought forth for the new officers' consideration and after the election of officers the meeting adjourned.

Chairman, P. Skitch, Lindsay; vice-chairman, R. Gamble, Peterborough, Sec.-trea. to be appointed later.

Playing in Cobourg on the half holiday, Mrs. H. Wilson and Mrs. H. Beatty took first honors at the Cobourg ladies' open tournament.

We have no report from any of our bowlers who took in tournaments at Port Hope and Havelock.

If this fine weather continues, we intend to hold the family hour tournament Saturday night.

Hastings Ousted

HASTINGS, Sept. 29—(ENS)—Trenton Merchants handed Hastings Legion a decisive lacing at Trenton Park to take their semi-final series in three straight. Trenton now go against the winner of the Wooler-Frankford series.

West was on the mound for Hastings and although pitching a good game, was given ragged support. Crowley, in his first appearance at short-stop, had a particularly bad night.

Thompson, who has coached the Legion through the season, was forced to go in first to make the ninth player and he turned in a good performance.

Farr did the fining for the Merchants and mowed the Legion down in fine style, after getting through a troublesome first inning.

Riverdales Win

WESTON, Sept. 29 (CP) — Toronto Riverdales moved into the Ontario Senior B lacrosse finals Thursday night with a 15-11 win over Fergus Thistles. It was Toronto's second straight victory in the best-of-three semi-final series. Riverdales will meet the winners of the other semi-final series between Huntsville and Weston Lions.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Sad to say, for grid fans, there's no football action here this week-end. PCVS and SPS senior squads are playing in Toronto tonight, and the junior PCI-ers head for Oshawa on the morrow. The Orfuns trek to Orillia for an important ORFU senior "B" scrap Saturday, and the Bamforth bunch have to keep winning from here on in in a short, tough schedule. They ought to take this one and be set for a sizzling struggle here next Wednesday 'gainst the powerful Galloping Ghosts of Cobourg. That game was first slated for next Thursday, but is now definitely listed for this coming Wednesday.

An interesting football experiment in these parts is being tried this semester by the newly-formed Separate Schools Athletic Commission. The Catholic schools will play six-man rugby in a fall schedule, using the double hand touch for tackles. Not enough big players available at all the schools, so they're doing what other centres in recent years have worked successfully. All games at Morrow Park at 4.15 p.m., with the schedule opening next Monday, Sacred Heart playing St. Anne's. It runs through till nearly the end of October, with some four games or so a week.

One Of Those Things

Many folks no doubt were disappointed last night when the "International Ice Revue", featuring Eileen Seigh, comely and classic American ice figure-skating queen, was postponed until tonight. A mechanical breakdown in the ice-making equipment at Civic Arena forced the postponement. They had it fixed yesterday but not in time. However, the show will go on tonight and again on Saturday. Those who bought Thursday tickets will have them honored for tonight or tomorrow by exchanging 'em at Tem's Ticket Agency on George St. It was just one of those things—what wartime airmen blamed on the gremlins.

Lou Lebarr advises us that Mutuals have protested Toronto Motors' 11-inning OASA win here the other night. While he knows that the question of a batter batting out of turn won't stand up—you've got to catch that immediately—he has two other complaints. One is that Umpire Carson of Toronto refused consistently to call Toronto batters out for stepping up in front of the box to hit, and they did that regularly, and another is that Umpire Carson is not an OASA arbiter. He refused to show his umpire's permit and Secretary Feaver of the OASA says he never heard of him. Carson was quite tough and refused to listen to anyone in a game marked with arguments. Lou says: "It's only fair to the players to lodge a protest and put up a fight for a fair deal." We don't blame him.

Sweep The Net Tourney

Newcomers from the Old Country within the past year or so, Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher proved their prowess with a tennis racquet by sweeping all honors in the Kawartha Tennis Club final tourney. Mrs. Fletcher won the ladies' singles crown, teamed up with Mrs. Ralph Charlton to take the ladies' title, and she and her husband won the mixed event. Mr. Fletcher retained the men's singles and he partnered Jack Leeming as they captured the doubles. Pretty good going, what? Both were excellent players in England ere coming here, and they hope for a real revival in the game in Peter's borough.

While the Peterborough Hockey Club held its re-organization meeting last night, and accomplished a lot, there won't be anything for publication for a few days. Seems they have two or three wrinkles to iron out over the week-end and then it'll be clear sailing. An official or two to contact re taking office and a financial arrangement to complete. Everything points to a strong senior "B" squad wearing the Petes' colors this year, considerably stronger than last year's pack of puckists. Likely the ex-Legion bunch will be bolstered, too, which will make for some keen competition. The junior IOOF-ers appear set (with their Boston hookup), as well.

Two 1-0 Soccer Tilts On Thursday

Central intermediates dropped another two points in the soccer school league Thursday afternoon, to Confederation at Central grounds by a 1-0 count.

Exchanges continued even throughout the first period until a combination play led by Trotter culminated to Parnell scoring from close range. The second half terminated in defensive tactics without any scoring.

Confederation—J. Hotston, goal; D. Druery and K. Kimball, full backs; R. Jones, R. Brown and D. Mace, half backs; L. Ferguson, J. Chesney, T. Trotter, L. Walling and P. Parnell, forwards. Subs., G. McArthur, G. Rollins, R. Steel.

Central—J. Lustic, goal; R. Ellis and G. Pollock, full backs; C. Sorrie, V. Armstrong and D. Dinsdale, half backs; N. Lloyd, R. Naish, D. Lustic, T. Kelly, W. Sorrie, forwards. Subs., T. Armstrong, B. Simpson, P. Dunford.

Referee, Mr. Loveday.

Queen Mary Wins

Q.A.-Q.E. soccer team lost to Queen Mary 1-0 in an excellent display of the code on Bonner-Worth grounds, Thursday afternoon. The full backs on each team were outstanding.

Mid-field play held sway throughout the first period with the northenders being aggressive as the Queen Mary custodian held them scoreless. On resuming, Q.A.-Q.E. again forced the issue to leave their defence wide open and Queen Mary took advantage of it. Hendry broke up an attack to carry the ball down the field to Brazer who went right into goal and Dafoe scored from the rebound.

Q.A.-Q.E.—N. Olmstead, goal; W. Johnson and R. Willis, full backs; J. Mason, J. Hall and B. Conway, half backs; M. Tighe, R. Baker, R. Whitnell, P. Stewart and T. Reid, forwards. Subs., R. Nelson, D. Woodward, B. Kilborn, R. Barker, J. Dalton.

Referee, Mr. Bird.

Experts Predict Long Reign For Charles

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP). — Boxing men today forecast a long reign for Ezzard Charles, who finally showed some "tiger" in the most important ring fight of his career.

Ezzard's thorough drubbing of Joe Louis Wednesday night was the best showing he's made here in many tries. He looked and acted like a real champion in a grade-A performance that not only earned him world-wide recognition—except in Britain—but which also brought him long-overdue credit.

Next stop for the 29-year-old Cincinnati Negro will be his home town in mid-November against Freddie Beshore. Ez halted Harrisburg Freddie in 14 rounds in Buffalo last August. The dickering is under way for the return now.

Charles hasn't appeared before the home folks since he won the National Boxing Association title by beating Jersey Joe Walcott in Chicago, June 22, 1949.

Who's To Beat Him

After Beshore, what? Who's going to beat him?

Maybe Lee Savold, the British-recognized titlist from Paterson, N. J. And that's a big maybe. Savold is 34 and has been around a long time.

Most likely Savold and Charles will battle it out next summer in a big outdoor production.

After Savold on the NBA's latest list of heavyweight contenders you get:

Jersey Joe Walcott, Joe Baksi, Rocky Marciano, Bob Baker, Rex Layne, Roland La Starza, Cesar Brion and Frankie Buford. Put the name of Joey Maxim, the world's lightheavyweight champion, high on the list, too.

But Charles already has beaten Walcott, Baksi and Maxim. It's doubtful if the Cincinnati cobra will give them another whirl at the gold ring for a spell.

Durham Finals Tied

BETHANY, Sept. 29 (ENS). — The Durham County finals will have to go into a fourth round. The top baseball teams, Bethany for North Durham and Kendal for South Durham, each have a game to their credit, and Wednesday night's battle resulted in a tie, 7-7, with the game called for darkness in the seventh inning. Thus a fourth game is necessary, and will be played October 4 in Newcastle at 3:30 in the afternoon.

Edmunds hurled good ball all the way for Bethany, Reynolds receiving. Cornish started on the mound for Kendal, Kenny receiving, being replaced in the seventh inning by Quantril and Winters.

Courtoux for Kendal hit the only homer of the game; Cornish had a double. For Bethany, Bruce Ryley and Ray Stewart were the batting stars.

The teams:

Bethany— Edmunds, Reynolds, Sisson, Stewart, Harry Ryley, Ginn, Smith, Lowes, Kerr, Page, and Bruce Ryley.

Kendal — Thompson, Kenny, West, Burley, Quantril, Cornish, Armstrong, Cortoux, Gilmore and Winters.

| | |
|---|---|
| Kendal | 052 000 0—7 |
| Bethany | 011 001 4—7 |

Umpires — Borland of Peterborough at plate, Hills of Port Hope on bases.

City Hall Rolls High 2,752, Mercantile Loop

City Hall rolled high of 2,752 to start off the Mercantile Bowling League, with Braund's No. 1 having 2,712. Highest single game for teams went to Utilities with a healthy 1,016 roll. The bowling was good in this circuit for so early in the season, with a lot of high team counts and good individual rolls.

Utilities blanked Bond's, while 3-1 wins were recorded by A. & P. over Loblaw's, Braund's No. 1 against Prudential, and City Hall over Austin's Jewellers. Liftlock and Braund's No. 2 split evenly. Gord Leonard of Braund's No. 1 had high three for players with a 698 clip and his 263 single was tops in that division. Other good counts weren't listed for the press, but there were some crowding the leaders.

Rain Threatens Slim Hopes Of Tigers, Brooks In Race

By RALPH RODEN,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

"Rain, rain go away, come again some other day."

That's what the second-place teams in the major-league pennant races are chanting today. This is especially true of the beleaguered Brooklyn Dodgers, and to a lesser extent, the Detroit Tigers.

Rain threatens to wash out what little chance the Dodgers and Tigers have to catch the Philadelphia Phillies and New York Yankees, respectively.

The Phillies in the National and the Yanks in the American assured themselves Thursday of finishing no worse than a tie for the pennants in their respective leagues.

Brooklyn, in order to tie the Phillies, must beat Boston twice today and the Phillies Saturday and Sunday. The Phils are idle today and can clinch if the Dodgers split. Detroit, in order to tie the Yanks, must win all three of their remaining games against Cleveland while the Yanks, idle today, must drop single games to the Boston Red Sox Saturday and Sunday.

May Lose Chance

However, Brooklyn is in danger of having its thin chance wiped out. The Dodgers today are scheduled to play their third doubleheader in as many days against the Braves at Ebbets Field, and the weather forecast is for showers.

If rain prevents the twin bill from starting at the scheduled 1:30 p.m. EST, the games will be started as soon as possible. If necessary, the games will be played at night.

Ford Frick, National League president, said early today that the doubleheader will be played "if at all possible." Conceivably this means that the teams can play all night if necessary.

If the games are rained out, the Dodgers will be washed out of the pennant picture.

The season ends Sunday Oct. 1 and no post-season games are allowed in which to play off rained-out regular season games. So if the Dodgers are rained out it will be impossible for Brooklyn to wind up the race in a dead heat, as they have no open dates left.

Rain also threatens today's game between Cleveland and the Tigers in Detroit, but there's ample opportunity to make it up as part of a doubleheader Saturday or Sunday.

Brooklyn missed the boat Thursday by dividing a doubleheader with the Braves while the staggering Phils dropped their second twin bill in as many days to New York Giants. Philadelphia's once-imposing lead now stands at three games.

The Dodgers won the opener 6-5, but lost the nightcap, 8-4. The Phils were beaten by identical scores of 3-1.

Brooklyn pulled the opener out with a four-run rally in the seventh inning against Mickey Haefner. Sid Gordon drove in all of Boston's runs.

Starts Downfall

He also started the Dodgers on the road to ruin in the nightcap, when he tripled with one out in the seventh and scored a moment later to shove the Braves ahead, 4-3. Del Crandall followed him with a home run and the game was in the bag.

Sal Maglie and Sheldon Jones turned back the Phils. Maglie stopped the Phils in the opener on five hits to gain his 18th victory. Two more runs by Bob Thomson put Maglie in the winner's circle. Jones scattered seven hits in out-duelling Robin Roberts in the second. The Giants broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh inning, scoring twice when Whitey Lockman blooped a single to left with the bases loaded.

In the only other National League game, St. Louis Cardinals trounced Cincinnati Reds 7-0 under the lights at St. Louis. Howie Pollett blanked the Reds on six hits.

The Yanks were forced to go 10 innings before defeating the tail-end Philadelphia Athletics, 8-6. Phil Rizzuto doubled home Cliff Mapes with the tie-breaking run and then scored the clincher on Yogi Berra's single.

Edge Browns

Detroit stayed alive by edging St. Louis Browns 4-3 in 12 innings. The Browns held a 3-2 lead gonig into the ninth when Aaron Robinson socked a pinch-hit homer to send the game into overtime. Pat Mullin walked to start the Tiger 12th. Hoot Evers sent a bunt down the third-base line but Don Lenhardt had trouble picking the ball up. Lenhardt then spied Mullin streaking for third and fired the ball in that direction, but no one was covering and the ball sailed into left field and Mullin romped home to win the game.

In the only other game, the Red Sox edged Washington Senators 4-3. Chuck Stobbs, with help in the ninth from Willard Nixon, was the winner.

Receives Permit To Build Theatre

MARMORA, Sept. 29 (ENS)—A building permit for the erection of a theatre, coffee shop and business offices on the corner of Burstall St. and No. 7 Highway, was granted Wednesday at a special meeting of the village council.

The permit was issued to Donald Ross, who recently purchased the Clairmont property.

Poor Fire Houses

LONDON, Sept. 29 (Reuters)—Only 12 per cent of the fire houses in England and Wales match present-day needs, the chief inspector of fire services reported Thursday. Of the remainder, 63 per cent ought to be entirely scrapped, while 25 per cent needed extensive alterations, the report said. Fire-fighting equipment, too, was found over-age in many cases.

Lay Cornerstone

HAIFA, Sept. 29 (Reuters) — The cornerstone of an immigrants' school named for British leader Maj-Gen. Orde Wingate was laid here Thursday in the presence of his widow, Mrs. Lorna Wingate, and his six-year-old son. After the general's death in a Burma air crash in 1944, Mrs. Wingate said she had decided to educate her son, Orde Jonathan, in Palestine, in the hope that he could gain further understanding "between Britain and the Jews."

Needed In Poland Dr. Infeld Tells Press

PARIS, Sept. 29 (CP)—Professor Leopold Infeld, who recently resigned as professor of applied mathematics at the University of Toronto, said today he is going to live in Poland because he thinks he can do work more effectively there.

Infeld, 52 and a native of Poland, specializes in general relativity theory and foundation of physics. Asked whether his work contributes to the development of atomic weapons, he told reporters:

"Definitely not, and I do not intend to do any work in the future which will be a contribution to war."

Infeld is in Paris briefly for research work.

2 Construction Men Caught In Cave-In

PORT COLBORNE, Sept. 29 — (CP).—Two Cornell Construction Company employees, James Gamble and Raymond Young of Brantford, were taken to Welland Country Hospital Thursday afternoon when sand caved in on them during construction of a new water main on Tennessee Avenue. They escaped serious injury.

Gamble suffered a badly bruised knee as he was pinned to the waist in the trench as sand fell. Young was buried under four feet of sand, but was quickly extricated by fellow workmen. He suffered burns to his stomach as the sand held him fast against a hot lead joint in the water main.

Eye On Television

TORONTO, Sept. 29 (CP)—The church should be given adequate opportunities for a television ministry upon inauguration of Canadian-produced television, the 68th annual congress of the Salvation Army has decided. In a pronouncement issued Thursday, the congress said it felt the "relationship of the church to television should be immediately established."

Ban Neon Sign

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Sept. 29 (Reuters)—Edinburgh has banned a huge neon sign, saying "Jesus saves" in letters 10 feet high, planned for the city's main street. The mayor, Lord Provost Sir Andrew Murray, said it would be introducing an alien method of teaching the Christian faith. Town planners added that it would not be in keeping with the local architecture.

Will Ask Parliament To Grant $500,000

WELLAND, Sept. 29—(CP)—Transport Minister Chevrier said Thursday night that parliament will be asked to vote more than $500,000 to help handle industrial waste in the St. Catharines, Thorold and Merritton areas.

He spoke at a campaign rally on behalf of Dr. W. H. McMillan, Liberal candidate in the Oct. 16 federal by-election in Welland riding.

The sewage-disposal scheme is part of a program of rehabilitating lands along the Welland canal. Mr. Chevrier said he felt the federal government should also bear some responsibility for a proposed new Welland canal.

Must Catch Measles

PORT HURON, Mich., Sept. 29 (AP)—Young Johnny Neal, of nearby Smiths' Creek, has to catch the measles. His life may depend on it. Johnny, who will be three in November, is seriously ill with a rare kidney disease. Doctors at the hospital where he is being treated have noted that victims of the disease have been known to recover if they have measles at the same time. So the boy's parents are making a public appeal to find another child with measles so Johnny can be exposed.

Scout Enrolment Shows Decrease

A slight falling off in enrolment of cubs, scouts and rovers was reported at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Boy Scout Association Thursday night at the Public Library. Financially the association shows a slight increase, these funds to be held in reserve for a future headquarters building.

Some of the many activities of the local association in the past year included two paper drives, apple day, leaders' conference, bronze and silver arrow courses, cub leader courses, tree planting, assisting the Red Cross Society and the St. John Brigade.

The Nassau camping grounds were in use throughout the summer and improved with the addition of two buildings given the association by the Kiwanis Club.

Peter Moore, associated with the Knights of Columbus group and an active worker especially in paper drives, was elected president of the local association for the coming year to succeed B. I. Burgess.

Other officers elected were: vice-president, A. L. Malby; secretary, W. G. Shiner; treasurer, Edward MacDonald; executive, Al Clarke, D. Hillier, Albert Hope, James Houghton, James Hunter, Charles Hurst, Stanley McGann, Reginald Perks; past presidents, B. I. Burgess, Frank Buckland, Barry Ottowell; commissioner, George Groombridge; auditors, Jack Hallihan, A. L. Malby.

Tomato Crop In Northumberland Cut In Half By Frost — District Plowing Matches Next Week — R. Bell Grateful To Elders For Help In Junior Work— Trip To International Plowing Match Planned.

"Without the goodwill and help of senior farmers, it would be impossible to carry through a junior club program to anything like the success we all hope for," said R. E. Bell, assistant agricultural representative, today on the eve of Achievement Day, Saturday, and the end of the club season.

"Early in the spring we appealed for the co-operation of the elders, and we couldn't have had a heartier response. Any time we asked for use of a farm for an evening meeting, the only question asked by owners was 'when is it going to be?' Looking back now, I would like to thank everybody who helped make this an interesting and profitable season for our junior club members. It has been a heart-warming experience.

Meetings of our beef calf club were held at the farms of Col. F. E. Birdsall, Melville Pimmett & Sons, and Lou Shaw. He had classes of Hereford at Col. Birdsall's place, and Shorthorns at the two Otonabee farms. I would like to mention the splendid help by Lorne Pimmett, but probably that should be held for a general reference to the club leaders.

The meetings of the eastern dairy calf club were held at the farms of Stanley Wood, Stewart Nelson and Joseph Tully; and the western dairy calf club demonstration meetings were at the farms of Clarence Mann, Ayrshires; Carman Seymour, Holsteins, and Bamforth & Kelly, Jerseys.

Our program included the bus trip to OAC, another fine success. It has been suggested that next year this outing might go to Central Experimental Farms at Ottawa.

Our Tractor Club was the first organized in Ontario this year. Meetings were divided between farms and implement dealers. After our organization meetings we had programs at the office of Cliff Curtis, Aylmer St., and Harold Bolton's, Norwood; also at the farm of R. R. Stewart, Otonabee. Mr. Stewart has had two sons in our clubs. David, the younger, was in the beef, tractor and the new wheat club; and Garry took the beef club and also showed up well at the junior farmers' section of Peterborough Exhibition.

Trip To Hamilton

Our next meeting was at the farm of Charles Bolton, River Road, Douro. From that home there are three club members. Gerald is with tractor and east Peterborough dairy calf club; and Allan and sister Gwelda are in the east dairy calf club.

Finally the tractor club went on the trip to International Harvester Co., Hamilton, arranged by Cliff Curtis. The morning was spent in the twine mill. The boys were guests of the company at lunch in the cafeteria. Most of the afternoon was spent in seeing how seed drills are made; up to the big 28-spouters used in the harvest in western Canada. Other implements, including plowshares, were also seen in production, and the foundry was a great attraction.

I think that was valuable experience, particularly in impressing on our club members the importance of the implements which they use in farm work.

Our Forestry Club, formed in April, has a membership from Lake Catchacoma to the Apsley and Havelock communities. Our first meeting was to the woods on the Garbutt farm, east of Lakefield, for study of good forestry practice, and lessons in identifying trees and collecting leaves and twigs.

We also had a fine trip to the Northumberland that is now well established. Members saw methods of fire prevention, road breaks, and use of land for forest cover. We hope to wind up the Forestry Club season with another trip either to Orono or Medhurst in Simcoe county.

New Wheat Club

The winter wheat club has been organized with 23 members and is now under way for next year after the sowing of two bushels of best quality Cornell wheat.

That is an outline of our club activities, and again I would like to mention the fine assistance from Mr. Paterson, agricultural representative, and from many others whose encouragement was so helpful. The club members themselves were a real inspiration.

To the parents of the boys and girls we are especially grateful for their interest as manifested by attending many of our meetings.

We are winding up the season with 140 club members, including those of our wheat club."

HEAVY TOMATO LOSS

Ralph Banbury, Brighton, agricultural representative in Northumberland, reports half the tomato crop in the county hit by frost, "and will be useless."

"In other areas where frost was light, the crop showed considerable late blight and is hardly worth picking. It means a serious financial loss to many growers.

"The long moist growing season, with little warm ripening weather, meant that two-thirds of the crop must be left on the land. Altogether, it has been an unsatisfactory year for growers. Some hit by blight have not made enough to pay themselves anything for their work. Others have marketed half a crop."

With only 100 bus. per acre from most fair patches, and the quality so poor that a 50 per cent grade is general, it is fairly safe to say that farmers will not be pleased with results, and that the surplus pack from last year will be pretty well used up before another crop rolls round.

"In a number of fields in the Colborne area, it is tragic to see the bountiful crop entirely spoiled by blight, and to know the owners did all the work and received only exercise for their investment."

LOCAL MATCH OCT. 5

Just a reminder of the Peterborough plowing match Thursday Oct. 5 at the farm of Stewart Lang, lot 27, con. 6, Otonabee, on No. 7 Highway, near the Indian River. Entries must be listed by 9:30, and the work must be finished by 3:30 p.m.

Plowing in the general purpose class with tractors starts at 3 p.m. Contestants are allowed one hour and fifteen minutes to plow half an acre with two-furrow plows, or three quarters of an acre for three-furrow plows.

✦ ✦ ✦

PLOWING MATCH TRIP

Bus tickets to the International Plowing Match at Aliston are $3.75. "We can arrange for an extra bus if we sell enough tickets" Henry Batten reports.

The Peterborough trip is set for Thursday, Oct. 12, leaving the King St. terminal at 7 a.m. Tickets may be bought from Mr. Batten. Alex Huston or at the office of Frank C. Paterson.

✦ ✦ ✦

MATCH AT BALTIMORE

Durham-Northumberland plowing match will be at Baltimore Wednesday, Oct. 4, switching back to the eastern partner after a lengthy series in Durham. A special event will be the finals of the tractor driving competition in which the high nine boys of a previous competition will enter with a Durham group. Winners from each county will be representatives of both counties at the provincial match during Crop Improvement Association convention in Toronto next winter.

✦ ✦ ✦

ATTENDING CONVENTION

Delegates from Kawartha Medcial Services to the provincial Federation of Medical Services, London, Oct. 5 and 6, are the secretary Miss Olive Bell, and Mrs. R. R. Stewart. W. W. Dawson will attend as director of the senior association. Mrs Dawson is making the trip to visit friends. This convention was held in Peterborough last year.

✦ ✦ ✦

TOP AUCTION PRICE

Howard Miles says the $317.50 for two Ayrshire cows at the George Fairbairn sale in Smith "was the highest price I've got for a cow this year." A many seasoned binder brought $120. Year old Shorthorns, he said, sold at $169. The auction drew quite a crowd of farmers.

SHOWED FORUM METHOD

The procedure or technic of farm forums was demonstrated to students of the Normal School by Clare Burt, Toronto, Tuesday. Five groups were formed for discussion of a sample question: "What type of rural public school would you wish your children to attend?"

More than half the students taking part expressd preference for the one, two or three-room public school, efficiently equipped, rather than the large consolidated school.

One of the reasons supporting this opinion was that the smaller school strengthened self-reliance. There was also opportunity for co-operative effort, in working together. On the other hand when there are two or three grades in one room there is more responsibility on the pupil to work for himself, to concentrate on his work, a personal asset which the Normal students were inclined to emphasize.

✦ ✦ ✦

FIRST FORUM MEETING

East Peterborough Forum membership set an example for the rest of the county by their attendance Tuesday night at the office of F. C. Paterson, surveying prospects as the new radio season approaches.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Legge and Mr. and Mrs. M Kirk of Norwood; Mrs Will Barrie, Trent River, west; Mrs. Max Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Stevenson, Mr. Orland Brown represented Donegal Forum.

Wellington Sutton was chairman, and Miss Alberta Anderson, secretary of the meeting. Nine forums in Peterborough last season were two more than in the previous year. Mr. Burt said he hoped for a further quickening of interest in the county and an increas in the number of Forum groups. In his own township in Wellington county there are thirteen groups.

Mr. Burt suggested that the provincial Federation and the Farm Forum should work more together for their mutual advantage.

"Too many people on the concession lines don't know what the Federation is doing for our people," he said.

History had a way of repeating itself, and there was always the possibility of decline setting in, even with the Federation, "unless we realize that and keep doing something about it." The Forum he said, should be an agency of submitting problems to the Federation which in turn should inform the Forum as to what was done about such matters.

✦ ✦ ✦

R. E. Bell Tour Leader

Robert E. Bell, assistant agricultural representative, has been selected by his department as leader of a touring group of western Ontario Juniors who are assembling in Galt Oct. 2 for a trip into New York State and Quebec.

The 18 girls and 25 boys have been chosen from eleven counties for outstanding contributions in Junior Farmers' work. They are from Middlesex, Huron, Bruce, Grey, Waterloo, Perth, Peel Norfolk, Haldimand, Brant and South Sincoe. Miss Ina Lindsay of the home economics branch of the Women's Institute branch, is the chaperone.

Monday Oct. 2 takes them as far as Gananoque. Tuesday they cross into New York, and go on to the eastern townships, spending that night at the St. Martine Agricultural School, Quebec. Wednesday they are guests of the Family Herald and Weekly Star, board the Empress of Canada, and will stay at Laurentian Hotel. Thursday they are in Ottawa, seeing the Parliament buildings, Central Experimental Farm, and going on to Kemptville Agricultural School.

The party arrives in Peterborough Friday Oct. 6, will visit the Quaker Oats and De Laval plants. In the evening they will be entertained at the Normal School by the Peterborough Junior Farmers' Club, and will be registered at Empress Hotel. After breakfast there Saturday they set out on the last leg of the tour to Galt.

Many interesting places of call have been listed for this outing.

The Staghorn Sumac

The hours of September are ticking away with dilatory delivery of the atmosphere of autumn. In the persisting perversity of the seasons since winter melted into spring, the countryside is still clad in durable green. The young wheat crop is sprouting vigorously, the maturing corn is a darker shade, and the expanses of pasturage are a fresh and lively color. Even the hardwoods are only splotched with the pigments October is mixing for the pageantry of the departing year.

Against that verdure the staghorn sumac has been blending its own magic of reds and silver greens. Along the road between Hastings and Roseneath there are thickets of this rich coloring, enhanced by the rippling red of the Virginia creeper, cascading down split rail fences of Northumberland hills. The sumac is an opportunist this month, stealing the show from the laggard autumn dulled and dispirited so far by clouds and rain and winds.

Nature fashioned this shrub, with its limbs that look like the antlers of the stag, for variety in its own landscaping, and accentuated its grace of form with leaves shaped like the fronds of the fern. If man neglects it in his gardening art, his is the loss, especially in early autumn when the sumac's green dissolves into garnets and grays as harmony of background for the mahogany shade of its fruit panicles.

In the prelude to autumn, the sumac has been glowing for weeks against the vagueness of September, lighting the wayside with the scarlets of the soft maples, the dark red of the virginia creeper, and the dimmer fire on the leaves of the poison ivy. That hillslope of sumacs in the sunlight Tuesday was a brilliant promise of the tapestry October will weave along the valleys of Northumberland.

Women Squabble Over Shed Court Decides, Fines One $5

A neighbors' squabble over rights to a shed was settled in police court today with Mrs. Mary Corbett winning the decision and Mrs. Rhoda Bagnall paying a $5 fine and costs.

Mrs. Corbett lives in an upstairs apartment of 145 London St. and Mrs. Bagnall occupies the lower apartment.

Mrs. Corbett charged Mrs. Bagnall with trespassing in her shed. The shed claimed by Mrs Corbett was the back half of a large shed divided by a partition parallel to the back of the house. There are outside doors entering both halves of the shed. There is a connecting door between the halves. Only Mrs. Bagnall has a door which leads directly from her apartment to the shed.

Mrs Corbett charged that August 28 Mrs. Bagnall broke off a lock she had on her door to her shed and broke boards nailed across the connecting door. Mrs. Bagnall was having oil delivered. She said the only way a hose could be brought into her half of the shed where she kept her oil drums was through the back half of the shed.

The oil truck that delivered the oil parked on George St. and pumped the oil in through a hose along the lane to the shed three houses away. There was no reason why the truck could not back part way or all the way into the lane and reached the drums through the door of Mrs. Bagnall's half of the shed said Mrs. Corbett.

Abraham Cherney, called by Mrs. Corbett to verify her exclusive right to the back half of the shed, was a very reluctant witness. He said he was too sick to go into the witness box and he didn't want to become involved in the argument.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw and Magistrate W. R. Philp KC, had to threaten him with arrest and jail before he would take the stand.

"I hope Your Worship isn't angry with me," he said. He said he couldn't remember much about any agreement about who had what rights to the halves of the shed. He said he thought they both had rights to use the shed.

Mrs. Corbett and Mrs Bagnall had apparently been squabbling for some years—since they both rented the apartments about six years ago—over such matters as Mrs. Corbett keeping a washing machine in the common bathroom on the second floor.

Mrs. Corbett said her daughter and Mrs. Bagnall had reached an agreement which she later continued by which Mrs Bagnall would keep her oil drums in the back half of the shed if Mrs. Corbett could go to and from the shed through Mrs. Bagnall's kitchen. The agreement broke down.

Finally said Mrs. Bagnall she had a conference with Mrs. Corbett and Cherney. and the landlord told her to take her oil drums out of the back of the shed and put them in her own half.

But after that and until this summer when Mrs. Corbett put a padlock on the back shed door, Mrs. Bagnall continued to go in and out of the shed.

Mrs. Corbett's granddaughter, Beth Corbett, testified that one day last December she went to go into the back shed from the lane and found that an oil drum had rolled against the door and she unable to get in.

Mrs. Bagnall said trouble between her and Mrs. Corbett started when she left her lawn hose in the front hall. She said Mrs. Corbett threw it out and tried to beat her up. Police were called and settled things for a short time.

Mrs. Bagnall said she didn't know how the oil drum happened to be against the back shed door. When she decided to get oil in last August, she asked Mrs. Corbett for a key to the padlock on the door. She said Mrs. Corbett at first promised to give her the key and then phoned her to say she would not let her bring the oil in through the back half of the shed. Mrs. Bagnall said her oil supplier had examined the shed and decided the only way to pump oil in was through the back of the shed.

She admitted breaking the lock and breaking the boards across the connecting door because she had a right to use the shed to go through.

Magistrate Philp said there was a "divergency in the evidence" and he was accepting Mrs. Corbett's evidence.

He told both women, "you're going to get into a lot of litigation and it will cost you a lot of money if you don't reach some settlement of your differences."

Cattle Trade Quite Dull During Week

TORONTO, Sept. 29 — (CP).— Cattle trade was dull with prices 50 cents or more lower at the Ontario Stockyards this week, the Dominion Marketing Service reported today.

Calves and sheep were steady, while hogs lost 25 cents a hundredweight and lambs 50 cents.

Cattle receipts of 9,002 for sale were added to 950 carried from last week. Included in the fresh supply were 2,300 Western cattle, chiefly stockers. Cattle moved slowly from the opening and the anticipated holdover was well over 2,000 head.

Some good to choice weighty steers were sold on Monday and Tuesday at $28.50-$30. Common to medium light steers and heifers were plentiful at $20-$27. Good heifers closer at $27.25-$27.50 and a few good light steers sold at $28-$28.50. Medium to good cows were $20-$22.50, with canners and cutters from $14-$18. Good bulls closed at $23-$24 with common lights downward to $18. Choice fed yearlings brought $31-$32.50.

Store cattle trade was fairly active early, but closed dull. Picked lots of feeding steers and stock calves sold at $29.50-$30.50 with one load of Hereford calves at $11.25. Common stockers sold downward to $23.

Calves totalled $2,237. Prices were steady at $30-$32 for good to choice vealers with occasional tops at $33. Common to medium lights and heavies were from $21-$29.

Hog receipts were 2,477. Prices settled at $30 for Grade A. Sows were 50 cents higher at $24 dressed.

Sheep and lambs were 3,315 head, including 760 Westerns. Lambs dropped 50 cents to $27.50 for good ewes and wethers, with bucks at $26.50. A few feeder lambs sold at $25-$26. Good light sheep brought $13-$15 and culls sold downward to $8.

To Extend Activities

MONTREAL, Sept. 29—(CP)—Full support of the Ontario and Quebec convention of the Baptist Church for any extension of activities in Quebec province was guaranteed Thursday night by the Rev. T. B. McDormand, of Toronto, general secretary of the convention.

Addressing a general rally in the first Baptist church here, he said there was undoubtedly plenty of room for expansion of activities of the church in this province.

He announced that a $300,000 objective in a fund campaign for Baptist extension has been "almost realized."

Film Councils Meet In Library

His Worship Mayor M. J. Swanston will give a welcoming address to the out-of-town visitors to the first session of the annual meeting and fall conference of the Federation of Film Councils of Eastern Ontario at the Public Library, Friday, convening tonight.

Kenneth Young, assistant director, Community Programs, Department of Education will discuss "Films in the Community," at this Friday session.

Saturday morning S. E. McDowell, Cornwall, will give the presidential address.

Other speakers at the Saturday morning and afternoon sessions will be Ronald Ward, National Film Board; Inspector R. H. Macklem, Librarian William Graff and Miss Jessie Mennie, National Film Board.

Saturday afternoon the election and installation of officers will be conducted. There will also be a display of exhibits.

This is the first time the conference has been held in Peterborough. All other conferences have been held at Queen's University, Kingston.

United Service Institute For All Officers

Organization of a United Service Institute in the Peterborough district for which officers and ex-officers of the Canadian Army, Navy and Air Force are eligible, was begun Thursday night at a meeting in the Armouries.

Brigadier Geoffrey Walsh, CBE, DSO, commander of the Eastern Ontario military area, with headquarters at Kingston, outlined the purposes of the Institute and its opportunity of usefulness through the local branches which are now being formed in many centres across the country. Col. J. A. Dewart, MC, ED, was appointed chairman of the meeting, and Lt.-Col. James Turnbull, ED, secretary.

Membership in the Institute is open to everyone who has held a commission in any branch of His Majesty's service, and it is hoped all the eligible officers of this district will become associated with it. Its general scope is for the encouragement and promotion of naval, military and aeronautical art, science and literature and to disseminate knowledge pertaining to service subjects and affairs.

It is significant that the science division of present day military technique is given recogniiotn with the older establishments of the service.

Nominating Committee

A nominating committee for the initial stage of the Peterborough branch was appointed as follows: Col. Dewart, chairman; Lt.-Col. Turnbull, secretary; Lieut.-Commander John B. Raine, Lt.-Col. M. E. Clarke; Lt.-Col. V. M. Eastwood, MC, ED; Major Gordon Monkman, MC, ED; Major J. P. McGrath, MM; Wing Commander E. A. Adams, DFC; Wing Commander W. Ross Thompson, and also Major W. K. Lye, MBE, representing the eastern military area.

The first general meeting for the election of officers and adoption of a constitution will be Friday, Oct. 27 in the officers' mess at the Armouries. Plans contemplate monthly meetings throughout the winter with speakers from various branches of the service, including science.

It is understood that the Institute will become a medium of transmiting information relating to military matters and developments, defence and other activities, in addition to stimulating a wider interest in military affairs and responsibilities in the broad circumstances involving them today.

The provisional committee is supported by a further group of contact assistants for the enlisting of membership for the October meeting and establishment.

CITY HOST TO SAMARITANS

Marked by a smart parade in colourful costumes and headed by the C.G.E. Pipe Band and the Peterborough Citizens' Band, the 34th Convention and Ceremonial of the Ancient Mystic Order of Samaritans and Ladies of the Orient will be an interesting spectacle in the city throughout this Saturday, September 30th.

The parade will proceed north on George Street from Sherbrooke Street to Confederation Square at about 1.30 p.m. A brief service will be held at the War Memorial.

Precision Patrol Drills by corps of Samaritans will be put on in the Armouries to band music from 3 o'clock to 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The public is cordially invited to these ceremonies.

Merchants are requested to put out flags to express the city's welcome to the marching visitors.

YOUR CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

BIG MURPHY

Mrs. Jack Huggins, River Rd., dug up a potato which knocks the eyes out. It weighs one pound 12 ounces. The biggest spud of the season, to date.

NEW CHANDOS REEVE

Clive Hoard took his seat in county council as Reeve of Chandos for the first time today. He was elected in September after Glen Nichols resigned. Mr. Hoard has been a township councillor for two-and-a-half years.

OPP SWITCH

Provincial Constable Norman DeBow of Bowmanville has resigned from the force to enter private business there. He was succeeded by constable Allan Hardy of Lindsay. Constable DeBow was attached to district headquarters here in Peterborough about a year ago.

RORK FERGUSON BACK

Warden Normal Wilson today welcomed back to the Peterborough County Council one of its most colorful members. Reeve Rork Ferguson of Norwood has been seriously ill and was unable to attend the June session. His rumbling comments during the morning sitting indicated he is back in fighting shape.

SKUNK WAR CONTINUES

Units of the city police force and Peterborough citizens army this morning made new advances in their war against skunks. Three of the enemy were destroyed when reports of their positions were reported to police. One was destroyed in the Martin-Hewitt Co. yard on Park St.; another in east city and the third on Manning Ave. in the north end.

WHERE IS DIXON HOUSE

Dixon House, Peterborough handicraft centre which is this week taking registration for classes in craft work and its season opened by the Mayor last Wednesday, has some people flummoxed. They can't find it. It is on Part St. north, just beyond the Park Hill Rd. intersection, and only a step from the bus stop. The large, old stone house, now city property, is set in from the street. You cawnt miss it, once you're there.

FEW SHELLS, GUNS

Anticipating a shortage of hunting shells and rifle amunition, sports reduced hardwaremen's stocks, early in the month. New stocks have not been coming in due to the recent 15 per cent government tax hike, and guns, which are mostly of American make, are not to be had at all. Merchants do not seem unduly worried and hope for shell shipments to arrive on time. "The heavy buying does not take place until a few days before the opening of the season, anyway," said one dealer.

LIFT LOCK FIRST STOP

Two befezzed Shriners of Askabad Lodge No. 107, Charles W. Murtagh and Carlyle Shaw, both of Leamington, were in the early van of their 300 to 400 brothers to arrive in the city today for the 34th semi-annual Shriners' Convention. Finding time on their hands, they struck out on foot to see the famous Lift Lock armed with the Examiner's Vacation Guide. A reporter who started to extoll the Kawarthas was cut short as Murtagh asked him if he ever heard of Leamington, the "Big Pickle Town," to do a little home-town selling of his own.

Is It Undignified For The City To Buy A $293 Underwater Respirator On Credit?

Price spiralling, even with such items as the Scott airpack, a respirator that can be used under water, are apparently to continue their upward gyrating.

Fire and light committee of the council Thursday ordered one of these safety devices at $293, the September price, to be paid next January.

"We can have delivery in a week," Ald Doug. Miller told the committee. The company's sales representative did not attach any strings to the deal.

Ald. J. E. Gillespie said he disliked the city availing itself of that method of business, however acceptable it might be to the manufacturer. The committee might be showing a surplus at the end of the year, Ald. Miller commented, if paid for in January and not now.

He said he was content with whatever action the members decided on.

Committee agreed with Ald. Gillespie generally to the effect that it was hardly seemly for a buyer of the standing and dignity of the city to make a purchase on three months' credit.

Hospital Shows $24,000 Deficit

Civic Hospital has been operating at a deficit of $24,589.31 during the first eight months of this year.

When T. T. Rodger, hospital board treasurer, announced this at the board meeting Thursday, he explained that when outstanding accounts were paid, the deficit would be some $11,000 below the present figure.

The total revenue for this eight month period is $348,642.28, while total expenditure is $373,231.59. The amount of expenditures over revenue during the month of August is $6,683.60.

"Again we report an increased operating deficit," stated Mr. Rodger. "The reason for this increased deficit may be explained by the rise of prices and the over-expenditure in dietary, drug and medical supplies," he said.

Mrs. Clysdale Funeral

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Clysdale, 265 Burnham St., who died Monday, was held Thursday at the Comstock funeral home. The service was conducted by the Rev. A. A. Mathews of George St. United Church and pallbearers were Henry Borland, John Dean, Harry Reid and Stephen Miller, all of Indian River; Allan Bell of Hastings and A. E. Borland of Peterborough. Burial was in the family plot at Norwood.

Yo-Ho! Mississippi, Alaska Both Boats At Little Lake

Last Saturday afternoon at Lock 7 on the Trent Canal, two boats carrying two different parties of American water tourists, pulled into the dock in the lee of the wind. The larger craft, a lifeboat called the "Ardent", converted into a cabin cruiser with two schooner-rigged sails, was exactly one month out of Philadelphia, skippered by Fritz Schrader and crewed by Everett Parrish, Jr. The second craft, a ten-horsepower outboard boat, the "Penn Yan" had left Saugerties, N.Y., five weeks before. It was owned by Hank Barrow and his brother Carroll, of New York State, and Virginia, respectively.

The meeting of the two parties was a matter of circumstance. They come up to Otonabee Wednesday and were tied up together at George St. wharf Thursday. Their stories are entirely different and must be told separately.

Sails and Model T

The Schrader - Parrish boat, driven by a converted T-model Ford motor, as well as sails, is very seaworthy. It bucked the Atlantic around Cape May and along the coast from the Delaware River and followed the Hudson, the New York State barge canal, Lake Champlain, the Richelieu and St. Lawrence Rivers, and across Lake Ontario to Trenton. From there on, it was cruising over familiar waters having come through the Trent Canal in 1933, skippered by Fritz Schrader.

This time he and Parrish hope to reach the Soo and Chicago before freeze-up and continue down the Illinois and Mississippi River to tie up at Davenport, Iowa, for the winter. The following spring these fresh-water mariners hope to complete the Great Circle via the Gulf, Florida and the Atlantic back to Philadelphia.

Stake In Alaska

The Barrow brothers' "Penn Yan" is just starting on the first leg of a cruise that will finally land it on inland Alaska, but not this year. Hank, the elder, has a stake in Alaska, a 40-foot salmon trawl beached near Ketchikan on the Pacific. After the war he spent two years teaching seamanship at the United States Federal Indian-Eskimo School at Anchorage, he followed this with a year of commercial fishing and hopes that once he does arrive in the Far North that he will stay.

Brother Carroll has never been up there before. They hope to make the Soo also by freeze-up and continue in the spring of '51 on the long haul end of the journey via Lake Superior and the old fur trade route into the Northwest.

Both craft will stay together as far as Sault Ste. Marie and are congenially happy about their chance meeting. All four have nothing but praise for Canadian courtesy, scenery and prices of food. They find coffee the most costly item, and are slowly adapting themselves to brews of good strong Canadian tea. The Barrows camp in pup tents ashore at night while the crew of the "Ardent" loll on the luxury of foam rubber bunks.

They visited the Outboard Marine factory while servicemen tuned up the kicker, and also the Peterborough Canoe Company where they purchased some stout new paddles and received token miniature paddles which they prize highly.

Both boats left their encampment by the CPR bridge late Thursday night while the weather was so balmy. They hoped it would stay that way for several weeks to come.

Hospital Board To Set Up Pediatric Service

A separate service of pediatrics will be established at the Peterborough Civic Hospital as the result of a decision to this effect made at the board of governors meeting Thursday night.

The need for this department as a special service in the hospital was brought to the attention of the board by a recommendation of the medical and surgical advisory committee.

Speaking on behalf of this recommendation, Superintendent John Hornall told the board that present conditions would benefit by the establishment of this separate service.

"There are four qualified pediatricians already in the city," stated Mr. Hornal. "These men would be given responsibility in the nursery and children's wards."

Chairman J. R. Marshall also supported the recommendation and explained to the board members that the establishment of pediatrics as a separate service would give the qualified men more direct supervision in this department.

Following a discussion there was a unanimous decision for the creation of a separate service of pediatrics.

No Inquest Into Death Of William Simmons; Police Say Brakes Good

No inquest will be held into the death of William Charles Simmons, 72, Orpington Rd., who died Thursday after being struck down by a car, but Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw is considering what charges if any will be laid against the driver of the car, Archie Patterson, 75, North Monaghan. Mr. Simmons was hit while crossing Lansdowne St. at Park St. against a red light, police reported. Patterson, an old friend of the accident victim, was driving east on Lansdowne. He said he didn't see Simmons until he was directly in front of his car. He swerved to the left thinking he would miss the elderly man, but Simmons kept walking and then started to turn his back when he apparently heard Patterson's horn blow.

Brakes Good

Patterson said he didn't have time to use his brakes before the collision. He said he was taking his car in to have the brakes fixed because he thought they were not working as well as they should. But police reported that, when they checked the car's brakes, they were more than 90 per cent efficient, considerably higher than average.

Simmons had parked his car on the south side of Lansdowne St. west of Park St. He was starting to cross over to a bank on the north side of Lansdowne east of Park St. to cash a war veteran's pension cheque. He had planned to take his wife to Young's Point for the afternoon.

Patterson pointed out the point of impact as near a manhole a short distance from the centre of the intersection. But a witness, parked on Park St. waiting for the light to change to go south, A. Beauclerc, 483 Brioux St., said the man was hit approximately in line with the west sidewalk of Park St. about eight feet from the south curb of Lansdowne St.

Thrown 50 Feet

Simmons was either thrown or carried part way about 50 feet to the curb at the northeast corner of the intersection, almost the whole distance diagonally across the intersection.

A retired CGE machinist, Mr. Simmons was a veteran of World War I. He enlisted in the 93rd Battalion in October 1918 and returned to Canada in 1919. A member of the Canadian Legion, he also belonged to St. George's Anglican Church.

He was born in Chandos, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Simmons. He has resided in Peterborough for 60 years.

Surviving

He leaves his widow, the former Emma Thoume; four daughters, Mrs. Walter Bannon (Lucille) of Peterborough, Mrs. W. Heard (Barbara) of Young's Point, Mrs. W. Wedgewood (Phyllis) of Toronto and Mrs. E. Pilling of Peterborough; four sons, Frank, Charles, Edward and Douglas, all of Peterborough; four sisters, Mrs. George Franks of Emily, Mrs. Andrew Jackson of Toronto, Mrs. S. Johnson of Toronto and Mrs. Walter Miller of Peterborough; two brothers, Edward of Peterborough and John of Toronto; 16 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

THE LATE WM. SIMMONS

The funeral will be held from his home to St. George's Anglican Church Saturday at 2 p.m. The Rev. W. J. Gilling will conduct the service. Burial will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

Carton Causes Crash?

A carton of pop falling over on the floor of a car and distracting the driver, Barton Woods, 509 Bethune St., was blamed for a collision with a parked car on Lock St. Thursday.

The parked car was owned by K. Perry, 117 Lock St. Woods told police he was turning from travelling east on Romaine St. to go south on Lock St. when the carton fell over. He reached down to set it upright and struck the parked car.

The left rear fender was damaged and the body scraped on the Perry car. No damage was done to the Woods car. Constable Douglas Farthing investigated.

CNR Orders 5,000 Box Cars

MONTREAL, Sept. 29 — Five-thousand steel box cars, costing approximately $33,000,000, have been ordered by the Canadian National Railways from Canadian builders, it is announced here by E. A. Bromley, vice-president, purchases and stores. Delivery of the new cars will commence early in 1951 and will alleviate the present shortage in this type of rolling stock, as they will not replace retired equipment but will be used to supplement the present Canadian National fleet.

The new order brings to $46,-700,000 the total spent by the railway on 1950 orders for new equipment. Three companies, the Canadian Car and Foundry, the National Steel Car Corporation and the Eastern Car Company will share the new order.

RCAF Mercy Trip Aids Sick Baby

GOOSE BAY, Labrador, Sept. 29 (CP)—An RCAF Norseman aircraft piloted by Flt.-Lt. E. R. Cuthburtson, of of Brantford, flew 300 miles into north country Thursday to evacuate a seriously-ill infant.

With LAC D. C. McLaughlin, of Barrie, as crew member, he took the float-equipped plane to Nutak, Eskimo village and Hudson's Bay post, to pick up the baby of storekeeper Max Budgell.

The Budgells are long-time residents of the northland and one member of the family, LAC J. L. Budgell, is serving with the RCAF in Trenton.

Details of the child's illness were not available immediately.

Three-Month Purge Felling Egyptian Army Leaders

By ZEIN NAGATI

CAIRO, Sept. 29 — (AP) — Egypt's army, is in the midst of an unprecedented three-month purge which echoes back to the 1948 war in Palestine.

The Egyptian army made a poor showing against the Israelis. The present investigation indicates, according to press reports, that the army fought in Palestine with faulty guns and ammunition.

Now there are open newspaper charges of fraud and war-profiteering in the purchase of war materials. Cairo's leading newspapers report that two generals, six colonels and a number of others thus far have been imprisoned. Their names have not been made public.

Al Ahram and Al Misri, leading Cairo dailies, say the investigation involves 300 military officers and some prominent civilians, including the wives of two officers and three vice-ministers.

Veiled Warnings

Young army officers, demanding that the guilty be punished for what they term criminal negligence and fraud, have issued veiled warnings in secretly-distributed pamphlets that any attempt at a whitewash would bring trouble.

It was these young officers, in the front lines with the troops, who suffered most in the fighting.

A young weekly magazine editor—Ihsan Abdem Koddous, of Rose el Youssef—is chiefly responsible for the investigation.

Last May he printed an article charging that the wife of an army officer had profited by serving as agent in the purchase of war materiel.

Called before a military tribunal, charged with spreading false news to the detriment of the army, he produced documents to prove his charge.

Other newspapers joined in as martial law and local press censorship was lifted. There were stories of guns that didn't fire, grenades that exploded in the hands of Egyptian soldiers.

USE OF GUILLOTINE

The guillotine was in use in England, Scotland and other parts of Europe before it became popular in France during the revolution.

Christian Cure For Delinquency—Forsyth

"Christian character, education with practical interpretation and application of Christian principles is the only cure for juvenile delinquency," Charles Forsyth, general secretary at the YMCA, told members of the Kiwanis Club at their dinner meeting at the Empress Hotel, Thursday. Mr. Forsyth recently came to Peterborough as YMCA general secretary, replacing G. H. Roper. He was born and educated in Edmonton, Alberta, and has held the post of YMCA boy's secretary in Edmonton and Winnipeg, Man. He came to Peterborough from Niagara Falls, where he was general secretary in the YMCA of that city.

The theme of Mr. Forsyth's address was an answer to the question, "Why is the word Christian in YMCA?" With an explanation of the YMCA symbol, the speaker developed the idea that this association stresses the need of the active learning of Christian principles.

"Juvenile delinquency is not due to a criminal tendency, but only a perversion of play habits," explained Mr. Forsyth. "Because a boy learns only what he practises the YMCA is interested in developing character in the Christian virtues of tolerance, co-operation and unselfishness through the medium of Y clubs.

In order that these clubs may be effective, al the innate desires of boys such as approval, sense of belonging, achievement and friendship must be met, stated the speaker. The Y plays a preventative rather than a remedial role in helping the boys to practice Christian skills.

Keeping boys off the streets is not the answer to juvenile delinquency, argued Mr. Forsyth. This must be supplemented with tools and skills, leadership, co-operation, discussion, time and study, devotion to a cause, training and money.

Bill Richardson introduced the speaker and appreciation to Mr. Forsyth was expressed by Milf Hardill.

A new member, Doug McGregor, was introduced to the club by Charles Hurst.

SPORTSMANSHIP IN "CANADA UNLIMITED"

An eager London crowd applauded the white-clad figures on Lords famous cricket grounds. It was their first glimpse of a touring Canadian team matched in England's national game against a vaunted MCC Eleven.

To universal surprise, the Canadians set the pace from start to finish . . . scoring 171 to the home team's 95. And in the flush of victory, the Dominion wound up its 1936 tour with seven wins, seven draws in 15 games.

Sportsmanship and teamwork have won many firsts for Canadians. And sportsmanship, with teamwork, helps you, too. Together they keep your opportunities in work and play...unlimited.

Moving Town In Manitoba To New Site

ST. GEORGE, Man., Sept. 29 (CP)—The advance of progress is pushing this 67-year-old village back a few hundred yards.

The Vincents, Duponts, Papineaus and the Chevefils, whose forefathers settled here in 1883, this week reached into the rich Manitoba earth with their gnarled farmers' hands to gently transfer the remains of their forefathers to new graves.

This northeastern Manitoba community, on the banks of the Winnipeg river about 90 miles from Winnipeg, is smack in the way of the Pine Falls power project. The $20,000,000 government project by 1952 will add 114,000 horsepower to Manitoba's hydro power.

Engineers said that when the Pine Falls dam is completed, back waters will spread over the north and south banks of the river, inundating part of the area occupied now by St. George.

So this week St. George's 550 residents packed up.

Cost About $300,000

Cost to the province will be about $300,000. The biggest job is putting the schoolhouse on another concrete base, and the transfer of bodies to new graves.

St. George is classed in the province's books as located in "unorganized territory." The affairs of the townspeople are looked after by the parish priest.

As work continued this week, some of the old-timers were wistful. But the young people were quick to absorb the march of progress.

"Our little town is by no means lost," said one. "St. George is really bigger and better."

Get 8 Mustangs

LONDON, Sept. 29—(CP)—No. 420 City of London Reserve Fighter Squadron will receive its first operational aircraft on Oct. 15 when eight Mustang-type fighter planes will be delivered here, Wing Cmdr. A. D. Haylett, AFC, commanding officer, announced Thursday.

Killed By Truck

CORNWALL, Sept. 29—(CP)—Gilles Lajoie, 5, was killed Thursday when hit by a truck which police said was driven by Ralph Beehler, Chrysler. Police said the boy ran from behind a steamroller into the truck's path.

TEMPORARY POSTING — Brig. J. D. B. (Des) Smith, CBE, DSO, 38, of Ottawa, has been named quarter-master-general of the Canadian Army on a temporary basis, replacing Maj-Gen. Rodger.

GOING OVERSEAS — Maj.-Gen. Elliott Rodger, CBE, 42, quartermaster-general of the Canadian Army, will attend the 1951 course at the Imperial Defence College in the United Kingdom. Shown in this Canadian Army photo, Maj.-Gen. Rodger, a native of Amherst, N.S., will sail in December. His post will be filled, temporarily, by Brig. J. D. B. Smith, of Ottawa.

Name Brig. Smith Handle Supply

OTTAWA, Sept. 29 (CP). — The big job of handling supply for the army—including the special force, wherever it may go—will fall into new hands in December, the army announced on Thursday.

Maj.-Gen. N. Elliott Rodger, CBE, 42, a native of Amherst, N. S., will leave the post of quarter-master-general then to go to England for the 1951 course at Britain's Imperial Defence College.

Into his job will step Brig. J. D. B. (Des) Smith, CBE, DSO, of Ottawa, secretary of the chiefs of staff committee. He will do so in an acting capacity.

Brig. Smith's job as secretary to the chiefs of staff, an important one, will be taken over by a senior officer from either the air force or navy, probably the former.

Report CCF Party To Expel Rod Young

VANCOUVER, Sept. 29 (CP)—The Vancouver Sun says that Rod Young, accused of attempting to lead a revolt in the British Columbia CCF, will be put on trial by the party and faces possible expulsion.

A special committee will try the former member of parliament for Vancouver Centre Saturday or Sunday, the newspaper says in a front-page story.

Young, a law student at the University of B.C., is alleged to have urged some 70 CCF left wing members to "disaffiliate from the CCF" when he spoke at a meeting Aug. 25.

He denied the charges, stating: "I am not leading any splinter group, nor do I wish to. I am a loyal member of the CCF."

Jailed Six Months

MILTON, Sept. 29 (CP)—Lorne W. Hawes, 21, of Oakville, Ont., was sentenced Thursday to six months on a charge of assault in the Aug. 10 death of Gordon Titus, 36, of Milton. A Supreme Court jury found him innocent of manslaughter but guilty of assault. Titus died following a midnight brawl in a restaurant.

Crushed In Truck

INGERSOLL, Sept. 29—(CP)—Forest Gould, 55, of Ingersoll, died of injuries when he was crushed at the plant of Gypsum Lime and Alabastine Canada Limited at nearby Beachville Thursday. A dump truck he was driving was said to have been struck by a shunting car near one of the firm's silos, and he was crushed between the cab of the truck and the car.

Fine Waiter $50

SIMCOE, Sept. 29 — (CP) — Roman Iskrzynski, a hotel beverage room waiter, was fined $50 and costs Thursday for serving beer to minors—two 15-year-old girls and a 17-year-old Montreal youth. The youth faces charges in juvenile court of contributing to juvenile delinquency.

Many People Interested In Statistics

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Is the average person interested in statistics?

The offhand answer may be "no," but it is not the real answer. The fact is the average person is extremely interested in statistics if they mean something to him personally, and if he knows that they do.

Hockey summaries, baseball standings and box scores, and so forth, are all statistics which are read avidly. Or let a man (or woman) spread some dollars among a few stocks, and then watch how fast he (or she) will pick up the market page. A market page. A company report is no longer dull if the company carries one's investment.

Few items of news are watched more closely than the cost-of-living index—another statistic, but one which has meaning to the average person because it affects his pocket-book and daily life.

So the lesson to business and governments, if they want people to read their statistics, is to let people know how they affect them:

Stresses Interest

C. T. Lawson, president of the National Electrical Manufacturers Association of the United States, brought out the interest in and the meaning of statistics in an address Thursday to the Canadian Electrical Manufacturers Association at Niagara Falls, Ont. Here are some excerpts on what they mean to business men:

"General business conditions may be good as shown by our overall economic data, and our own business may be going along in excellent shape as shown by our operating account.

"Yet, our industry data may show a decrease in the industry sales rate of our product accompanied by rapid increases in manufacturer and distributor inventories. Under such a picture any management, I am sure, would be looking for trouble ahead. . .

Shaped Plans

"On the other hand, when we see, month after month, that the products being manufactured in our industry are constantly moving through to the consumer as indicated by low and lowering inventories in our industry as a whole, we confidently go ahead with necessary forward commitments on materials and production planning." Or:

"Let's say the sale of our product has fallen sharply below national average in a certain area. General economic reports from that area may show that employment, bank clearings, department store sales all indicate good business—and by comparing the results being shown by our own industry we are able to make sound business decision based on facts."

Probably this particularizes study of statistics is likely to remain the field of the business man and statistician, because the average person, even if he were interested, would hardly have the time to devote to them.

Nevertheless, such statistics affect him greatly; if they point to a slowing down of operations they may mean his job; if they point up, they mean a general prosperity in which he may share.

Sent To Reformatory

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 29 (CP) —Thomas Garrity, convicted of possessing nude pictures of Windsor teen-age models whom he had photographed, was sentenced Thursday to four to six months in reformatory. The sentence was "for punishment, not for reformation." Magistrate Angus W. MacMillan said. "Possession of these pictures is bad enough, but production of them is worse."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out about 2 pints of bile juice into your digestive tract every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the digestive tract. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those mild, gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. 35¢ at any druggists.

Sell Land To Industry

OTTAWA, Sept. 29 — (CP) — Negotiations have been completed for the sale of 130 acres of Crown land on the east bank of the Welland canal near Thorold, to facilitate a $10,000,000 industrial expansion by McKinnon Industries, Ltd., the Transport Department announced Thursday night.

The department did not disclose the sale price of the Crown property.

It said construction of a malleable iron foundry and power plant would be undertaken on the site and grading and ground clearing operations would begin immediately.

Purchase of the land by McKinnon Industries would allow for a long-term development by the company "calculated to meet the anticipated expansion in the automobile field and will include equipment and tooling for the Buick program which provides for the reinstated Canadian manufacture early in 1951 of the Buick automobile."

Permission has been given the company for construction of facilities on the Welland canal to permit the landing of shipments of construction and other materials. A spur line also will be run from the main Canadian National Railway line to the proposed site.

The property is located on the east bank of the Welland canal and the major portion lies within the confines of the Grantham township with a small triangular section situated in the township of Thorold.

Have Special Force

BRUSSELS, Sept. 29 —(Reuters)—The Belgian government announced today it will build up a special national guard force to protect the interior of the country "notably against any action by a Fifth Column in the event of war." Units will be formed on a regional basis and organized so they can be quickly mobilized in the event of an emergency.

Urges Seaway Development

OGDENSBURG, N.Y., Sept. 29 (CP)—Ontario and New York State can't make their maximum contribution in peace or war unless they are allowed to develop the power resources of the St. Lawrence River, George H. Challies, minister without portfolio in the Ontario government, said Thursday.

He told the Ogdensburg Rotary Club these resources now are "wastefully gliding away . . . to the benefit of none, save those who seek the weakening or destruction of our economic system and democratic way of life."

Challies outlined how plans for a seaway project and power development on the river have been blocked since 1934.

Ontario and New York want to go ahead with a power pro... pending eventual approval of a seaway project. The United States government has refused to approve one without the other.

"If it can be done as part of a combined navigation and power project, well and good," Challies said. "If not, why not give New York State and Ontario the green light for power development with suitable provision in the structures for the requirements for navigation . . ."

He added: "One wonders . . . what would result if the Dominion of Canada should adopt a similar attitude towards some question being submitted by the United States to the International Joint Commission . . . ?".

Take Off Shirt To Get Movie Break

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 29 (AP) Film star Anthony Curtis has this advice for male movie hopefuls: Take off your shirt.

"I admit it," says the handsome young actor. "That's how I got my break."

Here's how it happened: Curtis was brought here from the east by Universal - International a couple of years ago. He was no overnight sensation. His career stumbled along through bit parts, none of them too impresive.

"Then, about a year ago," he recalls, "I had a dull day. I wasn't doing a picture, so the still photographer suggested that we go down to the beach and shoot some pictures. They put me in a pair of trunks and shot a lot of negatives."

"Whenever fans wrote in for my photograph, the studio sent them my beach pictures, instead of the usual dull portrait," he related. "The result amazed me."

Fan Favorite

Curtis shot to the top of the studio's fan mail favorites. Fan clubs were formed and movie mags went overboard for the boy. The studio caught on and gave him the starring role in "The Prince who was a Thief."

The actor has no objections to male cheesecake, or beefcake as it is called in Hollywood.

"The movies are the only business I would ever want to be in," he explained. "I'll do anything I can to stay in it. I have no secrets; if people want to know whom I'm dating or what I eat for breakfast, I'll tell them. And if taking off my shirt will help, I'll do it.

"All About Eve" ranks among the smartest comedy-dramas in many, many years. Written and directed with great wit by Joseph Mankiewicz, it is a backstage story which should appeal to all discriminating movie goers. It is all about Eve, who rises to become a prize actress by whatever means possible. The casting is perfect, with Bette Davis and Anne Baxter turning in topnotch jobs. Also fine are Cleste Holm, George Sanders, Gary Merrill and Hugh Marlowe.

Surprise Arrest

PALMERSTON, Sept. 29 (CP) —The investigation of a routine auto accident led Thursday to the arrest of two men on charges of breaking and entering and theft of stamps and money orders from a post office. Arrested were Keith Morphy and Victor Bishop, both of Tiviotvale. Police said they questioned Morphy after he was injured in an automobile accident last week and admitted the thefts from the post office.

Caught With Tickets

FORT ERIE, Sept. 29 (CP). — Charles Boncore, alias Bobby Tracy, Thursday was fined $532 for attempting to bring into Canada 100,000 sweepstakes tickets on a race to be run Dec. 26 at Jamaica, British West Indies. The 47-year-old former boxer pleaded not guilty and claimed two men in Buffalo had asked him to deliver a package in Niagara Falls, Ont.

Horses On Rampage

HIGHGATE, Sept. 29 (CP). — A team of Clydesdales broke away from a wagon during heavy horse judging at a fall fair here Thursday, sending a man and a girl crashing to the ground and damaging a car before their rampage was halted. Miss Anna Richardson of Thamesville and S. D. Sinclair of Florence escaped with a shaking up.

New Canadian Dies

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 29 (CP) —Steve Steciv, 26, a new Canadian farm laborer, only four months in Canada, died in hospital here Thursday night less than four hours after he was knocked from his bicycle by a truck three and a half miles north of here. The truck was driven by Kennon Fischer, 23, also of RR 1, Lucan.

Leaders and Friends Mourn F. M. de la Fosse

Peterborough's grand old man of the library, Frederick Montague de la Fosse, was buried Thursday in Little Lake Cemetery. For 36 years—from 1910 to 1946—he was librarian of the Peterborough Public Library.

Mr. de la Fosse, who was 90, died early Tuesday morning in Civic Hospital after a short illness.

Archdeacon W. P. Robertson conducted the funeral service and gave a brief eulogy of, in his own words, "that very lovable character."

The words of St. Paul: "In this do I excercise myself... to have a conscience toward God and man," epitomized the life of Mr. de la Fosse, the archdeacon said.

"This is no time for sorrow," said Archdeacon Robertson, "despite the presence of that inevitable sadness. He lived a full rich life, and our lives have been enriched by him."

The archdeacon spoke of the many years Mr. de la Fosse was a member of St. John's Church, and of the "valiant service as a churchwarden" he gave to the church.

"He had that gracious manner sometimes called 'Victorian,'" he said.

Relatives present at the funeral service were Mrs. de la Fosse, Captain and Mrs. G. D. Frewer (a daughter), of Florida, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Keeley, Toronto, Mrs. B. F. Cornish, Port Credit; Mr. and Mrs. John Frewer, York Mills; and his son Frank de la Fosse of Montreal.

Members of the library board and employees of the library sat in a group in the church. Among the many paying their last respects were G. K. Fraser, MP; former mayor James Hamilton, R. J. Kidd, aldermen of the present council and various other civic business leaders.

Honorary pallbearers were: Dr. G. S. Cameron, V. J. McElderry, KC, F. D. Kerr, KC, Robertson Davies, Harold L. Garner, Fred Hills, John Marshall, William Graff, A. L. Killaly. Mayor M. J. Swanston, Orley DeGraw, T. A. Mackay, Robert Abbott, and G. Winder Smith, headmaster of the Grove School, Lakefield, with which Mr. de la Fosse had long and friendly connection.

Active pallbearers were: Frank Bradburn, H. C. Sootheran, Vern Morphet, C. S. Cummer, John Nornabell and J. Johnson.

Archdeacon Robertson was assisted by the Rural Dean, the Rev. W. J. Gilling of St. Luke's Anglican Church.

Burial was in Little Lake Cemetery The People's Chimes were rung after the service.

Surf gives you Sweeter Washes

...whiter, brighter to look at!

...fresh-air-sweet to smell!

Wonder-working detergent gets out every trace of dirt, grease . . . and "dirty clothes" odor . . . *leaves clothes so much cleaner they're actually sweeter-smelling!

Once you switch to Surf, you'll wonder how you ever did without it!

You can see how sparkling white and bright Surf gets your clothes. And your nose will prove they're really deep-down clean. They're sunshiny sweet, blown-in-the-sun sweet to smell . . . even if dried indoors. You don't even have to rinse your Surf-clean clothes!

Here's Surf's secret

The magic detergent in Surf has the power of grabbing the dirt and holding it in the washwater, so when you wring out the water, you actually wring the dirt out with it. Out goes every bit of soil and grease—and every trace of "dirty clothes" odor, too.

When you don't rinse your Surf-clean wash, Surf's special purifying ingredient goes on working so clothes stay sweeter longer. (If you do want to rinse, add a little Surf to the rinse-water.)

Use Surf for everything

Those rich, long-lasting suds do 3 times the work of ordinary soaps, in hardest water. They're powerful enough for greasy work-clothes, yet gentle enough for delicate silks and rayons. They leave towels soft, fluffy. Make everything easier to iron.

So—switch to Surf. Save time, work, hot water—and get the cleanest, sweetest wash you've ever had!

Civic Affairs Study Group Becoming Better Informed

Civic Affairs Study Group, meeting Thursday evening at the YWCA, covered the summer's business of the Board of Education and the City Council.

Chairman Mrs. W. E. Fanning has been diligent in making herself familiar with the preliminary procedure of these bodies and she has taken care to be informed as correctly as possible on the underlying facts of matters that have seemed vague.

She was therefore able to answer satisfactorily the members' questions which arose from the detailed reports of observers.

The group unanimously supports a movement, now under way, to have guards for school children at street crossings, these men to be under supervision of the city police commission, and the urgency of having this system put into effect was expressed.

Several members voiced opinians objecting strongly to the proposed movement of the farmers' market to the grounds opposite George St. wharf, one on sentimental grounds, another because the distance from the business section, and it was asked what would be done about this situation in the winter months.

On the other hand, it was pointed out that the farmers' prices have been found somewhat higher than in chain stores and with the high cost of living shoppers are necessarily looking for cheaper goods, so they are not frequenting the market as much as heretofore. Also, that use of the market square as a parking area would provide much - needed accommodation to car-owners and also an income to the city much greater than it now gets from this valuable land. The site is to be sold when possible and members desire to urge that it be for erection of a building that will be worthy of civic pride.

Observers commented often on the promptness of opening meetings of the city council, the smart and business-like manner in which they are conducted, the courtesy and respect shown the mayor by aldermen and other officials.

They also spoke in praise of the council's attitude toward the women observers. It has now been arranged for them to have copies of the minutes, enabling them to understand the business much more clearly.

The Board of Education had been approached for similar help and Mr. K. S. Wightman promised an endeavour and provided the group with copies of various Acts by which the board is governed for their own general information.

Three resolutions adopted by the Civic Affairs Study Group, arising out of an executive meeting are:

That the fiscal year of the group be ended December 31.

That the group hold a candidate meeting between the day of civic nominations and the civic election in December at which time the candidates for election may meet the voting public and answer any questions concerning their platform.

That future meetings of this group will commence at eight o'clock.

Gazley-Armour

Many out-of-town guests attended the marriage of Marjorie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Johnston, Armour, Niagara Falls, Ont., to Mr. Lawrence Edwin (Ted) Gazley, Montreal, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Gazley, Milton. Rev. Dr. S. B. Stokes officiated in Lundy's Lane United Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a graceful gown of heavy blush satin and lace, the lace yoke inset with a pointed lace collar. The skirt had a front panel of lace, and two panels at the back extending into a circular train. A wreath of satin and lace held her finger-tip veil, edged with matching lace, and she carried a cascade of Joanna Hill roses and stephanotis. Miss Doris G. Armour, of Toronto, maid of honor for her sister, chose rose-beige satin; and the bridesmaids, Miss Doris Boulton, of New York, and Miss Margaret Elizabeth Gleming, of Toronto, were in skylark green and bronze satin. All wore floral headdresses to match their bouquets of roses and chrysanthemums. Mr. J. H. G. Boulanger, of Montreal, was groomsman, and the ushers were Dr. J. I. Higgins, Englehart, and Messrs. Peter Blinco and Alex Cook, Milton.

A reception was held at the General Brock Hotel.

Stress Need For Candidates To Mission Work

Mrs. L. Aikenhead, Sherbrooke Street, was hostess to members of Jean Wagar Mission Circle for the meeting this week. "The Church" was the theme of the worship service conducted by Miss J. Hammond, with readings, poem and Scripture in keeping. Assisting her were Miss Lottie Leggett and Mrs. R. Booth.

"The Stewardship of Faith" was presented in a challenging message by Mrs. Booth, who said that faith was needed especially in missionary work and cited Scriptural passages to illustrate. Needs of the candidate department were outlined in a talk entitled "Recruiting for the King's Army" by Miss Constance Wagar. She stressed the present urgent needs for missionary candidates at home and abroad, and gave the necessary qualifications for such service. In conclusion, the speaker urged the members to demonstrate the power of God in their own lives. Posters were displayed and pamphlets distributed on the topic.

During the business session plans were completed for this group's share in the coming Circle rally. Refreshments were served by the hostess and Miss Langton during the social hour.

Sermon on Hope Illustrated by Land-Produce

Grain, vegetables, fruit and flowers, all products of the land, decorated St. Luke's Anglican Church for the Harvest Festival service Thursday evening and the Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite who gave the sermon based his remarks on "Hope", such as the farmer cherishes when he plants the seeds.

The rector, the Rev. W. J. Gilling, was in charge of the service of thanksgiving and other guest clergy assisting were the Rev. Horace Ashmore who read the lesson, Ven. Archdeacon C. W. Balfour assisted with the prayers.

The Rev. Allan Greene, director of Columbia Coast Missions, showed films of his work in that mission, after the church service when all had assembled in the parish hall.

Refreshments were served by the Church Year under direction of Mrs. W. Wiltshire.

September Margin More than 20 On Nuptial Events

September is well to the fore as the "month of weddings" with a margin of more than 20 in Peterborough and district.

The last Saturday of the month is topping the list with a dozen church weddings announced. These events are of wide interest since they embrace a number of families in points outside the city.

Miss Muriel McAllister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McAllister of Lindsay, will be wed in the George St. United church at three o'clock to Mr. Douglas William Burns, son of Mrs. R. G. Burns and the late Mr. Burns of Peterborough.

The marriage of Mr. George Robert Cutmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Cutmore of Peterborough, to Miss Lillian Eileen Franks, daughter of Mrs. Vincent Franks and the late Mr. Franks of Omemee, is to take place in Emily at St. James church.

Miss Germaine Laderach, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Laderach, Peterborough, will become the bride of Mr. D. Hal Holden of Toronto, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Holden of North Vancouver, B.C., in a ceremony to take place in St. George's Anglican church at four o'clock.

Miss Grace Calvert, Reg. N., eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burritt Calvert of Buckhorn, and Edgar Piercy Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts, Peterborough, will be married in St. James United church at two o'clock.

In Bethany United church, Dorothy Jane Lowes, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lowes of Cavan, will be married to Mr. Frank Venville Fisher, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Fisher, Peterborough, at two thirty o'clock.

A later wedding in St. James United church will be that of Miss Valetta Bolton, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bolton of Douro, to Mr. Donald William Stewart, son of Mrs. Wm. Stewart and the late Mr. Stewart, Peterborough, which is to take place at three o'clock.

Nuptial mass will be celebrated in the Immaculate Conception church at nine o'clock for Miss Rita O'Heron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herb O'Heron, and Mr. Kenneth Joseph Guilfoyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guilfoyle, all of Peterborough.

In St. Matthew's Anglican church, Buckhorn, Mr. George Macphail, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Macphail, Alfred St., will marry Miss Norma Jean Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Gordon of Buckhorn.

Miss Barbara Joan Murray, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Murray, is to become the bride of Mr. Glen Arthur Hunter, son of Mr. and Mr. W. H. Hunter, all of Peterborough, in the Mark St. United church at two o'clock.

Miss Dorothy Dummitt, daughter of Mr. J. F. Dummitt, Peterborough, is to be married to Mr. Horace Foster of Toronto, in All Saints' church at two o'clock.

Lovely Matador Says Bull Ring No Job for Wife

By FLORENCE MILLS

BIARRITZ, France — (AP) — Conchita Cintron, the beautiful girl bullfighter from Peru who is retiring this year to get married, wants to have lots of children, but she'll never allow any of them to become bullfighters.

"It's much too dangerous," she said at her hotel here, just after she had fought and killed two bulls at Bayonne, not far from the Spanish border.

Still dressed in Spanish cowboy costume, the classiv garb for female bullfighters, 28-year-old Conchita confessed her own parents had spoiled her.

"My mother wanted me to do anything that made me happy." Conchita explained. "But my father —he's an American and a graduate of West Point—resisted to the last. He said it was too dangerous. Finally, when he saw I was set on it, he gave in.

"But when we are married, my husband and I will never spoil our children to that extent," she said emphatically.

Lovely To Look At

Conchita is lovely to look at. She has a pale face, large blue eyes and jet black shoulder-length hair tied into a flat velvet bow on the nape of her neck.

Her fiance is the 33-year-old son of the Portuguese trainer, who was once the greatest bullfighter in Portugal.

"What made me start fighting bulls? That's like asking a composer why he starts composing or an artist why he paints.

"Afraid? Yes, I'm always scared to death when I enter the ring but once the fight starts it's a case of life or death. The bull is trying to kill me, so I kill the bull," she said, dipping into a box of chocolates.

Gored Twice

"I've been badly gored twice. Last time was last year in Mexico when I had a long deep slash right down here" she said pointing to her thigh.

"But when you're in the bull ring, the excitement is so great, you don't feel pain. It's the same with the bulls."

"Cruel? I love bulls and I don't think it's cruel. At least the bulls in the ring can fight for their lives. That's more than they can do in the slaughterhouse.

"What about the horses? Only very old ones are sent into the ring and it is better they should die. They feel very little because they are heavily padded and injected with morphine.

"But don't be confused between these Spanish picador horses and those which are trained to dodge the bull in the Portuguese style of bullfighting which I practise," she emphasized.

Trained Six Years

Conchita said her own horse, a magnificent white beast which flies all around the world with her, had taken six years to train.

When she stops talking about bulls Conchita is very feminine.

"I love clothes and my biggest thrill in going to Paris is that I can shop to my heart's content."

She reads a lot, loves to dance and listen to music. She is a devout Roman Catholic.

A Hollywood film about bullfighting, starring Esther Williams, made her laugh all the way through—"it was ridiculous from start to finish."

"When I get through with bullfighting," she said, "I'm going to write a book which will be an account of my ring experience."

Mrs. J. F. Reed Golfers' Head

A new slate of officers for the 1951 season of golfing at Kawartha Club was appointed on this year's closing field day, Thursday, at an after-dinner meeting.

Mrs. J. F. Reed is the new chairman, succeeding Mrs. H. R. Scott, and Mrs. Steve Csumrik is the new vice chairman.

Captain of the 18-hole section will be Mrs. J. Raine and vice captain, Mrs. R. Miller, and for nine hole players, captain will be Mrs. C. Weir with Mrs. Wm. Nash as vice captain.

New secretary is Mrs. D. Lamont, treasurer, Mrs. J. Condon, and press secretary, Mrs. J. Gatfield.

Handicap convener is to be Mrs. F. Dunfield, ringer, Mrs. H. Woodcox, social convener, Mrs. K. McCannan with Mrs. G. Hill as assistant, and telephone convener, Mrs. L. Browne for the 18-hole players.

Nine hole ringer is Mrs. H. Hamley, handicap convener Mrs. D. Meredith and telephone convener Mrs. R. Payne.

Fascinating Prizes Given To Kawartha Lady Golfers

A table laid with fascinating articles awaiting Thursday in the Kawartha club house the end of the lady golfers closing field day competitions and the awarding of prizes. They ranged from sets of glasses, cake plates, scarves and sweaters to stationery.

Before the suspense of knowing the lucky winners was a delightful half hour during which tea was served. The players were joined by guests from the Peterborough Golf Club, Mrs. C. G. Graham, Mrs. Reg. Turner, Mrs. F. J. A Hall, Mrs. H. Bletcher and Mrs. M. Holt, and a special guest who comes to such events of the club each year was Mrs. F. M. Sommerville. All were given a welcome by chairman of the ladies' section, Mrs. H. R. Scott.

Mrs. I. F. McRae and Mrs. B. L. Barns did the honors at the tea table where a large bouquet of fall asters was a highlight. Social convener Mrs. K. McCannan directed the serving.

Award Prizes

In a policy of fairness, the prizes were awarded so that players are not named as winers of more than one event in either morning or afternoon events.

Captain of the 18 hole section, Mrs. H. Woodcox announced the scores and winners in the two divisions:

Silver: low gross, Mrs. H. Woodcox; low net, Mrs. L. Browne and hidden holes, Mrs. V. A. Selkirk. Bronze; first low gross, Mrs. F. Dunfield; second low gross, Mrs. J. B. Raine; first low net, Mrs. Adam Sands; second low net, Mrs. Peggy Smith; hidden holes, Mrs. D. Dinsdale.

Mrs. D. Anderson had the least number of putts and a prize was given for highest number of putts, going to Mrs. J. Condon, and for high gross, going to Mrs. W. G. Ovens.

Afternoon Results

Driving, approaching and putting competitions which followed dinner and a business meeting resulted in the following wins:

Aggregate drives, Mrs. D. Anderson, first, Mrs. L. Browne, second; longest drive, Mrs. D. Miller; approaching and putting, Mrs. A. Sands, first, Mrs. J. Watts, second; putting, Mrs. Peggy Smith, first, Mrs. V. A. Selkirk, second.

Point prize for the day went to Mrs. D. Anderson. Draws made by the players who had not won prizes and Mrs. G. Hill was the winner of this special gift.

The year prize winner was Mrs. Fraser Dunfield and Mrs. Lionel Browne got the ringer prize.

Mrs. D. Miller got the second ringer prize and was also winner of the point prize for bronze division. Mrs. H. Woodcocx was silver point prize winner.

Tops Nine Holers

Nine hole players were topped by Mrs. Steve Csumrik who had the low gross score, won the point prizes for this section and the prize for aggregate drives. Mrs. D. Chamberlain had the low net with Mrs. Dick Ouimet second, and Mrs. Don Meredith had second low gross.

Prizes for reduction in handicap and for hidden holes went to Mrs. C. Weir and she also made the longest drive. Mrs. H. Hamley got the second prize for aggregate drives.

The approaching and putting was won by Mrs. Don Meredith with Mrs. D. Ouimet second. Mrs. J. Gatfield won the putting and also the prize for least number of putts, and Mrs. D. Chamberlain was second on putting.

To distribute the prizes, one was given for highest number of putts, to Mrs. Wm. Nash, and for high gross to Mrs. B. Bolton. A lucky draw prize went to Mrs. K. McCannan.

Pro's Competition

The club's pro Lex Robson, each year holds a competition for which he personally gives three prizes. He was called upon to announce the winners himself and he named Mrs. Adam Sands first and Mrs. J. Condon second in the 18-hole section and Mrs. J. Weir first for nine holers.

Mr. Robson also made the draw of raffle tickets on two prizes of a half dozen golf balls each, and winners were both men, Rod Reed and Fred Todd.

Delegates Report To WCTU On Two Meetings

Women's Christian Temperance Union of Peterborough hears reports of provincial and national conventions.

A double treat was given WCTU members Thursday afternoon at the regular meeting in the green room, YWCA.

Mrs. E. M. Davis, the Peterborough union's delegate to the provincial convention in Toronto, brought a most comprehensive report of the sessions, and Miss May Bowers reported on the 34th biennial convention of Canadian Women's Christian Temperance Union held in First Baptist Church, Montreal.

This latter convention stressed the fact that Canadian women in WCTU work have a three-fold program — world temperance, world education and world peace.

Devotional period was taken by Mrs. J. M. Fanning, Mrs. E Alton and the president. Mrs. W. A. Poast, while Mrs. A. J. Throop and several members, by means of the clip sheet, gave educational facts regarding cigarette smoking.

IODE News

MUNICIPAL CHAPTER

First fall meeting of Municipal Chapter, IODE, was held Wednesday evening at the YWCA, Mrs. W. Gordon Hall, regent, presiding.

Post-war convener, Mrs. Geo. Groombridge, reported 38 food boxes and 215 articles of clothing had been sent overseas in June.

Mrs. R. S. Allin, organizing secretary, read a solution passed at the national convention in May, which urged each chapter to secure at least three new members.

Miss Wanda Deyell, regent of the Edith Carleton Chapter, invited all IODE members to attend their charter night, which will be held October 26 at the YWCA. Mrs. Sommers, provincial organizing secretary, will present the charter. Municipal Chapter will supply refreshments for this event, with Miss Mary Greer in charge. October meeting of Municipal Chapter will be dispensed with so that members may attend this event.

It was decided to purchase a wreath to be placed at the cenotaph on Remembrance Day.

Special mention was given the semi-annual meeting which will be held in London, Ontario, on October 17 and 18.

Mrs. Hall presented interesting highlights of the national convention which she attended in Montreal in May.

Three excellent films, obtained by Miss June Fraser, film convener, and shown by Mrs. G. Langhorne, were "Queen Mary's Carpet," "House of Windsor" and "Peoples of Canada."

Lunch was served by members of the Otonabee and Peter Robinson Chapters.

DOROTHY DIX

Selfish Wife Wants to Rule Good Husband's Whole Life

DEAR MISS DIX: I want your opinion in a matter of controversy between my husband and myself. He is a good provider, is very considerate to me and our children, but he insists that after he has done this there are certain privileges that he should have. The main thing that we disagree on is this: He is a member of a fraternal organization which I cannot join. My contention is that he should give it up and go to places and with people of my selection, that his first duty is to please me. He is perfectly willing to go anywhere that I suggest, but will not forego attendance at his lodge if I happen to want to go to some place on that particular night.

Dorothy Dix

He contends that he gets pleasure out of mingling with the members of this organization and that he should have this privilege without any objection on my part. He does not object to anything I do, or any place I go, or to any of my friends. Do you think he should insist on what he considers his right to go places where I cannot go?

PERPLEXED

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Will you read over this letter you have written me and try to get the picture it presents of a wife who is absolutely and entirely self-centered and selfish, and who has no consideration whatever for the good man to whom she is married? I think you cannot realize what an egotist you have let yourself become, and what a raw deal you are giving your husband.

One-Sided Deal

You say you consider your husband's first duty is to please you, but apparently you do not think it is any part of your duty to please him. How about that? You say that you feel your husband should give up his clubs and his friends and go to places, and with people of your selection. It is true that many wives, like you, do make their husbands go where the wives want to go instead of where the husbands want to go, and that it is the wife's family and friends who fill the average home, not the husband's. But because the crime is so often committed doesn't excuse any woman for inflicting this petty tyranny on her husband.

According to your own account your husband does not object to your amusing yourself in any way you desire. Why can't you be big enough and just enough to grant him the same privilege? You admit that you don't like to do any of the things that he likes to do and that you are not interested in any of the people in whom he is interested. That is perfectly natural. We all have different tastes, and men and women's tastes are rarely the same in places or people. So why try to force on your husband men and women who may appeal to you but bore him? And why deprive him of the society of those whose company he enjoys?

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I read in the paper that a famous doctor says that nothing aids the nervous system more than a good angry spell. He also declares that grouches are good for the health and that they clear up worries. Do you think there is anything in this theory?

A READER

ANSWER: Possibly. I am no expert in the matter, but I do know that tears are a safety valve to women, and that after a woman has a good cry she feels all cleaned up inside and spiritually refreshed and at peace with the world. Also, I have observed that the pople who go into rages appear to be having the time of their lives while they are abusing other people and saying every mean thing they can lay their tongues to, and that after they have exhausted themselves they are as placid and calm as a summer day after a thunderstorm.

The trouble with people with high tempers is that they enjoy themselves at the expense of others. In their fury they stab ruthlessly, regardless of whom they hurt and then, when they have exhausted their wrath, they expect every wound to be healed every insult they have given to be forgotten and the whole episode wiped out.

Same way with the grouchers. They pass into a silence in which they indict every one around them for having committed every crime on the calendar against their peace and happiness. They send the domestic atmosphere down to zero and keep everybody shivering until they get tired of moping and decide to cheer up, whereat the victims are supposed to emit cheers of joy.

Maybe mads and grouches are good for the health of those who indulge in them, but they are certainly bad medicine for those who have to live with them.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: How can I show my appreciation to my father, who has done everything to make our family happy? Our mother died twelve years ago and since then he has kept us with him and has been mother and father both to us.

L. B. F.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: By showing him affection and gratitude. By taking the trouble to try to entertain him. Give him as much of your society as possible. Children seldom think of it, but parents are often very lonely.

SLICES OF BOLOGNA, slightly curled under the broiler, make bright and tasty vegetable cups.

COOKBOOK OF THE WEEK

Bologna Cups Make Cases For Peas, Small Vegetables

For any number of new, unusual, and easy to make recipes for vegetables you must get "250 Ways to Serve Fresh Vegetables" the eleventh cookbook in the series of 24 Culinary Arts Institute cookbooks. These sparkling new guides are sponsored by the Examiner for the benefit of its readers and are coming to you a new title each week.

The Vegetable Book, besides giving the basic principles of preparing vegetables well, is full of lively, attractive, tempting recipes. Here is a vegetable dish from it that could be used either as a side dish with a dinner or as a complete luncheon dish.

Bologna Cups With Peas

6 (⅛-inch) slices bologna
2 tablespoons butter
2 cups seasoned cooked peas
2 cups cooked rice
1 peeled tomato

Spread Bologna with butter, and place in heated broiler. As the slices heat they will take the shape of cups. Fill with hot peas and arrange around mound of rice. Cut tomato into wedges and place between cups. Garnish, if desired, with sliced hard-cooked egg and green pepper rings. Serves 6.

To get your copy of the Vegetable Book all you need do is clip a coupon from page 2 of any issue of this newspaper and present it with 25c to the Examiner office or to your Examiner carrier or at Braund's Home Food Markets. Or to obtain it by mail send 30c (5c additional for postage and handling) to Cookbook Department, The Examiner, Peterborough.

Rabbit With Golden Sauce Tastes Just Like Chicken

By MARY MOORE

One of Marianne's friends dropped off at our house after spending the weekend at a "Y" executive camp. It was only six-thirty Sunday evening so I asked him if he had had his supper.

He patted his tummy and said "I think I'm full of rabbit. Whatever it was, they served it with dumplings and I ate three helpings."

It seems that on their drive home some of the fellows had tried to kid him by saying that the chicken dinner they had looked forward to so much was nothing more or less than jack rabbit.

He stuck to his story though—it was mightly good. "Chicken or rabbit it's all stew to me" says dear old Bill.

When we were young and going to school in the Midwest we visited in a little town called Queen City (Mo.) of 519 souls, and it was there that I learned the fun of cooking game. Our friend was the general practitioner and on his rounds often shot quail and young rabbit from the car, and brought them home for old Mrs. Elms to cope with and work her artistry on. She taught me how to make

✧ ✧ ✧

Rabbit with Golden Sauce

(If you have a venturesome spirit make it this way. If not, buy a chicken and do exactly the same thing to it. We can buy Australian rabbit—frozen—at 39 cents per pound. We are having this dish for our Sunday's dinner,)

One 3½ or 4 lb. rabbit or chicken, 3 cups boiling water, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 cup cream or top milk, 1 or 2 egg yolks. After rabbit or chicken is dressed and cut up in pieces for serving, put in kettle with tight-fitting cover—a Dutch oven is ideal. Add water, salt and pepper. Cover tightly and simmer slowly until tender — about 2½ hours. Mix the flour with the cream and stir until smooth. Add beaten yolk and mix well; add 1 cup hot broth from rabbit or chicken and stir until thick. Place pieces of rabbit on hot platter, cover with the sauce and garnish with toast points and parsley.

NOTE: I make the color deeper by adding the color wafer from a package of margarine—and use the margarine for some purpose where the whole color does not matter.

✧ ✧ ✧

Parker House Cutlets

This is a famous dish and has been eaten by many hundreds of people, secure in the thought that it was chicken.

Two tablespoons fat, 4 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1-16 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup milk, 2 cups finely chopped cooked rabbit (or chicken), 2 cups finely chopped cooked celery, 2 beaten egg yolks, 2 tablespoons melted butter, breadcrumbs, mashed potato. Melt the fat, add the flour, salt and pepper and mix well. Add milk slowly and cook until thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Add chicken and celery and mix well. Chill. Form into cutlets and dip in egg mixed with melted butter. Dip in fine crumbs and place in greased baking pan, well apart. Put mashed potato around edge of each cutlet with pastry tube, brush with egg yolk, and put in moderate oven until heated through and browned. When ready to serve fill centre with buttered peas. Better try it—it's a honey.

Youngsters Need Fresh Fruit

By KAY REX

OTTAWA, Sept. 29 —(CP)— Junior should get fresh fruit rather than candy when he comes asking for a between-meal snack, says a health department official.

But that doesn't mean candy hasn't a place in the average child's diet.

"Candy and soft drinks can be associated with meals," suggests Dr. L. B. Pett, chief of the department's nutrition division.

For instance, there is the toothin child who suffers loss of appetite because he is in the habit of eating a lot of candy between meals. This youngster could be given candy at the end of his dinner, thus arousing in him the incentive to eat the more substantial food first.

High Sugar Content

On the other hand there is a high sugar content in soft drinks and candy-bars, and Dr. Pett says over-indulgence in such sweets often is responsible for the obesity suffered by a good many children.

Basically fresh fruit is by far the best sweet, he says, particularly at this time of the year when peaches, plums, apples and grapes are selling in quantity.

Not only is it better nutritionally but it frequently is more satisfying to the child than candy.

---

Vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin, is doubly needed now to prepare the children for the long winter months ahead.

Health department experts describe Vitamin D as a "chemical substance needed by the body to make use of the calcium and phosphorus in food in order to form strong, straight bones, good teeth and well-developed bodies."

It should be given to the youngsters all the time they're growing, from birth unsually until 16 years.

The health experts say Vitamin D may be derived from sunlight and from certain foods such as salmon, sardines and irradiated evaporated milk.

Not Dependable Source

But sunlight is not a dependable source. Smoke, fog and dust prevent the ultra-violet rays from reaching the skin where they can form Vitamin D. Food is equally undependable because the vitamin in food ordinarily eaten is not present in large enough quantities to meet the needs of growing children.

Children need Vitamin D every day, winter and summer, say the health experts. Infants up to two years need 400-800 international units and all other children need 400 units.

These units are standards of measurement to indicate the quantity to be taken of the vitamin which comes in liquid, tablet or capsule form.

---

Milk, fruit, vegetables, cereals and meat are needed by the body daily in both winter and summer. Any persons whose diet isn't balanced properly feels the cold more often than a well-fed person. These crisp September mornings particularly require a good breakfast. In fact, make sure that all your meals are properly balanced.

What's Right

You do not wish to accept an invitation and are wondering just how to refuse it.

WRONG: Feel you must make up some elaborate excuse for not being able to accept.

RIGHT: Say that you are sorry but that you have already made other plans.

6—In Memoriams

KENNEDY—In loving memory of Vivian Kennedy, who passed away one year ago today.
Gone from us but leaving memories
Death can never take away,
Memories that will always linger,
While upon this earth we stay.
—Ever remembered by employees of Fanning's Laundry and Dry Cleaning.

SANDS—In loving memory of Samuel Sands, who passed away two years ago to-day.
Time speeds on, two years have passed
Since death its gloom its shadow cast
Within our home where all seemed bright,
And took from us a shining light.
We miss that light, and ever will,
His vacant place there's none to fill;
Down here we mourn, but not in vain,
For up in heaven we will meet again.
—Ever remembered by Wife and Family.

7—Cards of Thanks

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the attending doctor, and nurses, relatives, friends and neighbours, the women and men of the Moose lodges, to all who sent cards, candies, flowers and fruit and those who called on me while in the new Civic Hospital.—Mrs. Gordon Baird.

Unity Keynote Of Labor Congress Talks

WINNIPEG, Sept. 29 — (CP) — Unity of Canadian labor and a determination to rid unions of Reds emerged today as major objectives of the Canadian Congress of Labor as it entered the final day of its annual convention.

The 360,000-member congress spelled out these aims Thursday in a convention session that saw it administer two decisive lickings to its Red minority.

With the anti-Red action pretty well conceded in advance, the dominant note of Thursday's proceedings was a call to other "legitimate" (non-Communist) labor bodies to set up a joint national council for dealing with their common problems.

Congress spokesmen expressed the hope that this might be the first step in attaining unification of Canadian labor into a single body, which would have a membership of around 1,000,000.

Other Measures

On the anti-Communist front, the congress took these measures;

1. It authorized its executive council, made up of elected officers and representatives of each CCL union, to expel unions it considers to be following Communist policies.

2. It adopted a resolution giving unqualified support to the United Nations action in Korea, batting down the small opposing minority of left-wingers by a vote of about 700 to 30.

The expulsion move, sponsored by the executive council, was fought hard by left-wing groups in the congress, three of whose organizations with a total membership of around 10,000 might be subject to expulsion under the new rule.

Too High-Handed

It also drew protests from some non-Communists, who contended it was too high-handed and that such decisions should be left to the Congress as a whole at conventions.

However, it finally went through with only about 40 of some 700 delegates voting against it. A sizeable part of this anti-expulsion support came from the non-Communist United Automobile Workers of America.

On the CCL's "unity in labor" move, congress vice-president C. H. Millard of Toronto called it the first concrete step towards achieving unity of purpose now and eventual organic unity with other labor bodies.

Bike Between Car, Bus Girl Suffers Bruises

Sandwiched between a school bus and a parked car Thursday, Phyllis Kylie, 14, of 777 George St., was thrown from the bicycle she was riding and suffered scrapes and bruises on both legs.

The girls' bicycle was almost a complete wreck. The bus was driven by John Norton, Keene, west on McDonnel St. near Rubidge St.

The bicycle was dragged for some distance by the bus, but the girl fell clear. Constable John Morrow investigated.

Painting Canal Bridge Falls From Ladder

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 29 — (ENS).—Phillip Pomeroy, 30, was rushed to Belleville hospital on Thursday afternoon, after being injured while painting the lift bridge known as the "Black Bridge" over the Trent Canal on the southern edge of the town.

Pomeroy was painting inside the control house at one end of the bridge and while it is not known exactly how the accident happened, he is believed to have touched a high tension cable. The jolt knocked the man to the floor of the building, breaking his left arm.

He was also treated at the spot by Dr. W. W. Baker, who summoned an ambulance to rush him to Belleville for further treatment.

Apartment Rent More Than Allowed; Fined

Pleading guilty to a charge of collecting higher rent than that fixed by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Abraham Cherney, 558 Downie St., was fined $10 and costs in police court Thursday.

Cherney admitted he had collected $29 a month for July and August for a three-room apartment at 149 London St. rented by John Bannon. Rental was fixed at $20.46 a month.

He presented to the court a statement signed by Bannon saying he had been refunded the overcharge.
